Hinebaugh Files Suit Against County Officials

A 16-page law suit was filed this morning in Garrett County Circuit Court by John E. Hinebaugh, Sang Run, against the Garrett County Commissioners, County Clerk Robert Fousck, and the Gress Equipment Company, Frostburg. Robert Watson is serving as Hinebaugh's attorney.

The suit concerns the county's method of purchasing machinery in the fall of 1993, which Hinebaugh maintains was done in a manner contrary to county law.

At a press conference about the suit held this morning at 11:45 a.m., Watson stated that the defendants in the case did not answer a demand letter, sent over a week ago, that requested, in part, that the purchase contract be voided. This prompted the filing of the suit this morning.

Hinebaugh stated at the press conference that he had no political motives in filing the suit, but rather took interest in the case out of a sense of civic duty. He went on to say that this suit should set an example that county officials must obey the law.

Watson remarked that if the defendants meet the demands of the suit, the suit will be dismissed.

In a letter filed to Watson's office during this morning's press conference, County Attorney Gorman Getty asked Watson to delay filing the suit until Sept. 9. Getty explained that he needed more time to review the suit. However, the case had already been filed.

On the county's machinery purchase described in the suit, Hinebaugh, who commented that he had worked as a contract consultant for many years, stated, "I have never witnessed a procurement that has been this lax."

Over $4,000 In Building Items Reported Stolen

ONE WOMAN REMAINS HOSPITALIZED from injuries she received in this two-vehicle mishap last Friday afternoon on Rt. 219, north of Oakland. Betty Upscomb, 63, Davis, W.Va., an occupant of the vehicle shown above, is listed in "fair" condition at Garrett County Memorial Hospital, according to a hospital spokesperson. The driver of the vehicle, Marie Smigel, 70, also of Davis, was hospitalized at Garrett Memorial, but has since been released. According to Maryland State Police, Barrack W. McHenry, Smigel was traveling north on Rt. 219 when she pulled into the path of a southbound vehicle, as she attempted to make a left turn near Brooks's store. The driver of the other vehicle, Suzanne Ryan, Mtn. Lake Park, was reportedly treated and released at Garrett Memorial. Smigel was cited for failure to yield right of way following the 3:46 p.m. mishap. Also responding to the scene were members of the Oakland Volunteer Fire Department and Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad.

BIRDSEED THIEF SIGHTED - Don and Jeanne Larsen, two Virginia natives who maintain a summer house on the North Glade Cove of Deep Creek Lake, were surprised recently to find this black bear eating from their birdfeeder. The Larsens suspect that the furry visitor climbed a nearby tree to gain access to their deck, which does not have stairs to the ground. After reaching the high porch, the bear "perched" on the railing and enjoyed a dinner of birdseed. Before it ambled off, the Larsens noted that the bear was tagged on both ears.

Commemoration Of World War II To Begin September 23 At GCC

The year-long Commemoration of World War II set as the theme for the new academic year at Garrett Community College will begin with a convocation September 23 in the college auditorium at which former Secretary of the Army John O. Marsh Jr. will be the keynote speaker. The Convocation is the first of two programs planned for September which will focus on "Great Events of the War." Garrett Community College President Dr. Steve Herman will open the Convocation at 10 a.m. with a brief welcome. Secretary Marsh will speak at 10:15 on "The War that Changed the World." Following that he will present a workshop on three National Guard units from this area that were at Normandy on D-Day June 6, 1944. Marsh, a veteran of World War II and former four-term Congressman from the 6th district of Virginia, is a recognized authority on military history.

Following a break for lunch, two other noted historians will do presentations on other events of the War. Paul Stillwell, head historian of the U.S. Naval Institute, will present "The Japanese Attack on Pearl Harbor" and Karl Larew, professor of history at Towson State University, will speak on "The Battle of Britain." All sessions of the Convocation are open to the public at no admission charge.

On September 29 at 7 p.m. a program of "Stories of World War II and the Home Front" has been scheduled during which community veterans of World War II will be invited to share their experiences of some of the great battles and other events of the war. This program will be held in the Art Gallery.

The same format of programs will be repeated each month of the year, with the exception of December and January.

Focus for the month of October will be "Society, Class and Economics of the War," with a program of panel discussions on this topic, "The U.S. Navy's First Black Officers," and "Race and Racism in the Pacific" scheduled for October 20 at 7 p.m., and a program of community speakers sharing their experiences on October 27 at 7 p.m.

Topic for November will be "The Bomb," with a program of presentations on "The Manhattan Project" and "Social Implications of the Development of the Atomic Bomb." This program will be held at the Art Gallery.

Blaze Destroys Friendsville Area Residence

A fire of unknown origin destroyed a Friendsville area house early Saturday evening.

Volunteer fire fighters from Friendsville, Deep Creek, and Bittering fire departments were summoned to the Terry Nottingham residence at 5:23 p.m. Upon their arrival they found the wood-frame structure fully involved in flames. No one was home at the time, according to Jim Martin, fire investigator for Allegany and Garrett counties.

Some 50 volunteers battled the blaze for over three hours. The structure and most of the contents were destroyed, as the loss was estimated to be $40,000.

Also responding to the scene were tanker units from the Addison, Terra Alta, and Bruceton Mills VFDs, as well as the Northern Rescue Squad. There were no injuries reported.

Martin said that the origin of the fire is still under investigation.

Grantsville Youth Killed When Struck By Truck At Bus Stop

Garrett County's return to school this week was marred by tragedy Wednesday afternoon, when a 6-year-old Grantsville boy was struck and killed after he stepped from a school bus along Rt. 219.

Thomas Firl Maust II, a first grade student at Grantsville Elementary School, died from injuries he sustained in the 3:32 p.m. accident. According to a report filed by Lfc. C.E. Goldstrom, Maryland State Police, Barrack W. McHenry, the child apparently exited the school bus and was struck by a dump truck. He was transported to Meyersdale (Pa.) Community Hospital, where he was pronounced dead.

The dump truck, operated by Thomas Humberson, 31, Grantsville, was traveling south on Rt. 219 when the accident occurred, just north of the Hilltop Inn, near Grantsville. According to written reports, the truck then swerved into the opposite lane, and struck a car that attempted to avoid the accident. The car went onto the shoulder of the road and collided with the truck. Humberson was not injured.

The driver of the car, Mary Knecht, 26, and her passenger, Bobbie Klink, 25, both of Salisbury, Pa., were transported to Cumberland Memorial Hospital. Knecht is listed in "serious" condition, according to a hospital spokesperson, and Klink was not listed as a patient.

The police report indicated the school bus driver, Thomas Bender, 66, Grantsville, apparently pulled the bus to the side of the road, but failed to put on the emergency flashers.

Traffic on Rt. 219 was at a standstill until about 6 p.m. following the tragedy. Also on the scene were personnel from the Finzel Weigh Station, because a dump truck was involved in the accident, the State Highway Administration, a commercial vehicle reconstruction specialist, the Grantsville Volunteer Fire

McHenry Area Rated Among Top Vacation Home Areas In Nation

Century 21 Real Estate Corporation, the world's largest real estate sales organization, announced this week its annual list of the top 21 residential real estate markets for vacation homes in the United States, and McHenry was among those 21.

The McHenry area was one of four listed in the Northeast region, along with Nantucket, Mass.; Lake Placid, N.Y.; and Penn Yan, N.Y.

Other top vacation markets identified, by region, are: West - Sedona, Ariz.; Vail, Colo.; McCall, Idaho; Kalispell, Mont.; Bend, Ore.; Ogden, Utah; and Jackson Hole, Wyo.; Midwest - Boyne City, Mich.; Grand Rapids, Minn.; Lake of the Ozarks, Mo.; and Siren, Wis.; and South - Hot Springs, Ark.; Amelia Island, Fla.; Key Biscayne, Fla.; St. Simons Island, Ga.; Emerald Isle, N.C.; and Mt. Vernon, Tex.

Nearly 140 second-home markets around the country were evaluated in May and June of this year through a nationwide opinion survey of residential real estate brokers affiliated with the Century 21 system.

The selection of the 21 markets was based on home price appreciation between 1992 and 1993, availability of the widest range of recreational opportunities (including beach access, boating, fishing, snow skiing, golfing, hiking, camping, and other outdoor activities), and proximity to population centers.

"These top markets are representative of the types of communities that weekend vacationers, retirees, and investors look for when considering the purchase of a second home," said Richard J. Loughlin, president and chief executive officer of Century 21 Real Estate Corporation. "Today's second-home buyer wants a place to get away that is not too far from home and offers year-round access to recreational activities."

According to Loughlin, the appeal of second-home markets like those included in this list, combined with a stronger economy, bode well for second-home markets around the U.S. in the years to come.

"The combination of an improving economy and a variety of demographic factors point to a growing demand for homes in vacation and retirement communities across the country," Loughlin said. "The baby boom generation has reached the point when people historically consider purchasing a second home, either to take advantage of weekend recreational opportunities or for future retirement."

Century 21 Real Estate Corporation is a wholly owned subsidiary of Metropolitan Life Insurance Company which includes approximately 6,000 independently owned and operated franchise broker offices throughout the world.

Buchmann Optical To Phase Out Manufacturing

Garrett County Director of Economic Development Tom Jones has reported that Buchmann Optical, Inc., will phase out its manufacturing operation beginning in October. This action will result in a loss of 30 jobs by April, 1995, he stated.

The Buchmann facility, which is located in the Southern Garrett Industrial Park, will continue to operate as a distribution center for ophthalmic products, Jones explained. However, in October the facility will begin "gradually shutting down manufacturing production," he stated.

According to Jones, the restructuring at Buchmann will initially result in a loss of two or three jobs, but by the time manufacturing ceases completely in April, 30 jobs will have been eliminated. The entire process will take six months.

In its new role as solely a distribution center, Buchmann will serve the entire nation or "at least the East Coast," Jones commented.

Pa. Woman Convicted In Dist. Court of Theft, Battery

A Boynton, Pa., woman was convicted on one count of felony theft, and one count of battery in recent Garrett County District Court proceedings.

Sandra M. Crissinger, 49, Boynton, Pa., pleaded not guilty, but was found guilty of the offenses. Garrett County District Court Judge Ralph M. Burnett sentenced her to a total of 150 days in jail, fined her $150 and ordered her to make $580.55 restitution to Franklin C. Davis. She was also placed on two years of supervised probation on all charges.

Additional charges of theft, scheming, battery, reckless driving, negligent driving, and unsafe backing of a motor vehicle were not prosecuted because of plea agreements with the state's attorney.

Crissinger was charged with the above offenses by Davis, owner of Garco Video, Grantsville, who stated she had stolen 19 video tapes, valued at more than $1,000, between Jan. 23, 1993, and Oct. 16, 1993, from his business.

Crissinger reportedly returned to the establishment on Feb. 23 and was recognized by an employee. According to court records, Davis confronted her about the thefts, and she ran from the store. The store owner stated he had partially blocked the defendant's car, and also stood behind it so she could not leave. Crissinger reportedly backed into him twice, the second time moving him backwards about two feet. She was arrested the next day on the strength of an arrest warrant, executed by the Maryland State Police.

In other district court news, Norman H. Shulman, 44; Iergus M. Harte, 29; Kevin J. Byrnes, 27; Andy Martino, 28; and Kieran J. Foley, 28, all of New Jersey; and Scott F. Shulman, 33, Mt. Airy, were all granted probation before judgment on their guilty pleas for possession of a controlled dangerous substance (CDS). Each was handed a 30-day suspended sentence, fined $200, and placed on six months of supervised probation by Judge Burnett.

Another New Jersey man, Brian C. Scillieri, 27, was not prosecuted on the CDS charge because of insufficient evidence.

The charges stemmed from a June 4 incident at Swallow Falls State Park, when the men were arrested on the CDS charges by Ranger First Class M. Cooper who, according to court records, had entered the defendants' campsite to enforce quiet hours. Upon his arrival, Cooper said he noticed a baggie containing a greenish leafy substance (suspected to be marijuana) in plain view. The ranger seized the baggie and, because no one admitted ownership of it, he read each one his rights, and arrested them all.

Lisa R. Sweitzer, 26, Frederick, was not prosecuted on one count of battery and one count of felony theft, at the request of the complainant, Deborah A. Schmidt, Oakland.

In a related case, Sweitzer was not prosecuted on one count of malicious destruction of property, being disorderly on private property, petty theft, and trespassing, because the complainant, Shirley J. Wagner, Oakland, failed to appear in court.

The charges against Sweitzer stemmed from an altercation with Wagner and Schmidt on May 24.

A pre-sentence investigation was ordered for Calvin R. Schrock, 32, Oakland,

GLAF Season To Include "Quilt Voices" Program

The Garrett Lakes Arts Festival will be extended this fall with two new shows added to the original lineup, according to Fred Stemple, executive director. Quilt Voices, a presentation by the Maryland Historical Society, will be the first addition, to be presented September 16 at the Garrett Community College auditorium. The show will be admission-free.

The second addition to the season will be a performance by Charlie Byrd, jazz and classical Latin guitarist. Byrd will first appear in the county's middle and high schools, and then will present a show in the GCC auditorium on Oct. 20 at 8 p.m.

Quilt Voices is a program presented by three women actors who relate some of the realities of mid-19th-century living as transcribed from women's letters, diaries, and other literature found in the Maryland Historical Society's manuscripts collection. Issues such as childbirth, death, health and disease, education, family morals, friendship, celebrations, and church as a center of social life reveal how similar - yet different - women's lives were 150 years ago, a spokesperson stated.

The program will begin at 8 p.m. More information on the Charlie Byrd program will appear in future issues.

"The President's Own" United States Marine Band will be performing in the gymnasium of Southern High School on Oct. 1. The presentation will be free, but tickets are required. Persons may receive four tickets by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Garrett Lakes Arts Festival, P.O. Box 151, McHenry MD 21541. (Persons may also send in coupon found in an advertisement for this event, printed in a section of today's issue.)

who was found guilty of one count of battery. The charges stemmed from Schrock's court case in March, involving a 6-year-old child. He reportedly struck the child on the back and buttocks with a belt and a board. The child was examined by a physician who reportedly found the bruises to be consistent with the complaint.

Scott F. Kahl, 21, Oakland, requested a sentence revision on his conviction for battery, but the motion was denied. Kahl had been found guilty of battery during a hearing earlier this year, and was sentenced to a total of six months in jail for an incident at the Garrett County Jail involving another inmate, Gary Wedge.

Harry R. Broadwater, 32, Grantsville, also requested a motion revision on an earlier district court decision. The judge revised Broadwater's sentence to probation before judgment. He had initially been found guilty of failing to obey a lawful order of a Natural Resources Police officer. The terms of Broadwater's probation will remain as originally imposed.

DNR CASE
Daniel J. Garber, 48, Palm City, Fla., and Swanton, was fined a total of $390, with all but $190 suspended, and placed on six months of probation stemming from his July 4 arrest for operating a water vessel

Man Arrested In Connection With July '92 Theft

An Oakland man was charged by the Oakland City Police Department yesterday in connection with two thefts that took place in July of 1992. Curtis L. DeWitt, 21, currently an inmate in the Garrett County Jail, was charged by Chief John Sines with breaking and entering and theft.

DeWitt is accused of gaining illegal entry to Fox's Pizza Den in Oakland on July 8, 1992, and removing the cash box. The box, worth $25, contained $275 in cash, Sines said. DeWitt is also accused of breaking into the storage facility at the Center Street school grounds and stealing several cases of Pepsi.

The defendant is currently serving a prison sentence for theft, Sines said. He was to be released next month, but will now face these new charges.

Agencies Make Reports To Commissioners

Monthly Reports from county agencies were the main topic of discussion at the county Board of Commissioners.

Solid Waste
Rodney Glatfelly, director of the county office of solid waste and recycling, told the commissioners that since the new county landfill on Sang Run Road opened August 15, the facility has received 1226 tons of garbage, hauled in by 429 trucks. This comes to an average of 87 tons of waste per day, he remarked. Landfill hours are Monday through Saturday, 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Glatfelly also stated that he hopes to have all satellite collection sites open by Friday, Sept. 2. Because these facilities will be staffed, he explained, persons from out of state attempting to dump waste can now be identified and turned away. Glatfelly estimates that between 20 and 30 percent of garbage received at the old collection sites was from outside Maryland.

The satellite facilities will accept household waste and recyclables, and will be open weekdays, 7 a.m. to 6 p.m., and weekends, 12 to 6 p.m.

County residents will not need permit stickers when the satellite collection sites first open, but stickers will be required beginning in late September or early October, Glatfelly stated. From that point on, any county household wishing to dispose of garbage at a collection site will be required to purchase a permit sticker.

Glatfelly added that persons bringing only recyclables to a collection site will not be required to purchase stickers. Environmental Health Director Edgar Harmon told the commissioners that his agency has received tentative approval for a $10,000 HUD Block Grant to fund a planning project dealing with the sewage problem in Hutton.

According to Harmon, the grant will finance an effort to study the situation in Hutton, define the problems, and then propose possible solutions. He stated the investigation will begin with environmental health workers going house-to-house to map out existing sewage systems. He expects the entire project to take six months to complete.

Public Schools

Dr. Jerome Ryscavage, Garrett County superintendent of schools, reported to the commissioners that 5014 students were in attendance during the first day of the new school year.

Aug. 29. This number includes four pre-kindergarten classes, he commented. Ryscavage stated that during the first day some transportation problems were experienced, but he explained that this occurs every year. These difficulties usually take a week to remedy, he said.

This year also marks the launching of two new initiatives in the county schools, Ryscavage added. The first is the elementary math resource teacher initiative, which brought six math experts into county primary schools to provide students intensive training in mathematics, he remarked. The second is the four period day now in effect at Southern High School.

Library

Emily Ferren, director of the Ruth Enlow Library, announced that the library system recently registered its 50,000 borrower. She also noted that on July 27, the library set a new one-day circulation record of 930 volumes.

Ferren also stated that this year's American Trust Bank charity golf tournament raised $15,000 for the library system.

When Ferren finished her report, Commissioner Brenda Butscher stated, "I think you are doing a great job for the library."

Health Department

Dr. Rex Archer, Garrett County health officer, informed the commissioners that the Tobacco Coalition recently met to review its progress in promoting smoke-free bingo and restaurant sections. Archer expects that the Coalition will receive two $3,000 grants in the near future.

On the topic of injury prevention, Archer noted that a new computer system installed at the Garrett County Memorial Hospital emergency room will keep a tally of people's injuries. This will enable his agency to determine the main causes of injury for county residents, he stated.

Archer also commented that the health department has applied for a grant to fund efforts to promote adolescent abstinence.

Archer concluded his report with a description of the Americorps program (see separate story.)

Planning and Zoning John Nelson, director of the county Office of Planning and Zoning, stated that his agency has received an Appalachian Regional Commission grant that will be used to update zoning ordinances for several towns in the county.

On the issue of the Jennings Randolph Lake project, which would provide northern access to the lake and lake-side restrooms, Nelson stated that the Department of Natural Resources has asked project consultants to draft a document emphasizing benefits the county would enjoy if the project were completed. The DNR hopes to have this report ready to present to Maryland Governor William Donald Schaefer during his upcoming visit to the project site.

Promotion Council

Diane Wolfe, executive director of the Deep Creek Lake - Garrett County Promotion Council, told the commissioners that the information booth at the lake has seen an increase in visitors over last year.

She also remarked that advertisements promoting tourism in the county have been printed in international publications, including Better Homes and Gardens magazine. All ads for fall

Domestic Dispute Leads To Arrest Of Oakland Man

An Oakland man was arrested by the Garrett County Sheriff's Office this week on charges stemming from a domestic dispute. Darren L. Ream, 33, has been accused of breaking and entering, malicious destruction of property, and trespassing.

Ream allegedly entered the home of Angela Ream on Aug. 28 against her wishes. In a separate incident, the defendant is also accused of destroying the back window of Ms. Ream's Geo Tracker. The defendant was released on his own recognizance, according to a sheriff's office spokesperson.

In a separate case, officers arrested Hugh H. Jett, 32, Oakland, on theft and forgery charges. The defendant is accused of renting furniture under a false name at Charlie's Bargain Center in March. Items he rented included a television, a two-piece living room suite, two end tables, and a coffee table, according to the report.

Jett has been charged with felony theft, forgery, and four counts of uttering a false document.

Two men were charged with driving while intoxicated (DWI) this week, according to the police log.

Troy D. Tiller, 27, Oakland, was cited for DWI on Aug. 24. He was stopped on Rt. 219 in Accident for operating his vehicle at 63 miles per hour in a 55 mile an hour zone, according to the report. The stop was effected at approximately 11 a.m.

A Mountain Lake Park man was arrested for DWI on Aug. 27. Randolph S. Kitzmiller, 47, was stopped at 10:15 p.m. on Rt. 135 east of Mountain Lake Park, according to the report.

A bench warrant was issued for the arrest of Vicki J. Kamp, 28, Frostburg. Kamp apparently failed to appear in court on Aug. 23 to face a traffic charge.

Tragedy Strikes Again...

Since there are relatively so few of us Garrett County residents (only about 27,000) we are, in some ways, like one big family. So when tragedy claims one of our children, it affects each and everyone of us deeply, even if we did not happen to know that child personally.

Thus our hearts are laden with sadness this morning following the untimely death of 6-year-old Thomas Maust, who was struck after getting off his school bus near Grantsville yesterday after school. While our faith assures us that young Thomas is in good hands right now, we extend our most sincere sympathies to the members of his family, as well as to the driver of the vehicle that struck him, the driver of the bus, and the other children on the bus who witnessed this nightmare. All of these people were seriously injured, both emotionally and spiritually, in this mishap and face a difficult path to recovery. The local emergency rescue personnel who responded to the scene, as well as the classmates and friends of Thomas, should also be remembered in prayers and expressions of support.

We do not yet know all of the details of this accident, and it is certainly not our intent to level blame in this column against anyone involved. Besides utilizing this space to express the thoughts above, we want to seize one more opportunity to plead with drivers of motor vehicles to be ever alert when they are behind the wheel, especially when one is within eyesight of a school bus.

Because we reside in such a rural area, most of our children are not accustomed to crossing busy roadways. Despite the efforts of parents and others to teach them highway safety, they often just do not understand, nor recognize, the danger. So it is up to us drivers to be exceedingly cautious, and do our best to avoid lapses in our concentration, especially when we know children are nearby, whether on a bus or in a playground or in a residential area.

Of course, regardless of the safety precautions and of how careful we try to be, accidents do, indeed, happen and occasionally another precious life is lost. When that happens we can do nothing but find a way to cope with that loss and vow, once again, to do everything we can to avert future tragedies.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

I would like to compliment you on your Editorial last week regarding Joe DiSimone, Garrett County's Most Beautiful Person.

I have worked with Joe for the past 15 years as his Chief Deputy Register and I couldn't agree with you more. He is a very kind person to all. On a professional basis, he treats everyone with the same courtesy and respect. He has a smile and kind word for everyone he meets each and every day, not just at election time. His mood is gentle, and caring all the time.

It is a pleasure working with him. He has been a great inspiration to me. And yes, Joe, you are deserving.

Sincerely,
Rita Watson

To the Editor:

Garrett County Memorial Hospital recently reduced its workforce by four full-time employees and one part-time employee. About the same time Local 27 of the United Food and Commercial Workers' Union began its efforts to organize and gain control of the hospital's workers. The Union has used the emotional turmoil caused by the workforce reduction to fuel the fire of employee insecurities.

I have seen a lot of changes in my nine years of employment; but in reality, most of those changes have been made in order to keep this hospital financially viable today and in the future. Changes are not popular with anyone, but are necessary in all industry ventures if longevity is a goal.

I am asking all of you who feel the Union is the answer to take a good look at the benefits we currently have and to realize that if the union is voted in, we won't necessarily keep those benefits. The Union isn't going to take what we currently have and build above and beyond those benefits. The slate will be wiped clean and the building will start there. You could wind up with less than you have now. Most of us make fairly good wages here -- look around elsewhere in Garrett County and see if you can do better. I believe if you could find a job making more with more benefits, you certainly wouldn't be working here.

Job security is important to everyone, including myself, however, the Union cannot guarantee anyone a job. Their ultimate goal is to keep the Union wealthy and secure and not you, their member. Please look beyond the union propaganda before you vote. Ask yourself what exactly the Union is going to get you that you don't already have.

If you do that, your vote will be a resounding NO.

To the Editor:

This concerns the letter to the editor from Jeffrey L. Friend et al., apparent political supporters of Garrett County Deputy Sheriff, Corporal Randy Sines, whom they describe as the "chief opponent" of Sheriff Van Evans, running for reelection. The letter charges the sheriff with "putting...citizens in harm's way" by taking K-9 handler Sines off the road and placing him in the control room as a dispatcher "for the majority of July or perhaps longer." This letter alarmed me because, if anything frightens me, it's a harmful sheriff.

Before continuing, however, I wish to remind readers that The Republican does not endorse candidates for county political offices. Since I am a correspondent for this publication, this piece is not intended to judge the merits, per se, of any candidates, particularly because I know little about them beyond what I read in the newspaper. Rather, I will limit my comments to the specific points Mr. Friend raises.

Reporters can sometimes get answers a little faster than the general public, and I have uncovered some facts that may comfort Mr. Friend and his letter co-signers in their anxieties, and at the same time, interest county voters.

According to Sheriff's Chief Deputy, Major Harold Tichnell, if a K-9 response is needed when Corporal Sines has desk duty, the corporal and the dog would be dispatched from headquarters, with another officer assuming dispatch duty.

"Depending on the situation, we can call someone in [for radio duty]," said Major Tichnell. "I will cover [the radio] myself if no one else is around to do that."

Sheriff's Dept. Officer Karen Moon, a police communicator, told me that even with Corporal Sines off-duty, "The [K-9] dog is available 24 hours a day. Our officer does have a pager [so] that we can contact him 24 hours a day for any type of call."

I also learned that Garrett County has round-the-clock K-9 protection even when the sheriff's dog handler is unavailable -- as, for example, during illness, vacation, etc. In such event, a Md. State Police K-9 unit will step in. MSP Sgt. Otto Artfinen (in Cumberland, Barrack C) confirmed this fact for me. MSP Sgt. Daniel Moore (Barrack W, McHenry) went even further, saying, "We [Garrett Co.] would have several dogs available to us. We have a K-9 unit assigned out of this...barrack, and we also have several K-9 units that would be available for us from Allegany County if we needed them."

Thus, Mr. Friend's dire claim that assigning Corporal Sines to the control room "...eliminates...the use of a $6,000 K-9 dog..." seems somewhat distant from the truth.

To the contrary, with the Corporal at the radio, the K-9 unit is essentially on "standby," much like county rescue squad volunteers on duty in stations.

In any event, the availability of a K-9 unit clearly does not rest exclusively with any one handler dog; nor, for that matter, with any single law agency. So, if Mr. Friend requires service from a K-9 unit at 2:30 a.m. tonight, one (or as many as he needs) will be there for him!

Much more disturbing to me is Mr. Friend's charge that for political gain, the sheriff gave Corporal Sines desk duty "...for the majority of July or perhaps longer."

I asked to see firsthand the sheriff's dept.'s work schedules for July. Major Tichnell, responsible for maintaining those records, did allow me to examine the originals. For the public record, the schedules reflected that Corporal Sines worked patrol duty (presumably as his supporters desired) nine days and took six days of sick leave during July. He worked radio only EIGHT days. In no case did he have more than three consecutive desk days. July had 21 work days (in a five-day work week) out of 31 days altogether. Thus, that the Corporal covered the radio "for most of July," is unequivocally false!

Mr. Friend asks, "Is this action [assigned radio duty] an effort to keep Corporal Sines from having an effective campaign?"

Frankly, this question bewilders me. Is Mr. Friend insisting that Corporal Sines has a right to campaign "on company time," while drawing his usual salary from (ultimately) the taxpayers? It must be tough trying to decide whether to arrest someone, or to ask him to vote for you! Some people might even see a conflict of interest. And what role in campaigning does the K-9 dog play -- shaking paws?

Another question from Mr. Friend: "Is Sheriff Evans' action [assigning the Corporal to desk duty] really necessary?"

I'm sorry, Mr. Friend, but apparently it WAS necessary! If it makes you feel better, consider these words from Major Tichnell: "We were short of coverage in dispatch, and it needed covered...due to staff vacation and sick leave."

"Everyone [including the Sheriff], as far as I know has worked the desk, including myself."

If Sheriff Evans and Chief Deputy Tichnell themselves pull dispatch, doesn't elementary logic suggest that sooner or later, Corporal Sines must too? Mr. Friend also writes, "One can only wonder what Sheriff Evans will do next." Be of good cheer, Mr. Friend. We can do better than "only wonder." If you will be so kind, please consider this tip: When employers, parole boards or reporters want to know what an individual might do in the future, they look very closely at what he has done in the past. And the wonderful thing is, The Republican has compiled an extensive record of Van Evans' actions, as sheriff, over the last eight years. And our terrific Ruth Enlow Library staff, I'm sure, will gladly help you dig up this information! Best of all, it's FREE! So, do what I do: Validate! Substantiate! Remember, during campaigns, words alone -- like promises, mud and manure -- are frequent flyers and dirt cheap!

Just one more thing: No matter who is sheriff, he relies upon trust, loyalty and subordination from his deputies to guard our very lives with his and theirs. It is not Sheriff Evans who is "putting the citizens in harm's way." It is misleading letters to the editor undermining the sheriff's authority, leadership and department morale that endanger us all!

Sincerely,
Craig Speicher

To the Editor:

As employees of Garrett Co. Memorial Hospital, we think it's time some of us spoke out about the issues as seen by the employees at the hospital. Up until this point in time no one in administration was willing to listen to the employees' concerns or even let them voice their opinions. Now they are willing to stand behind each and every employee that works there. Why did this attitude take so long?

In fiscal year 92-93 the majority of employees received a ten to fifteen cent raise on the hour and some received a little more. In 93-94 your increase depended on the new evaluation that administration created. You then received a small increase or a "bonus" if your position had been sealed. If you received a "bonus" you are still making the same hourly rate in 93-94 that you made in 92-93. Now in 94-95 our wages are frozen and we will still be making the same hourly rate that we were making in 92-93 if you were one of the "lucky" ones to receive a bonus.

We used to have benefits to cover dental, prescription and diagnostic lab and x-ray. Now we no longer have dental or prescription and have diagnostic only after paying a hefty deductible. Yes, there are some benefits left, but how long will it be before those are taken away too?

We used to feel secure in our jobs, but now we have seen people "eliminated" with many more years of service than we have. Now we wonder -- who's next?

We have seen the administrative personnel skyrocket. We now have more vice presidents and department heads than we have department heads! Why do we need over 30 department heads in such a small hospital?

If money and cutting expenses were so important why is the spending still going on? We were told a year ago that administration was projecting future expenses and falling revenues. If they were looking towards a bleak year or two why then have we seen A) a new parking lot built, B) a new van purchased, instead of repairing the dent in the old one, C) a new $10,000 plus lawn mower with attachments purchased, D) a newly redecorated O.R. waiting room that didn't come even moderately priced, and E) paying all of the "consultants" including an interior decorator that have been in the hospital this past year? These are

What Kind of September?

"Will we have a hot September or an early fall?" That is the question I've been asking folks lately. The most common reply has been, "We surely have had a cool August." Indeed, we have, which is why I ask the question about September. Some people speculate on a hot September, some on an early autumn. One fellow answered succinctly, "Both." Maybe he is the one most likely right.

We have had a dozen mornings in August when the low temperature went into the 50's, as compared with three last year, nine the year before and none in 1991. The average temperatures will be a little cooler in the mountains, but the general trends are, no doubt, the same.

Other indicators include the bees and yellow jackets having kicked out the drones about a month early. Those are the male bees whom the ladies tolerate until cool weather commences. You can tell them because they act dopey, and seem ready to sting for no cause: (although drones can't sting); they are starving to death. That would make me dopey too, or dopier than usual, anyway.

My wife commented on the second of August that it felt like fall, and it did. It wasn't just the coolness. It was an indescribable quality of the air, a dusky feeling about it. The dews have been fall dews, and the grass has grown and grown and grown. (I made one of those verbal goofballs that we 20th century folks have learned to call Freudian. I said to my nephew, "The grass just keeps on mowing." "Growing," my wife corrected. "We just keep on mowing.")

This time of year we usually get a respite from mowing which allows us to catch up with things we had put off since April. About halfway through August we usually move to knock down the ripple, and then again just before Labor Day to spruce things up for a picnic. This year we have been in the yard every week. But who could complain? Everything looks so lush and green.

Another sign was that Grandina found a nest of mice in her sewing machine. I'm to thank that she found them. I had a pile of mending, so I invited myself over for breakfast, and just happened to take the mending when I went. Grandina had other projects to hand, but being the loving grandmother that she is, she fixed my clothes for me. When she opened her sewing machine, low and behold, there was a nest of seven baby mice. The cats had a snack, and a trap was set for the mother which she eluded. Though the folks downstairs (Grandma has an upstairs apartment in a farmhouse) did catch a fat mouse a few days later. That was August 5.

You may remember that I have some anxiety about an early frost because I got so much of my garden planted late. The summer squash have gone great guns. I had zucchini in 33 days, yellow crook neck squash in 40 days and patty pan in 42 days. One of my favorite dishes is to steam whole all three squashes together, picked when they are small and tender, and then to marinate then in olive oil and red wine vinegar with Italian herbs, and then to put it all in the refrigerator for a few days. And believe me, we have had the opportunity to eat squash in every fashion that pleased us.

The tomatoes are doing well. The turnips, kale and spinach are all fine. The beets would be fine if the rabbits and ground hogs didn't eat the greens every night. The brussels sprouts promise a great fall crop, and, of course, will only be improved by frosts, early or late.

It is the fall squash and pie pumpkins which worry us. They need 90-105 days to reach harvest. They are forming nicely, and are growing plump. The vines still spread, however, and still blossom. If the frost holds off until mid October, we should have a bumper crop. I also planted cantaloupes late, but that, admittedly was a gamble. We are counting on the winter squash.

With a cool August behind us and having eight inches of rain above the average for this year, I am looking forward to a hot September. It is not only in the garden that we should have a bumper crop. I have never seen corn or soybeans look better, no matter where I go. The trick will be getting all the bounty into the barn while the weather permits us to harvest.

I'm looking forward to a hot September, but I am expecting another hard winter, different from last winter, but hard nonetheless. We, humans, must take care of ourselves, but there is a wisdom in nature which usually takes care of itself. The fields and gardens and apple trees are full for a reason. It is a reason which the next two seasons will make known.

just a few of the tangible expenditures that employees can see. What other spending is going on that we can't see?

We were all willing to give and cut back until it hurt through these unsettling financial times. Now when we see the needless spending it's time to say... stop!

What the employees are trying to accomplish is to have the right to collective bargaining. To sit down with administration and have a binding contract written that states our benefits and future job security

MDOP Reports Investigated By Maryland State Police

Several reports of vandalism and malicious destruction of property have been reported to Maryland State Police, Barrack W. McHenry, where unknown persons have shot out windows of several vehicles in the Grantsville area.

According to the reports, several vehicles parked along Rts. 40 and 669, as well as the Amish Road, were damaged sometime between Aug. 26 and 28, with what is believed to be pellet or BB guns.

Tfc. J.J. Bentlejewski is continuing his investigation and asks that anyone with information may call the McHenry barracks at 895-1101.

ANOTHER MDOP
Sometime between Aug. 25 and 26, another destruction of property complaint was filed at the local state police barracks. Two additional vehicles in the Rt. 40 area of Grantsville were damaged as they were parked along the highway. Side windows on the vehicles were reportedly broken by small projectiles.

THIRD MDOP REPORTED

Yet another malicious destruction of property report is under investigation by the local state police.

Wayne Swauger, Grantsville, reported the driver's side window of his 1992 Ford pickup truck was broken by unknown persons, sometime between 10 p.m., Aug. 24, and 5 a.m. on Aug. 25, as it was parked along Rt. 40, near the Amish Road.

Tfc. M.E. Rodeheaver is the investigating officer.

THREE INJURED

Three people were injured in a two-vehicle accident Monday afternoon, on Rt. 546 (Finzel Road), just off I-68, according to state police reports.

Amy Graham, 27, Oakland, operating a 1993 Toyota Tercel, had been stopped on a ramp off I-68, at the intersection with the Finzel Road. The report indicated a second vehicle, operated by Patricia L. Bodes, 56, Frostburg, operating a 1992 Olds Cutlass, was traveling south on the Finzel Road, when Graham pulled into her path.

Graham's vehicle struck Bodes' vehicle, then spun and struck it again, causing the Cutlass to strike a curb.

Graham and her 5-year-old passenger, Dylan E. Gwynn, Oakland, were transported to Garrett County Memorial Hospital by Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad, where they were treated and released.

Bodes was transported to Memorial Hospital in Cumberland by Frostburg Ambulance, where she was admitted, but has since been released.

Eastern Garrett Volunteer Fire Company also responded to the 4:46 p.m. mishap.

who was riding a bicycle along the Avilton-Lonaconing Road was struck by a car Saturday evening, according to state police reports.

Amy L. Terry, 31, was riding a bicycle, pulling her 3-year-old son, Patrick Terry, in a "tag along" buggy near the Sam Crowe Road, when a 1988 Oldsmobile Cutlass, operated by Martha S. Francis, Keyser, W.Va., failed to stop at a stop sign and struck the bicycle.

Terry was flown to Cumberland Memorial Hospital by MSP Medevac helicopter where she was admitted for treatment. She has since been released from that facility.

The child was reportedly uninjured, as was Francis. Eastern Garrett Fire Department and Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad also responded to the 6:30 p.m. mishap.

CHARGED WITH CDS
A traffic stop last Friday morning resulted in the arrest of a Mechanicsburg, Pa., man who was charged with possession of CDS and drug paraphernalia.

According to a report filed by Tfc. R. Sivic, he initially stopped Niles C. Royer, 19, for exceeding the speed limit while traveling along I-68, near the Casselman River.

After the stop, Royer consented to the search of his vehicle. Sivic noticed a ceramic pipe, containing burnt residue, sticking out of Royer's pocket. Also recovered was a metal box containing suspected marijuana.

Royer was placed under arrest and has since been released.

CDS RECOVERY
The recovery of 1.7 grams of suspected marijuana was reported by Tfc. E.P. Johanson of the local MSP barracks.

According to the officer's report, Jason D. Woycid, a resident of the Savage Mountain Youth Center, was charged with possession of a controlled dangerous substance (CDS).

The report indicated the center's supervisor, Richard Scarbelli, was advised by another resident that others were smoking in the bathroom. Upon investigation, Scarbelli located a plastic wrapper, containing suspected marijuana, in the toilet. Woycid apparently admitted to owning the substance.

THEFT
State police are investigating the theft of a Model

88 Winchester, .284 calibre rifle, with a Tasco scope, from a pickup truck belonging to Warren Murphy.

Murphy reported to police that on Aug. 25, unknown persons took the rifle from his truck as it was parked along the Accident-Bittinger Road.

Tfc. R.W. Tarburton is the investigating officer.

ARRESTED
State police have arrested a Friendsville man and charged him with two counts of giving a false statement to an officer.

In a report filed by Tfc. D.W. McCrobie, who lives on the Hoyes-Sang Run Road, near Friendsville.

According to the report, the younger McCrobie allegedly took the chain saws and traded them for a bigger one.

A criminal summons had been issued for his arrest, and he has since been released.

Anyone with information about the theft is asked to contact the McHenry barracks at 895-1101.

Frank James Rump, 32, Pa., was granted probation before judgment on his DWI conviction. The judge fined him $350, handed him a 30-day suspended sentence, and placed him on one year of supervised probation. He was initially arrested on the DWI charge on April 29 by state police.

Daniel Paul Uphold, 25, Md., had his DWI conviction amended to read DUI. He was fined $350, handed a 30-day suspended sentence, and placed on 12 months of supervised probation. His arrest was on June 11 by sheriff's deputies.

rested for the offense on Jan. 11 by sheriff's deputies.

Henry Oliver Burns, 53, Md., was sentenced to 60 days in jail for his charge of DWI. The judge suspended all of the jail term except 48 hours. He fined Burns $550, and placed him on two years of supervised probation. He had been arrested on July 10, 1993.

ELECT EARL J., SR. CLARK

To the People of Garrett County
As a Democratic Candidate for County Commissioner in District No. 3, I would like to share two issues of concern that are of utmost importance to the people of Garrett County and its progress in the coming years.

Commissioner Responsibility
The future progress of Garrett County depends on how well the funds received in taxes are spent and how well each area of County Government is operated. Each segment of our County Government must be properly and efficiently managed and each area must be accountable for what it does each year.

Roads
With the beginning of the school year, our children are now being transported to the schools in the county, thus safety becomes more important to the people. A basic requirement in Garrett County is the maintenance of our roads system. Being a rural county, we find ourselves depending in the roads being properly maintained. In the past few years, we have seen the deterioration of our roads. We must develop a plan to improve all the roads in our county in a timely manner for the safety of our people and the growth of our county.

These are two issues that I would work to improve. I will provide you, the reader, with other concerns in the next issue of the paper.

If elected, I will strive to see that ALL the people are represented to the best of my ability and pledge to work for the betterment of Garrett County and its people in the coming years.

Your vote and support will be greatly appreciated.

Parent Volunteer Is Subject Of MPT "Info-Spot"

A local parent volunteer at Grantsville Elementary School is currently being featured in a five-minute "info-spot" on Maryland Public Television. Cheryl Sweitzer, Grantsville, is highlighted in the spot as a parent volunteer who through her work makes a positive difference in her son's school. The five-minute spots, which highlight each county in Maryland, are running at various times until Sept. 10.

Also featured in the five-minute spot is Garrett County Superintendent of Schools Jerome Ryscavage and Assistant Superintendent Albert Coviello. The local school principals were apparently asked to nominate a parent volunteer who deserved particular notice for his or her work.

Dale Garlitz, Grantsville Elementary principal, stated that he chose Mrs. Sweitzer because of her dedication to the school and her tireless volunteerism.

"Every school should have five or six Cheryl Sweitzers," Garlitz said.

Mrs. Sweitzer's son

Benjamin is a third grader at Grantsville, and she is married to Irvin Sweitzer.

An MPT spokesperson said the public television station put the info-spots together in an effort to aid Maryland schools in their year-around effort to recruit both business and individual volunteers.

Hafer, Edwards Plan Garrett County Visits

State Senator John J. Hafer and Delegate George C. Edwards will meet with the mayors and town councils of Garrett County municipalities during the months of September and October.

Hafer and Edwards will be available at the meetings to discuss any questions pertaining to state agencies or legislative matters. "All citizens are encouraged to attend and contribute any comments or questions," a spokesperson stated.

The two officials have announced the following schedule of personal appearances: Tuesday, Sept. 6, 7:30 p.m. - Town meeting, Accident Town Hall; Monday, Sept. 12, 7:30 p.m. - Town meeting, Oakland

Town Hall; Monday, Sept. 19, 7 p.m. - Town meeting, Grantsville Town Hall; Tuesday, Oct. 18, 8 p.m. - Town meeting, Friendsville Municipal Building; Monday, Oct. 24, 7 p.m. - Town meeting, Town of Kitzmiller, Tuesday, Oct. 25, 5-6

Food For Thought

by Chef Francesco Pisano
McClive's Restaurant

Remember when we thought potatoes were fattening? Now they make the meal. Pre-bake large potatoes in the microwave, then split and scoop out insides. Mash with cottage cheese, shredded cheddar, chopped ham and onions and bake again in a 400 degree oven for 20 minutes.

Super salmon filets are "painted" with a mixture of teriyaki sauce, lots of grated fresh gingerroot and a little sesame oil, then broiled until done without turning.

Wickedly wonderful spread goes on croissants or miniature cream puffs. Melt 2 ounces of semisweet chocolate and let cool slightly. Process 1 cup toasted almonds or roasted unsalted cashews, then add half a stick of butter and buzz again. Stir in the melted chocolate.

Do-it-yourself chips are a snap with pita breads or flour tortillas cut into wedges. Spritz with nonstick cooking spray, then season with grated Parmesan cheese, onion powder, garlic or seasoned pepper. Bake at 350 for 10 to 12 minutes, or until crisp.

Why do it yourself? Relax and let us do the cooking for a change. Enjoy dinner at:

State Forests Assoc. Dinner To Raise Funds

Over 30 area businesses will sponsor the Maryland Forests Association's first Western Regional Dinner and Fund Raiser, set for Sept. 10, beginning at 5 p.m. at the Elks Lodge. Not all of these businesses cater strictly to the forests products industry, a spokesperson stated.

Since the MFA did not hold a loggers forestry field day this summer, the group organized the special dinner, which will feature a grand prize of $1,500, a silent auction, and drawings. The holder of every 20th ticket drawn will receive $40. According to association president Pete Miller, monies raised will support the organization's legislative activities and training workshops.

"This is a cash drawer dinner with one ticket admitting two adults and entering the ticket buyer in the grand prize drawing," said Miller. "The association is trying to build up its cash reserves for a difficult legislative session in 1995. It appears that we will once again be fighting the pressures of a severance tax."

Among the featured silent auction items will be a three-day Dream Mountain Hunting Trip in West Virginia for trophy white tail deer valued at $1,500 and donated by IAZ, Hardwoods, Inc., a Thompson Center muzzle loader donated by Wood Products, Inc.; oil products from Cumberland Petroleum; a chestnut mini-chest from Caswellwood Furniture; and art prints from the Art Gallery, Cumberland, and Ken Bauer's Lakewood Studio, Cranesville, W. Va.

Numerous other silent auction and prize items have been contributed by the following companies: The Art Department, Battery Warehouse, John and Jean Blake, The Book Center Cards and Gifts, Cochran Farm Equipment Co., Curry Lumber Company, Farley's Foodland, and First Peoples Community Federal Credit Union.

Glotfelty Tire, L. Gregory & Sons, Gress Equipment, Laurel Sport Shop, Leonard's Saw Shop, Pete and Karin Miller, Richard McIntyre, Pinetum Enterprises, Precision Pallets, Workmeister Agency Inc.,

NEW BOOK RETURN - Friendsville residents will no longer have an excuse for not returning library books on time. The Friends of the Ruth Enlow Library recently refurbished, repainted, and relettered the book drop box, pictured above, at the library's Friendsville Branch.

Green Acres Garden Center, McKenzie Bros. Logging, Glotfelty Lumber Co., Sisler Lumber Co., Cumberland Box Factory, Timber Logging Supplies, Peter's Fuel Corp., Forman's Tree Farm, David R. Webb Veneer, and Metro Tire. Tickets are available from Pete Miller, (304) 895-5369, and Butch Glotfelty, 334-4439.

DeWitt Named To Who's Who

DeWitt is employed at McDonald's in Oakland.

Delegate Edwards Honors Oakland All-Star Team

Delegate George Edwards honored the members of the Oakland Little League All-Star team that won both the Maryland and Mid-Atlantic championships recently and fell just two games short of capturing a berth in the Little League World Series in Williamsport.

Edwards presented team manager Junior Uphold, coach Joey DiSimone, and each member of the team his own letter and Maryland House of Delegates resolution, signed by Governor William Donald Schaefer, Speaker of the House Casper Taylor, and Delegate Edwards.

The resolution stated that the "House of Delegates of Maryland offers its sincerest congratulations to (each member of the team) in recognition of winning the District 1 Regional with a 5-0 record, winning the Maryland State Championships with a 4-0 record, and finishing third in the Eastern Region with a 4-2 record. The entire membership extends best wishes on this memorable occasion and directs this resolution to be presented on this 23rd day of August 1994."

Edwards' letter, which accompanied the resolution stated, in part: "All of Garrett County and the State of Maryland appreciate what you have accomplished. The outstanding comments about your attitude and sportsmanship say a lot about your character and is a great reflection on our county and state."

Leaders Vie For Track Title At Elkins Speedway

After rain washed out Saturday's scheduled race, the top dogs in five classes returned Sunday afternoon to battle for the title of Track Champion at Elkins Motor Speedway.

Fourteen points separated 1993 track champion Denny Chamberlain from rival Frank Wilson after each won their individual heats. A reverse-six pill pull placed the two side-by-side in the fifth and sixth spots at the start of the race.

Pole-sitter Gary Dalton led comfortably for five laps until Chamberlain passed him on the back straight. One lap later, Wilson passed Dalton for the second spot and the battle was on. Chamberlain and Wilson remained tight until lap 14 when Wilson dropped low out of turn 2 and slipped under Chamberlain for the lead and eventual win. The victory, however, fell short in gaining enough points to overthrow Chamberlain for his second consecutive season crown.

Kevin Hamrick pushed himself to the limit in the semi-late feature and passed track champion Jerry Haseleu on lap 9 to capture his first ever win in the cockpit of the semi-lates. "This is my first victory since Skids passed away," Hamrick said after the race, referring to the late Richard Skidmore, who flagged Kevin and his father to many EMS victories. "I'd like to dedicate this victory to his memory." Haseleu claimed the track championship with his second place finish. Steve Booth, Shawn Davis and Bernard Keene rounded out the top five finishers, respectively.

Eight cautions turned a normal 15-lap UMP Modified feature into a 6-lap slugfest between points leader Kevin Jones and Cliff Cochran. Jones maintained the lead throughout the race which brought on the rule that limits the feature to two laps after the eighth caution is thrown. The victory gave Jones the track championship. Cochran took second place feature honors. Gary Dalton was third.

The four-cylinder stock and pure stock classes each ran a doubleheader due to feature race cancellation the week before.

Pure stocker John Smith Jr. held a huge point margin over Bill Tinscher going into the first feature, but problems with a tire pulled Smith from the competition early. Danny Bismark won the race but his refusal to sell his engine under the pure stock claim rule disqualified him and gave Tinscher the win.

Smith still maintained a comfortable 40+ point margin at the start of the second feature, but an unfortunate tangle on the first lap put Smith at the back of the pack. Tinscher, smelling a possible track championship, moved from a tenth place start to first by lap 9. Smith also pushed through slower traffic, but remained cautious. All he needed to do was finish the race and the championship would be his. Tinscher won the race but Smith's seventh place finish dashed his upset hopes.

The first of the four-cylinder stock features had the top two points runners, Thomas Simpson and Tommy Pennington, running close for the final five laps. Simpson held off Pennington for the win, but the points difference remained tight.

At the start of the second feature, Pennington needed to place at least three spots ahead of Simpson to take the track championship. For eight laps, Pennington, running second, stayed at least two spots ahead of Simpson.

Then disaster struck for Simpson on the ninth lap. Trying to pass slower traffic high in turn three, Simpson lost control. With three laps left, he was able to gain a fifth spot finish, but Pennington's second place finish gave him the necessary margin for the upset. Thomas Simpson's brother, Mike, won the feature and kept third place honors on the season points tote board.

This week, Elkins Motor Speedway presents "The Hagerstown Hub-City Qualifier. This race will be on Friday, September 2. Gates open at 6 and racing starts at 8.

1994 Elkins Motor Speedway Track Champions: Late Model, Denny Chamberlain; Semilate, Jerry Haseleu; Ump Modified, Kevin Jones; Pure Stock, John Smith Jr.; and Four-Cylinder Stock, Tommy Pennington.

ison, and Bob Elbin. There were two caution flags in the feature. Heat winners were Bob Elbin and Jim Deneen.

In the Pure Stock Feature, Bill Buchanan Jr. led the pack for three laps, when Allen Stone, who started 4th, took the lead. Point Leader Penny Sponaule, who started 11th, was picking them off one by one as he moved toward the front on the last lap. Buchanan, going after Stone and Sponaule, lost a wheel in the 4th turn. Allen Stone held off Sponaule for the win at the flagstand. Sponaule finished 2nd, followed by Wally Mowry 3rd, his best finish this year. Johnny Harr, J.R. Isner, Don Nicholson, Fred Whitelaw, Bonnie McKenzie, Ed Kemp, and Bill Goss. Heat winners were Bill Buchanan Jr., Denny Sponaule, and J.R. Isner. The Consy winner was Gary Haines.

Sailboat Racing Series Finishes With Strong Wind

by Harry Fienmyr

The final weekend of the Deep Creek Yacht Racing Association's July-August series had a variety of weather conditions. Saturday's Junior Racing was canceled when a morning thunder storm rumbled through. By afternoon conditions had settled down for the two scheduled races. All the boats in contention for top honors were present. In this series a boat's 10 best scores (low point system) would be counted, so big improvements could be made by dropping previous high scores.

By Sunday the front had pushed through with Force 6 (22-27 mph) gusts. This presses the limit of control for full rigged Flying Scots in competitive sailing. In survival sailing much higher winds are manageable with shortened sail area and by letting the boat run with the wind. Lasers relish higher winds and, of course, are more easily righted after capsize.

As the wind increased, John Meredith, weekend race commander thought it prudent to shorten the course for the Flying Scots, while the Lasers continued the posted course. This resulted in some confusion, since two separate finish lines was unprecedented.

Seven boats started in A fleet. Four finished the race. Fienmyr's main halyard failed at the start, leaving only the jib to continue, safely, but slowly, around the course to a fourth place. Only Tom Woffle risked flying a spinnaker, and had a foaming Nantucket sleighride for a down-wind run.

Without any comment of prudence or valor, note that more B fleet than A fleet boats finished the race. Among the valiant were Jim and Karen Betz -- in their first race. Harry Carpenter was along to give instructions on spinnaker flying, but said it would "be insane

(for novices) in that wind." With his instruction, they moved, briefly, into the lead. Later Karen declared the experience "thrilling, exciting, and exhilarating," and dismissed danger of capsize with, "you just get wet."

Sunday morning, Anne Brooke and Charles Graham took two visitors from Florida, Bryan Burlingame and Paul Butler, for their first sailboat ride. As the wind built up, they were invited to stay on for the race. It was like an amusement park ride until a downwind jibe mark. They were too close to Kemps' boat. When Kemps jibed, their boom hit Anne and knocked her, unconscious, to the bottom of the boat. Charles got the boat under control and as Anne recovered they finished the race.

The Canadian National Championship for Flying Scots was held August 20-21 at beautiful Stony Lake, Ontario. Harry Carpenter, with his children Carrie and Jimmy as crew, placed second in the four-race regatta. John Meredith, with Tony Kaminski, got fifth in the 25 boat championship.

we are seeking additional sponsors," stated MSA President Carole Ann Lovett, who noted that there are over three dozen teams in the county. About two thirds of the teams are in the southern area and about one third in the northern area.

Persons and/or businesses interested in sponsoring a team are asked to contact Lynda Durst, MSA treasurer, at 334-4209 as soon as possible for information.

"We are very appreciative of the area businesses who care about youth soccer in Garrett County," Lovett said.

Local Students To Be Key Players On GCC Laker Volleyball Team

Wanda Swartzwelder

Elaine DeBerry

Wanda Swartzwelder and Elaine DeBerry, the two sophomore members of the Garrett Community College Volleyball Team, will lend their experience and expertise in preparing for the upcoming season opening September 10 at Essex Community College.

A graduate of Northern High School, Swartzwelder was named the Most Improved Player last year by the Laker coaching staff. As a 5'11" hitter, she had 69 kills and 12 solo blocks, which ranked second on the team. In addition, she had a reception percentage of 61.5% and a service percentage of 90.3% with 17 aces.

"We look for Wanda to be very strong offensively as a middle hitter. Her attacking game improved tremendously during the season last year," remarked GCC Head Coach Margaret Quinn. "We will look for her leadership on the court this season; she's very vocal, and a team motivator."

Wanda is the daughter of Carol Swartzwelder, Grants-

She led the team in solo blocks with 24, while compiling 135 kills, and 44 service aces. She had a reception percentage of 82%, and a service percentage of 82.3%.

Cowchip Poker Set At Northern High

The Northern High School Athletic Boosters Club will sponsor its annual Cowchip Poker this Friday, Sept. 2, beginning at 6 p.m. The winning ticket holder will be awarded $500 in cash.

There will also be a football scrimmage between the Huskies and Allegany.

"Elaine is a solid offensive player," commented Quinn. "Last year she led the team in attacks and blocks. She has excellent court sense enabling her to read the offense and defense."

Elaine is the daughter of William and Donna DeBerry, Oakland.

Maryland High School Seniors Lead Region In SAT Scores

Maryland college bound high school seniors tested highest in the region on both the verbal and math sections of the SAT. In the verbal portion of the SAT, Maryland seniors averaged 429, with Delaware next at 428, followed by Virginia at 424, Pennsylvania at 417, and the District of Columbia at 406. Maryland students scored an average of 6 points higher than the national average of 423 in this section. In the math section, Maryland students averaged 479, followed by Virginia at 469, Delaware at 464, Pennsylvania at 462 and the District of Columbia at 443. Students' average score in this section remain at the national average of 479. Maryland seniors rank second in the nation in overall achievement as compared to states with comparable levels of participation.

"I am pleased that Maryland continues to lead the region in SAT achievement," said Dr. Nancy S. Grasmick, State Superintendent of Schools, "and that our students participate in such large numbers in this important first step to a college education."

Nearly two out of three Maryland high school seniors (approximately 64 percent) took the SAT in 1994, a higher rate of participation than in all but 13 states. Nationally, 42 percent of high school seniors took the test. Only one other state with a comparable participation level, New Hampshire, produced higher scores than Maryland's.

College bound Maryland women who took the SAT in 1994 mirrored the national trend, continuing to close the gap between their scores and those of their male counterparts. This past year, 15,341 Maryland women took the test, an increase of 181 over 1993. Women in Maryland scored an average of seven points above the national average of 421 in the verbal section, while math scores equaled the national average of 460. Maryland women taking the SAT in 1994 also made up a large percentage of the total seniors who took upper level math and science courses. This year, 54 percent of the 13,278 seniors who had taken four or more years of study in the Natural Sciences were female. Also, 54 percent of the 18,654 seniors who had completed four or more years of mathematics course work were female. Women made up 54 percent of the 28,574 seniors who had computer coursework or experience.

In 1994, 111 more African Americans in Maryland took the test than in 1993. This continues a three year trend of increase in the number of African American test takers, indicating an increase in the number of those interested in pursuing a college education.

ing a college education. African American students posted a five point drop in the verbal scores, however, this population segment's average verbal score remains five points above the national average of 352. The math section average score remained at the national average of 388.

stating their future salaries and benefits. Why can't the employees have the same rights to bargain for their future?

The employees are not out to get "revenge" or attacking their supervisors personally. Most of us get along well with our supervisors. Supervisors can change whenever they find a new position or are moved within the hospital, so we might not even have the same supervisors in the next five years.

Local 27 did not contact the employees as soon as trouble started at GCMH. The employees called them for their help because they knew we were no longer being heard and had no say in our future. No one was listening!

The employees who are organizing with the help of Local 27 aren't trying to disrupt anything at GCMH. The disruption comes when employees are afraid to speak their opinions or stand up for their rights as employees. Joining a "union" will come after a contract if negotiated and voted on by the employees, not before. Right now we are fighting for the right to have collective bargaining for a contract - not a union.

How can what the employees are trying to do be so bad? Physicians belong to the American Medical Association, a union, county road workers belong to a union, teachers belong to a union etc. Why not the employees of Garrett Co. Memorial Hospital?

Garrett Co. Memorial Hospital administration will only be doing what every other employer has done for years when employees try to organize for their future. The administration will fight against it, spread false rumors, show every negative aspect they can find and discourage you as much as possible. Why shouldn't they? They know that when employees get organized and stand behind each other that they can no longer think of employees as just being expendable pieces of equipment at the next fiscal crisis. They will then have to listen to our concerns about our future. Finally!

To the Editor:
I left Oakland and moved to Idaho in 1968 when I was 15. Since then, I have made four trips to Garrett County and my last visit to my hometown of Oakland was nine years ago in 1985. I wrote you then of my reflections on Garrett County and I would like to share them with you again.

For me, a trip back to Garrett County is sort of like opening a little treasure chest every few years and looking inside. Some things never change, such as the peaceful green countryside, the reflections on Deep Creek Lake's still waters at night, and the loyal friends and relatives who welcomed us. Neighbors still exchange home grown vegetables, and the stained glass windows of St. Peter's Church are as beautiful as ever. There is a window in Immaculate Conception Church in Kitzmiller that now bears the name of my paternal grandparents, and as I ran my fingers over the letters, I knew that I would always be conscious of my heritage, and an image of that window would be in the treasure chest.

As for the obvious signs of change in Oakland, there's a Pizza Hut and a McDonald's, the Garrett Lakes Art Festival, growth for the Community College, the banks have increased from two to several, and WMSG radio station has several competitors.

But after every trip to Garrett County, I am fortunate to have more goodies to put in that treasure chest. This time I added new friendships, including getting reacquainted with relatives I hadn't seen in a quarter of a century. It's funny how time slips away...

Perhaps this trip was different since I had my son Andy with me. He's nearly grown up now, and asked endless questions about Garrett County. I had lent him a book to read on the flight east. The main character in it cared a great deal for her dad, but loved her son more than anything. I leaned through the book one cool evening and under where my name was written, something caught my eye. The words "the best Mom on earth" were in Andy's handwriting, with the date, 8/1/94. I knew then that the greatest rewards are in our sons and daughters and in loyal friendships, and it's ok to look back sometimes, but that our focus should be on today and tomorrow, not on yesterday.

Now that I'm back home from "my other home," I don't know why I've been given these treasures, but I promise I will always cherish them and the memories of Garrett County and the very special people there. And yes, I'll be back some day.

Sincerely,
Betsy (Pratt) Nickels

When the fire occurred in my residence and business on River Road on the 17th, I was alone at the time and petrified, having never before had to face such a scary thing. These men are deserving of the highest praise and my place was saved because they knew what to do without unnecessary destruction. I also sympathize with persons who have experienced a fire of any kind. It has a deep, lasting effect in many ways.

If you feel a change is needed then I would like to be that change for Sheriff of Garrett County.

- ★ We never see the sheriff. I will as sheriff, be out among the citizens to answer complaints, serve papers, attend town council meetings, and be available to all the people of the county

So come September 13th if a change is needed.

BRENDA BUTSCHER succeeded in getting legislation to have a County Commissioner serve as an ex-officio member of the Board of Education. This has brought about a better working relationship between the two boards.

BRENDA BUTSCHER instituted the policy of prayer and Pledge Of Allegiance before each commissioner meeting.

BRENDA BUTSCHER has maintained an "Open Door" policy in the commissioner's office. Her personal office door has never been locked and only closed at the request of her constituents.

BRENDA BUTSCHER has supported the volunteer firemen and the rescue squads. She has received praise for her support both locally and from Allegany County.

BRENDA BUTSCHER has continually asked for legislation for term limitations, saying two terms are enough.

BRENDA BUTSCHER has worked to improve roads that have been neglected for years. She saw the need for new employees and new equipment. Remember the blizzard of '93 and the constant snow storms of '94. Our road employees maintain the roads like pros.

BRENDA BUTSCHER has not ignored the mentally ill. They, their department heads and boards, have found a friend in the Commissioner's office.

BRENDA BUTSCHER has pushed for a crisis shelter in the County for abused spouses and children.

BRENDA BUTSCHER has supported the farmers, the sportsmen and the senior citizens of the county.

BRENDA BUTSCHER is there when you need her. She is basically a quiet country girl, but when things get tough, she gets tougher. She stands up to the mover/shakers of the county. She truly represents the average hard working taxpayer that didn't have a voice in county government for many years.

SAT Scores

Board, which administers the test, provide evidence that Maryland's schools produce slightly more high-scoring students than those of other states. For example, 9 percent of Maryland students and 8 percent of U.S. students scored above 600 on the verbal test, and 8 percent of Maryland students and 6 percent of U.S. students scored above 600 on the math test.

Overall, although Maryland's 1994 college bound seniors dropped two points to 429 in the verbal section, this remains six points above the national average of 423. Students scored 479 in the math section, an increase of one point over last year and equal to the national average this year. While the number of women and African Americans taking the test increased, the number of whites and males decreased due to a drop in the number of white seniors (25,740 in 1993 to 25,266 in 1994) and the number of male seniors (19,947 in 1993 to 19,849 in 1994).

Maryland also released the results of the American College Test (ACT), another standardized test taken by a small number of Maryland students. These scores show Maryland students at or above national averages. Maryland students scored 20.7 out of 36 on average. Nationwide, test takers scored an average of 20.8. Maryland students scored an average of 21.3 in the Reading section of the test, one tenth of a point above the national average. Other section scores were: English: 20.0, Mathematics: 20.2, and Science Reasoning: 20.6. While 64 percent of all Maryland high school seniors take the SAT, only approximately 9.7 percent take the ACT.

"The SAT and ACT are important measures of school performance in Maryland," said Dr. Grasmick. "These and other benchmarks help chart our state's course of continued improvement in student achievement."

The practice of the local sheriff receiving the fees has apparently been going on for several years, involving not only Evans but several previous sheriffs. The papers for which the sheriff receives money are those that are civil in nature, and the fees for these papers range from $5 to $30.

The law referred to by Michaels in the writ states in part: "all fees collected by the sheriff shall be accounted for and paid to the treasury of the several counties and of Baltimore City, respectively." The issue has received media attention recently, and the state's prosecutor's office in Baltimore County did review the situation. According to a statement made by Sherbin, the state's response is in part as follows:

Beginning his term of office, the sheriff continued an existing practice which had been established many years prior to his election. Further, it was learned that the practice had not been challenged by any county officials until the Garrett County Salary Review Commission questioned its propriety. The commission's review resulted in a recommendation that the practice be stopped and that the position of sheriff be compensated an additional $15,000 which increased the annual salary to $50,000. The commission study occurred in 1993 and its recommendation was implemented in January 1994. Since the county officials charged with budgeting for the sheriff's office were aware of the practice, as well as the Clerk of Court through whom the fees passed, the practice was devoid of any deception or corrupt motive.

Michaels stated that he felt this response was not adequate, however, and that he decided to file the writ "on behalf of all taxpaying citizens in Garrett County." In light of the upcoming election, Michaels also maintains that the act is not endorsed by any political candidate.

It is simply a matter of defining the law," Michaels said. A hearing will be scheduled in response to the writ, he explained.

Evans stated that he felt the action was "politically motivated" and that he was not surprised by it. He also noted that Attorney Mike Getty will be filing a response.

Sherbin also responded to the action, stating that "this is simply not a criminal matter; it is a budgetary matter."

Michaels has also penned a letter to Governor William Donald Schaefer in reference to the issue, asking Schaefer to review the case and ask the state prosecutor to again investigate the practice.

Correction Noted

In last week's issue of The Republican, it was reported that Peggy S. Mathes was awarded the Catholic Daughters of America annual scholarship by St. Peter's Catholic Church. The story should have stated that Mathes was awarded the Catholic Daughters of America annual scholarship by the Catholic Daughters of America of St. Peter's Catholic Church. The error is regretted.

State, County Crime Activity Up Slightly

Maryland State Police Superintendent Colonel Larry W. Tolliver announced this week that crime in Maryland rose slightly in the first half of 1994, but that the number of violent crimes was down significantly.

Overall, crime throughout the state rose less than one percent (.57%) in the first six months of this year, as compared to the same time period last year. Garrett County's crime index showed an increase of 1.8 percent with 337 cases, compared to 331 during the same period last year.

In the state figures, the violent crimes of murder, forcible rape, robbery, and aggravated assault dropped four percent. The largest decrease was in the number of murders, which fell 11 percent.

Property crimes continue to rise, as cases of breaking and entering, larceny, and motor vehicle theft, as a group, rose one percent. Motor vehicle thefts climbed 23 percent, or by 3,500 incidents, during the first half of the year.

In Garrett County, increases were noted in cases of rape (0 to 4), aggravated assault (16 to 26), breaking and entering (71 to 87), motor vehicle theft (10 to 23), and arson (1 to 4). Decreases were recorded in murder (1 to 0), robbery (2 to 0), and larceny (231 to 197). Western Maryland and Washington metro areas edged higher.

OPEN LETTER TO THE CITIZENS OF GARRETT COUNTY

Throughout this campaign it has been my goal to deal with issues important to the people of Garrett County. The issue of service fees has never been a matter of controversy despite its being in place for more than 50 years. Ironically, the issue being raised at this time is politically motivated by an individual who had worked for two sheriffs and was completely aware of this practice. By his previous silence, he obviously agreed with this longstanding policy.

Additional irony lies in the fact that it is partly because of my testimony recommending a change in this practice to two different Salary Commissions that the policy has been altered.

For at least 50 years, individuals using the sheriff's office for the service of private court papers have been asked to bear the expense of that service- rather than using taxpayers' dollars- to supplement the sheriff's salary. This policy was implemented to bring the salary of the Garrett County Sheriff more in line with other sheriffs in the state.

Effective January 1, 1995, that practice will be discontinued based on the recommendations by the Salary Review Commission, which is a nonpartisan commission composed of seven individuals representing various local organizations, selected by their respective organizations as required by law and created to review compensation to elected officials. The county commissioners have adopted that recommendation and placed it into law. Under the new ordinance, any service fees collected will go into the general county fund. This policy change came about, in part, after I recommended to two different salary commissions over the past four years that the practice should be changed.

In July of 1994 the Chief Investigator for the Office of the State Prosecutor was asked to conduct an inquiry and his findings in part read:

"I have consulted with the State Prosecutor in this matter. It is his opinion that since the county officials charged with budgeting for the Sheriff's Office were aware of the practice, as well as the Clerk of the Court through whom the fees passed, the practice was devoid of any deception or corrupt motive. Therefore, the State Prosecutor has declined to initiate a criminal investigation."

(Chief Investigator James Cabezas)

Because there was nothing illegal and this had been an established practice with all previous sheriffs, the Office of the State Prosecutor found no reason to take action.

It is my genuine hope that we can continue to address the important issues facing our county. Over the past nine years, I have implemented programs that address public safety, fight drug abuse, educate our children, combat domestic violence and deal with the concerns of our senior citizens. With your help, I will continue and expand these programs for the next four years as your sheriff.

Items Stolen

The theft was reported on Aug. 15 by Johnny Hershsberger, the home owner. Sometime on Aug.

13 or 14, culprits entered the unfinished house through an unsecured rear door. They removed numerous items, including a whirlpool bathtub, several commodes, and lumber.

Shaffer said Hershsberger was recently informed that the loss is not covered by his insurance.

Any person with information about this crime is urged to contact Shaffer at the sheriff's office at 334-1911.

Officers are also investigating the apparent breaking and entering of a vacation home on Lake Forest Drive. John P. Friel, Pittsburgh, Pa., contacted the sheriff's office on Aug. 28 to report that unknown persons had entered the home after breaking a window at the rear of the house. The screen on the front door was also torn.

Once inside, the perpetrators rummaged through the rooms and removed the following: a quilt, clock radio, telephone, Sony cassette stereo, compact discs, tapes, $20 in cash, beer, wine, and liquor. The loss has been estimated at $437, according to the report.

Friel and his wife, Charlene, had last been at the house on Aug. 7.

In a third case, Lisa A. Bowers, Keyser, W.Va., reported the loss/theft of a video camera. Bowers had gone to Uno's Restaurant on Aug. 27 and after being called into the restaurant when her table was ready, she apparently left her video camera on the walkway outside. She reported that she did not remember having left the camera until the next morning.

Bowers then contacted the restaurant, and no one at the establishment had seen the camera nor had anyone brought it into the front desk. The equipment is worth $735, according to the report.

Maryland Closes Fiscal Year '94 In The Black

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein has announced that Maryland ended fiscal year June 30, 1994 in the black with a $105 million fund balance.

Under Generally Accepted Accounting Principles the comptroller transferred $45 million of the fund balance to Maryland's reserve funds, leaving a surplus of $60,016,033. Goldstein said, "This is a sound financial management practice used to guarantee that funds will always be available to pay local governments their share of the income tax and for other state obligations."

"These figures show Maryland's economy is improving and that consumer and business confidence grew during fiscal year 1994," said Goldstein.

Maryland experienced employment growth of 21,300 jobs, or slightly more than one percent of total employment during fiscal year 1994.

"That's the best record since 1990," Goldstein said. "Job growth has mainly been in the business service, construction, and retail sectors."

Personal income grew by 4.6% through the first three quarters of fiscal year 1994.

"The surplus is largely due to a surge in lottery revenues, growth in employment, and increased consumer confidence," Goldstein said.

Actual revenues exceeded estimates by $83,700,000. In fiscal year 1994, corporation and individual income taxes produced $3.4 billion, or $5.6 million more than expected; sales taxes produced $1.8 billion, or $8.6 million more than expected, and the Maryland State Lottery yielded $353 million, or $38.7 million more than expected.

"The growth in employer withholding tax indicates that employment is improving and that more Marylanders have arranged their withholding to avoid owing additional tax on April 15," Goldstein said. "It also appears that corporation estimated tax payments are increasing, indicating a vote of confidence from the business community for the current fiscal year."

Catholic Charities: A Safe Haven For The Hurting

A guest feature by Mary Theresa Webb, PhD

All of us carry hurts which remain unhealed. Sometimes these hurts surface at times of crisis, loss, or change in our lives. If these hurts begin to affect day-to-day living for us or someone we care about in any or all of the following ways then Catholic Charities is a social service agency available to anyone, regardless of race, color, or creed, that can provide professional help.

1. Do you often feel hopeless?

2. Are you sleeping more or less than usual?

3. Are you having trouble concentrating?

4. Do you feel trapped in a web or surrounded by a wall and cannot get out?

5. Do you blame others and want revenge?

6. Do you have frequent crying spells or do you feel angry, resentful, or bitter much of the time?

7. Do you have recurring nightmares, migraine headaches, intestinal disorders, or other stress related physical health problems?

8. Do you often feel isolated or disconnected?

9. Do you ever think it is not worth living any more?

10. Has anyone ever told you that you eat too much or too little?

11. Has anyone ever told you that you drink too much, that your alcohol or tobacco use is a problem for them (and for you)?

12. Do you believe God and others have let you down?

If you answered yes to any of these questions, you can get back on the track to a fuller, happier, and more productive life by calling (301) 777-8685 today to schedule a time to see a professional therapist. All counseling sessions are provided in a strictly confidential manner.

Catholic Charities, the headquarters of which is in Baltimore, reaches out to nine counties in Maryland to provide healing and to meet social service needs. Its Western Maryland counseling service is available to Garrett Countians at three different church locations, in Oakland, McHenry, and Grantsville. A sliding scale fee for its professional counseling service is determined by gross monthly income and numbers of family members served.

Why should you not just confide in your clergyman or a friend when you are hurting? Sharing your hurts with someone else is important. However, a qualified counselor is trained to assess and to treat your particular needs. There are varieties of therapeutic disciplines.

1. Psychiatrists (MD): Medical doctors with a specialty in treating brain related diseases. In addition to their medical degrees, they are required to complete a two year residency in psychiatry. Most treat with pharmacological as well as psychotherapeutic interventions. Psychiatrists are licensed and certified by boards of other physicians in their specialties.

2. Psychologists (PhD): Mental health specialists, who have passed state and national examinations, have earned graduate doctorate degrees with two years of supervised training. Their training enables them to do psychotherapeutic interventions to treat individuals who have emotional and psychological problems. They can diagnose but cannot prescribe medications.

3. Social Workers: They also receive special training and licensing to do individual, family, and marital counseling. On occasion they make home visits. There are four designations of social workers: LSWA: licensed social worker who has a bachelor's degree; LGSW: licensed social worker with master's degree; LCSW: a licensed social worker with a minimum of 3,000 hours of supervised social work; LCSW-C: in addition to LCSW requirements this credential social worker has an additional 144 hours of direct clinical supervision.

4. Pastoral Counselors (MDiv, PhD, STL): Lay or clergy persons in religious life who have up to four years of professional training with 300 hours of direct clinical supervision. They are certified to do individual, family, and marital counseling, involving contract or fee.

5. Certified Nurse Psychotherapists (CS-P, RN, MS, CS): Registered nurse with a master's in nursing and concentration in psychiatric nursing. They also have to pass an examination by a state board in nursing.

6. Addictions Counselors (CAC, CADC, CCDC, CCAC): Specialists in treating chemical dependency related diseases. They need to meet set requirements in training and 2000 supervised clinical hours administered by a state addictions board. They also must pass an examination administered by this board. Most receive their training in supervised substance abuse treatment centers. Some have special training to treat eating disorders.

7. Certified Professional Counselors (CPC): These counselors have a masters or doctorate degree, two to three years professional experience, and have passed a state examination.

8. Marriage and Family Therapists (MFT): Any of the above may also have passed the credentialing process to be recognized by the Association of Marriage and Family Therapists, having met their standards in advanced clinical skills. In all of the above counseling disciplines, these specialists must hold themselves accountable to strict standards of ethics, keep confidentiality, make sure that their personal issues are not detrimental to their clients, carry professional insurance, be willing to seek supervision and to refer when appropriate to do so. Their professional training qualifies them to be healers. They will do an intake, or take some form of a bio-psycho-social-history, make an assessment, diagnose, and set treatment goals and objectives for change.

Catholic Charities, Inc., raises funds to offer personalized, compassionate counseling services for individuals, families, and couples who are experiencing all kinds of problems. To make an appointment or make a referral, call (301) 777-8685.

JUST PLAIN FOLKS

Folk art is a hard-to-define term that refers to work by untrained artists. It could be an oil painting, or a hand-decorated chair, a cleverly designed tool or even an unusual garden gate. Collectors search for folk art examples that show the maker had a special talent and created a unique piece.

A rare, early 19th-century iron cabbage cutter is a great example. The cutter is shaped in the form of a lady holding a crescent moon-shaped cutting table. Only two in this pattern are known to exist.

But folk art isn't really determined by age. Look at the handmade pieces you find in shops and yard sales. You may find some 20th-century folk pieces at bargain prices.

Q. I have a Chinese porcelain teapot with the matching small dish it fits on. They are at least 200 years old. According to our family history, they belonged to a set of dishes that came to this country from China before the Revolution. The plate must have been broken because it is now held together with little metal strips that look like big staples. Can I have it taken apart and repaired in some way?

A. A new restoration would be less obvious but you might consider leaving the plate with its staples and history. The early way to mend china was to use rivets which were thin strips of round wire or cut metal. Small holes were drilled in the china, then the rivets were inserted and held in place with plaster or glue. Old formulas for glue included gung, cheese, milk, horse dung or blood. Because it must have been expensive for a traveling tinker to mend a broken dish, a mended dish could be worth more than an intact dish.

Q. I noticed that the artist who did the posters for Super Bowl XXVIII was Peter Max. I have a colorful 1960s silk scarf signed by Peter Max. Is that the same artist? Does it have a value?

A. Yes. Collectors started buying Peter Max posters a few years ago. Look for ceramics and textiles as well as posters or advertising he created. A scarf sells for over $75.

Home Tips

ALTERNATE EGGS — On alternate purchases, I buy white eggs and then brown eggs. I load them into my refrigerator egg tray and use the least numerous of one egg color before starting on the other color. This avoids mixing old and new eggs and ending up with stale or less-appetizing eggs. Sarah L., Orlando, Fla.

RECIPE HOLDER — My daughter recently bought a photo album. I thought it would be a great idea to use one for my recipe cards. The slots for photos are the right size for recipe cards and the plastic keeps the cards clean. If I use a recipe and don't like it, out it comes and I have room for something else to try. No more messy cards or time lost trying to locate a recipe. Mona K., Bronsville, Texas BAKING PAN MAGIC — When a recipe calls for lining the baking pan with foil or waxed paper, I discovered that if you turn the baking pan upside down, place the foil or waxed paper over the bottom of the pan and with your fingernail, form a slight crease along the edges of the pan, then the paper lining can be easily slipped into the pan when it is right side up. Wendy F., Manchester, N.H.

ROLL 'EM — I have a tip for those using the older type of wooden rolling pin. I have one that was made for my grandmother when she was married in 1895. I just can't give it up because of the weight. I now spray non-stick vegetable spray over the entire rolling pin when I make pie crusts. It works great — no sticking, and if it does, I repeat the process if I have a lot of dough to roll out. Debbie S., Omaha, Neb.

Senior Service Line

SCAMS UPDATED: As readers of this column know, I try to keep you advised of the various scams that are perpetrated against seniors. Although some may differ with me, I consider these con artists as the worst kind of thieves who deserve nothing less than to be put in jail for many years. They not only take money, they also scar the soul. It isn't easy to recover from an experience in which your trust in another human being is brutally betrayed.

The most recent scam report comes from New York State where, according to the Associated Press, the Attorney General is cracking down on a telemarketer accused of swindling elderly people with promises of cars, washing machines, and other sweepstakes prizes.

The scheme involves trolling for victims nationwide. When they click in to a vulnerable senior, they tell that person that she or he has won a valuable sweepstakes prize, and only needs to buy something for at least $500 to claim it.

Some victims have sent in thousands of dollars to claim these "valuable" prizes. One 89-year-old man parted with $1,900 and received a few bottles of cheap perfume in return. Another woman bought $980 worth of goods to claim her $10,000 prize, and got a few letter openers.

These companies use a "sucker list" of victims, many of whom are scammed many times over by various scheme masters or by the same company using different names.

A typical spiel consists of the company "reminding" their victim that they'd entered a contest some time before. Or, they're told, maybe someone entered for them. In any event, they were now "definitely" winners of a car, jewelry, $5,000 in cash, an expensive appliance, etc. To claim the prize, the victim agrees to buy a "guaranteed" product from the company. Often the product that's sent is a cheap gregaw, or nothing.

If you believe you may have been scammed, alert your state's Attorney General immediately.

Health & Nutrition

by Judith Sheldon

YOUR FOOD COULD KILL YOU: The Institute for Science in Society has issued a warning about infected meat and poultry that should make everyone in the United States be as concerned as the Institute is for the health and well-being of the population.

The ISIS report, "The Risk of Getting Sick from Bacteria in Meat and Poultry" exposes wide gaps in our national "food safety net." The ISIS points out, for example, that the industry continues to use an 80-year-old inspection program based on sight, touch, and smell in slaughterhouses and processing plants to judge the safety of the product. This is not only an outdated process, it is potentially a dangerous one, allowing for the inspectors to reject only two percent or less of carcasses examined for visible contamination.

It's important to understand that bacteria are invisible to the naked eye. They can only be detected with the help of microbiological tests. The ISIS is calling for mandatory microbiological standards and testing at each stage of the food system, from farm to table.

How much will all this add to your food bill? It's possible there will be some pass-along, of course. But we're already paying a high price for the treatment of those infected with these bacteria. It's also important to realize that many of us are part of an especially high risk group, or have high risk persons in our families. For example, those most likely to suffer severe consequences of bacteria contamination include pregnant women, young children, the elderly, people with weakened immune systems — such as cancer survivors — and diabetics.

Contact your senator or congressman and insist the government make this a priority matter.

The new municipal building turned a vacant filling station and car dealership into a lasting landmark in which the citizens may take pride.

The Mountain Fresh Produce Market has become so popular that the building was expanded and now operates three days a week.

Just A Few Things That Did Not Exist Before Asa Became Mayor.

The new bridge over the railroad is not only functional but a work of art that has inspired the town and other businesses to improve sidewalks and lighting.

All of this could not have happened without the hard work of Mayor McCain. He completed the sewer system lifting the 15 year moratorium which had not allowed for any development.

The town water system improvements allowed for expanded growth in fire protection. This was completed one week before the downtown fire just in time to prevent even further losses.

Did he build them himself? Of course not, but he provided the leadership and contributed to the teamwork to spark growth when the economy was at its worst.

The completion of the sewer system has cleaned up the Little Yough River. Not only is it now stocked with trout but kayakers start off here on their way down river to Swallow Falls.

Community projects have flourished like the church social hall above. Expansion is also seen at the American Legion and the Elks allowing community get-togethers.

New building starts have seen renewed neighborhoods as well as to provide elderly housing like Underwood South.

Franchises like McDonald's, Donny's, and Subway have sprung up overnight.

Banking institutions have sprung up or expanded like Wepco, First Federal and the American Trust Bank.

Service businesses like Sheetz and the car wash have flourished.

Nominations For Women's Hall Of Fame Sought

The Maryland Commission for Women is seeking nominations for the Maryland Women's Hall of Fame. According to the commission, "Nominees should represent women who have participated in shaping the state of Maryland, the nation, or the world and be examples for tomorrow's female leaders."

The Maryland Women's Hall of Fame was established in 1985 to recognize the contributions of female Marylanders to society and to promote positive role models for future generations of Maryland women. Up to five women are inducted into the hall each year.

Criteria for induction into the Hall of Fame dictates that nominees must be native-born Marylanders or current residents. Also, the social contribution of a nominee must extend beyond her own community.

In a call for nominations issued recently, Phyllis B. Trickett, chair of the Maryland Commission for Women, and Donna L. Selby, chair of the Maryland Women's Hall of Fame, stated that "a selection committee representing a cross section of citizens of the state will review the nominations and make recommendations to the commission. After final review and approval, the commission will announce the inductees and the Governor will spotlight their contributions in a ceremony in their honor in March of 1995."

The Hall of Fame is co-sponsored by the commission and by the Women Legislators of the Maryland General Assembly.

Nomination forms are available at the Ruth E. Inlow Library or from commission members. Persons seeking more information may contact Joanne Saltzberg, Commission for Women office, at (410) 767-7137.

"It Could Be You..."

Sunday Proverbs 3:1-25

Monday Proverbs 4:1-27

Tuesday Proverbs 12:1-28

Wednesday Proverbs 14:1-35

Thursday Ecclesiastes 7:1-25

Friday Deuteronomy 5:10-22

Saturday Deuteronomy 6:1-9

"My employer must reduce his labor force. Will I be one of those who must leave? How would I meet my obligations?"

"I have discovered I have a serious illness. Suppose I am unable to function? Could I survive on disability benefits?"

"I have made a serious error. My boss wants to see me in his office! I'm really nervous. Will I be terminated?"

Have you survived feelings that your life could be blown apart? If so, you probably go to work each day with a thankful heart. If you have fortunately escaped those anxious times, you may reflect briefly upon these very real possibilities and be especially grateful for your place in our work force.

This Labor Day, may we thank God each day for our health, our talents, and our workplace. Also, may we pray for those who are dependent, not because of choice but because of circumstances. "...whatever is gracious, think about these things" (Philippians 4:8). Think about it. It could be you.

RELIGIOUS SOCIETY OF FRIENDS (QUAKERS)

THE SCARLET CORD
September 4, 1994

Background Scripture: Joshua 1 through 2
Devotional Reading: Joshua 1:1-9

When I was in junior high, I idolized my pastor, Mark J. Steirwald. If it had not been for him—and a pretty brunette named "Jackie"—I wouldn't have even been part of that church. At first, I went there because Jackie was there, I stayed there because Pastor Steirwald showed me that one can be a Christian and still have fun. Up to that time it was my perception that churches were grim places where people looked unhappy and acted negatively.

When, a few years later, Mark Steirwald died suddenly of a heart attack, I was devastated. When it was announced that he would be succeeded by the Rev. Paul Price, I was certain that he could not possibly fill Pastor Steirwald's shoes. And he didn't; in fact, he never tried to. He went on, rather, to perform his ministry differently than his predecessor, but no less successfully. So, both of these men, each in his own way, had a tremendous effect upon my life and ultimately my own ministry.

I can appreciate, then, what may have loomed large in the minds of the people of Israel when, upon the death of Moses, it was announced that Joshua would be his successor. Certainly there must have been those who said, "He can never be the leader Moses was!" who thought that with Moses gone they would never see the promised land.

"WITH YOU"
But, whatever doubts and fears there might have been, Israel followed Joshua's leadership. God's special servant, Moses, was gone, but God was still with them. The promise God had made to Moses was renewed with Joshua. "Every place that the sole of your foot will tread upon I have given to you, as I promised Moses" (1:3).

Law Enforcement Program At GCC Attracts Students

In a community like Garrett County where the rate of violent crime is far below the national average, interest in law enforcement as a career appears to be growing, if enrollment in Garrett Community College's new Law Enforcement program is any indication.

According to Dr. Lillian Mitchell, dean of academic affairs, a number of students have already enrolled in the program and more are expected to enroll before the start of classes September 7. The 30-credit hour program includes four specific law enforcement courses, two of which are scheduled in the fall semester. "We are fortunate to have two top law enforcement professionals teaching these courses," Dr. Mitchell stated, "They will bring many years of training and broad experience to the classroom."

Lt. Charles Hinnant, commander of the McHenry Barracks of the Maryland State Police, will teach the Intro to Law Enforcement course on Thursday evenings, and Garrett County Sheriff Van Evans will teach the Law Enforcement and Community Relation courses on Tuesday evenings.

Sheriff Evans, who graduated from GCC's first Law Enforcement program, recently expressed his views of the program and the course he will teach. "The Law Enforcement program will give students an opportunity to learn about the public safety profession and hopefully will help them make a knowledgeable career choice in the future," he said.

About the Law Enforcement and Community Relations course, he said, "It will be an opportunity for me to relate first hand how the office of sheriff has to be in touch with all aspects of our community and the entire population, from very young children to senior citizens because the sheriff is the only chief law enforcement officer chosen by the voters."

OVER 1,000 PEOPLE attended the recent Family Fun Day held by the Garrett County Memorial Hospital Foundation at the Garrett County Fairgrounds in McHenry. One of the many attractions was the tethered hot air balloon rides provided by Fun Aviation, Morgantown, W.Va. The balloon rides were made available through sponsorship by American Trust Bank, Beachy Lumber Company, the Deep Creek Lions Club, First United National Bank & Trust,

Students can still register for the law enforcement classes at Student Assistance Center Monday through Thursdays until 6:20 p.m. and on Fridays until 4 p.m. Anyone desiring further information may call the Student Assistance Center at 387-3044.

DNR Announces Golden Adventures For 50+ Group

The Maryland Department of Natural Resources (DNR), State Forest and Park Service will sponsor "Golden Adventures" for individuals over the age of 50.

"Golden Adventures are for those 'outdoorsey' people who wait for all the crowds to be gone and the kids to go back to school," a DNR spokesperson said.

These activities will be held at Deep Creek Lake State Park at 4 p.m. on Wednesdays, Sept. 7, 14, Gregg's Pharmacy, Oakland New Car Dealers Association, Rally Realty, and Silver Tree Inn. Providing music at the event were members of the Garrett Community College Pipes and Drums, Jack Beard and Judge Fred Thayer, pictured right. Below is a photo of the Maryland State Police Medevac helicopter, which circled the fairgrounds, and then landed to allow patrons to get an interior view of the aircraft.

Persons who have information about this or any other unsolved crime are urged to contact Crime Solvers at 334-1975. Rewards of up to $1,000 are available to persons who provide tips that lead to arrests. Callers do not have to appear in court nor give their names.

The Garrett County Crime Solvers organization is currently seeking information on the following breaking, entering, and theft.

Between the dates of July 17-28, unknown persons broke into the residence of Bonny Kellner, located on Hoves Run Road. Once inside, the suspects stole a Magnavox VCR and a Radio Shack Home Minder computer.

The culprits entered the home by breaking out glass in the front door. The loss in this case is in excess of $650.

THE REPUBLICAN, OAKLAND, MARYLAND -- THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 7, 1994 B-3

Small Business Survival Class Offered At GCC

Starting a small business can be overwhelming and the majority of small businesses fail during the first five years. The Small Business Administration encourages anyone thinking about starting a small business to improve the chance for success by learning the basics before getting the business underway. Several short classes that have been designed to provide potential business owners with this opportunity will be offered at Garrett Community College this fall.

The first class, "Record Management for Small Businesses," will meet on September 26 and October 3 from 6:30 to 9:45 p.m. and will be taught by Jeffrey Bell, president of Financial Advantage. The class will focus on how to set up the basic record-keeping requirements for a business. Topics will include inventory and personnel records, receipts and disbursements, and tax forms.

"Introduction to Small Business" will meet October 10 and 17 from 6:30 to 9:45 p.m. Key topics for this class will include start-up considerations, marketing, financing, management and various types of ownership.

"Developing a Business Plan and Finances for the Small Business," the third class in the series, will focus on developing a business plan, types of financing available, financial statement analysis, business taxes, cash flow analysis and budgeting. This class will meet on four consecutive Mondays from October 24 through November 14 from 6:30 to 9:45 p.m.

Bell, who will be instructing all three courses, provides complete financial support for small companies as owner of Financial Advantage. He worked previously in the area of commercial lending and in various accounting and financial management positions with General Electric.

These GCC classes are planned to offer practical learning experiences which can immediately be "put to work" in business, according to a GCC spokesman. They are co-sponsored by the Continuing Education Division of GCC, the Small Business Administration and the Western Maryland Small Business Development Center.

All classes will be held at the McHenry Campus of Garrett Community College. Since space is limited, those interested in attending should register immediately. To register or obtain additional information, persons may call Sandy Major or Ruth Pinter at the GCC Small Business Development Center at 387-3101 or 387-3080.

IMPROVEMENTS AT DEEP CREEK WILL REQUIRE TEMPORARY LOWERING OF LAKE'S WATER LEVEL

Penelec, owner of Deep Creek Lake and the Deep Creek Hydroelectric Station, has started to make improvements at the lake and power station. This work will require the lake to be drawn down to lower-than-normal levels in September and October.

Work to repair the lake's primary spillway, a structure that helps control the flow of excess water from the lake, began in mid-July and will continue through November.

In addition, Penelec plans to build two water-control structures, a flow bypass and a tailrace weir, near the station — measures designed to enhance the fishery in the Youghiogheny River. The flow bypass will help maintain water flow in the Youghiogheny during low-water times.

The tailrace weir will improve the oxygen content of water discharged from the plant by aerating the water as it splashes through the W-shaped concrete structure.

Work on the flow bypass and tailrace weir is set to begin in October and is expected to extend into November.

Work on all three projects will require the lake's water level to be lowered. The water level will be lowered by four feet, from an elevation of 2,458 feet on Labor Day to an elevation of 2,454 feet on Oct. 3. At or near the lower elevation, boaters may experience some inconveniences.

Boat owners are advised to take the necessary docking precautions before the water level is reduced. Unattended boats could become stranded. After Oct. 3, the lake's water level will be uncontrolled as a result of a temporary shutdown of the power plant. The water level could rise rapidly in the event of heavy rainfall.

The relatively rapid drawdown will provide frequent white-water boating conditions on the Youghiogheny River from Sept. 5 through Oct. 3 as water from the lake is released into the river. There will be no release of water to the river from Oct. 3 through November because the hydroelectric plant will be shut down.

(Questions regarding Penelec's projects at Deep Creek should be directed to David Clossin, (814) 533-8738.)

With gifts to buy, cookies to bake, friends and relatives to entertain, the holidays are usually the busiest time of the year. You can make the most of this busy season by choosing a simple, yet elegant holiday menu that's filled with the abundance and good flavors of a traditional feast — without the fuss.

Start the festivities by welcoming your guests with Warm Brie with Date-Walnut Confetti — a delicious appetizer that can be prepared in minutes. Simply soften a round of Brie in the microwave and top with a make-ahead mixture of California dates, toasted walnuts and green onions. Serve this with crisp crackers or a loaf of crusty French bread.

For the main course, choose a boneless beef roast that cooks virtually unattended alongside the Dijon Potatoes au Gratin. No one will believe how easy these impressive dishes are to prepare once they taste the juicy roast beef and tangy potatoes. Just rub the roast with garlic and rosemary and place it on a rack in a roasting pan in the oven. Then update traditional potatoes au gratin with a savory sauce made with Dijon mustard.

While the roast and potatoes are in the oven, toss together a salad of mixed greens. Just before serving, drizzle with a refreshing, zesty blend of lemon, parsley and velvety Dijon mustard dressing.

For the finale, serve scrumptious California Sugarplums and fresh fruit. Whole California dates, with their caramel-like flavor, are an ideal holiday dessert when stuffed with whole almonds and dipped in tasty toppings. For added ease and convenience, the sugarplums can be made a day or two ahead of time.

With this fuss-free menu, you can relax and enjoy your wonderful holiday dinner.

A Festive Feast Made Simple

Warm Brie with Date-Walnut Confetti

Makes 8 servings

- 1 pound Brie cheese wheel, chilled
 - 1/2 cup pitted California Dates
 - 1/4 cup sliced green onions
 - 1/4 cup walnuts, coarsely chopped and toasted
 - 1 tablespoon butter, melted
 - 1 teaspoon chopped parsley
 - Crackers or sliced French bread
- Place Brie on a large microwavable serving plate. Microwave on HIGH (100% power) for 45 to 60 seconds or until cheese just begins to soften. In small bowl, toss dates, green onions and walnuts with melted butter. Spoon date mixture over top of softened cheese and sprinkle with parsley. Serve immediately with crackers or French bread.
- Cook's Tip: To warm Brie in oven, place on baking sheet. Bake at 300° F for 10 minutes, or until cheese begins to soften. Transfer to serving platter with large spatula.

California Sugarplums

Makes about 60 sugarplums

- 3 cups pitted California Dates (about 60)
 - 1-1/2 cups whole almonds, toasted
 - 1/4 cup sugar
 - 1/2 teaspoon grated lemon peel
 - 1/4 teaspoon ground cinnamon
 - 1/2 cup semisweet chocolate chips, melted
 - 1/2 cup shredded coconut, toasted
 - 1/2 cup vanilla milk chips, melted
 - Assorted fresh fruit pieces
- Slice each date open lengthwise. Stuff dates with almonds.
- Lemon-Cinnamon Dates: In small bowl, mix sugar, lemon peel and cinnamon. Dampen 20 stuffed dates with a wet paper towel; roll in sugar mixture.
- Chocolate-Coconut Dates: Dip 20 stuffed dates halfway into melted semisweet chocolate; sprinkle with coconut. Place on waxed paper-lined plate and refrigerate for 15 minutes to harden chocolate.
- White Chocolate Dates: Dip remaining stuffed dates halfway into melted vanilla milk chips, allowing excess to drip off. Place on waxed paper-lined plate and refrigerate for 15 minutes to harden chocolate; drizzle with additional melted semisweet chocolate, if desired.
- To serve, arrange sugarplums on serving platter with fresh fruit. Store leftover sugarplums in tightly covered container.

Dijon Potatoes au Gratin

Makes 6 servings

- 1/3 cup chopped green onions
 - 1 clove garlic, minced
 - 2 tablespoons butter
 - 1-1/2 cups light cream or half-and-half
 - 1/3 to 1/2 cup Grey Poupon Dijon Mustard
 - 2 cups shredded Cheddar cheese, divided
 - 2 tablespoons chopped parsley, divided
 - 2 pounds baking potatoes, peeled and thinly sliced
 - 1 tablespoon grated Parmesan cheese
 - 1 tablespoon pimientos, optional
- In medium saucepan, saute onions and garlic in butter until tender. Reduce heat to low and stir in cream, mustard and 1/3 cup Cheddar cheese; cook and stir until cheese melts and mixture is smooth. Remove from heat and stir in 1 tablespoon parsley.
- In greased 8-inch square baking dish, layer 1/3 each of the potatoes and cream sauce. Repeat layers twice, ending with cream sauce. Sprinkle top with remaining Cheddar cheese, Parmesan cheese and pimientos if desired. Bake at 325° F for 60 to 70 minutes or at 350° F for 50 to 60 minutes or until potatoes are tender. Let stand 5 minutes before serving; garnish with remaining parsley.

Mixed Salad with Lemon Parsley Dijon Dressing

Makes 6 to 8 servings

- 1/2 cup olive oil
 - 1/4 cup Grey Poupon Dijon Mustard
 - 1/4 cup fresh lemon juice
 - 2 tablespoons chopped fresh parsley
 - 2 tablespoons minced shallots
 - 1 teaspoon sugar
 - 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
 - 1 clove garlic, minced
 - 1/4 teaspoon coarsely ground black pepper
 - 6 cups mixed torn salad greens (romaine, radicchio, bibb, endive, watercress)
 - 1/2 cup cherry tomatoes, halved
 - 1/2 cup artichoke hearts, quartered
 - 1/3 cup sliced mushrooms
 - Carrot curls, for garnish
- In small bowl, whisk oil, mustard, lemon juice, parsley, shallots, sugar, Worcestershire, garlic and pepper. Cover and chill for at least 1 hour.
- In large bowl, layer salad greens, tomatoes, artichoke hearts and mushrooms. To serve, garnish with carrot curls serve with dressing.

Garlic Rosemary Rub

(As shown on Beef Roast)

Combine 2 cloves crushed garlic, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon rosemary leaves and 1 teaspoon cracked black pepper; rub evenly over surface of beef roast. Makes enough seasoning mix for 4- to 6-pound beef roast. Recipe may be doubled.

Peppercorn Dijon Glaze

Blend 1/3 cup Grey Poupon Dijon Mustard, 1 teaspoon coarsely cracked mixed peppercorns (black, white, green and pink), 1 clove garlic, crushed, and 1 teaspoon lemon juice. Brush evenly over surface of beef roast. Makes enough mixture for 4- to 6-pound beef roast. Recipe may be doubled.

Beef Roasting Timetable For Holiday Entertaining

When deciding how large a roast to buy for holiday meals, plan to serve 4 to 6 ounces of cooked beef per person to satisfy holiday appetites. A boneless beef roast will yield approximately three 4-ounce or two 6-ounce cooked, trimmed servings per pound.

1994 Garrett County Primary Election Voters' Guide

The Republican and the Garrett County League of Women Voters present this guide with hopes of assisting local voters in making their selections when they enter the ballot booth during the Maryland Primary Election on Tuesday, Sept. 13.

The answers to the questions presented by the League to the candidates appear on these pages with no changes whatsoever. Spelling and grammatical errors by the candidates were not corrected by our proofreaders.

There were some candidates whose responses are not included because either they did not reply to the questions at all, or they submitted their replies too late for publication.

Governor

Questions for Candidates
(50-word limit)

1. What should be the role of the State government in regulating land use and managing growth, considering the impacts on economic development, on private property rights, and on degradation or preservation of the environment?
2. To what extent should state financing be used to offset inequities in local funding of education? What are your views on privatization?
3. How would you reform the welfare system to reduce long-term dependence on it without jeopardizing the well-being of children?
4. Concerning health care, what are your views and positions on (1) universal coverage, (2) coverage for reproductive health, including prenatal care, family planning, and abortion, (3) financing by employer-employee contributions, and (4) cost controls?
5. What is your position on licensing gun owners and registration of guns? What approaches would you advocate for the prevention and control of crime?
6. What are your views on campaign financing and spending limitations, term limits, ethics in public office, and lobbyists' reporting laws?
7. What are the most important issues facing our state and how would you respond to them?

Republicans

Helen Delich Bentley

1. Land use and growth management regulations serve to protect communities and the environment, and we must consider all these factors. These controls should be primarily the responsibility of local jurisdictions. I see a state role when necessary to address issues of regional concern, such as protection of the Chesapeake Bay.
2. A strong public school system is a cornerstone of democracy; every Maryland student is entitled to a quality education. The present funding formula offsets the imbalance in local education funding. Taxpayers deserve greater accountability from the school bureaucracies. Privatization pilot programs should be evaluated as an alternative for failing schools.
3. Breaking the cycle of welfare dependence must be the primary goal of reform. This includes teaching personal responsibility, time limits, and a benefits cap. Savings from reform must be directed to job training and economic development, so that every child can be a part of a self-sufficient family.
4. We must address issues such as preexisting conditions and portability without jeopardizing a system that satisfies 85% of Americans. New taxes in the guise of reform cannot drive small companies out of business. Maryland has been a leader in cost containment, and I oppose federal mandates that interfere with this.
5. Citizens who obey the laws are not the people who use guns to commit crimes. As Governor, I will stop parole for violent criminals, appoint judges who will issue tough sentences and respect the rights of victims, will enact laws to permanently incarcerate repeat violent felons and drug kingpins.
6. Maryland recently enacted new campaign finance limitations. These laws must be allowed to operate for at least one full election cycle before determining whether further reforms are needed. Public officials and lobbyists must be held to the highest of standards and should be made to file reasonable disclosure reports.
7. As Governor, Helen Bentley will work to create jobs, enact tough criminal justice reforms and end the cycle of welfare dependence. We need to reinvigorate the state's business climate by eliminating excessive regulations that hamper economic development. I will work to improve our education system to develop a workforce responsive.

Ellen R. Sauerbrey

1. Government closest to home is most responsive to the needs of citizens. The state's role should be setting broad goals and influencing local policy by ensuring that economic development, housing, open space grants, state infrastructure monies, transportation planning, etc. consider growth management goals. Private property rights must be protected.
2. The problem in our schools is not lack of money. Many private schools succeed with half of the financing of the state's poorest public schools. I will reduce a top-heavy centralized bureaucracy and encourage competition in poorly performing school districts, such as new charter schools, tax credit and private management of failed schools.
3. I favor time limits for eligibility and identification of paternity for able bodied persons to collect cash benefits and denial of cash benefits for children born ten months after a woman enters the welfare system. However, I would provide health and nutrition services for their children and aggressive enforcement of child support obligations.
4. Insurance regulation should guarantee access renewal of coverage and portability between jobs; vouchers should assist working poor to access private insurance; I oppose employer mandates but would encourage the use of the medical IRA and standardization of forms for cost savings. I favor free market solutions that ensure that citizens retain choice of health plans and physicians.
5. Gun control doesn't work because only law-abiding citizens are affected, not the criminals. I have introduced measures such as mandatory sentencing in crimes involving firearms and truth in sentencing. We need better drug rehabilitation programs, and must integrate the juvenile justice system with the adult system for violent crimes.
6. Candidates should be required to raise the majority of funds from within their own district. I support term limits, and full disclosure for lobbyists which would include a cap on total contributions and non-reportable gifts up to $100.
7. My top priorities are public safety and cutting the size and cost of government. My running mate has 37 years experience in law enforcement. He'll work with our criminal justice system to combat crime in Maryland. My proposed budget slows government growth, eliminates the deficit and gives business and taxpayers a tax reduction.

William S. Shepard

- 1: Under the State Planning Act of 1992, future growth will be channeled for the most part around existing population centers. This legislation implies a primary role for county and municipal authorities. The state must ensure complementary transportation and infrastructure responsibilities, in order to balance environmental needs of the Chesapeake Bay.
- 2: This is a state responsibility, for the Maryland Constitution requires a "thorough and efficient education" in public schools everywhere. We must see to it that education is of high quality throughout the State, or a lawsuit may force us to equalize funding. I oppose public money vouchers for private schools.
- 3: I regret that Governor Schaefer vetoed welfare legislation in 1994 that would have established a pilot program of workfare training. We must broaden such a program, put it into effect, and limit the time that welfare is available for the able-bodied.
- 4: I approve of Maryland's landmark 1993 legislation expanding health care coverage, but will implement it without a proliferating bureaucracy. Physician choice must be maintained. I do not favor mandates. Reproductive and prenatal health are important, to any holistic program, but not expanded abortion coverage.
- 5: I will prevent crime through strong executive action to create crime strike resources uniting state and local police resources, with concurrent jurisdiction for state troopers in drug interdiction and fighting organized crime. I will cooperate with federal and regional authorities to stop illegal gun trafficking and strengthen lawful gun privileges.
- 6: Campaign financing and spending limit laws must be tightened, as should lobbyist contributions. I favor local option laws for term limits. Ethics in public office must be the highest, and publicly seen to be the highest.
- 7: There is a crisis of confidence in Maryland's state government, with record popular disapproval for all involved. I am the only candidate for Governor who is not a career elected politician, but an experienced executive. We will tackle the environmental budget, taxes, crime, and education as experienced, caring executives.

Democrats

Don Allensworth

- 1: Non aggressive, enabling legislation to govern local governments, granting citizens equal rights to developers. New state law granting citizens equal appeals rights to developers in natural resources, environmental and wetlands areas. New policy requiring grants.
- 2: Present doesn't work. Figures in Washington County show our spending on school administrators to be 5, but outperforms 16.
- 3: Keep spending, especially Medicaid at current levels. I will not fund unfunded Medicaid growth. Support social services.
- 4: As much coverage as possible. Employer mandates on larger companies and non-profits. Cost controls on hospitals not doctors unless welfare.
- 5: No infringement on 2nd Amendment rights. I will protect these rights as governor.
- 6: Need to make conflict of interest a crime.
- 7: Waste disposal - Shut down Pulaski Highway Incinerator and Dickerson. Close down Hughesville.

Mary H. Boergers

- 1: We need to strike a balance between economic development and environmental protection. Environmental quality is critical to our quality of life and economic prosperity. The state government must be a leader and act as a clearinghouse as well as a catalyst for long-term growth, comprehensive planning and environmental protection.
- 2: Maryland must provide each child with a quality education. Education funding is a partnership between state and local governments. Equalization cannot occur, however, if local governments decrease their support as the state government increases its funding. I oppose privatization because our public schools need to be directly accountable to our citizens.
- 3: The Boergers' Administration will focus on getting welfare recipients back to work, and providing the job training, health care benefits and child care services needed for welfare recipients to gain long term employment, become self-sufficient and strengthen the family unit.
- 4: I support universal health care coverage for all citizens, which must provide coverage for reproductive health services, including abortion. I support employer-employee contributions as well as cost controls and believe that both can be achieved without sacrificing comprehensive health care coverage or quality of health.
- 5: I have consistently sponsored and supported legislation banning assault weapons and licensing gun owners. To reduce crime in Maryland, we need a comprehensive approach which includes programs and laws to eliminate the breeding grounds of criminals-violent homes. We also need tough measures such as truth-in-sentencing, three-strikes-and-you're-out, and enforcement of the death penalty.
- 6: I support campaign finance reform and spending limits. The office for which I am running already has a two-term limit. For other elected offices, I think voters should exercise their rights to impose term limits on election day. I have also sponsored legislation to bring about more frequent reporting of...
- 7: As Governor, I will first resolve Maryland's very serious fiscal problems. With this goal accomplished, the state will be able to comprehensively resolve three of it's most important problems: ridding our state of violent crime, providing our children with the quality education they deserve, and creating an economic environment that is ...

Walter Gilerist Finch

- 1: The State should have an overall comprehensive plan for land use and managing growth, which taken into consideration the past, present, and future impacts on economic development and including other factors, such as private property rights balanced with population growth.
- 2: The State should subsidize financing to offset inequities in local funding of education. All children should receive the best in the way of education. I favor privatization and will fight for it.
- 3: I would restrict the number of years that a person can be on welfare, and make adjustments for mothers with their children who are unable to work. Welfare mothers should be educated for work to supplement their income.
- 4: I would favorite 1) universal coverage of health care if it could be put on a sound and fair basis; 2) I am in favor of coverage for reproductive health, including prenatal care, family planning, and abortion if the pregnancy was caused by rape etc.; in favor of financing by equal or...
- 5: I am in favor of licensing of all gun owners and registration of guns. The guns must be taken off the streets and out of the hands of criminals or potential criminals. Use the National Guards and State Militia to supplement the Federal, State, and local police with increased expenditures.
- 6: I am in favor of decreasing campaign financing and spending limitations; full disclosure of all contributors including PAC committees and corporations; the ethics in public office should be of the highest and enforced; limits should be decreased; and lobbyists' reporting laws should be strengthened.
- 7: The greatest problem related to educating our young people, to see they get the best education our state and local governments can afford. 2) Minimization of crime by better education of our young people; reducing crime by the latest state of the art equipment, adequate police force and severe penalties for...

Lawrence K. Freeman

- 1: The State government should be careful to protect the environment. However many of the claims by the environmentalist movement are based on completely unfounded scientific frauds. Real economic growth based on new technologies can solve any real concerns about the environment.
- 2: The State has responsibility to insure that every child is guaranteed a quality education in the public school system. I led the fight in Baltimore against the privatization schemes of Mayor Schmoke and Dr. Amprey, because the education of our children cannot be done effectively by private corporations motivated by profit.
- 3: The only way to really reform the welfare system is to expand the economy. With real economic growth by re-industrializing the Maryland economy I would create tens of thousands of high paying productive jobs. This would enable those on public assistance to raise their families at a decent standard of living.
- 4: I support universal coverage, which will require a massive increase in the entire health care industry. We cannot have cost control-managed health care run by the insurance companies. Only with a revitalized and growing economy can society afford the cost. I am morally opposed to so called family planning ...
- 5: As a gun owner I am satisfied with the gun control laws in the State of Maryland and the constitutional rights of gun owners should be protected. It is false to believe that gun control will stop crime. It won't since the criminals get their guns illegally in the first place.
- 6: I am running a grassroots campaign with no financial support from any outside institutions, so I cannot be controlled. Unfortunately many of our elected officials lack a strong moral foundation and are demagogues who manipulate the fears of the population to win votes.
- 7: Number one, we must rebuild the economy. Number two, we must throw out the New Age outcome Based education that is destroying our educational system. Number three, we must wage a real war on drugs and not drug the African American community with more dope through the needle of exchange program.

Parris N. Glendening

1. Maryland should have a strong policy of directed growth to reduce sprawl, using incentives as we have in Prince George's County, where we have a five-year property tax credit for investment in targeted older communities. Every state program should be reviewed to determine if it encourages sprawl or revitalization.
2. We must seek adequate funding to meet the potential of every child and to reduce funding disparities. To accomplish this in an affordable manner, state spending priorities must be changed. Though I have serious concerns about the viability of privatization as an effective school reform measure, I would not prevent ...
3. By encouraging responsible behavior and providing quality education, effective job training, child care and health care coverage, we can make welfare a hand up instead of a handout. Good paying jobs with advancement opportunities are the best incentive to get people out of welfare.
4. I believe that all Marylanders are entitled to reasonable, affordable health care, which should be funded in a way that does not harm business and job growth. I also support prenatal care, family planning and Medicaid funding for abortion.
5. We need to put more police on the streets & expand community-based policing, improve Maryland's education system & increase economic opportunity, and support community crime prevention efforts such as boot camps, juvenile justice reform, and drug treatment. I support a ban on all assault weapons, and requiring licensing for...
6. I believe that we should hold our public officials to stringent ethical standards. I would support legislation tightening the restrictions on the gifts and gratuities that legislators can receive from lobbyists and requiring more frequent reporting of campaign contributions. I do not support term limitations for elected officials.
7. My vision calls for raising education to our top priority, it is the foundation on which our families and communities prosper and succeed; requiring stiffer punishment for violent offenders and expanding crime prevention efforts; jumpstarting the Maryland economy; preserving our environment; and making Maryland's government more efficient and effective.

American Joe Miedusiewski

- 1: The State sets overall growth guidelines, and then consults with the counties so that their plans interface without conflict. Primary responsibility for regulating land use is with the individual counties. State plays limited role, dealing with matters which cross county lines and concern all citizens. Paramount.
- 2: Our goal should not be to equalize funding of education among the different jurisdictions, but rather to insure that basic educational needs of our children are met. State funding should be used to supplement local funding to achieve this end. Privatization is an option, and has been an effective tool in motivating schools with declining performance standards.
- 3: I will place a two-child limit on welfare benefits, and use the savings to provide child care for welfare mothers who go back to work. Welfare must be based upon a common-sense system of incentives; we will get more of whatever type of behavior we reward. We must provide incentives.
- 4: Universal coverage should be our goal, and should include coverage for reproductive health. The burden of cost should not be placed solely on the backs of businesses, but rather should be shared by those deriving the benefits. Artificial cost controls have proven to be inefficient and unsuccessful; increased competition within market.
- 5: A "DMV" for guns would only impose a heavy burden upon law-abiding citizens, while doing absolutely nothing to keep guns out of the hands of criminals. We must instead focus more attention and resources upon law enforcement, and get tough with the criminals. We must stop returning violent offenders....
- 6: Campaign financing laws should focus on moderating the influence of special interest groups. I support reasonable campaign spending limitations. I am opposed to term limits-let the voters decide. I would prohibit gifts or gratuities of any sort from lobbyists to legislators. I support lobbyist reporting laws.
- 7: Crime. My number one priority. Get tough with criminals. More support for police. Better coordination and utilization of all our resources to fight crime. Schools. Give teachers more authority in the classroom, principles more authority over their schools and budgets. Improve accountability and standards. Seek greater community and parental involvement.

Melvin A. Steinberg

- 1: State government should not dictate local land use policy. However, the state can manage growth in several ways. First, the state capital construction funds can be targeted to areas that are already developed. Second, state highway construction can be targeted so that growth is confined to certain development corridors.
- 2: Privatization of schools is a tool that deserves consideration if efforts to reform the system from within are not successful. Funding inequities need to be addressed by revamping Maryland's antiquated funding formula regarding school aid.
- 3: Reform cannot be accomplished by capping the number of children. I believe in rewarding responsible parents for breaking out of the welfare cycle, not naming a child. Child and day care for working parents, along with job training and jobs paying a livable wage, are the basis for welfare reform.

- 4: I support universal coverage. I support coverage for reproductive health, including prenatal care, family care, the right of a woman to choose on the matter of abortion. Financing decisions should begin at the federal level and must be fair and equitable. I support cost controls and managed care.
- 5: Support. Reducing crime and violence includes targeting more resources to high crime areas, speeding up the court system for violent criminals, reducing prison population by developing better alternatives for non-violent offenders, restructuring the parole and probation systems, enforcing gun control laws, and creating more diversion programs for juveniles.
- 6: I believe that campaign laws should require more frequent and full disclosure provisions. I do not support term limitations. Ethics of public officials should be held to an extremely high standard. The public trust demands it. Lobbyists should be required to disclose gifts to legislators/public officials above a certain amount.
- 7: Crime - above. Education - Teachers and schools must be held accountable, certain standards must be achieved, and full service schools implemented. Jobs - A major responsibility of my administration will be to focus our resources on developing and fostering these new businesses of the future.

Attorney General

Questions for Candidates
(50-word limit)

1. What are your views on the enforcement of consumer and environmental protection?
2. What is your position on licensing purchasers of guns and registration of guns as well as other means of preventing and controlling crime?

Republicans

Richard D. Bennett

1. I believe consumer and environmental protection--along with fighting crime--are the key responsibilities of the Attorney General. I would aggressively challenge those who would violate Maryland's laws on these matters.
2. I support a ban on assault weapons and a waiting period before a handgun can be purchased. I believe an instant check for a criminal record and tougher penalties on the misuse of firearms would be more effective than licensing guns.

Democrats

Eleanor M. Carey

- 1: As Deputy Attorney General from 1979-1987, I helped shape Maryland's model consumer division. I will use innovative techniques to pursue today's more sophisticated consumer scams and healthcare frauds. I will give top enforcement priority to combating carcinogenic pollutants in the environment and the workplace, and safeguarding the Chesapeake Bay.
- 2: My comprehensive crime plan will help law enforcement and communities fight violent crime and seek solutions to its causes. Top priorities are adopting truth-in-sentencing and eliminating school violence. I support licensing firearm owners, registering guns and creating a fast-track gun court for swift trial of gun offenders.

J. Joseph Curran, Jr.

- 1: I support the vigorous, but fair, enforcement of consumer and environmental protection laws. This is what I have done for the past eight years as Attorney General. Actions have been brought to protect defrauded consumers and we have sent environmental polluters to jail.
- 2: No issue more clearly defines my public career than gun control. I have long supported strong gun control legislation. I support licensing of purchasers and gun registration. I will support a comprehensive gun bill in 1995. Gun control is a first step toward crime control.
- 1: Maryland's economic climate must be improved to hold and attract businesses with jobs. I will assist businesses with compliance and terminate the adversarial mindset. Maryland is #2 in the nation in lost jobs and is ranked 46th on an index of economic momentum. We need more Marylanders working....
- 2: Maryland does not need more gun control laws. Maryland needs an Attorney General who will enforce existing law NOW, abolish parole for violent offenders, limit death penalty appeals, and protect victims by voting "yes" on Question #1. We must lower the age for juvenile offenders from 18 to 16, enforce ...

Comptroller

Questions for Candidates
(50-word limit)

1. What procedures do you propose for sound fiscal management of state revenues?
2. How would you as a member of the Board of Public Works serve the public interest?

Republicans

Timothy R. Mayberry

1. Updating correcting management collection revenue abatement problems in Comptroller office can save more than $150 million; plan specifies not possible in 50 words but detailed plan is in hand to be available near primary. Will use banking background/regulatory experience to assist advise state leadership re debt retirement, tax reform.
2. Readjust procedures to pay contractors on time, saving state penalties; insure large small minority businesses increased opportunity to bid for state services. Require all road/other repair contractors to warrant work. Will develop means insuring compatibility between citizen/business needs and environmental concerns, will consider privatization certain services currently state run.
1. Prepare more realistic revenue forecasts; review all the Comptroller functions to ensure that the most modern, cost effective technology is being utilized; fully exercise the Comptroller's power to influence State government policies in budget areas including innovative budget techniques and financing approaches, and to recommend improvements in the State tax.
2. Fully exercise the Comptroller's power and influence as a member of the Board of Public Works in a) ensuring greater use of competitive bidding, b) achieving maximum effective use of privatization techniques, and c) increasing minority and small business contracting opportunities.

Democrats

Louis L. Goldstein

- 1: The comptroller must remain an independent officer responsible for accounting and financial reporting to accurately record the state's assets and liabilities, avoiding political misrepresentation. The comptroller must insist on checks and balances in the handling of state revenues. Ongoing reorganization will improve revenue collection and compliance activities.
- 2: I have served as the people's representative on the Board of Public Works throughout my tenure as State Comptroller, insisting on competitive bidding, efficient use of state-owned, land purchasing instead of renting space where economical, and protecting Maryland's triple A General Obligation Bond rating, which saves millions of taxpayer dollars each year.

James. B. Moorhead

1. As comptroller I will be the "taxpayer's watchdog." As a former federal prosecutor, I will uncover the bureaucrats and elected officials who waste tax dollars and misuse funds. I will make a full-scale assault on government waste -- to break the cycle of higher taxes and more wasteful government spending.

2. I will make sure Maryland gets top quality and low cost for the $4 billion in goods and services it buys annually. I support appointing an inspector general to oversee contract awards, passing a false claims act to combat fraud and waste, and restricting no-bid and sole source contracts.

State Senate

(Questions the same as those for Governor.)

Republicans

John J. Hafer

1. We are in economic stagnation due to government intervention and control. Government needs to do what government does best -- this is to govern but not to infringe on the rights of private individuals and their property.

2. Funding for education should be in direct correlation with education's performance. Education is critical to the future of our communities and our state. We need quality education in order to be successful.

3. Welfare reform is a very complex issue. I served on the welfare reform subcommittee this year as we attempted to identify a pilot program to address this economic problem. This is a major concern that requires a community partnership that phases in welfare recipients to be responsible working citizens while gradually reducing government support so that innocent children are not neglected.

4. Health care reform is of critical proportion and the issues are so complex that you cannot respond simply in 50 words in order to answer a multi-faceted set of questions. Since health care reform is presently in the hands of the federal government, Maryland must wait for the congressional response.

5. Law-abiding citizens do not need gun control because gun control will not have any impact on criminals. The justice system must make criminals responsible for their crimes.

6. I have operated a grassroots campaign with limited funding and limited spending. I will continue to be responsive to the people and will not be held hostage by interest groups.

7. There are so many issues, where do you begin. Every citizen and constituent has a personal agenda of interests, each of which are very important to that person and to their family. I feel that it is my role to assist everyone with their specific problems and concerns, where it is possible to make a difference.

Democrats

Edward A. Malloy Jr.

1. Government should be the "responsible steward" in seeing to it that the rights of private individuals and developers are balanced with the rights of present and future citizens to a clean and healthy environment. This should be done with common sense and with as little government regulation as possible.

2. All students in Maryland should have access to the same high quality education so that every child can be the best he or she can be. Children should not be penalized for living in the wrong county.

3. There must be a limit on how long a person can remain on the welfare rolls. The AFDC grants should end after the child reaches two years of age. During that time the parent should be provided an opportunity to earn a GED or gain training in some job skill.

4. I believe every American should have access to adequate health care coverage. It should include preventive care such as prenatal care and routine exams plus the right to choose one's own physician.

5. I am against licensing gun owners and the registration of guns. As a former criminal prosecutor and former federal law enforcement officer I know the value of an appropriate sentence to the deterrent of future criminal activity. Programs that deal with juvenile offenders must also be developed.

6. I'm in favor of campaign finance reform and spending limits especially for Political Action Committees. Term limits would have made it impossible for the Speaker of the House to be from Western Maryland. Lobbyists should account to the public with regards to who they represent and how they spend their money.

7. Providing an opportunity for all Marylanders to obtain a decent paying job is still the biggest challenge we face. This demands new and innovative thinking and approaches in attracting good paying jobs to Maryland especially Western Maryland. Welfare reform, education and crime prevention must also be addressed.

House of Delegates

(Questions the same as those for Governor.)

Republicans

DeCorsey Bolden

1. State government must balance competing interests: property rights v. the common good. While private business operating in a free market economy is preferable, limited government intervention is necessary to protect the public as a whole. Such action must be the least intrusive means of achieving that end.

2. Control of education has historically been a local matter and any county state partnership to alleviate inequities in funding must therefore be carefully drawn. A state plan to offset disparities in local funding could benefit Western Maryland.

3. Those receiving benefits must receive vocational training and job placement assistance in order to maintain eligibility for benefits. After a specified period of assistance benefits would terminate. Children would continue to receive medical coverage and assistance with food.

4. Maryland has already adopted a comprehensive health care reform package. Most of the items listed above are in policies currently being debated by Congress and are beyond the control of state government.

5. I believe that we have too many gun laws of all types -- the fewer restrictions on gun ownership the better. The only effective means of prevention and control of crime is vigorous enforcement of criminal laws, combined with education of the public as to consequences of violating the law.

6. I believe that elective office is a public trust and that democratic government is only as good as the integrity of its elected representatives. Therefore, they must not be beholden to special interests at election time or any other time. Elected representatives should serve no more than three consecutive terms.

7. 1) Budget - The budget must be balanced. With a projected shortfall in excess of one billion dollars over the next four years, serious cuts are imperative. 2) Economic Development - This is the key to the economy. Disincentives to doing business in Maryland must be eliminated. We must aggressively market the State's resources.

George C. Edwards

1. The State has plenty of laws & regulations pertaining to regulating & managing growth and the environment. We passed the growth management law several years ago. I don't feel we need more. If a person is deprived of using their property they should be compensated.

2. The State has a funding formula to help poorer sub-divisions. It has helped, but more needed for poorer areas because there is still distance to go for equality. It doesn't hurt to try different things to see how they work but at this time I oppose privatizing public schools.

3. The bill that passed last session was a good bill but was vetoed by the Governor. We need to pass the same bill with a cap and expand to the whole State as soon as it can be done.

4. Maryland is a leader in insurance reform, now mostly up to Feds. 1) Should try to cover as many people as possible. 2) Cover all in #2 except abortion. 3) No mandatory employer contributions, small businesses can't afford. 4) Presently have some cost control, but not sure about total cost control.

5. The waiting period we have for handguns is o.k. The bill that passed last session, which I opposed, does no good & I oppose any more gun control. People in jail who are drug addicts, treat them. Make hardened criminals spend their time in jail.

6. I support spending limits on positions, this puts everyone on a level playing field. I oppose term limits except for Governor, County Executive and President because one person positions can gain considerable power. Everyone should be open and honest. I have supported strengthening ethics laws & lobbyist reporting.

7. Budget - structural deficit. Need a hard look at two year budget cycle. Need to prioritize first priority, adequately fund existing programs that work. Second, make programs statewide if good one or drop it. The last thing we should do is start new programs. Welfare reform - see question #3.

County Commissioner

(Questions for Candidates (75-word limit))

1. Recognizing the expansion, growth, and development of Garrett County, what plans do you have for handling lake management, traffic congestion, crime, etc.?

2. Where do you stand on the bonding of capital projects?

District I Republicans

Joseph F. Howe

1. There will be changes whether we like them or not. It is very important to control these changes while maintaining the integrity and character that make our county the desirable place it is. Our infrastructure must be maintained and developed to handle increases in land use and increases in population. With proper planning and my visionary leadership, we can meet tomorrow's challenges and provide for our needs before they become too costly or a safety problem.

2. I am against long-term debt for capital projects. However, if a project that is needed is delayed, costs are driven up, the short-term bond is then acceptable (4-7 years). This allows the project to get underway in the shortest period of time. A good example of increased costs due to delay in construction was the Deep Creek area sewage system. The system was estimated to cost $3-6 million in 1979/80. Final costs were near $22 million.

H. Wayne Wilt

1. The lake's assessable base grew eleven-fold between 1979 and 1990. Growth in other areas is relatively static. I believe elected commissioners should play a more active role in lake management. I support the appointment of a qualified roads administrator, and an active program to improve county roads, many of which are in deplorable condition. As a former deputy and juvenile officer for Garrett County, I support law enforcement agencies in their efforts to control crime.

2. Generally, I believe in keeping debt to a minimum. However, bonding is a useful tool, and should not be rejected as a matter of policy. Comparing low government interest rates with the costs of inflation in materials and labor, bonding can make sense. We must maintain the county's infrastructure if we are to attract good jobs here. I think jobs must be a top priority. I would look at each situation on an individual basis.

Democrats

David C. Beard

1. The expansion, growth, and development of Garrett County is a fact: it will happen! We need leadership to channel this development to benefit our citizens. The commissioners must work on a daily basis with government agencies and business leaders to ensure proper expansion and growth. I would work closely with the sheriff's office to help fight drugs and other crimes prevalent in our county and to provide adequate funding for this purpose. Lake management is extremely important. The Lake provides 48 percent of our tax revenues. The commissioners must be a part of any decisions concerning the lake.

2. I believe in pay as you go government. I am not in favor of placing a mortgage on our future. I would not completely rule out bonding in cases of an extraordinary situation. An example of an extraordinary situation might be the Glendale Bridge replacement, but only after all other funding avenues have been exhausted.

Richard W. Paugh

1. As far as lake management I think our state and local police patrol it adequately. As for traffic congestion I don't feel I am well enough informed at this time to state an opinion. On the subject of crime I feel that if you commit the crime you should do the time. Plain and simple. Our present laws aren't stiff enough.

2. For bonding of capital projects I think the bonding should be set appropriately for the job. Although not so high as to keep the new and growing business out.

District II Republicans

1. The Department of Natural Resources is responsible for Lake Management. Now if you are talking about County Roads around and with in the lake area, and traffic congestion there, that is a different situation. My commitment to the taxpayers is not lake management as you request. My commitment priority, as a commissioner, is ALL COUNTY RESIDENTS.

We have more than adequate laws and enforcement personal to deal with crime. We need Courts that will enforce the laws and hand down truth in sentencing of criminals. I feel the courts in this county are starting to do that.

2. Belts are designed and measured for size in the center hole. Our representatives have allowed this belt to expand until they had to punch new holes and ran out of belt!! I will not look for new ways to spend money. I will look for ways to best utilize our income and streamline the system and reduce expensive government spending and abuse of our tax dollars. Capital projects will have to be of an emergency nature for me to endorse any expansion.

Clyde E. Hetrick

1 a. Lake management should be in the hands of the citizens of Garrett County.

1 b. Economic growth needs to be encouraged but not to the point area citizens are forgotten.

1 c. The citizens of Garrett County should have the right to say what is happening in the area.

1 d. Traffic congestion is an on going concern with all citizens of the County, and must be addressed.

1 e. I would like to see the law enforcement agencies work together.

2. Floating bonds would be a good idea for funding capital projects. This would keep taxes within a reasonable scale affordable to all citizens of Garrett County. As it now stands every time something needs funded taxes have increased or other budgets cut where they can at times do more harm than good for citizens.

Democrats

John G. Braskley

1. Commissioners must continue to work with the local planning and zoning commissions, as well as, the Committee on Lake Management.

The Maryland Department of Transportation and the commissioners must work together on traffic congestion around the lake and throughout the county. I also support a Route 219 bypass of Oakland and Accident.

I will continue to work with local and state police agencies to keep the crime rate low.

2. It is nice to be able to pay as you go on capital projects. Garrett County has reached a point where we must begin the legislative process for authority to bond. I have supported bonding in the past and it must be looked at on a case to case basis. Once you begin to take money from operating budgets of large departments such as, Board of Education, Roads, etc., you must consider bonding.

Gary E. Fratz

1. I would need to learn more about the problem areas. The commissioners along with officials involved with lake management, highways, law enforcement etc., would need to work closely to solve the problems in the best interest of the people of Garrett County. I would support the proposed federal highway Rt. 219, Glendale Bridge should receive strong consideration.

2. Bonding should not be the first answer to funding capital projects. Research and study should be done to decide the best way to finance a capital project.

District III Republicans

Brenda J. Butscher

1. DNR should manage the lake. Management fees should come from the State. Our tax dollars go to Annapolis. Garrett County gets very little in return.

I will continue to work with the state highway. Committed to NEW Glendale Bridge, NEW alignment, NEW piers and paving the road from bridge to 219.

State Police, Sheriff's Department and DNR have an overwhelming presence in the county and deter crime. I will continue to adequately fund the sheriff's department.

2. I oppose bonding. It is obvious, I consider the need and the state mandates. (as in the case of the landfill)

Harold Forsythe

1. The next commissioners need to be honest, cooperative, visionary and positive in their approach to solving county problems.

Specific solutions to individual problems will depend on the problem, the priority, and the monies available all of which the commissioners need to keep in perspective.

I offer a positive approach, imagination, an ability to get along with people and political experience which I would utilize in seeking solutions to each problem.

2. I would prefer bonding to a tax increase and would work with our State representatives for authorization if a definite need for the project was established. Bonding worked well for the Hospital expansion.

Roger P. Glatfely

1. Local Government has limited input with the management of Deep Creek Lake. I would support legislation that would give local Government more authority in working with DNR in establishing activities and regulations of the lake. As Commissioner, I would give top priority to resolve the traffic limitations created by the Glendale bridge and actively work with and support local and state law enforcement regarding traffic and crime activities.

2. Bonding is an option that would have to be considered when measured against the welfare of the county and its citizens. However, my 35 years of successful business experience has taught me that, pre-planning and prudent spending can eliminate funding shortfalls.

I would apply these principles to prepare the county for its future needs, by developing a plan for growth, which would include a timetable for financing capital projects as they are accomplished.

Ronald W. Virts II

1. On the whole, I feel that the infrastructure of Garrett County is well displaced to handle the demands currently placed on it. The maintenance of our roads, policing, and services, therefore, are vital. During some weekends and national holidays, however, further measures may need to be taken in order to minimize dangers and inconveniences to travelers and residents (temporary lights, increased policing for drunk driving, implementing a shuttle bus system, etc.) This should promote efficiency at a minimal cost.

2. I tend to be cautious regarding the bonding of large scale public sector projects. Although the state of Maryland, due to fiscal restraints, cannot be counted on for much future assistance, bonding means long-term debt for the people of Garrett County. This long-term debt could prove detrimental to the local economy if tourism falls, or the tax base dwindles. Bonding, therefore, should be exercised with prudence, and is no substitute for saving in order to finance projects.

Democrats

Earl Clark, Sr.

1. A thorough study should be made in conjunction with the state in order to best determine how to improve the traffic flow in and around the Deep Creek Lake area. I would need to rely on the expertise of knowledgeable people who work in the area, namely the state police and our local law enforcement persons for their input as to the best way of controlling crime and act accordingly.

2. I am in favor of bonding for capital improvements. Any time that a long term investment is being made in the nature of a major project you should not attempt to pay for the project on a short term basis. In trying to pay for a major project, you should spread the payment over a long term so as not to deplete your working capital.

Asa M. McCain, Jr.

1. We need countywide zoning that gives direction to protect our investments but not to stifle development.

We need to continue to attract compatible businesses with ongoing programs to upgrade our educational and infrastructure systems.

Develop 219 into a major highway with by-passes at Accident and Oakland.

Encourage community policing and task forces, provide grants to help towns start police forces.

Finally, take the lead in supporting youth activities and provide grants for ongoing cultural events.

2. All projects do not lend themselves to long term financing but in the case of a large capital project like the Glendale Bridge, that has been in use for 70 years, bonding is most likely the best way to fund an all new bridge. If all grants and other funding sources have been obtained, it is far less costly to totally fund a needed project when proposed then to put it off until later.

Sheriff

(Questions for Candidates (75-word limit))

1. Why are you running for Sheriff?

2. On what problem areas do you plan to focus?

Republicans

Van Evans

1. I am running for the Office of Sheriff because it is and has been a rewarding profession for me the past nine years. Being Sheriff gives me the opportunity to make a difference in our ever changing society. I hope I can provide a positive effect, enriching the lives of our residents and visitors alike, through a safe and crime free county. My qualifications, experience, and dedication to law enforcement will help me to achieve this goal at the lowest possible cost to the taxpayers.

2. The following problems will receive high priority among many problems to be addressed the next four years: Domestic Violence; Crime Prevention; Drug & Alcohol Abuse; and Victims Rights.

My approach to the successful solution of these problems are: Education, Community Oriented Policing and Citizen Involvement.

Randy L. Sines

1. I want to be a Sheriff for the people; serving the entire County. I want to increase cooperation between all police agencies. To establish more effective community patrols. Provide accessibility to my office and me personally. I want to create a better working atmosphere for the employees.

2. To insert a member into the Drug Task Force. To establish a combined criminal investigation unit. To have available more programs to deter domestic violence. To increase drug awareness programs in our schools.

Denver C. Welch

I want to give the voters four years of good leadership in law enforcement. The Sheriff is elected by the people, with the job of his office to protect and to serve the people--all the people. Many people have told me it's time for a change in the Office of the Sheriff. While many of the programs in place focus on special needs or special groups, I want the Sheriff to be out among the citizens to hear and discuss with them their concerns and opinions on all issues.

2. Within the department, I want to provide to the deputies a concise set of standards and policies which will be applied equally to each. I will invite their suggestions for any additional training or education they feel they need. These things will lead to officers who are ready and motivated to focus on the problems of drugs, crimes against persons' homes and personal property and domestic violence. I will work to increase the cooperation...

Democrats

Chester H. Sines

1. Becoming Sheriff is my professional goal. More importantly, I believe that with my background, I would be able to do a good job. I would give the Sheriff's department the leadership it needs to get back on track, serving and protecting the citizens. I love Garrett County, its beauty, and its people. They deserve a Sheriff that will lead the department in a professional and highly motivated manner. I would be this kind of Sheriff.

on what problem areas do you plan to focus?

2. a. Inter-departmental relationships, developing team work spirit. Open door policy for Deputies and Citizens.

b. Community Involvement - Teenage awareness on alcohol and drug abuse, MADD, DARE, know your Sheriff and Deputies programs.

c. Build strong relationships with other law enforcement agencies a must.

d. Maximum use of all department vehicles.

e. Additional specialty training for all Deputies when available.

f. Creating Voluntary Sheriff Auxiliary force to aid in traffic control at special events: Fair, Autumn Glory, Fireworks, Funerals, etc.

Board of Education

(Non-partisan)

(Questions for Candidates (75-word limit))

1. What specifically do you hope to accomplish as a member of the Board of Education?

2. What is your opinion of the Family Life program?

District I

Rodney Durst

1. There are four simple goals that I believe every parent requires of their school system. They are:

a. Every child must be able to read on an adult level.

b. To communicate through verbal, written, and electronic skills.

c. Each child must have a strong mathematical foundation.

d. Through history and citizenship they must be taught traditional moral values that made our country strong.

2. You cannot build a house on a bad foundation. It may look good for awhile, but in the end it will not last. They are what's wrong with the family life program. The social architect who built this program believe that there are no moral absolutes. So whatever a child believes to be right then that is right to that child. This kind of teaching is poison to a child and to a nation.

District II

Beverly A. Murphy

1. To assist with developing and expanding quality educational opportunities for ALL Garrett County students; to encourage and build a team involving students, parents, staff, funding authorities and community to offer quality educational experiences for all students. Team effort will provide a good basic educational opportunity for students to build a bright and successful future. Build effective working relationships with all funding authorities for adequate funding. Encourage parental involvement in their children's educational process/opportunities on state and national levels.

2. Ideally, Family Life should be taught at home; however, the majority of society has convinced policy-making bodies at the state level to mandate such a program.

The elected official must comply to the mandate set forth. In Garrett County, with written parental request, an option is in place for exemption of a student from this program.

I believe that the Family Life Program can be and should be used by parents to assist them in educating their children.

Patrick W. Riley

1. If elected I will support initiatives which serve to accomplish the following objectives.

Curricula must return to educational basics.

COVER STORY

'Hardball' takes swing into Fox's fall lineup

BY MARK L. PASSARO

Since acquiring the rights to NFL games, Fox has made it clear its intentions for future programming will include more ventures into sports. A part of that future includes "Hardball," premiering Sunday, Sept. 4.

Created in the same vein as HBO's former "First and Ten" football series, "Hardball" takes a locker-room look at America's favorite pastime - baseball.

"We're not going to try to do stories that you would find on any other show," says co-executive producer Bill Bryan. "They will be unique to baseball."

The major league Pioneerers are led by wisecracking veteran pitcher Dave Logan. Bruce Greenwood's character immediately brings to mind Crash Davis of "Bull Durham." He's the team's leading womanizer and, having lost 14 years ago in his only World Series appearance, he's hoping to steer his team to another one before he hangs up his spikes.

The pilot's best moments occur when Dave and his manager, Ernest "Happy" Talbot, clash at almost every turn. Confidently portrayed by veteran actor Dann Florek, Happy is a dour man getting his first shot in the majors after managing for 23 years in the minor leagues.

Not wanting to waste his opportunity, Happy has no tolerance for Dave's wry sense of humor.

"How do you feel?" Happy asks.

"I feel great. I slept late this morning," Dave responds.

"I don't care about you," his manager shouts. "I was talking about your arm."

Halfway humorous dialogue like that is scant in "Hardball," a big strike against a program banking on laughter to survive.

In addition to having to deal with the shenanigans of his players, Happy must also contend with the Pioneerers' publicity manager Lee Emory (Alexandra Wentworth) and no-nonsense team owner Mitzi Balzer (Rose Marie), who expects Happy to shape up her cast of misfits into a presentable product.

Bruce Greenwood

The Crash Davis similarities return when Dave, during a game, catches the eye of a beautiful woman. Predictably, he winds up under the sheets with her, then subsequently finds out she's the manager's daughter.

Happy's reaction? A slap on the wrist, blowing any attempt at realism right out of the ballpark. If, as the press release states, the Pioneerers are a major league club, Dave would have found himself unemployed the next day.

Based on the success of films like "Bull Durham," the "Hardball" formula is tried and true but also presents problems.

"You'll be going down a certain road and you'll realize you just pitched the plot of 'Bull Durham,'" Bryan says. "It's a constant aggravation, but we just ignore it and do it anyway."

"Hardball" attempts to portray the struggles of a major league squad, but much of the acting is of minor-league quality. They don't look like athletes, and if this were a real game, "Hardball" would be scored an error.

Modine and Griffith play a couple who purchase a Victorian home in San Francisco. After renovating the house, they rent out two of its rooms, unaware that one tenant (Michael Keaton) is a psychopath.

Viewers should look for Beverly D'Angelo, who appears unbidden in a key supporting role of this psychological thriller.

'Fred Rogers' Heroes' takes a positive approach

BY SUZANNE GILL

Fred Rogers has a show for every man, woman and inner child. Tuesday, Sept. 6, on PBS, the host of "Mister Rogers' Neighborhood" presents a prime-time special for adults: "Fred Rogers' Heroes: Who's Helping America's Children" (check local listings).

Rogers profiles four men and women who have taken leadership roles in their communities in an effort to improve the quality of life for a new generation.

Here for once is an interview show that doesn't add a competing musical underscore. A refreshing calm accompanies these inspiring stories.

First to be profiled is Gloyan Todacheene, the Navaho principal of Mesa Elementary in Shiprock, N.M. Already a friend of most of the families in town, "Miss T" makes it her business to support and encourage their children.

In Chicago, Olomenji O'Connor has returned to his own roots in the inner city to teach negotiation skills to youngsters as an alternative to violent responses to conflict.

Carola de la Rocha makes her Los Angeles dance studio a home away from home for teens, encouraging them to use the discipline and self-expression of dance to shape their choices as they move toward adulthood.

Dr. Sam Ross retired from medicine to run the Green Chimneys farm, a place where troubled children find safety, healing and new strength.

Though it's not always clear how they find enough income to support themselves, each of these heroes has found something more important to take home at the end of the day: a sense of accomplishment.

Dr. Sam Ross (right), who helps troubled youths on his farm, is among "Fred Rogers' Heroes: Who's Helping America's Children," a special for adults airing Tuesday on PBS.

TV PIPELINE

BY TAYLOR MICHAELS

Q: How can "Regis & Kathie Lee" stay on the air? I avoid them at all costs. I also hope "Love & War" has been canceled, or at least that that insidious twerp "Jack" (Jay Thomas) has been written out. -W. Richter, Erie, Pa.

A: I feel your pain, W., and personally, I share your opinion on both shows. "Regis & Kathie Lee," however, draws phenomenal ratings and I also get a fair amount of mail reflecting that. I likewise must report that "Love and War" will return for another season this fall, with Thomas in tow. I can only guess that producer Diane English ("Murphy Brown"), who will have a new sitcom called "Double Rush" premiering midseason on CBS, has even more clout than I thought.

Q: Could you tell me where I can write to Tim Curry? -Cathy Lemieux, Westfield, Mass.

A: You can write to Curry, who has appeared in "Clue" and "The Hunt for Red October." C/O CAA, 9830 Wilshire Blvd., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212.

Q: Will "Traps" with George C. Scott and "Missing Persons" be back next year? -Bill Samuels, Stratford, Conn.

A: Neither program is on the fall schedule.

Q: What happened to "The Heights," "Winnetka Road" and "Route 66"? My friends and I all enjoyed them. -Kris Farris, North Bay, Ontario.

A: A single episode of an average one-hour show costs about $1 million to produce, and hour shows generally are hard sells in later syndication (where the big money is). Consequently, most of these series must deliver respectable numbers early and consistently to avoid cancellation. None of your faves made the cut.

Q: Will "Lois & Clark" be back in the fall? -Mary Chances, Antrim, N.H.

A: The good news is the show will be back - and Lex Luthor (John Shea) may not be dead. Not so good is the word that Michael Landes is being replaced as Jimmy Olsen. Tracy Scoggins ("Cat") is gone and the show will emphasize "action" more next season.

Q: My sister claims Stan Laurel is Clint Eastwood's father. I don't believe it. -B.L., Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.

A: As well you shouldn't. A NUMBER OF READERS wrote to advise me that Betty White played a housewife in "Life With Elizabeth" and "A Date With the Angels." I am aware of that. However, the original question asks specifically about a show in which she played "a housewife named Gladys." Neither of the above titles qualifies on that score. Thanks for writing.

Ron Raines joins 'Guiding Light'

BY CANDACE HAVENS

The last time fans of "Guiding Light" saw Alan Spaulding, he was being carted off to prison for shooting his son's fiancée. His was not a happy family.

Now Alan is back, and he is determined to claim what was once his, even if it means stepping over and on his sister, Alexandra, and other notable Springfield residents to get it. "Alan Spaulding is quite a character," says Ron Raines, who plays the role. "People ask me all of the time if Alan is a good guy or a bad guy. And I have to say that I really don't know. Actually I think he is a bit of both."

"This romantic relationship with Marcy's (Walker) character, Tangie, is something very different for Alan," Raines says. "He is a very arrogant and aristocratic man who is not used to being attracted to a commoner like Tangie. It will be interesting to see what all this leads with him. It is a new direction for him."

Raines, who was born in Texas, was surprised when on their first encounter Tangie told Alan that she was from Henderson, Texas. "When I read that in the script I really had to chuckle," Raines says.

The actor was raised mainly in Nacogdoches, Texas. The son of a fundamentalist preacher, Raines got his first break into show business as a crooner for a Christian rock group.

While attending college at Oklahoma City University, the young actor/singer spent his summers performing at the Santa Fe Opera and Wolf Trap.

where he came to the attention of the late baritone John Reardon, who served as a mentor, introducing him to opera and operettas. Raines was then invited to join the opera graduate program at the Juilliard School of Music.

From there Raines went on to perform in virtually every major metropolitan opera house and theater in the country and quickly became one of America's leading musical performers.

He was doing a summer tour of "South Pacific" when he received the news about the role of Alan Spaulding.

"I am excited about having a regular acting job where I go to work each day, and I get to stay in town, too."

"It gives me more time to do what I most enjoy, and that is hanging out with my wife (Donna Vaughn) and daughter (Charlotte)," Raines says.

TIME OUT

1993's champs should reign again at U.S. Open

BY JEFF PLASS

For the past decade, the home of the U.S. Open Tennis Tournament's preliminary rounds has been on USA Network.

Coverage of this year's tournament, from the USTA National Tennis Center in Flushing Meadows, N.Y., begins on Sunday, Sept. 4, and continues with both day and nighttime coverage from Tuesday, Sept. 6, to Thursday, Sept. 8.

Lead play-by-play announcer Ted Robinson reflects on how far the network's coverage has evolved in the eight years he has been involved with it.

"When USA (Network) first had the Open," Robinson says, "we really had a minimum number of people involved. So the first few years I was doing it, I actually did the hosting, some interviewing and the play-by-play."

"I started with (USA) before they had a studio or a separate host. And now that they've added that element, it makes my job so much easier. To be the host and the play-by-play man for 70 hours of coverage was a gargantuan task, but now it's become much easier."

Last year's U.S. Open champion (and this year's Wimbledon champ) Pete Sampras is favored to win this year, too. "If Sampras is healthy," Robinson states, "he's the obvious men's favorite. He's pulled out of a few local tournaments with an ankle problem."

"Losing that tune-up time, it's going to be difficult for him to go play seven hard-court matches, having skipped all of the hard-court warmups. But he's clearly the dominant men's player, right now."

Ted Robinson

Along with Sampras, Robinson believes Andre Agassi and Jim Courier could add some excitement to the mix. Courier isn't sure if he'll play. "We haven't seen him the last few years, but Agassi, in the 1989-90-91 corridor, was playing phenomenal tennis," Robinson intimates. "Hopefully, he'll play up to that level this year. That would really give the Open a boost, a little charisma, which it might need."

"Courier is also right there, if Jim is serious about playing. It seems that ever since the Open last season, when Cedric Pioline knocked him out, it seems like Jim's interest - that unswerving commitment that you need to succeed at the top level - hasn't been there."

On the women's side, Robinson concedes the title of this year's favorite to last year's champ, Steffi Graf.

"Obviously, it's going to be all Steffi," Robinson says, "but (Maria) Conchita Martinez and Arantxa (Sanchez Vicario) have to be considered the two right behind her."

MOVIE MARQUEE

Avoid visiting these 'Next Door' neighbors

BY BILL QUINLAN

"Next Door," a Showtime original film, is centered around a ridiculous feud between neighbors.

Talented cast members including Kate Capshaw, Randy Quaid and James Woods try to rescue the film but are unable to overcome poor material.

"Next Door," directed by Tony Bill, makes its painful debut Sunday, Sept. 4, on Showtime.

Woods stars as a college professor, Matt Coler, who insists on living next to "real" people. His neighbor, Lenny Benedetti (Quaid), is an oversexed butcher who is constantly watering his lawn.

The problems begin when Lenny's overzealous watering threatens the Coler family's azaleas. Matt's wife, Karen (Capshaw), asks Lenny if he could reduce the watering, but he ignores her. An ensuing picnic at the Benedettis' becomes a verbal battle over working with your hands versus using your mind to earn a living.

That night, Lenny intentionally leaves the sprinkler on, severely damaging the azaleas. Matt responds by hosing down Lenny's lawn furniture and turning his yard into a swamp.

The malicious pranks continue after Lenny destroys the remaining flowers in the Colers' flower bed. When Matt tries to stop the feud, Lenny demands $500 to replace the lawn furniture.

Lenny's wife, Marci (Lucinda Jenney), tells Matt that her husband was kicked out of college for punching a professor. Instead of using this information to develop a long overdue plot, the film sinks into a pool of senseless violence and profanity.

A dog is killed by poisoning, children fight and fathers fight. The film degenerates even further with sexual assault, a ludicrous fight in the kitchen and a human bonfire extinguished by the sprinkler.

This is a premiere to miss, unless one enjoys agony or has a sprinkler fetish.

Fortunately, there are some movies worth watching this week.

Cinemax is the place for Clint Eastwood fans with "Escape from Alcatraz," "Pink Cadillac," "Tightrope" and "For a Few Dollars More" on Sunday.

Frederick Wiseman's "High School II," a documentary about a successful alternative school in New York City, airs Wednesday, Sept. 7, on PBS (check local listings).

Sylvester Stallone stars as a policeman battling an old nemesis (Wesley Snipes) in the futuristic "Demolition Man" on HBO Saturday, Sept. 10.

MONDAY EVENING SEPTEMBER 5, 1994

[illegible]

Parental involvement must be encouraged, psychological evaluation and treatment should only be permitted with written parental permission.

Character development based on traditional concepts of right and wrong, should be taught in all grade levels. Community schools must not be consolidated.

The rights of students to engage in constitutionally permitters prayer must be protected.

2. In my opinion the family life program is a mixed bag, there are some good approved resources as well as aspects which I believe the majority of Garrett Countians oppose.

A common theme; "You're the only one who can figure out what is right and wrong for you," in my opinion, rejects parental authority as well as the traditional view that sexual intercourse outside marriage (or homosexuality) is wrong.

I oppose school based contraceptive distribution.

District III

D. M. Carpenter

1. I hope to reestablish a conservative voice in our school system which I believe to be in line with the majority of Garrett County families. I also would like to reestablish educational teaching techniques which are based on traditional academic standards and not on attitudes or values which the Government determines to be correct, such as the Outcomes Based Education (OBE) is designed.

2. I believe that most of this material should be taught at home; however, due to the break down of the family (which I believe to be the root of the problem), it seems necessary to teach in school. Fortunately, this program favors abstinence and gives parents the option to excuse their child. The question is, if 7th graders can't make a proper decision on what to eat, then how can we expect them to make a wise decision about sex?

Mikal McCartney

1. I have been an elected school board member for seven years. My priority has been and will continue to be trying to provide the best learning opportunity possible for all students and the best learning and work environment for all employees. My goal is to listen to different parties and make reasonable decisions that enable parents, students, teachers, the professional staff and the community to work as a team in providing this learning opportunity.

2. State by-laws require particular health topics to be part of the school curriculum. These health topics are taught in the Family Life Class. Local teachers have tried to respond with a program sensitive to the students. Parents have the right to have students excused from participation in the Family Life Class.

Robert Paugh

I hope to help bring about changes in the educating of our children by providing the best possible education through well trained and dedicated teachers, followed by the leadership of the Superintendent of Schools and Board Office Staff, and my own efforts as part of our elected Board of Education. I believe we must establish a good, supportive family life in these challenging and difficult times. It will require hard work to help each other...

2. It is difficult at this present time to express my opinion in relation to the Family Life Program which is being taught in the Garrett County School System. After meeting with Dr. Ryscavage, Superintendent of Schools, I gained some knowledge and insight relating to this program. If I am successful in gaining a seat on our School Board, this certainly will be a program to be studied.

Charles Teets

1. Establish a comprehensive administrative evaluation plan. Institute a performing arts program at both high schools. Work to improve instruction and learning throughout the system. Improve communications between the elected board and their employees.

2. I feel that our family life program is fine. There are provisions for community input; if a family objects to certain content areas, provisions exist to accommodate such objections. A positive outcome from the program is that students are able to experience the opinions and attitudes of others.

State's Attorney

Questions for Candidates
(75-word limit)

1. What unique qualifications do you have for this office?

2. What do you think is the most important role for the State's Attorney?

Republicans

James L. Sherbin

1. My unique qualifications are my training, education and experience.

Training: 8 years as an Assistant and Deputy State's Attorney, learning every aspect of the job and trying every type of criminal case.

Education: specially trained as a career prosecutor by the National College of District Attorneys.

Experience: 16 years as State's Attorney for Garrett County, prosecuted over 100 criminal jury trials and thousands of Court trials, with concern for the care and protection of people.

2. The State's Attorney's most important role is to carefully prepare and to competently present criminal cases to a court or jury assuring justice and protection for the people of Garrett County. The State's Attorney must specialize in criminal law, evidence, and procedure. Presenting a criminal case is unique. One does not attempt a criminal prosecution without prior training and experience. This would frustrate and undermine the excellent work done by law enforcement.

Democrats

Thomas B. Dabney, Jr.

1. First, as attorney for the local police lodge, I have a very good understanding of the problems facing police officers enforcing the laws and protecting the people of Garrett County.

Second, I will make significant changes in areas such as drug enforcement, emphasizing prosecution of drug sellers.

Third, with my experience in child and family law, I will provide a better approach to child abuse and domestic violence issues, than has previously been demonstrated.

2. The State's Attorney must provide leadership. He should foster cooperation between law enforcement agencies in providing efficient law enforcement efforts in the investigation and prosecution of criminal activity. He should provide leadership in areas of community concern such as child abuse, domestic violence and drugs. He should work together with schools, agencies and community groups, not only to deal with problems, but also to prevent their occurrence. These problems are complex and require new approaches.

U.S. Congress

Questions for Candidates
(75-word limit)

1. Concerning national health care, what are your views and positions on (1) universal coverage, (2) coverage for reproductive health, including prenatal care, family planning and abortion, (3) financing by employer-employee contributions, and (4) cost controls?

2. What is your position on licensing gun owners and registration of guns? What approaches would you advocate for the prevention and control of crime?

3. How would you reform the welfare system to reduce long-term dependence on it without jeopardizing the well-being of children?

4. Explain your position on legislation that would expand requirements for government to compensate property owners when the potential use of their property is restricted by government regulations?

5. What should be the role of the U.S. and its military establishment in the world's spreading civic conflicts?

6. What should be the Federal government's international economic policies? Should they be related to human rights actions or other aspects of foreign policy?

7. What are the most important issues facing our nation and how would you respond to them?

Republicans

Roscoe Bartlett

1: Everyone must have access to health insurance. Reform must end tactics such as pre-existing conditions exclusion, "job-lock" and "cherry picking." The policy must belong to employees, not employers. Prenatal, well-baby and other programs must be covered. Encouraging competition will control costs. Reform cannot interfere with the patient-doctor relationship.

2: Gun control does not reduce crime. I oppose gun licensing and registration. Criminals do not buy guns. If we want to reduce crime we need truth in sentencing, "three strikes and your out" and mandatory minimums. This, plus an effective death penalty will stop the revolving door on repeat offenders.

3: Real welfare reform would convert welfare from a one-way handout into a system of mutual responsibility in which recipients would be given aid but be expected to contribute back to society. It must discourage dependency, reduce the illegitimate birth rate and instill the importance of a strong family life.

4: As a member of the Congressional Prosperity rights Coalition, I support responsible legislation which ensures the constitutional right of private property owners. Individuals should have the right to due compensation when federal regulations are enacted which effectively take their property or decrease its value.

5: As civil conflicts erupt around the world, the role of the United States military establishment must be to protect and defend U.S. national interest. The use of United States armed forces must only occur when the military mission and threatened national interest have been clearly articulated to the American people.

6: The goal of America's international economic policies should be based on fair access to foreign markets for U.S. products. Human rights and other foreign policy issues must be judged on a case by case basis.

7: Education has to be the most important issue facing our country. At the core of almost every other problem we face (crime, competitiveness, welfare), it is always identified as a major factor. I see increased local and parental involvement as the key to strengthening our curriculums and motivating students.

Frederic M. Parker

1: Without attempting to contain health care costs, universal coverage will result in a substantial tax increase. Competition in a free market always provides the best service at the lowest cost. Efforts should be made towards instituting competition between providers, which will reduce costs and make health care more affordable.

2: Instituting harsher criminal sanctions. Enlarging the capacity of the penal system. Streamlining the Justice system. Promoting voluntary crime watch programs. Using Federal funds to increase the police force nationwide. Expanding crime and drug rehabilitation centers. Ensuring that prisoners are able to read and write before releasing them back into society.

3: Requiring welfare recipients, who are able-bodied and able-minded and who are not actively attempting to improve their employment prospects, to work for their government assistance paychecks, would provide a strong incentive to reduce long-term dependence without affecting family income.

4: Provided that the property was purchased before the restrictions were imposed, the full monetary value related to those restrictions, whether or not they affect the current use of the property, should be compensated to the property owner. However, subsequent owners of that same property should not be further compensated...

5: Containment of civil wars should be the primary strategy in preventing these conflicts from spreading into wider regional wars. With containment instituted, a process of negotiations and arms embargoes can bring an end to the conflict with minimal loss of life and reduced damage to the country's infrastructure.

6: 1. Requiring equal access to all trading partners' domestic markets and establishing reciprocal trading barriers with those countries that persistently deny to the U.S. equal access to their markets. 2. Establishing a Common Market with Canada, Mexico, Central and South America and Australia, which will provide a large tariff-free trading zone...

7: 1. Eliminate U.S. trade deficit and eventually achieving a surplus. 2. Balance Federal Government Budget. 3. Make U.S. educational system second to none. 4. Accelerate growth of the U.S. technological and industrial bases. 5. Significantly reduce this nation's crime and drug problem. 6. To strengthen, protect and preserve the state of the world's environment and ecosystem.

David R. Yurus

1: I favor some type of optional, low-cost, basic health care coverage. However, Hillary Clinton and Congress are moving to slow to revamp the system. Therefore, I propose that no elected official should be insured with your tax dollars until the hard working citizens of this country have a health plan.

2: I will oppose any laws that infringe upon the rights of people to keep and bear arms. I favor the death penalty and caning for some offenses. I'm for the "one strike and you serve your full term with no probation policy", two strikes and it's life or the chair."

3: I will submit a Bill the first day requiring all able body welfare recipients to work for their local governments. In Maryland, a welfare family can receive over $25,000 tax free -- and without work. Meanwhile, hard working citizens who make less than $25,000 have to pay for their welfare.

4: I do believe that this is a free country and that if you own property, you have the rights and freedom to do with your property as you choose. I will support limiting government restrictions and regulations. I also do support compensatory acts to property owners.

5: America's military establishment should take care of American interest first and stop trying to get involved in every little civil conflict that arises. I do support the strategic defense initiative (Star Wars). I believe Ronald Reagan summed it up best with his quote, "Peace through Strength."

6: The Federal Government should put America first. I am against NAFTA because the average American who makes $20,000 a year simply cannot compete with the average Mexican who makes $2,000 a year. I'm against all foreign aid. It's disgraceful when politicians give out your money to countries all around the world.

7: The nations growing debt is the most important issue facing our nation today. By 1996, the debt will be more than the GNP. This could precipitate another great depression. Therefore, I will support a Balanced Budget Amendment and an across the board cut of 10% on every single Federal Program.

Democrats

Galen R. Clagett

1: I support universal coverage for national health care, but believe we must know the cost of health care reform before committing to a specific plan. Steps must be taken to contain health care costs and maintain consumer choice. Prenatal care and family planning services, including abortion, must be included.

2: I believe existing laws concerning gun possession should be administered more comprehensively. I support a range of efforts to reduce violence in our communities, and believe we must regain control of our streets and schools. We need to intervene more quickly with juveniles when they commit their first offense.

3: The well-being of children must be our first priority and should be a matter of national policy. Parents on welfare must be given the training and support they need to become self-sufficient and get off welfare permanently. Effective workfare programs must be devised.

4: Government regulation which restrict property owner's potential behavior does not apply to the majority of property owners. It is appropriate for the government to compensate property owners within reason, in those instances where one's use of property is restricted, and if the restrictions would be truly burdensome.

5: As global power relationships continue to change, the U.S. must continually evaluate its role regarding civil conflicts, and intervene only when it is clearly in our national interest. The U.S. must use its leadership position and diplomatic strength to resolve conflicts whenever possible but not rule out military involvement.

6: We must reduce our reliance on foreign production of basic goods, and fiercely promote the production of domestic goods here. We must support free and fair trade, which stimulates democratic government everywhere. Human rights remain a concern and we should link our foreign policy actions to this concern when possible.

7: Strengthening the economy of Western Maryland and the entire nation must be our top priority since it affects everyone's quality of life. A stronger economy will also help us reduce the federal deficit, bring the government's budget back into balance, and stop mortgaging America's future. Our children deserve this.

Donald M. DeArnon

1: Cover all Americans by eliminating the $65 billion in estimated administrative costs. A single-payer system, similar to Medicare, is most likely to do this. Fight special interest groups who seek to maintain their profitable status quo. Include the full range of reproductive services, including abortion. Emphasize cost-effective, preventive care.

2: Prevent crime by intervening with at-risk youth early, when it makes a difference. Distinguish between violent criminals who should be put away, and crimes, especially drug offenses, where alternatives save taxpayer dollars. Smart gun control, e.g. waiting periods and an assault weapons ban, must be part of our overall crime prevention response.

3: An individual program should be designed to move a recipient off welfare. An individual may need education, training, or drug rehabilitation, but satisfactory progress would be required to receive welfare benefits. Universal health care coverage is another key. We need an intensive intervention program for teenagers at risk of illegitimacy.

4: Administration of federal programs must be sensitive to the property rights of citizens. When government regulation amounts to a taking, property owners should be compensated. Such cases are best considered individually by the courts. Perhaps some adjustments are necessary, but generally, sufficient protections exist in current law.

5: U.N. peacekeeping missions do not always work perfectly but they save U.S. lives and taxpayer dollars. However, they can only truly work when warring factions desire peace. As the world's only superpower, we must play a leadership role but maintain the force to act alone in our national interest when necessary.

6: International trade is important, but we cannot desert the principles for which the U.S. is admired. Monitoring human rights abuses as well as products shipped by U.S. companies is imperative. But we have more leverage in trading with a country than not trading, so a balancing act is necessary.

7: We all know the important issues, but Congress is one step behind in solving them because of special-interest contributions. I'm the only candidate in this race who has pledged not to accept any special interest contributions. Congress needs to change, and we must elect candidates who put Congress one step ahead.

Neil S. Dhillon

1. I support universal coverage for all Americans that includes coverage for reproductive health, prenatal care and family planning. Most important to me is to improve research and advanced treatment for women's health issues, such as breast cancer. I support the proposed premium caps as part of the cost control items...

2. I support gun registration and a waiting period and support restricting licensing of guns to those with a criminal record. We can work to prevent crime by putting tougher sentences on the books for crimes and requiring that full-sentences be served. The federal government should continue to support community...

3. I support a time limit on program benefits, though it may need to be longer than two years as proposed. Strengthen and enrich existing job training programs and bring such programs to areas currently without them so that those on welfare get the professional assistance needed to enter the "real" ...

4. Some fair compensation may be appropriate, but would restrict this provision to only those property owners who are severely impacted financially by such regulations.

5. I believe the U.S., working through the United Nations, should do what it can within reason and within our financial means to help countries improve the lives of people. U.S. involvement should be decided on a case by case basis and determination of whether our involvement will assist that country in determining its own destiny.

6. The federal government should work to open as many international markets to American businesses as possible. As our representative I would work with the individual counties in the district to guide Maryland businesses to those opportunities. While I personally believe addressing human/environmental rights violations in the world is important...

7. Developing the economy through national/international business/market development and supporting the educational system to achieve that goal. Health care reform that makes available to all Americans affordable health care, protects our senior citizens and advances health research and treatment, especially for women's health issues which lag behind those of...

Paul Muldowney

1. Everyone should have access to universal coverage. It should include reproductive health, prenatal care and family planning. Whether or not the employer pays for it is between the employer and the employee. Cost controls are not good, and I am certain costs can be reduced by pressure in the marketplace.

2. Any further gun legislation is an infringement on individual rights. It has nothing to do with prevention and control of crime. Expansion and easier accessibility to capital punishment is a must. We must deal with the criminal in a way that he knows punishment is swift and just.

3. The welfare system is the only government program whereby cash is provided. The fact that welfare abusers receive cash is the problem. Benefits should be provided such as day care. Increases in cash payments should stop alter two children.

4. Property owners should be compensated when potential use is restricted by government regulations other than local zoning.

5. The U.S. military establishment has no role to play in the world's civil conflicts except when there is an extreme danger to our national interests.

6. The Federal government's economic policies should be based on economic factors. We cannot dictate human rights or other aspects dealing with foreign policy.

7. Health Care reform - everyone should have access, it should be portable, it cannot be cancelled, and everyone should have access regardless of medical history. Crime - provide greater resources at the local level and increase the application of capital punishment, and make it more accessible -- harsher treatment of criminals across the board.

Anthony P. Puca

1: I favor national health care group with universal coverage open to all Americans with full reproductive health care benefits. Equitable employer-employee contributions with flexible cost controls. I strongly favor the modified City of Rochester plan which combines best of private and public offerings.

2: Current gun registration laws are sufficient if strongly enforced. Real crime prevention will come from strict mandatory sentencing, trying young offenders of violent crimes as adults, eliminating parole for violent crimes and enforced death penalty. Criminals aren't society's victims, but society's victimizers. I'm in favor of one strike and you're out.

3: Welfare was meant to be temporary relief, now there are third generation welfare families. First, eliminate all future payments to out of wedlock births. Two year limit on benefits. Mandatory training and schooling for welfare recipients. Encourage private sector jobs through tax benefits and coop salary payments.

4: The government must pay property owners the "high" fair market value of property restricted for any reason, and any additional costs such as moving, etc. Government must also allow property owner to seek due process in requisite court of law if they dispute governments restriction or compensation.

5: America and other civilized nations have said there must never be another Holocaust, and our professed political philosophy opposes national human rights violations. While it must not be our policy to send troops everywhere arbitrarily, we must stop the holocausts in Rwanda and Bosnia by use of force if necessary.

6: Our main economic objective must be the economic growth of America and an increase in wealth of our citizens. I favor fair international trade, but favor tariffs and duties against countries who use them against us. Economic policy can be used against human rights violators and drug exporters for our benefit.

7: In addition to health, welfare and crime addressed above, I am against any tax increase. I've always supported the stands of my party for equal rights and social benefits, but now some of these have to be changed. I want to be part of the new Democratic Party that revitalizes them.

Clifford E. Snyder, Jr.

1: The national debate on health care should continue; premature action must be avoided. Taxpayer-funded programs should not cover abortions because it is immoral to compel taxpayers who believe that abortion is murder to finance abortions. The creation of a new federal bureaucracy to administer held care is unacceptable.

2: I endorse the registration of guns and licensing of gun ownership and possession. A cultural revolution against violence is necessary for effective crime prevention and control. I support vigorous law enforcement, swift and certain punishment for offenders, and capital punishment.

3: I order to break the cycle of dependency, eliminate welfare payments to adults and expand programs that directly benefit children: prenatal care for women, immunization and other medical services for children, early education, and food supplements. Encourage marriage and discourage pregnancies of unmarried women.

4: The Takings Clause and the Due Process Clause of the United States Constitution, as interpreted by the judiciary, appear to provide adequate protection for owners of real property. I strongly support effective land use planning by local government. Such planning protects the environment and enhances property values.

5: The United States must avoid entanglements in disputes which do not threaten our own national interests. Such entanglements are a waste of American lives and money, and are unlikely to achieve objectives such as "peacekeeping" or "restoration of freedom." There is no good reason to invade Haiti.

6: Federal international policies must be directed at advancing the interests of our own citizens. International development is not a proper role for our government, because it encourages persons to invest overseas rather than in America's future. Foreign trade is vastly overrated as an economically rational activity.

7: The most important issue is the public's lack of confidence in the ability of government to manage societal problems. President Clinton's insistence on diversity in ethnicity, geography, and gender for appointments to his administration undermines public confidence. Competence, not quotas, is what we demand and deserve from government.

1. I believe that we should focus on achieving universal access, not universal coverage. I will work to achieve affordable health care without employer mandates. Although I support a woman's right to reproductive choice, I do not support federal funding for abortion. Health care reform must center, on controlling costs. Therefore...

2. I support the Brady Bill, as it will result in a national instant-check system which will help to keep guns from felons. I believe that a five-day waiting period is a reasonable restriction until such a system is in place. I also support the death penalty, direct federal grants...

3. Implement mandatory workfare programs for all able-bodied adults enrolled in welfare programs, (except AFDC recipients with children under the age of six.) This would include training programs and education to enable welfare recipients to make the transition into productive jobs. I believe the able-bodied must work by using...

4. I support such legislation. I strongly believe in the constitutional right to just compensate for taken property.

5. The U.S. should remain a world leader in foreign policy by demonstrating consistency and truth in its interactions, not by waffling and issuing impotent threats. I support the maintenance of a strong strategic deterrent to offset the continued uncertainty in such regions where the political climate is precarious at best...

6. I support free and equal trade.

7. It is the responsibility of the U.S. government to protect the rights and the safety of its citizens. In order to fulfill this obligation, our government must be tougher on crime. Our government must also halt wasteful spending and tax increases that burden the American people, and the invasiveness...

William Brock

1. I would approach any reform to health care with great caution and would follow an incremental approach. I would support proposals that would 1) ensure permanent and portable insurance; 2) insist premium deductibility be equal for all to ensure tax fairness; 3) achieve tort reform to ease costs; and 4) allow for medical savings accounts.

2. The issue of gun control is really an issue of access. I will seek to expedite the creation of a national electronic point-of-purchase system that would allow us to get an instant response on a prospective gun purchaser's criminal past. We must also press for strict enforcement of...

3. The welfare system does not provide enough inducement to get off welfare and become productive. Welfare should not be based on a formula of cash grants, rather it should be based on developing life skills and encouraging job placement. Thus, it must include education, training, and day care. Finally, a...

4. I would support legislation that specifically states how individuals will be compensated when there is a loss of production or property value as a result of government-imposed restrictions. Amendments that outline this reimbursement would save the government not only thousands of dollars but endless hours dealing with individual claims.

5. In terms of national security, our military power should only be used when the United States' vital interests are threatened. For humanitarian situations, we may need to intervene temporarily to relieve suffering when it is within our capacity to do so. The most important "power" in the U.S. is its moral power.

6. The U.S. is moving in the right direction in terms of international economic policy with the passage of NAFTA. An effective U.S. Senator must bring to the job a balanced understanding of international trade policy issues and the commercial stakes. I have the understanding and will use it to continue to open up markets throughout the world.

7. The U.S. is not paying adequate attention to its children. Test scores are no less frightening than juvenile violence. I would argue for a new national commitment based upon the policy that every child can learn, and must be given full opportunity to do so. We must insist on a...

Ronald Franks

1. I support correcting the shortcomings in our present system: removing pre-existing condition exclusions; establishing portability; small business cooperatives; tort reform; and universal access. I do not support "throwing the baby out with the bath water," artificial cost controls, mandated employer contributions, or federal funding for abortion.

2. I support controlling crime at the source by administering swift, certain, and predictable punishment to criminals. In order to do that, very difficult social decisions must be made. I do not support the easy but misleading choice of blaming guns for the problem rather than criminals.

3. Since the inception of welfare in the 1960s, can we in good faith claim that the it-the present system-has fostered the well-being of children? Welfare should be a short-term safety net, not a way of life. It should not absolve parents of responsibility for the welfare of their children.

4. Government should compensate property owners for loss of the use of property when taken for the greater good of society. Representatives should recognize that protection of property is guaranteed under the Constitution and, thus, compensation is required.

5. U.S. military forces should be committed to battle only when U.S. vital interests are involved. They should be committed only under U.S. command and under Congressional authorization.

6. Our international economic policy should be consistent and even-handed and based on all aspects of a foreign government's relationship with us. For instance, our disapproval of China's human rights policy should be made clear by our rewarding Taiwan with more favorable trade treatment.

7. The most important issues facing us are the loss of respect for government and the lack of consistency by government. The federal government must establish a consistent judicial and penal policy, reward economic entrepreneurship and savings, live within its means, return responsibility for children to parents, and make the classroom the center of education.

Howard D. Greyber

1. Against Clinton socialized medicine plan 2) Pro-choice & pro-coverage for reproductive health, family planning, prenatal care, 3) prefer financing by taxes if necessary, 4) controls on private insurance costs.

2. Three violent crimes and prison for life (until about 55 years old). Reduce number of gun dealers! Outlaw Rapid Fire assault weapons. Create a new Civilian Conservation Corps (CCC) for inner-city kids to work in forests and national parks.

3. Stop the dole to teenagers! No extra money to a never-married single mother having more babies on welfare. Provide work only, not cash, after one year on welfare.

4. I support the legislation, since activist governments continually restrict and seize private property, if no compensation is required.

5. Our U.S. Armed Forces should be used only when a vital national interest is at stake, such as defending an ally. They must not be put under U.N. control. A strong, lean military is absolutely essential.

6. I oppose NAFTA, which sends manufacturing jobs to low-wage Mexico, where no free unions are allowed. Only tough action will force Japan's markets to open to us. Except in special cases, I would not have economic policies related to human rights.

7. Crime: Pass a tough crime bill, without the pork, amounting to $8 billion that Clinton has added in the form of social programs. Education: Build 435 High Schools of Science & Technology, one in each congressional district. (a federal program). Deficit: Freeze U.S. government hiring. Enact Sunset Law for Agencies

Dr. Culver Sprigle Ladd, Jr.

1. Blue Cross-Blue Shield and other HMOs have the capacity and imagination to assist in an effort to provide universal coverage. GILA has experimented with cost cutting and medical efficiency practices, which I do clearly favor.

2. I do not own a gun currently, though I have been a hunter, and favor shotgun availability. Automatic weapons are another issue, most should be banned. EDUCATION: Beginning in elementary school TRUANCY is prohibited and enforced. An education or trained person is employable, an employed person is busy, not criminally involved.

3. Amend the law such that single women bearing children and seeking welfare are required to show evidence of a marital structure.

4. Governments have the powers of "eminent domain" and it sounds like a legal aid lawyer should force such a solution. (You should be more specific.)

5. I believe the United States should maintain a strong military presence in the Post Cold War world. We belong to many regional organizations, and we should not abandon them. Regional defense is a powerful tool to use for solutions. In the event that military force is necessary, we would do well to cooperate with...

6. The United States government needs to formally advocate expanded U.S. trade abroad. The U.S. Government needs to teach that world trade is a great opportunity being missed by many excellent American producers. And, thereafter, it needs to teach that the American must "listen" to the needs of foreign...

7. The Congress and the Executive Branches need to "convene" conferences for urban leaders to focus attention on their failures to manage their massive resources to maintain order in their cities."

Ross Z. Pierpont

1: My proven United States Health Care Plan has universal coverage, total accessibility, complete cradle-to-grave care, free choice of providers. Complete portability across fifty states and territories, no criminalization of patient, physician or insurance company. Controls cost internally and saves 300 billion dollars a year with no new taxes.

2: Gun control needs severe penalties for illegal gun use. Don't penalize the law abiding citizen. Revise the criminal justice system: Restitutions to victims, juvenile crime boot camps, house and electronic arrest for white collar crime. Death penalty with limited appeal. Consider harvesting organs for donor banks.

3: All able-bodied must work or train for employment. Create individual responsibility with focused plans to get off welfare. Schooling focused for job training and child support. Change tax laws to encourage - not discourage - marriage. National simplified methods for intensive support to make "Deadbeat Dads" pay.

4: Property rights area keystone to the stability of freedom and Democratic Government. Any changes with taking or use of private property by government should be accompanied by proper compensation. If amicable settlement cannot be reached by the owner and government, arbitration panels should hear testimony and settle the issue.

5: Foreign policy must have a dual purpose. The best interests of the U.S., short and long range, is paramount. Our sovereignty is always a consideration. U.S. Military power must be maintained to back up our positions in all cases, but without U.S. interest a factor, we must avoid entanglement.

6: We must keep before us our citizens first. International economics can be a very real U.S. interest and need consideration and support. Human rights are a part of this equation - and we have always pressed for observation of these rights. Each incident needs careful evaluation and judgment for decision.

7: The most important issue is the Debt and Deficit. Our nation needs Less Taxes - Less Spending - Less Government - More jobs and more freedom. A to Z spending cuts and Health Plan savings of 300 billion dollars a year will solve the debt and deficit in ten years.

John C. Webb, Jr.

1: 1) Universal coverage - rewards those with risky sexual lifestyles - taxing those following responsible sexual habits. 2) No coverage for abortion. 3) Another federal unfunded mandate - am against. 4) Cost controls - transfer more power to a Washington bureaucracy already losing control of the nation's finances.

2: Support the constitution and 2nd Amendment. To control crime due to drug crisis, pass Mutual Legal Defense Treaty with Panama and Panamanian banks. Will uncover "laundered" drug money financing drug crisis in cities, and corruption of American politics through illegal campaign contributions.

3: Restore the American family. Reduce teenage pregnancy in Baltimore. Terminate state mandated sex education indoctrinating students in single-parent family culture - against marriage and the 7th Commandment. Support role models. Dr. Ben Carson rose from urban troubled teenager, become a leading Johns Hopkins neurosurgeon.

4: I support the Constitution of the United States, and the 5th Amendment stating: "No person shall... be deprived of life, liberty, or property without due process of law; nor shall private property be taken for public use without just compensation." Government acquisition of property should be Constitutional.

5: Use of our Armed Process (sworn to defend the Constitution "so help me God") beyond 30 days requires Congressional approval. Military power is an extension abroad of American ideals. The Federal ban on God in education and state oaths, created an American "House culturally divided against itself" nullifying military sacrifice.

6: Our international policies should be based on "The American Dream" and the "inalienable rights of all men," not international finance seeking to lower middle class Americans to Asian wage levels. We should utilize the American concept of Total Quality Management that created a quality cultural revolution in Japan.

7: $3 trillion Federal Mandate "Re-inventing Freedom" is unnecessary, costly, hazardous, unscientific. Withdraw from Montreal Protocol and remanufacture freon in 1996. Cultural anarchy in D.C. schools leading to impending "bailout" of D.C. government. Follow President Jefferson's policies. Return Bible reading and prayer to D.C. and American schools.

Democrats

John B. Liston

1: Protection for all citizens without denying preset benefits and putting burdens on employer without tax increase.

2: Against.

3: Having any person capable to perform commo. svc 4: Cannot answer at this time.

5: We should not cause civil conflicts, but is is a responsible to lead in attempting to stop unrest thru any means necessary.

6: Unable to answer at this time.

7: Too many to list.

Paul S. Sarbanes

1: We need a health care system with a place in it for all Americans. It should be comprehensive, restrict health care costs, maintain quality of care, emphasize preventive health care, offer coverage of women's health and reproductive services, ensure a level playing field for employers, and guarantee coverage for all our citizens.

2: I support limiting access to firearms frequently used to commit violent crimes. I cosponsored the Brady Bill that sets a 5-day waiting period for purchasing a handgun. I voted for the assault weapon ban adopted in the Senate crime bill. Major responsibility for law enforcement rests with state and local governments.

3: We must redesign welfare to provide a safety net while also providing people with the skills and services to become productive working members of our society. The objective must be to get people off welfare and into work. This means a disciplined approach to training and education, job opportunities, and child care services. 4: The Fifth Amendment to the Constitution protects the rights of private property owners to be compensated for Government taking of private property for public use. Judicial determination of this issue is the time-tested way to provide such protection.

5: Where possible, civil conflicts should be addressed by regional security organizations-or the United Nations may be the appropriate venue. Our national interests, existing U.S. law and treaties in force, and our ability to achieve the military or political objectives of the operation should be the basis for involvement of U.S. forces.

6: To help develop an expanding world economy in which the U.S. plays a leading role; to strengthen our economy we should expand U.S. exports, discourage unfair trading practices and advance sustainable development while promoting respect for human rights and other fundamental democratic principles.

7: Economic growth and job expansion, recognizing that the best social program is a job; addressing the budget deficit and the investment shortfall; assuring a tolerant society which respects all its members and provides them the opportunity to develop and contribute; achieving world peace and prosperity.

VOTE! Or don't complain.

Murphy Family Reunion Slated

The 45th annual Murphy Reunion will be held Sept. 4 in the large pavilion at New Germany State Park. All relatives and friends of John Henry and Phoebe Ann Murphy are invited to attend.

John Henry and Phoebe Ann were married on Sept. 24, 1851, in Hampshire County, W.Va., and lived on a farm in Scherr, W.Va. They purchased a farm in the Dry Run area of Garrett County in 1892. They were the parents of seven daughters and three sons.

All those attending the reunion are asked to bring their favorite dish "and goodies" during the noon hour so a buffet table can be set for a 1 p.m. dinner. Silverware, plates, and other needed items will be

Charles Hileman On Navy Ship Enforcing Embargo

U.S. Navy Petty Officer Second Class Charles Hileman, son of James and Jennie Hileman of Terra Alta, W. Va., is one of more than 3,000 Navy men and women and 2,000 Marines who patrol the waters just miles off the coast of Haiti.

Hileman, a 1985 graduate of Central Preston Senior High School, Kingwood, serves aboard USS Portland, a dock landing ship homeported in Norfolk, Va. The mission of the ship is to transport and land amphibious vehicles and Marines during an amphibious assault.

"We're here because we're the best prepared amphibious group ready to go," Hileman said. "After completing a six-month deployment, we had all the training and manpower to get any job done."

Hileman and the rest of the crew, which includes a Marine contingent, have spent the last four weeks steaming the Caribbean waters off Haiti as part of a four-ship amphibious ready group (ARG). The ARG augments combined forces assigned to enforce United Nations Security Council sanctions aimed at restoring democracy to Haiti.

The ARG also provides additional amphibious non-combatant evacuation operation capable forces. There are 12 Navy ships currently supporting Operation Support Democracy.

"With the end of the Cold War, conflicts are now smaller and isolated and the Navy-Marine Corps team plays a larger role in reacting to these type of situations," Hileman said.

The sailors and Marines departed Norfolk and Morehead City, N.C., more than a month ago. Hileman and the crew of Portland began their current mission just two weeks after they returned from a six-month deployment to the Mediterranean Sea and Indian Ocean.

As a storekeeper, Hileman performs an essential job aboard his ship.

"I order parts for other people to make the ship run so we can accomplish our mission," he said.

Hileman said he joined the Navy in January 1986.

"I enjoy doing something I believe in," he said.

Coast Guard Seaman Apprentice Peter T. Dolan, son of Kiyo M. and William A. Dolan III, McHenry, recently graduated from recruit training.

During the training cycle at coast guard Recruit Training Center, Cape May, N.J., students are taught general military subjects designed to prepare them for further academic and on-the-job training leading toward qualification in one of the Coast Guards 26 occupational fields.

Studies also include first aid, seamanship, Coast Guard history and regulations, close order drill and damage control.

Dolan is a 1987 graduate of Southern High School, Oakland. Dolan is a 1992 graduate of Frostburg State University, with a BS degree.

The Fixed Rate and Adjustable Rate Mortgage in One

American Trust Bank offers a mortgage loan that gives you the benefit of both fixed and adjustable rates. The 5/1 mortgage provides a fixed rate for the first five years and then automatically converts to a one-year adjustable rate mortgage for the remaining term. You get an initial five-year fixed rate that's lower than most conventional fixed rate mortgages.

Plus, as with other American Trust mortgages, you have the opportunity to choose a bi-weekly payment feature that saves thousands of dollars in interest paid over the term, a no points option and a low down payment option.

Visit any American Trust Bank community office for further details on how you can get a fixed rate and adjustable rate mortgage in ONE!

Maryland Income Tax Receipts Up; Distribution Set

Individual and corporation income tax receipts produced $3,393,385,602 for Maryland's general fund in fiscal year 1994, according to State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein. "That's 5.8% more than the $3,207,130,053 in income tax revenue which went to the general fund the previous fiscal year, and it reflects Maryland's continued economic recovery and employment growth," he said.

"The fiscal year 1994 total was also right on target with our revenue projections, less than two-tenths of one percent more than our estimate," Goldstein said.

The local "piggyback" income tax, which is collected by the state at rates set by local governments, produced $1,694,828,749 for Maryland 23 counties and Baltimore city and $36,373,588 for the state's 172 incorporated municipalities and special taxing areas in fiscal year 1994. "The Comptroller's Office will make a final fiscal year 1994 distribution of $137,866,314 to the counties and $3,343,358 to the municipalities on August 31, 1994," Goldstein said.

Garrett County will receive $4,474,836.18, an increase of nearly $400,000 over last fiscal year.

The annual August distribution is made under generally accepted accounting principles, and many of the counties credit that revenue to the recently ended fiscal year because it largely represents taxes withheld from employee paychecks in June.

Corporation income tax receipts showed a 31.4% growth in fiscal year 1994 over 1993, producing $169,081,509 for the general fund. "This resulted from strong corporate profits relating to the economic recovery," the comptroller said.

The individual income tax produced $3,224,304,093 for the general fund in fiscal year 1994, 4.7% more than in fiscal year 1993. "While final payments were down from the previous fiscal year, employer withholding tax, by far the largest source of income tax revenue, was up 6.9% over fiscal year 1993. The growth in employer withholding indicates that employment is improving while the lower final payments seem to indicate more Marylanders have arranged their withholding to avoid owing additional tax on April 15," Goldstein said.

Dr. Batson To Speak At Hiway Assembly Of God

Dr. George Batson, Assemblies of God missionary based at Continental Theological Seminary in Brussels, Belgium, will be the guest speaker at Hiway Assembly of God, Kitzmiller, on Sept. 4 at 7 p.m., according to the Rev. G.K. Hixon, pastor.

Batson is dean of graduate studies and professor of New Testament and theology at Continental Theological Seminary. He also travels to many countries, holding teaching seminars for pastors and church leaders. Countries such as Korea, Japan, Indonesia, Thailand, Hong Kong, Singapore, Brazil, India, Bulgaria, Russia and the Ukraine have been the scene of Batson's ministry.

"Now the focus of my ministry in travel is on Eastern Europe, the Ukraine, and Russia," Batson said. "Leaders and pastors in these countries feel an urgent need for training. I have been among them and heard their desire for help. Some of my standing invitations are now being translated into plans to hold training seminars in Siberia and Kiev, the capital of the Ukraine, in May 1995.

The missionary has also served at ICI University in Brussels. His award-winning textbook on Expository Preaching, written for ICI University, has been translated into French, German, Spanish, Portuguese, Finnish, Bulgarian, and Russian. Now the Dutch and Arabic translations are almost completed, according to Batson.

For the past seven years, Batson and his wife, Roberta, have served at Contin-

Health Dept. Seeks Candidates For AmeriCorps

The national movement for community service will soon be visible locally at the Garrett County Health Department in Oakland, following Western Maryland's recent award of AmeriCorps participants beginning in the fall of 1994. This new, national program encourages Garrett County residents who demonstrate interest in both community service and further education to apply for positions with the Health Department and Garrett County Community Action.

According to a release from the Health Department, AmeriCorp participants will be incorporating community-driven objectives of the program that are specific to the needs of Western Maryland. Goals of local participants will include increasing both the levels of physical activity and healthy diets among local adults. AmeriCorp participants selected to work with the Health Department will be responsible for several projects over the coming years, including testing local homes for radon hazards and water contaminants, developing "Victory Gardens" to fight cancer and heart disease through good nutrition for local residents, recruiting local participation in "Exercise for a Healthier Tomorrow" programs, and conducting local data collection surveys for future health projects.

In addition to work on specific projects, participants selected for the local AmeriCorp program through the Garrett County Health Department will serve as role models for area middle and high school students. AmeriCorp participants will be integrated with local students, who during the past academic year, began a new Maryland graduation requirement for community service hours.

AmeriCorp participants selected for service with the Health Department will receive $5 an hour and a $4,725 education award for each year of service with the program to help finance a college education, vocational training, or to help pay back student loans. One or two years of service is available for participants in the AmeriCorp program.

Garrett County residents and persons in the surrounding area who are interested in applying for a position as an AmeriCorp participant and would like further information should contact Natalie Messer at 301-334-8111 or 301-895-3111. Applications are available at the front desk of the Garrett County Health Department, located on Fourth Street in Oakland. Eligibility is not restrictive, and selected participants are expected to be from all backgrounds, ages, and work experiences.

Local efforts for coordinating the AmeriCorp program joined the Garrett County Health Department with Garrett County Community Action, the Western Maryland Food Bank, the Allegany County Human Resources Development Commission, and Frostburg State University's community volunteer program to create the local Alliance for Service. The local project title is the Appalachian Service Through Action and Resources or A STAR.

Five Garrett County teenagers successfully completed the summer portion of the Western Maryland Area Health Education Centers (AHEC) Health Careers Opportunity Program (HICOP). This six-week summer enrichment program is held for teens seriously interested in health careers.

For six consecutive years, the summer program has been the culminating activity of HICOP. This year more than 80 juniors and seniors from the tri-state area vied for the 21 participatory slots. According to an AHEC spokesman, participants were chosen based on their sincere interest in exploring several health careers, their academic achievement, and their demonstrated effort toward improving their current educational status.

The summer program begins with all participants spending the first week observing community health professionals and exploring health professional education programs. This year's students spent time at The Memorial Hospital and Medical Center and Sacred Heart Hospital, both in Cumberland, and touring health training programs at and English.

More than 125 regional health professionals and hospital staff donate their time and expertise to provide learning experiences and encourage health career aspirations of area youth, the spokesman said.

HICOP is supported by federal funds awarded to the Western Maryland AHEC by the Department of Health and Human Services, Public Health Service, Bureau of Health Professions, Division of Disadvantaged Assistance.

Elect Asa M. McCain, Jr. County Commissioner District 3

I am often asked the following four questions:

How can you be a commissioner and still be Mayor of Oakland and Principal of Dennett Road Elementary School?

The commissioner position (to be done right) must be a full time commitment and I am willing to do that. If I am elected, by law, I must resign as Mayor. The Town Charter fills the time from January until the March town election with the President of the Council as acting mayor. I would retire from the Garrett County Board of Education at the end of June with 29 years of service.

Will the positive things stop happening in Oakland if you are elected county commissioner?

Oakland has improved because of team work, careful planning and sound management. I am only one member of the group and I know the town will continue to improve because the residents will keep supporting the government.

How were you able to complete so many projects like the sewer system, the upgrade of the water system, and the new municipal building without ever raising the tax rate?

We put into practice a policy of training and equipping our employees so that they can provide improved services with fewer workers. Additionally we tightened up on town management and investment practices which made funds available to go after State and Federal grants.

What advantages do you have that would make me want to vote for you instead of the other good candidates that are running for commissioner of District 3?

If you look at the whole picture, we cannot accomplish much without team work with leaders in Baltimore, Annapolis and Washington. I already have the contacts to get the job done.

I hope you will vote for me and allow me to work hard for the whole county.

Vote for proven leadership.

Sines Announces Candidacy For GOP Committee

John K. Sines, Oakland, has announced his candidacy for a position on the Republican Central Committee. A lifelong resident of Garrett County, Sines attended both Northern and Southern high schools, graduating from Southern in 1976. He served three years in the military as a military policeman and received an honorable discharge in 1981.

The candidate is the Oakland Chief of Police, and has held that position for the past 10 years. Combined with his military police experience, he has been involved in law enforcement for 14 years.

Sines said if elected, he will be "very active" in the duties as a committee member. He noted his distress with the fact that during the last major primary election in Maryland, only 2,106,000 of the eligible 3,619,000 voters turned out at the polls. He also stated that in Garrett County the total number of registered voters is 12,918 and of those, 10,580 voted.

"Voting is a privilege that all Americans have and I feel it is their duty to do so," Sines said.

The candidate is involved in numerous civic organizations. He is currently the vice president of the Garrett County FOP Lodge #99, third vice president of the Oakland-Mountain Lake Park Lions Club, past president of the Garrett County Traffic Advisory Committee and the Oakland Woodman Lodge #11. Sines is also a member of S.A.L.T. (Seniors and Lawmen Together) and the Garrett County Habitat for Humanity. He belongs to the congregation of the Oakland Church of the Nazarene.

Sines resides with his wife, Crystal L. (Friend) Sines, and their two daughters, Kandi and Elizabeth.

Beef Industry Needs Cooperation To Increase Consumer Demand

If beef producers want to profit from the cattle they raise -- then producers, cattle feeders and other segments of the beef industry need to increase their cooperation, according to an economist speaking at the 29th American Farm Bureau Federation Beef Cattle-Hog Cycle Forum, Aug. 12-13 in St. Louis.

"The income of the cow/calf operator depends upon the economic health of the cattle feeding industry," said Ed Uvacek, president of Western Research and professor emeritus at Texas A&M University. "The producer has to recognize that the next step in the system you can because you may not be able to sell them," Uvacek said.

Many cattlemen are raising exotic breeds that result in larger calves. These larger cattle produce a finished animal that may be hard for a packing house to handle and result in larger cuts of meat that may be harder to sell. The ultimate problem is even worse -- it means more beef has to be sold, Uvacek said. The result may be a need for fewer cows and a reduction in the breeding herd.

One of Uvacek's goals at the gathering of livestock producers and Farm Bureau commodity specialists was to look back at changes in the livestock industry since the beef cattle-hog cycle forums began in 1980. It has been a time of remarkable changes in the cattle industry, he said.

"Probably the biggest changes have come at the feedlot level and here it has been a revolution," Uvacek said. "Large, commercial feedlots have sprung up all across the nation and they now dominate the cattle feeding industry. In fact, we've only got 220 large, super large, feedlots in the United States right now, but they account for 60 percent of all the cattle fed in the nation."

As in the early 1920s, there are few major meat packers. However, these packing firms are not the same four that dominated the industry 70 years ago. In fact, the four top packing firms are bigger and account for more than three-fourths of the fed cattle slaughtered in the U.S.

Retail stores are relying more and more on these meat packers. They are buying cuts and boxed beef. Few have butchers who actually cut the meat for the retail meat counters, Uvacek said. At the same time, demand for beef by hotels, restaurants and institutions has grown as the U.S. becomes more of an 'eating-out society.' The HIRI trade, as these hotels, restaurants and institutions are known, are the major users of beef. They want a consistent and regular supply of beef and are more concerned with how it is prepared than with changes in the price of meat.

The cow/calf operators have changed the least. The majority are still very small, with about 81 percent of the operations in the nation raising less than 50 head of cattle.

It is difficult to look back at changes in the beef cattle industry without commenting on recent drops in the price of cattle, Uvacek said. In May and June the price of choice fed steers dropped from the high-$70s per hundredweight to the low-$60 price range per hundredweight.

RESERVE GRAND CHAMPION 4-H/FFA VEAL at the Garrett County Fair was owned and sold by Larry Bernard, son of Lawrence and Shirley Bernard. The 342 pound calf was purchased for $1.40 per pound by Bonnie's Cleaning Service and Lewis Used Cars. Pictured above are Ed Lewis, Bonnie Lewis, and Larry Bernard.

This supposedly occurred because of a big increase in beef production. However, cattle slaughter was up only 1 percent in April, 2 percent in May and less than 1 percent in June. The biggest change was in the average live weight of cattle, up between 44 and 51 pounds per head compared with last year. The result -- a 6 percent jump in beef production from a year ago, but not a great change from previous years.

Workshop - Beef Replacement Heifer Selection And Management
In cooperation with Allegany County Extension and the Animal Science Department, University of Maryland, I will be sponsoring a "unique" method of presenting a workshop. We will be using the "Live" Interactive Video System at Frostburg State University. The program will originate live from Towson State University. Participants will have the opportunity to interact with producers from three other sites in Maryland. This is a new way of presenting educational programs.

The program is a two-session workshop to be held on Monday evenings October 3 and 10, from 7 to 9:30 p.m. at Frostburg State University. The major topics to be covered in the workshops are:

- * Introduction to Integrated Resource Management and Standardized Performance Analysis.
- * Heifer Management Steps from Weaning to Calving which will include Selection, Nutritional Management, Preventative Health and Homework Assignments.
- * Economics of Raising Replacement Heifers.

The instructors are Dr. Douglas Carmel, Extension Veterinarian and Dr. Scott Barao, Extension Livestock Specialist.
The cost of the workshop is $10 per farm unit (limited to two people). Seating space in the Video Lab is limited to 25 people so make your reservations early by contacting the Garrett County Extension Office at (301) 334-1990 or the Allegany Extension Office at (301) 724-3320. Additional information is available upon request.

Late Blight In Potatoes
There is some late blight on potatoes in our area. The recent rains and heavy dews have been ideal for the blight spores to develop. I would recommend that you continue to use fungicides such as Mancozeb, Bravo, or other copper compounds. According to Penn State University, the blight may be resistant to the fungicide called Ridomil.

"It could very well be that this cash market decline was more an over-reaction to the sudden weakness in the commodity futures market than a true over-supply situation," Uvacek said.

The mid-year cattle inventory shows a gain in cattle numbers of about 2 percent from last year, Uvacek said. Beef cows and replacement heifers are up about 3 percent each. This suggests a herd build up during the year and the probability of higher cattle numbers on Jan. 1, 1995. Producers can look for another year or two of herd expansion in the cattle business, he said.

"Look for cattle prices to drift lower for the next couple of years as we move into this buildup phase of the cycle," Uvacek said.

Queen Ceres LIII, King Buckwheat Set To Reign During 53rd Festival

Amber King, daughter of Gene and Connie King, Kingwood, and Scott Alan Wolford, son of Kermit and Peggy Wolford, will reign as Queen Ceres and King Buckwheat LIII during the 53rd Annual Preston County Buckwheat Festival, scheduled to begin Thursday, Sept. 29, and continue through Sunday, Oct. 2, on Firemen's Field in Kingwood.

First Maid of Honor is Kristina Gregg, daughter of Franklin and Nancy Gregg, Masontown; and Second Maid of Honor is Shanda R. Reynolds, daughter of Lonnie and Teresa Reynolds, Terra Alta.

First runner-up to King Buckwheat is Nicholas C. Volk, son of Joseph and Jennifer Volk, Reedsville, and the second runner-up is Brian K. Corbin, son of Richard and Sue Corbin, Eglon.

When asked if becoming Queen Ceres was something she thought about as a child, Amber replied, "Having grown up in Preston County, I think it's a dream of every girl to be Queen Ceres. I feel very fortunate and lucky to have been selected." She feels people look for someone to be a good representative of the community when serving as the queen of the Buckwheat Festival.

Although she has never before been part of the Buckwheat Festival court, Amber has attended the festival every year since she was a child, and enjoys the time she spends with her family during the event.

After graduation, she plans to attend West Virginia University and major in English or accounting. Her plans are to someday become a lawyer.

A pre-requisite for a young man to be named King Buckwheat is that he must be involved in agriculture. Scott's participation in brought him a lot of recognition and even though it was a lot of work, he feels one "can't accomplish much more than this." After graduation, he plans to pursue a career in animal science at Garrett Community College and possibly finish his studies at West Virginia University.

Kristina will initially seek an undergraduate degree in English at WVU, before furthering her schooling. Shanda plans to continue her education at Western University in Chicago, and study medicine.

All agree they have enjoyed the traveling to the various parades and events they attended throughout the summer. Although they have been in the same school for the past few years, they didn't know each other until they became involved in the pre-festival activities, and all claim they have become close friends.

During the Buckwheat Festival, Queen Ceres and King Buckwheat, along with the rest of the court, which also includes 12 senior princesses and their escorts, 14 junior princesses from the various junior high schools throughout the county, 14 flower girls, four train bearers, and two crown bearers, will participate in parades set for Thursday, Sept. 29, at 7:30 p.m.; Friday, Sept. 30, at 2:30 p.m.; and Saturday, Oct. 1, at noon. Coronation ceremonies to crown the king and queen will be Sept. 30, beginning at noon.

Watch future editions of The Republican for more Buckwheat Festival happenings.

Teacher Education Reform To Be Topic Of Hearings

A committee of the Maryland Higher Education Commission recently held the first of three scheduled public hearings on teacher education reform in Maryland.

Proposed reforms would require new teachers to concentrate on academic subjects in college and then participate in an intensive internship to study teaching under the supervision of experienced teachers and college education faculty.

"Today's teachers need to know more about the subjects they teach and more about how to be effective teachers," said Shaila R. Aery, the secretary of higher education. "The reforms being discussed would allow new teachers to master the subject they will teach and also develop the professional expertise their difficult job demands."

The reforms would also provide teachers presently working in Maryland public schools with expanded opportunities to include subject-area studies as part of their ongoing professional development.

The Maryland Higher Education Commission began discussing teacher education reform in 1990 as it prepared to publish a state-wide plan for postsecondary education. A task force created in 1991 recommended sweeping changes in teacher education, Aery said.

The commission then directed Aery to develop a detailed blueprint for reform. During the summer of 1993, the secretary and the state superintendent of schools jointly created an implementation task force with a steering committee and five design teams totaling about 120 representatives from government, education, business, and the community.

The design team's recommendations were presented to the commission in June, and the board directed its Education Policy Committee to hold public hearings on the recommendations.

If the recommendations are adopted, most prospective teachers would earn a bachelor's degree in one of the liberal arts or sciences as the first step in their preparation to enter the classroom. The undergraduate major in education would be phased out.

Qualified teacher candidates would then enroll as interns in a regional Professional Development School, where experienced teachers and teacher education faculty from public and private colleges and universities would be responsible for their training and would oversee extensive classroom work. Upon successful completion of the internship, candidates would be certified to teach in Maryland.

Working teachers would also have access to Professional Development Schools to pursue both pedagogic and academic studies.

The task force recommended creation of pilot schools initially, with full implementation of the plan by the year 2000.

The next public hearing will be at 1 p.m. on September 20 in the Maryland State Board of Education board room, 200 West Baltimore Street, Baltimore.

Rattlesnakes To Be Sierra Club Topic

The Western Maryland Group of the Sierra Club will host a lecture on rattlesnakes on Sept. 13, at 7:30 p.m., in Frostburg State University's Ort Library 210.

William H. Martin, who has just completed a two year study of rattlesnakes in Maryland for the Department of Natural Resources, will be the featured speaker for the event.

Martin plans to discuss the population of rattlesnakes in the state, rattlesnake habitats, the frequency of rattler sightings, the danger that the snakes pose to humans, and the danger that humans pose to rattlesnakes. He will also talk about his many years studying snakes and about the other snakes of Western Maryland.

According to Louis Bernstein, program chair for the Western Maryland Group, Martin's study asks the question, "Should rattlesnakes be listed as a state endangered species, and should this question be decided based on science or politics?"

Refreshments will be served at the event.

For more information, interested persons may call Bernstein at 777-3212.

Extension of time beyond the ninety (90) day period of the award may be made only by mutual agreement between the Owner and the Bidder.

The party to whom the Contract is awarded will be required to execute the Agreement within ten (10) calendar days from the date when Notice of Award is delivered to the Bidder. The Notice of Award will be accompanied by the necessary Agreement and contract forms. The Owner within ten (10) days of receipt of an acceptable Agreement signed by the party to whom the Contract was awarded, will sign the Agreement and return to such party an executed duplicate of the Agreement. Should the Owner not execute the Agreement within such period, the Bidder may, by Written Notice, withdraw his signed Agreement. Such notice of withdrawal shall be effective upon receipt of notice by the Owner. A conditional or qualified Bid will not be accepted.

Award will be made by the Owner to the lowest responsive and responsible bidder.

All applicable laws, ordinances, and the rules and regulations of all authorities having jurisdiction over the work shall apply to the Contract throughout.

Time For Completion
The successful bidder will be required to fully complete all contract work within sixty (60) consecutive calendar days from and including the date of receipt from the Owner of formal notice to proceed.

Award of Contract

SHA Secretary To Tour County

Nine different road projects will be on the agenda for Maryland State Highway Administration Secretary O. James Lightizer's tour of the county scheduled for Sept. 30.

According to John Nelson, director of the county Office of Planning and Zoning, the SHA secretary's annual tour will feature "potential projects and concerns of Garrett County officials." Of the nine sites slated for the county tour, seven were part of last year's tour, Nelson stated.

However, it is the two new projects, both involving State Route 135 on Backbone Mountain, that County Commissioner John Braskey hopes the tour will emphasize. These projects are a runaway truck ramp for descending traffic and a passing lane, beginning near North Branch Avenue, for those ascending the mountain.

During his visit to the county, Lightizer will also review the following proposed road improvements that have been carried over from last year's tour.

1) The prioritization of the entire U.S. Route 219 Corridor. This would include project planning for the rights-of-way for Accident and Oakland by-passes and the right-of-way throughout the entire county. This has been in the works for five years.

2) The proposal to transfer the Glendale Road and Bridge to the state in exchange for certain isolated spurs currently maintained by the state.

3) Completion of a full cloverleaf from east-bound Interstate 68 to north-bound U.S. Route 219.

4) Corrections to the land slide on the east-bound lane of State Route 135 near the bottom of Backbone Mountain.

5) Further excavation of road banks on State Route 560 and Bethlehem Road.

6) The installation of center line reflectors on State Route 135 along the top of the ridge between Bull's Restaurant and the beginning of the recent resurfacing project near the Swanton Hill Road intersection. Commissioner Elwood Groves commented Tuesday that he believes these reflectors have already been installed.

7) Construction of a truck climbing lane on State Route 42 ascending Elder Hill.

ARACHNID ARCHITECTS - Jeweled laceworks, the handiwork of eight-legged artists, adorned the back yard at the home of staff photographer Craig Phillips one recent morning, and he was quick to capture the elegant scene on film. The spiders are the envy of any human architect, as their creations are pleasing to the eye as well as practical and strong. Candidates in Tuesday's primary continue to spread their webs across the county, anxiously hoping to snare any voter who may wander too closely by. The web of political issues and conflicts is rather large and complex this year, leaving many with the wish that September 13 will come and go with all speed.

Record Number Of Visitors Stop At DCL Info. Booth

The Labor Day holiday weekend hosted a flock of visitors to Garrett County and the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Information Booth on Route 219 south of the Deep Creek Lake Bridge provided information to a record number of visitors for the summer season.

The booth hosted a total of 18,450 visitors from Memorial Day through the Labor Day weekend, compared to 12,108 visitors in 1993 for the same period, representing a 35% increase. Of those, 1,108 visited the booth over the four-day 1994 Labor Day weekend. Visitors to the booth during the holiday weekend were from 14 states, Washington, D.C., and 16 foreign countries. The majority of inquiries received were for directions, especially to recreational facilities, lodging, and restaurants.

The Information Booth will remain open seven days a week during the fall season through the Autumn Glory Festival, closing October 16. The booth was staffed this summer by Edgar Bender and William Sipple, both of Grantsville. This facility is operated by the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council.

Two Hearings Slated For Road Naming

County Permits and Inspections Coordinator Jim Torrington has announced that public hearings on the naming of county roads will be held on Sept. 14 in the commissioners' meeting room in the county courthouse and Sept. 20 in the Accident Town Hall. Both hearings are set for 7 p.m.

Torrington stated that the hearing on the 14th will cover county roads in Election Districts 7, 8, 10, 14 and 16. Roads in Districts 2, 5, and 6 will be the topic of the hearing on the 20th.

These hearings will be part of the county Planning Office's ongoing effort to officially name all county roads. It is hoped that this project will help emergency service personnel locate residences more efficiently.

At Tuesday's meeting of the Garrett County Board of Commissioners, Torrington remarked that in the event that a resident's address is changed because of a road name change, the U.S. Postal Service will put the new address into effect between Oct. 1 and Dec. 1 of this year. This will allow county residents to use their new addresses on Christmas cards and other holiday correspondence, he commented.

World War II Convocation At GCC To Involve Community

"Events for the entire community" are what Paul Shogren, coordinator of the World War II Commemoration at Garrett Community College, called the Convocation scheduled for September 23 at 10 a.m. in the auditorium and the stories of war and the homefront by community members on September 29 at 7 p.m. at the college.

"We have an outstanding speaker and historian to kick-off the program," Shogren stated, referring to the Honorable John O. Marsh Jr., former Secretary of the Army who saw active duty in World War II and the Vietnam War. Secretary Marsh will speak at 10:15 a.m. on "The War That Changed the World" and then will present a workshop on "Three National Guard Units from Maryland and Virginia in Action in Normandy on D-Day June 6, 1944."

Shogren explained the reason for choosing the "Events for the entire community" as theme for special programs throughout this year at GCC.

"This 50th anniversary of the final year of that war should make us all aware of the drastic changes it created in the world and the ways our lives have been shaped by it. Everyone living in America at that time was somehow affected by that war and we are still living with its legacies. These programs will provide opportunities for older generations to remember and younger generations to learn from first hand experiences of that war. We are inviting all residents of Garrett County and surrounding areas to participate," Shogren said.

The afternoon sessions of the Convocation will feature a workshop on the Japanese Bombing of Pearl Harbor by Paul Stillwell, historian of the U.S. Naval Institute, and "The Battle of Britain" by Dr. Karl Larew of Towson State University. Shogren stated that all sessions are open to the public with no admission charge. Local veterans groups and other community organizations are expected to participate, as well as college students.

Two programs will be scheduled each month throughout the year, with the exception of December and January. Anyone desiring further information may call Shogren at 387-3013.

Officers stopped Teague just outside Treasure Island and discovered that his driver's license was revoked. The vehicle was then searched, and a baggie of marijuana was discovered as well as a small pipe. Teague was charged with possession of marijuana and possession of drug paraphernalia.

He was held on $500 bail, according to the report.

In other sheriff's office news, two persons were cited for DWI early this week.

John P. Hershman, 50, Mountain Lake Park, was stopped on Rt. 219 in Oakland on Sept. 5. He was charged with DWI at approximately 5 p.m.

Lloyd H. Day Jr., 34, Oakland, was stopped on Glendale Road on the night of Sept. 6 and charged with DWI.

Population In Public Schools Expected To Rise

Maryland Office of Planning Director Ronald M. Kreitner recently announced that Maryland's public school population is expected to increase by 13% over the next 10 years. The student population in Garrett County is expected to increase by 2.9%, according to the report released by Kreitner.

According to planning office projections, enrollment in kindergarten through grade 12 in the state's public school systems is expected to peak at 853,500 in the year 2001. This is just over 100,000 more students than the 1993 enrollment of 753,379. By the year 2003, public school enrollments are expected to have declined slightly to 851,000. The forecast is contained in a recently published planning document titled "Public School Enrollment Projections - 1994-2003."

Kreitner said two strong demographic factors have shaped the recent and projected growth in Maryland's enrollment of public school students: the greater number of births during the late 80's and early 90's and the interstate migration into Maryland of new households with children, particularly in the latter years of the 1980's.

At the jurisdiction level, public school enrollment and facility requirements are also affected by intra-state and intra-jurisdictional migration trends. These trends have resulted in the general movement of families with children from the older, urban areas and inner suburbs to the outer suburbs and newer, suburban counties.

"Maryland's public school systems are continuing to educate a sizeable share of our children. This growth does not come without consequences," Kreitner said. "The building of new schools and the additions and renovations of existing schools to meet student needs are expensive infrastructure investments borne by state and local government. The answer is to plan now to get the most usage out of existing school facilities to minimize future costs to Marylanders."

According to the projections, Howard County will have the largest percentage increase of public school students in the state, going from 34,281 in 1993 to over 46,000 students in the year 2003, a 34% jump. Frederick, Calvert, and Charles counties are also expected to register increases of over 25% or more.

Only Allegany and Somerset counties and Baltimore City are expected to have fewer students in the year 2003 compared to 1993 enrollments.

Garrett County's enrollment in 1988 was 5,097, which decreased to 5,013 in 1993. The projected enrollment in the year 2003 is 5,160.

Two Admitted, Seven Treated At Local Hospital After Monday Mishap

Two people were admitted and seven people were treated and released from Garrett County Memorial Hospital Monday, according to hospital spokesperson, following a two-vehicle mishap on Rt. 219, near Deep Creek Drive.

Van E. Crosby, 43, Richmond, Va., and Andrew Hosmer, no age given, Annapolis, were both admitted to the hospital, but have since been released. Treated were Cameron Crosby, 12, Michael Crosby, 7, and Karis Crosby, 4, all of Richmond; and James L. Hosmer, 46, Janis Hosmer, 48, James Hosmer, 13, and John Hosmer, 13, all of Annapolis.

Maryland State Police, Barrack W. McHenry, investigated and reported that the 2:55 p.m. mishap occurred when Van Crosby, operating a 1992 Toyota, was attempting to re-enter Rt. 219 from a south shoulder, when the vehicle was struck by a 1990 pickup truck, operated by James L. Hosmer.

Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad and Deep Creek firefighters also responded to the scene.

TRACTOR-TRAILER OVERTURNS

A Martinsburg, W. Va. man was hospitalized last Wednesday night after the tractor-trailer he was operating left the roadway and went down a hill on I-68, near Grantsville. The 10:30 p.m. mishap caused approximately 50-75 gallons of diesel fuel to spill on the roadway, according to a state police report.

Bruce Diehl, 66, operating a 1993 tractor that was pulling a 1979 box trailer, apparently lost control of the rig on the wet roadway near the Casselman River Bridge. After crossing the bridge, the vehicle jackknifed, struck a guardrail, and traveled down a hill.

Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad also responded to the scene, and transported Diehl to Frostburg Hospital, where he was admitted. He has since been released from that facility.

THREE-VEHICLE MISHAP

Three people were transported to Garrett County Memorial Hospital following a three-vehicle mishap Friday afternoon on Rt. 219, near the Jasper Riley Road.

According to a report filed by Tfc. D.W. Broadwater, Randall L. Garrett, 21, Oakland, 7-year-old Craig Stevens, Rowlesburg, W. Va., and Brenda McBride, 13, Oakland, were transported to the hospital after the 1983 Mercury Lynx Garrett was operating north on Rt. 219 crossed the center line, striking a southbound 1988 Ford pickup truck operated by Paul A. Bender, 29, Oakland.

Bender's vehicle apparently then slid across the roadway and struck a 1994 Ford Explorer driven by Marvin F. McBride, 42, Oakland, who was traveling north on Rt. 219. McBride's vehicle reportedly struck an embankment and overturned onto its side.

Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad transported the injured to Garrett Memorial Hospital. Garrett was admitted to the facility, but has since been released, and Brenda McBride and Stevens were treated and released, according to a hospital spokesperson. Bender and Marvin McBride were reportedly slightly injured, but neither was transported following the 5:55 p.m. mishap.

CDS ARREST

A Relay man was arrested Sunday morning and charged with being disorderly in a public place, and possession of a controlled dangerous substance (CDS).

According to a report filed by Hc. J.T. Bentejewski, Peter A. Hall was initially arrested on the disorderly charge, and a subsequent search revealed a

Susan Crawford Joins Delegation Of Women Judges

Susan Crawford, judge on the U.S. Court of Military Appeals and part-time resident of Garrett County, has been invited to join a delegation of women judges to Budapest and Prague this fall. The delegation will spend nine days in Hungary and the Czech Republic meeting with women judges, government officials, attorneys, and educators to gain understandings of the challenges being faced at a time of major political and economic reform.

The project is being arranged by the Center for International Projects developed under the auspices of the Soviet Peace Committee which was formed in 1949 to promote cooperation and understanding between the people of the Baltic countries and eastern Europe and people of other nations. Working with government officials, business leaders, educators, professionals, and citizens who support free market and democratic principles the Center arranges professional, scientific, technical, and cultural exchanges.

The U.S. delegation will seek to engage in a professional exchange through a series of briefings, meetings, discussion sessions, and field trips. Delegates will focus on the role of women judges in criminal and civil law procedures, the development of an independent judiciary, the application of the law as the basis of democratization, and the importance of developing new legislation. They will also be able to assess the critical problems caused by lack of legal training and the shortage of trained lawyers.

Local Woman Realizes Dream, Publishes Book

Grantsville resident Esther Bender has realized a lifelong dream -- to be a book author.

Her first book, Katie and the Lemon Tree, has been published by Herald Press and will soon be in area bookstores. This first book is dedicated to Bender's mother, who read to her for hours and "inspired" as a child.

Bender's first book signing will be Sept. 13 at Wal-Mart, Country Club Mall, LaVale, from 10:30 to noon, and from 1-4 p.m. This illustrated book was written with young readers in mind, especially those between the ages of 8 and 12, and children are welcome to attend the signing.

Although her writing has been published in newspapers and magazines, this book represents nearly nine years of study and work, and, according to Bender, many rejection slips for book manuscripts. She began writing in 1985 because she realized her dream would never come true if she waited for the right time. "I've been writing ever since," she said.

To keep herself encouraged, Bender took a literature course, did a graduate study in fiction writing from Frostburg State University, and took a graduate correspondence course from the Institute of Children's Literature.

DISABLED VETS HONORED BY COMMISSIONERS - In recognition of the contributions and sacrifices made by American veterans, the Garrett County Commissioners have proclaimed September to be Forget-Me-Not Month in Garrett County. As part of this observance, members of the Garrett County Chapters of the Disabled American Veterans and DAV Auxiliary recently presented the Commissioners with simulated forget-me-not flowers. These flowers are distributed by the DAV each year as reminders of the service given by American veterans.

Katie and the Lemon Tree is historical fiction set in the early 1800s. Katie and her young husband, Daniel, migrate to the United States from Germany.

When her mother kisses her goodbye, she admonishes, "Katie, keep the faith!" Katie puzzles over her mother's parting words. "What does Mama mean?" When she finds a lemon on the docks in Baltimore, she sets out to grow a lemon tree even though she is told, "Lemons won't grow here." The book tells how Katie kept the faith that grew a lemon tree in the cold north, and brought her family to America.

GCHD Taking Part In Teleconference About Food Safety

Area residents will have the opportunity on Sept. 23 to hear information about the prevention of foodborne disease from officials of the Food Safety and Inspection Service, the Food and Drug Administration, and the U.S. Extension Service, as the Garrett County Health Department has arranged to receive a satellite transmission of a national teleconference on the issue. The teleconference will be transmitted to the Garrett Community College Interactive Distant Learning Network from 1-3 p.m. on Sept. 23.

Experts from the USDA, FDA, and state and local regulatory agencies will highlight the food safety challenges associated with raw animal foods, with a special emphasis on hamburger and shellfish. Panelists will discuss the importance of cooking raw animal foods thoroughly and assuring that they are received safely and from safe sources.

Specific practical advice and video demonstrations will be included. Following each of the panels, participants at local sites can call in questions.

Persons who wish to attend the teleconference at GCHD should contact the Garrett County Health Department at 334-8980.

GCMH Given $1,000 To Help Smokers Quit

Pharmaceutical company Marion Merrell Dow Inc. has recently contributed $1,000 to Garrett County Memorial Hospital's Wellness Together program.

The funds will be used to assist Garrett Memorial's Wellness Together staff in offering a more extensive smoking cessation program to the community.

According to John Caspero, professional medical representative for Marion Merrell Dow, "As a company we are committed to improving the longevity and quality of human life. One way we do this is to help people quit smoking with our products and programs."

The smoking cessation program, scheduled for implementation in the fall, is comprised of three options that are designed to help an individual stop smoking: 1) "The Nicoderm Program" - a support system, offered through Marion Merrell Dow, that is available for patients needing nicotine patch therapy; 2) "Smoke Stoppers Staying Stopped" - a five-week program offering group education and behavioral support; and 3) Smoking Cessation Self-Help Program - a package of self-help materials to be used independently of or in preparation for the Smoke Stoppers course.

"This is a true example of a win-win situation," continued Caspero. "Wellness Together will provide comprehensive information to help individuals quit smoking while Marion Merrell Dow's behavior modification program will be offered as one option to this."

"We're pleased to have received this generous contribution," commented Mikal McCartney, director of community relations at Garrett Memorial. "Smoking is a very difficult habit to break. However, through the partnership we have with Marion Merrell Dow, along with the support of our physicians and other healthcare providers, Wellness Together will be able to help them live a longer, healthier life."

PHARMACEUTICAL COMPANY MARION MERRELL DOW recently contributed $1,000 to Garrett County Memorial Hospital's Wellness program. The funds will be used to assist Wellness staff in providing a more extensive smoking cessation program to the community. MAKING A FINAL STOP in Garrett County before next Tuesday's primary election were a number of candidates for state offices, hoping to garner as much support as possible from local voters. Making a "whistle stop" in Oakland on Tuesday was U.S. Senate candidate Ron Franks, pictured above, who is presently a delegate to the Maryland House of Delegates and a practicing dentist on the Eastern Shore. Franks is a Republican who is challenging Democrat incumbent Paul Sarbanes. He is the only challenger who is not a millionaire and has conducted a "low-budget, grass roots" campaign as a member of the United We Stand America group. In the photo below, Steve Crawford, Democrat candidate for Congress, Sixth District, speaks with Reba Simpson, Mtn. Lake Park, in Oakland. Crawford is an educator from Frederick who holds a Ph.D. from Columbia University and teaches at the University of Maryland. The Vietnam veteran, who is running for public office for the first time, considers himself a "conservative Democrat," but not nearly as conservative as the Republican incumbent, Roscoe Bartlett, who is pictured at right announcing his candidacy just last Friday at the Garrett County courthouse.

Oakland Woman Found Guilty In Dist. Court Of Bad Check Charges

An Oakland woman was convicted on three worthless check charges in last week's Garrett County District Court proceedings. Fourteen additional worthless check charges, as well as seven petty theft charges were not prosecuted by the state's attorney.

Karen R. Hanlin, 24, was handed a 30-day suspended sentence, fined $150, and placed on two years of supervised probation on all charges by District Court Judge Ralph M. Burnett. He also ordered a $5,000 blanket bond to be used to pay Hanlin's fines and/or costs for the bad check charges.

According to district court records, Hanlin had issued bad checks to several area establishments over a several month period in 1993.

William D. Stanton, 27, Grantsville, had one count of CDS (controlled dangerous substance) possession, and one count of use of CDS paraphernalia placed on the stet docket. He had been arrested for the offenses on Sept. 26, 1993, by Maryland State Police and officers from the Garrett County Narcotics Task Force.

Jack A. Giotfelty, 32, Gorman, W.Va., was not prosecuted on charges of breaking and entering and trespassing, because the complainant, Lori Griffith, refused to testify. She had filed the charges on June 6 following a dispute at her home in Mtn. Lake Park.

Judge Burnett dismissed charges of malicious destruction of property against Ricky G. Cassidy, 38, Oakland, because the case was not heard within the statute of limitations (one year). Charges had been filed by Donald W. Rolf, Oakland, after Cassidy reportedly cut a cherry bush on Rolf's property, causing illness to his cattle. The incident occurred in July 1992.

A Frostburg man was found not guilty on counts of reckless driving and negligent driving, but was convicted on one count of passing in a no-passing zone during recent court proceedings.

The judge imposed a $95 fine on Kevin Warnick, 23, and placed him on one year of supervised probation. Conditions of the probation indicate he must also attend a MVA driver improvement program. One additional count of malicious destruction of property was dismissed.

Warnick had been charged with the offenses on April 16 by Heidi Fazenbaker, Meyersdale, Pa., who claimed her Ford Bronco was damaged when the defendant threw a bottle at her vehicle as he passed hers and three other vehicles on a solid yellow line near the Hill Top Delight, Grantsville.

Jimmy D. Steiding, 34, Alexandria, Va., was convicted on one count of CDS possession. Judge Burnett sentenced him to 30 days in observed his parked vehicle along I-68. According to court records, the motor was still running, and the defendant was seated behind the wheel, but in a conversation with the officer, he admitted to driving while under the influence of drugs (DUI).

Laura A. Walters, 31, Timonium, was convicted on one count of CDS possession in last week's court proceedings. An additional charge of use of CDS paraphernalia was not prosecuted by the state's attorney. Court records indicate Walters requested a jury trial following her district court appearance.

She had been arrested on the charges on June 11 by Ranger Caroline T. Blizzard, who was reportedly on foot patrol in Swallow Falls State Park when she observed Walters and a co-defendant passing a pipe back and forth at their campsite.

John E. Filsinger, 40, Oakland, was found not guilty of one count of battery. Charges had been filed against him on Feb. 27 by his wife, Judy L. Filsinger, who told state police he had kicked her below the knee, causing a large bruise.

Two West Virginia men were granted probation before judgment on drug-related charges. Steven L. Crank, 28, Morgantown, Election Hopes...

The voters of Garrett County will once again be going to the polls next week to select the candidates of their party for November's general election. Because of the unusually large number of candidates, particularly for county commissioner seats, this has become one of the more interesting campaigns in the county's history.

While we are pleased so many people have an interest in running for office, it remains to be seen how this will affect the outcome of the voting. The likelihood of a dark horse candidate being selected is greater when there are numerous candidates because of how the votes may be split among them.

When we scan the entire group of candidates, we see what we would describe as some "dead wood," but we also see a number of competent people who would probably do a good job if elected. We hope the majority of our voters have read about and listened to the various candidates to assist them in making their selections next Tuesday.

We also hope that the majority will cast their votes based upon an overall impression of the candidates, and not on one or two specific issues or opinions by a particular candidate. Just because a certain candidate voices a popular opinion about one issue does not necessarily mean that that candidate is the best person for the job.

We are hopeful that local voters realize and remember that some of the promises made by some candidates will be literally impossible to fulfill because of state and/or federal law and various other forms of higher authority. It is ludicrous, for example, for a board of education candidate to say that, if elected, he will make sweeping changes by simply rejecting or ignoring the many state and federal mandates that govern so much school policy, as ridiculous as they may be.

Finally, as always, we hope that the voter turnout is large next Tuesday, so that the majority, and not the minority, of our citizens will determine who will be in line to fill these elected positions.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

Honesty always has been and still is the best policy. I have paid thousands of dollars in my lifetime to the county government and recently paid 1994-95 taxes. I do not approve of county tax dollars being handled carelessly. I question the county commissioners supplementing the sheriff's salary, even though they may be advised to do so by the study commission, as this body has been appointed, not selected, by taxpayers or voters. All salaries are set or adopted by law, including the commissioners salary, and legally they cannot increase or decrease any elected official's salary.

I would suspect any and all individuals seeking office would be aware of the salary this particular office pays. If they feel they cannot comply, then he or she should not seek the office. However, it appears all of the incumbents have a desire to retain their offices. Voters have a choice in several offices to make some changes on September 13. The candidates that are in question—voters, look carefully at their records. Then, vote for and support as your conscience dictates.

Sincerely,
Hubert A. Friend

To the Editor:

As taxpayers in Garrett County, we feel no one should file suit in Circuit Court on our behalf against Sheriff Van Evans.

Sincerely,
Eola Reed
Arlene Wilson

To the Editor:

As a concerned employee of Garrett County Memorial Hospital I would like to express my opinion on some of the information I've been reading and hearing over the past several weeks concerning the organization of Union Local 27 at our community hospital.

I started working at Garrett County Memorial Hospital over 14 years ago as an on the job trainee, and have worked to achieve three national credentials in respiratory therapy since that time. This would not have been possible without the support from my department manager and the administration at Garrett County Memorial Hospital. Through financial, as well as other support from Garrett Memorial Hospital, I have been able to fulfill my goal in becoming a registered respiratory therapist I, as well as others from nursing, respiratory therapy, physical therapy, and other departments have used this opportunity, and in turn be able to give back to the community good, professional, quality care, due in part by one of our employee benefits.

The small community hospital has worked hard over the past decade to keep up with the ever growing demands of the health care industry for the community as well as its employees. It makes me sick to see outsiders come in, and try to turn hard working teams of professionals, with good working relationships into negativity and adversity. Yes, there have been changes in our institution; some not so popular. But change is taking place throughout the country in health care, and we are part of that change.

There have been many positive things happen at Garrett County Memorial Hospital over the last few years. If you can't think of any, shame on you! All of the things I have read and/or heard over the last several weeks from the organizers of Local 27 have been negative, taken out of context, or have been total fiction. I urge each and every employee to look closely at the facts of both sides of the union issues. Do some real investigating on your own. Ask Local 27 to give you a list of all organizations, they have unionized, and/or tried to unionize. I urge you to call, and/or visit some of these organizations, find out why they voted no against the union, and for those that voted yes, would they vote for it again?

I ask each and everyone of you to look through the smoke screen that Local 27 is blowing around you. Look at the real facts, and I bet you vote no on September 30, 1994.

Sincerely,
Randy Crabtree RRT
To the Editor:

We are fortunate that, as citizens of Garrett County, we have the opportunity to know the candidates running for public office, on a personal basis. This gives us the opportunity to make an informed and educated choice.

It is not enough to go to the polls and cast our vote for the most popular candidate! We must look hard at that person's character and past accomplishments. It is O.K. to vote for one's neighbor or friend if he is the best person to get the job done. I have noticed that the way a person conducts his or her personal life is a good indication of how they conduct their professional life. The people that we vote in as commissioner, sheriff, etc. will hold very important positions within our county. We need to make the right choices!

To vote, for any other reason than to elect the best person for the job, is like throwing your vote away! A misinformed vote is worse than no vote at all! Cast your vote for the most qualified, dedicated, sincere candidate to represent our county.

To the Editor:

In about a month Local 27 of the United Food and Commercial Workers Union along with the National Labor Relations Board will conduct a vote for collective bargaining for a contract between hospital employees and administration. As an employee of Garrett County Memorial Hospital, I am upset with how employees are so unhappy that they feel they need a union to represent them. I will admit that the hospital has problems but those problems probably can be resolved over a short or long period of time.

During my 14 years at Garrett Memorial Hospital, we had another close call with the union wanting to represent employees. What happened that time was employees stood together and said no to the union. Where are those employees now?

What I have liked about working at the hospital is that we as employees always stuck together through thick and thin and it always worked out. We need that same employee spirit now more than ever.

This rural community does not need a unionized hospital, our patients are more important to us than trying to resolve a few problems that can be worked out eventually anyway.

The union that is trying to organize at our hospital has never ever stated the true facts, but focuses on problems that can be resolved without them.

This union and a representative of the union have been charged with harassment, as well as stalking employees. I ask are these the kind of people you want to represent you and to make promises they cannot keep?

I strongly urge each employee to really think when they go to vote. We could see a drastic change in our health care in Garrett County if Local 27 of the Food and Commercial Workers Union get their

Yes, there have been changes in our institution; some not so popular. But change is taking place throughout the country in health care, and we are part of that change.

There have been many positive things happen at Garrett County Memorial Hospital over the last few years. If you can't think of any, shame on you! Populism: The Missing Ingredient

The folks in my community will head for the polls next Tuesday. As I evaluate the various candidates, I scratch my head. The labels "Democrat" and "Republican" don't seem to mean much anymore. To be sure, neither has ever had an absolute meaning, but they used to indicate about as much as chocolate and vanilla when buying ice cream.

Of course, the fiercest partisans of both parties tell us they are still as different as chocolate and vanilla. Each box keeps its separate label, but inside, the political ice cream looks and tastes like neapolitan, that is, both flavors with a little strawberry thrown in.

"When the sun goes down, the good guys get together," said Robert Strauss, former Chairman of the Democratic National Committee and former Ambassador to Russia appointed by Republican President George Bush. In other words, the insiders (also known as "good old boys") run our country. The partisan infighting has nearly become a charade.

Missing from mainstream American politics today is populism. At the most basic level, populism and democracy mean the same thing, the former derived from Latin and the latter term from Greek. The people rule and should rule because a wisdom inheres in the people. Of course, people collectively can be wrong just as people singly can be right.

The premise of populism or democracy is that the people taken as a whole are more likely to be right than any individual or committee of individuals. In our form of government we provide a safeguard against radical and usually temporary swings of opinions in the community of the whole. We make ours a government of representative populism, or, as one political statement puts it, a democracy in a republic.

The irony of missing this ingredient is that both our major parties were born in populism. The Democrats celebrate their populist roots at Jefferson and Jackson dinners. The Republican Party began because the Democrats had become the expression of the establishment. Republicans celebrate their populist roots at annual Lincoln Day dinners. Lincoln had not been dead two years before the people who sent him to Washington realized that the establishment had taken over their populist party.

For the 50 years following the Civil War populism was the movement that struggled with the establishment in both parties, and for a time, found its expression as a party itself. The Grange, a fraternal order formally known as the Patrons of Husbandry, continues as an institutional reminder of 19th century populism. It was a movement of ordinary people who were primarily agricultural and rural. A distinct characteristic of American populism is the rootedness of the people in the soil out of that relationship they spun a social, political and economic agenda.

One writer opens his article on American populism with an air of puzzlement: populism produced "...a radical socioeconomic agenda from what was considered the most conservative class in American society." Some of the populist goals would still be reckoned radical today, like the abolition of national banks. Other planks of the platform have become meaningless, like the free coinage of silver (though, in a sense, President Nixon accomplished most of that goal when he took our country off the gold standard).

Many of the populist goals were achieved, and have become commonplaces of American life: the eight-hour workday, direct election of Senators (most folks have forgotten that the state legislatures used to elect the U.S. Senators) and the rural free delivery of mail. I am sorry to say that the income tax was part of the populist platform—nobody's perfect.

After World War I, the populist movement lost its energy, precisely because so many of its goals had been achieved. Nothing takes the wind out of your sails quite like success. In large measure, the two-party system was perpetuated because both parties adopted much of the populist platform.

Today, populism is an underground movement. There are a few populist organizations and even some populist politicians, but mainline American politics is missing the populist impetus. No one has summed up the circumstance better than Senator Jay Rockefeller (that's John D., IV, great grandson of the oil baron) when he said regarding healthcare reform, "It doesn't matter if the people don't want it, we're going to do it anyway." Perhaps.

Whether Rockefeller was specifically right or not, his statement of establishment arrogance may well foreshadow the revival of populism. In America, it's still the people, not the politicians, who count.

Teenager Cited In Hit And Run Mishap Friday

A 17-year-old driver was cited by the Garrett County Sheriff's Office last week after allegedly leaving the scene of an accident in Mountain Lake Park last Friday.

According to the police report, the driver was operating a 1985 Chrysler Laser eastbound on Oakland Avenue. He attempted to make a right turn onto G Street, but apparently crossed the center line, traveled into Mark Hickman's yard, and hit a fence post as well as several small saplings. Although the car was damaged, the driver continued on, leaving the scene.

In addition to Hickman, at least two other persons witnessed the accident and the sheriff's office was contacted. One witness was able to report the tag number of the car, and a Maryland State Police officer stopped the driver a half hour later on Rt. 135 near Swanton, according to the report.

The teenager told police that he had left the scene because he had panicked after crashing into the fence and trees. He was charged with leaving the scene of a property damage accident and failure to keep right of center.

No one was hurt in the mishap. The sheriff's office also responded to an accident on August 31 in Loch Lynn. Marguerite Forde, Bayard, W.Va., was operating a 1990 Plymouth Voyager northbound on Rt. 560 and continued onto Paul Street, apparently failing to stop at a stop sign. Her vehicle collided with a 1993 Oldsmobile driven by Lawrence M. Hanlin, Kitzmiller.

Hanlin and his wife, Francis, were both transported to the Garrett County Memorial Hospital where they were treated and released, according to the report. Forde was charged with failure to stop at a stop sign.

and Michael W. Adams, 30, Wellsburg, had been arrested by MSP on Jan. 6 at the Wisp Resort.

Tony M. Warnick, 28, Grantsville, had one count of battery and one count of assault placed on the stet docket, at the request of the complainant, Tammy M. Warnick. He had been charged with the offenses on May 6 after a domestic dispute at their home.

Two Mtn. Lake Park men were found not guilty of battery in Judge Burnett's court last week. The charges, filed by Storm M. Cline on Jan. 27, claimed the defendants, Rocky Tichnell, Sr. and Wayne Burke, had assaulted him as he was involved in a fight with Rocky Tichnell Jr.

Calvin C. Love Sr., 50, Oakland, had charges of alcoholic beverage intoxication endangerment, being disorderly on private property, and malicious destruction of property placed on the stet docket. The charges had been filed on June 13 by Sharon LoGrasso.

Gilbert W. Gank, 24, Oakland, will serve 30 days of a 60-day sentence for his battery conviction in district court. The judge also fined him $150 and placed Gank on two years of supervised probation for the offense, and required him to attend an Appalachian Crossroads program.

Gank's arrest by occurred on Dec. 3, 1993, after he reportedly kicked Linda Murphy during a dispute, then struck her in the eye, and pulled her to the floor, kicking her in the back and sides.

DWI CASES

Several DWI and DUI cases were heard by Judge Burnett in recent district court proceedings.

Ronald Dale Dalton, 33, Md., was granted probation before judgment on his DWI charge. He had been arrested on April 16 by Maryland State Police.

Also granted probation before judgment on a DWI charge was Steven Rudolph Beckman, 24, Md. His arrest occurred on March 27 by Garrett County sheriff's deputies.

Mark David Weamer, 25, Md., was found not guilty on one count of DUI, and one count of driving with alcohol in his blood, and charges were dismissed. He was convicted, however, on one count of exceeding the speed limit, and failure to drive within a single lane.

For these offenses he received a total of $165, and was placed on six months of unsupervised probation. His arrest for DWI was on May 29 by Maryland State Police.

Susan Jeanette Santos, Md., was granted probation before judgment on her DWI charge. The judge ordered her probation terminated.

Erik Brian Lennox, 28, Md., was also granted probation before judgment on his DWI charge. The judge ordered his probation to continue as originally imposed. Lennox's arrest was on Oct. 8, 1993.

Buckwheat Festival Sunday To Feature Antique Car Show

A special attraction during the 53rd Annual Preston County Buckwheat Festival will be the 32nd Annual Antique Car Show, set for Sunday, Oct. 2, at the Craig Civic Center parking lot on Tunnelton Street, Kingwood. The show is sponsored by the Antique Automobile Club of America, with Glen Carson and Marvin Zinn as co-chairmen.

The first 125 exhibitors to register their cars will receive dash plaques. Exhibits expected during the event are antique cars and trucks through 1969, and non-modified production vehicles from 1970 through 1979.

Registration is from 10 a.m. until 12:30 p.m., and a fee of $3 per car will be charged to all exhibitors. The public is invited to view the cars continuously throughout the day, even during the judging.

The Buckwheat Festival's antique car show consistently has large numbers of automobiles on display, according to Zinn. As many as 200 cars and trucks are expected to participate in this year's show.

In years past, Buckwheat Festival Sunday was considered a "wind-down, clean-up time." Recently, though, it has become a fourth major day for visitors to participate in the festivities. Along with the antique car show, Sunday will feature a bicycle race at 11 a.m., a late afternoon drawing for the Buckwheat Festival car, and a performance by the Wheeling Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Rachael Worby, West Virginia's First Lady. The performance is set for 2 p.m. at the civic center. The carnival and all exhibits are open to the public until Sunday evening.

The Buckwheat Festival is slated this year from Thursday, Sept. 29, through Sunday, Oct. 2.

Pratt Cemetery Assoc. To Meet

The Pratt Cemetery Association will hold a special meeting on Sept. 10 at 7 p.m. in the Birds Creek Community Building, Birds Creek. According to Earl R. Pyles, correspondence and recording secretary for the group, any interested persons, including anyone owning a plot or having a relative buried in the cemetery, are encouraged to attend. Cemetery upkeep will be discussed at the meeting.

For more information, those interested may write the association care of Treasurer Dorothy Pratt, Rt. 1, Box 1226, Kingwood, W.Va., 26537.

Events Planned At Civic Center

The Craig Civic Center will be the site for a number of special events during the Preston County Buckwheat Festival.

A battle of the bands, featuring three country and three rock bands, will begin at 7 p.m., Wednesday, Sept. 28.

On Friday, Sept. 30, performances of a show featuring Ronnie McDowell, stars of the Elvis Presley Show, and Alex Houston, will begin at 6:45 and 9:30 p.m.

Events on Saturday, Oct. 1, include a 9:30 a.m. turkey calling contest that will highlight a seminar by Jeff D'Agostine, and a 6:30 p.m. banjo and fiddle contest featuring bluegrass music from West Virginia bands Everett Lilly and Clear Creek Crossing.

For more information about these and other events planned during the festival, persons may call 329-0303.

Events will get underway on Saturday at 10 a.m. and will continue throughout the day and evening. This is the first year members of the VFD extended the festival to include Sunday. According to a spokesperson for the organization, Sunday was added to accommodate the growing interest in gospel music groups performing during the event.

Attractions planned during the two-day festival include craft tables, concessions, live country and gospel music, games, rides, and Bingo. Saturday's special events include an ever popular cake auction at 2 p.m., the coronation of royalty at 3 p.m., and a firemen's water battle at 4 p.m. Sunday will feature turkey dinners, beginning at 11 a.m., and more gospel music throughout the day.

Along with the usual concessions on sale during the festival, the public will enjoy potato soup, potato

MDOP, THEFTS REPORTED

Two thefts in the Deep Creek area were reported to the local state police during the past week.

Tfc. R.H. Sharp is continuing his investigation in an incident involving the theft of two fishing poles, two pair of sunglasses, and one golf umbrella from a 1991 Ford pickup truck that was parked in the Wisp's parking lot. Unknown persons reportedly broke the rear window of the vehicle and removed the items.

In the same incident, the top of a 1994 Jeep, belonging to a Pennsylvania man, was damaged in a failed attempt to hotwire the vehicle, and the rear side window of a 1992 Toyota Camry, belonging to an Ohio couple, was damaged, but apparently no entry was made into the vehicle.

The theft of dinner meals, valued at $49.89, was reported to Tfc. D.W. Broadwater last Friday evening at the Will O'the Wisp. The report indicated a party of eight ran a food and drink bill up to $134.73, but complained about the meals, and the bill was reduced to $94.89. The party apparently left the establishment and left only $45.00 on the table, still owing $49.89.

Tfc. Broadwater is continuing his investigation in the incident.

DWI REPORTS

Six DWI (driving while under the influence of alcohol and/or drugs) reports were filed at the local state police barracks during the past week. Addresses were unavailable for any of the arrests.

Robert J. Pretzman, 39, was arrested and charged with DWI on Sept. 1 by Cpl. W.R. Paugh.

Rick C. Stewart, 26, was arrested for DWI on Sept. 2 by Tfc. S.H. Anderson.

Throughout the remainder of the 1990's and the end of the projection period - 2003 - public secondary school enrollment will increase significantly in most jurisdictions.

Only two jurisdictions, Allegany and Somerset counties, are not expected to experience an increase in secondary enrollment from 1993 to 2003. From 1993 to 2003, increases of from 4.3% (Garrett) to 55.7% (Cahert) are expected as the larger number of children in elementary grades matriculate through to the secondary education levels.

Theft, DOP Incident Probed

The sheriff's office is currently investigating a case involving the short-term theft of a car that was also damaged in the incident.

Betty L. Cogan, Oakland, was reportedly visiting family members on K Street in Mountain Lake Park on Friday. According to the police report, she had gotten into her 1987 Oldsmobile to leave at about 4 p.m. and noticed that her son's coffee cup was in the car. She left the keys in the ignition and took the cup back inside the house.

When she returned a short time later, the car was gone. The family found the vehicle a short time later in a yard just down the street.

The back bumper had been damaged when the culprit struck a tree. The repair estimate is $500, according to the report.

There are no suspects in the case, but the investigation is continuing.

Western Maryland Joins The Ranks Of Americorps

As a result of a grant received by Frostburg State University last month, the search has just begun for 25 AmeriCorps "members" or participants, who will perform duties as varied as coordinating environmental projects at Deep Creek Lake, developing Victory Gardens in Garrett County, or working with Head Start in recruiting volunteers. Others will provide independent living assistance, enlarge area food pantries, create youth literacy programs, and help solve weather related emergencies.

According to Bill Mandicott, program director, recruitment will begin very soon, as early as September 12, for the positions that are available in this area. Job announcements will be listed in the local newspapers within the week.

The September 12 date has significance, Mandicott said, because it is the same day President Clinton will officially kick off the recently established AmeriCorps program. Mandicott will be representing the recently formed Western Maryland Alliance for Service, which includes FSU's community volunteer program, Allegany County Human Resources Development Commission, the Western Maryland Food Bank, Garrett County Community Action Committee, and the Garrett County Health Department, at the ceremonies on the White House lawn.

The local program, named Appalachian Service Through Action and Resources or A STAR! in Western Maryland, will include AmeriCorps members providing many types of assistance in the areas of both social services and the environment.

Mandicott explained that AmeriCorps is the new national service movement initiated by President Clinton that will engage thousands of Americans of all ages and backgrounds to help the nation's communities through service work projects. The local Alliance program will play a significant role in meeting human

Management Classes To Be Offered

Garrett Community College has scheduled four classes for this fall that will help managers and supervisors develop leadership skills. Additional classes will be offered in the spring. According to a program spokesperson, each class in the series has been designed to meet the specific needs of those who manage or supervise employees in business, health, service organizations, or school settings.

"Operating successful businesses and organizations in today's highly competitive environment presents many new challenges," stated Sandy Major, business programs coordinator at GCC. "Conventional ways of managing are no longer effective. Today's leaders need to provide leadership which enables performance that attracts, delights, and keeps customers. Companies and organizations that succeed have managers and supervisors who have skills in the areas of understanding and instilling vision, practicing personal quality, enabling change, empowering employees, and achieving positive outcomes."

Building Productivity Through Teamwork is the first class in this series. The class will meet on three consecutive Thursdays from 6:30 p.m. to 9:45 p.m. starting Sept. 29 and will be taught by Sandy Major. The class focuses on developing leadership skills that will enable each participant to transform his or her work force into a highly productive coordinated team.

Supervisors and managers will learn the dynamics of effective leadership, how to build commitment, how to use low-cost incentives, delegation skills, ways to empower employees to take responsibility, how to give meaningful feedback and measure results, how to get others to direct and motivate themselves, and ways to build confidence and self-esteem.

The second class in the series, Strengthening Your Assertiveness and Communication Skills, will help participants build skills in communicating effectively to build trust and to empower others. It is designed to help participants build confidence, personal power, and supervisory effectiveness by learning to communicate assertively. Managers and supervisors will learn to assess and strengthen assertiveness skills, use motiva-tional communication techniques, focus on listening to understand, give and get positive feedback, and coach and counsel. The class will meet on Oct. 20 and 27 and Nov. 3 from 6:30 p.m. to 9:45 p.m. Sandy Major will be the instructor for this class, also.

Making the Time to Manage will enable managers and supervisors to discover ways to manage time that will help them handle stress and enjoy their jobs. Practical, individualized learning experiences will be focused on values, goals and priorities; time management techniques; getting past procrastination and personal time wasters; increasing and using prime time, and conducting effective meetings. The class meets for three sessions, on Nov. 10, 17, and 22 from 6:30 to 9:45 p.m. and will be taught by Sandy Major.

The fourth class in the series will be Hiring and Developing Committed Employees. This class will focus on hiring, developing and keeping employees that are committed to delivering quality services and products. Supervisors and managers will learn to select and train employees who will focus on quality, develop job descriptions and policy manuals, create performance evaluations, meet legal responsibilities, identify and deal with problem employees, conduct counseling and termination sessions, and practice effective supervisory techniques that motivate. This class will meet for two sessions, on Dec. 1 and 8, and will be taught by Don Smith.

All classes will be held at the McHenry Campus of GCC. "While participants may register for any one of the classes," Major stated, "they will gain the most from each class by enrolling in all classes. The content of each of these classes is interrelated to the content of the other classes. CEU's will be awarded for those who participate in and attend at least 80 percent of the class or classes for which they're registered. In order to address the individual needs of each participant, each class is limited to twelve participants.

Since space is limited, those interested should register immediately. To obtain information on these classes or other business classes, persons may call Sandy Major or Ruth Pinter, GCC Small Business Development Center, at 387-3101 or 387-3080.

Vent, Huskies "Reload" For '94 Campaign, To Host Keyser

Reloading, rather than rebuilding, is the preferred term of Northern High School football coach Tom Vent when he describes the goal of his team this season, a team that saw 19 seniors lost to graduation, but a team that has tasted considerable success in the past three seasons.

The Huskies have won 23 of their last 33 games, earned a spot in three straight playoffs (1990, '91, and '92), and just missed a fourth straight playoff appearance last year with a 7-3 record. With only three starters back from that team, Vent will be counting on his younger recruits to step in, or step up, and continue the success of the program. That goal is made still more difficult with a hectic up-schedule, which will include the first meeting ever with Keyser, slated for this Friday night on the Huskies' gridiron.

Vent and his staff have attempted to give their 60-plus players plenty of experience before Friday's opener, as they scheduled no fewer than four scrimmages with Bedford, Williamsport, Mapletown, and Allegany.

"We lost a lot of kids who will be hard to replace," Vent said. "But what they lack in experience they seem to have in heart and spirit. We just don't know yet how successful we will be, but we are certainly excited about getting started. Our kids really need to play."

Vent announced yesterday his starting line-up against the Golden Tornado. Offensively, senior D.J. Durst (5-11, 165) will start at split end; senior Lee Collins (6-3, 210) will start at tight end; junior David Schotfield (6-3, 232) and senior Steve Savage (6-3, 232) will start at the tackle spots; juniors Todd Smith (6-0, 180) and Bill Spicher (6-0, 225) will start at the guard positions; and sophomore Doug Sines (6-2, 205) will complete the line at center.

In the backfield will be senior quarterback Jeremy Brenneman (5-11, 160); senior fullback Brian King (6-0, 188); junior tailback Brian Heslop (6-1, 170); and

HOPING TO CONTINUE a winning program at Northern High School this season is Coach Tom Vent, who is anxious for his team to open its 1994 campaign tomorrow evening at home against Keyser. The Huskies, who have earned a playoff berth three of the past four seasons and

senior Jason Reed (6-0, 145) or junior Tim Sines (5-11, 143) at the flanker position.

Steve Savage, Collins, and Durst are the only returning starters on offense.

"Jeremy Brenneman has paid his dues as a back-up to Derek Mason last year," Vent said. "He throws and runs well and has a lot of leadership ability."

Vent expects his team to keep the ball on the ground most of the time, with Heslop a key figure in the offensive attack. The junior gained over 1,000 yards last year on the junior varsity squad.

The starting defensive line will include: junior Michael Minnick (6-2, 265) at nose guard; Spicher and Savage at the tackle positions; and Collins and junior Michael Holliday (5-10, 162) at defensive end. Starting linebackers will be Durst, Heslop, and junior Brandon Baumgardner (5-9, 165), while the secondary will include Reed or Sines and sophomore Zach Levenenz (5-10, 145) at the corners and Brenneman at safety.

Sines will serve as the placekicker and Heslop will be the punter.

"We have more experience than last year, but less experience," Vent said. "But we will be aggressive, as always, and I believe we are capable of having a good season."

Coach Tom Woods Is Back; Rams To Open Against Falcons

After a three-year hiatus, during which time he watched his older son play football and served as a color commentator on game radio broadcasts, Coach Tom Woods is back on the sidelines of the Southern High Rams, and there is probably no one on his team or among the fans who is any more excited about getting the Rams' season underway this Friday night against a powerful team from Frankfort.

"It's great to be back," said Woods, who replaced Fred Gregg after three seasons at the helm and brings with him one of the area's most outstanding win-loss records (108-42). His goal, as always, is to win a state championship, which will be a major task, considering the difficulty of the Rams' schedule.

"I challenge anyone to find a tougher schedule for a Class A team," Woods said, noting that Frankfort, Musselman, Fort Hill, and Allegany are all there, not to mention what could be excellent teams at Northern and Tucker County.

"If we can be successful during our regular season, then we will have an excellent chance in the playoffs," he said.

The Rams finished 4-6 last year against a similar schedule, and 11 starters from that team are back, along with about 60 more players, making it the largest turnout for football in the history of the school.

"I believe our strengths will be our offensive and defensive lines, as well as the leadership of Jeremy Fitzwater at quarterback," Woods said.

Fitzwater (5-10, 165) completed 35 of 74 passes last year as a junior for a better than 50 percent clip. He can throw deep and is also a strong runner. Besides calling the signals, he will also be doing all of his team's punting and placekicking.

Expected to start behind Fitzwater in the backfield are two strong tailbacks, BACK AT THE HELM of the Southern High School football program is Coach Tom Woods, who has been away from the sidelines for the past three seasons. A record number of players has turned out for the 1994 campaign, which will get underway tomorrow evening at home against a powerful team from Frankfort High School. Woods is one

"Dawson is a quick, slashing runner who can move the ball off tackle as well as outside, and David is a very powerful runner who likes to run over people," he said.

Another senior, Paul Berkenridge (5-11, 183) will start at fullback to provide key blocking for the tailbacks and to carry the ball in certain situations.

Starting receivers will include split ends junior Andy Woods (6-1, 157), senior Jeff Droppelman (5-11, 155), and senior Jason Miller (5-10, 160), while senior Elias Black (6-1, 193) will start at tight end. Starting at the slot position will be senior Adam Moomau (6-0, 160), with Croco also seeing action there.

Blocking up front on the first offensive series this week will be tackles Matt

Giotfelty (5-11, 223), a junior, and senior Todd DeWitt (6-0, 270), with sophomore Shawn Durst (5-10, 246) expected to see action; senior guards Josh Hinebaugh (6-0, 218) and Mike Giotfelty (5-8, 171), backed up by sophomore Seth Tressler (6-2, 248); and senior center Mike Switzer (5-8, 203).

Expected to start on the defensive line are Hinebaugh at nose guard, DeWitt and junior Justin Steyer (5-7, 230) at tackle positions, and Tressler and senior Fabrice Dufour (5-10, 185) at the end spots, backed up by junior Danny Compitello (6-0, 177).

The starting linebacking corps will include Black, Berkenridge, and Croco, with sophomore Howard Croco (5-7, 162) and junior Shawn Strawser (5-11, 158) as back-ups.

The secondary expected to take the field first Friday night will include Dawson, Fitzwater, and Woods, with first replacements including Moomau, Droppelman, Miller, and junior Jeremy Duckett (5-9, 161).

"Our biggest concern is that, as a team, we have just fair speed," Woods said. "Specifically, that's a question mark in our secondary, where we also have three new people. So we will really be depending on our up-front people to contain the play and keep it from getting into the secondary as much as possible."

This will be a difficult task this Friday night when the 2-0 Frankfort Falcons come to town with undoubtedly the area's most outstanding running back in senior Brandon Harden (6-are at a great disadvantage in that they have already played two games.

Vent believes that Kevser's senior quarterback Aaron Sanders (6-1, 175) and senior All-Area tight end Robert Redman (6-4, 225) are two of the best athletes in the area.

"This will be a big challenge for us," Vent said. "They are bigger than we are and they have two games under their belts. They pass the ball almost as much as they run it, so we will have to be ready defensively for everything."

Redman, who caught 27 passes last year for 410 yards, is also a standout at defensive end for the tornado.

"I think we will surprise some people this year," Vent said. "We just want to get our season underway."

Friday's kickoff at Northern is slated for 7:30 p.m.

Angela Friend To Play For Lakers

Northern High School graduate Angela Friend plans to continue her athletic and academic career at Garrett Community College. She was a member of the 1991 Laker volleyball squad and is returning after serving two years in the U.S. Navy.

"Angie's a hard worker, and has matured as a person and player," remarked GCC Head Volleyball Coach Margaret Quinn. "She has a very effective underhand serve that throws many opponents off. When she played for Garrett three years ago her serve was a great asset and I look for that to continue."

Friend is the daughter of E.S. Gillespie and Deb Friend.

More Sponsors For MSA Teams Are Announced

The Mountaintop Soccer Association named six more team sponsors this week for the 1994 season.

Among the nearly 40 team sponsors are: Stewart Funeral Home, Hyde Laundry, Mt. Top Glass and Mirror, John Mattingly Contracting, Diamond Billiards, and Naylor's Hardware.

"We are overwhelmed by the support of youth soccer in Garrett County," stated Carole Ann Lovett, MSA president. "We thank each sponsor for their generosity."

The first games in the MSA league will be played this Saturday, Sept. 10, on northern and southern area fields, as well as in Keyser, W. Va.

Woods Is Back

4, 194), who has already run for 443 yards and six touchdowns in just two games. He has also kicked a pair of field goals, run for a two point conversion, and booted four extra points.

The Falcons opened with a 34-0 thrashing of Allegheny Academy and then rolled over Bishop Walsh, 28-0, last Friday.

"Frankfort is either the second or third best team in the area," Woods said, "with Fort Hill being the best and either Allegheny or Frankfort second."

"They also have the advantage of having played two games, not to mention the advantage of having an athlete like Harden, who I believe is as good a running back ever in area football."

He's definitely a Division I prospect," he said.

Woods said there is no question "as to how to prepare for the Falcons."

"There is certainly no finesse on their part," he said. "They simply get the ball to Harden 25 or 30 times a game. They don't want to do anything else. So that will be the local point for our defense: to stop Harden."

Other athletes on the Frankfort offense who have impressed Woods are their senior quarterback Shane Cornwell (6-1, 197), senior fullback Brandon Grady (5-11, 170), and senior tight end John Lucas (6-4, 263).

"They have a young, but talented, offensive line," Woods said, noting that Frankfort starts two juniors and three sophomores on that line.

Frankfort's 4-4 defense is anchored by senior tackle Travis Conill (6-0, 258) and linebackers Harden, junior C.J. Kauffman (6-2, 165), and junior Jerod Grady (6-1, 175).

Friday's kickoff at the Southern High stadium is slated for 7:45 p.m., following special ceremonies that will include the announcement of the first inductees in the Southern Garrett Ram Football Hall of Fame.

Rams Topped By Westmar, 7-3, In Soccer Opener

The Southern High School varsity soccer team opened its season with a loss Tuesday afternoon at home against Westmar, falling to the Wildcats, 7-3.

Eric Johnson finished with a hat trick for Westmar, as he scored three of his team's five goals in the first half.

Steve Goralski put Southern on top 1-0 early in the contest with a penalty shot past Westmar keeper Brian Shaw. But the Wildcats responded with five straight goals to take control of the contest.

Jeremy Kiddy knotted the score at 1-1 with a goal at about the 36-minute mark, and Johnson followed with two more goals within the next four minutes to make it 3-1.

The Rams kept Westmar in check in the second half until about the 14-minute mark when Mac Sloan scored a goal. Jason Deshong followed soon after with Westmar's final goal of the evening.

The Rams recorded their third goal late in the half on a shoulder shot by Christian Coviello following a corner kick from Goralski.

The Rams were out-shot by a slim 25-23 margin, and held an 18-9 edge in shots in the first half, even though Westmar made five of theirs count. Southern also led in corner kicks by a 10-4 margin.

Shaw was credited with 11 saves for Westmar, while Andrew Granke recorded 17 and Justin Helbig 10 for the Rams.

Huskies Drop Opening Soccer Match To BW

The Northern High Huskies dropped their first soccer match of the season Tuesday night as they were blanked by a strong Bishop Walsh team, 7-0. It was the 21st straight win for the Spartans, while the Huskies are still looking for their first win in soccer since the sport returned to the school last year.

BW's Ryan Nelson and Gus Stern finished with two goals each, as the Spartans scored three times in a span of just three minutes midway through the first half. Nelson scored first at the 26:23 mark, and Jeff Harbel and Stern followed with goals just moments later.

Nelson and Stern each scored again before the half to give the Spartans a 5-0 lead at the break.

Jason Edgerly made it 6-0 with a penalty kick in the second half and Jeff Gerherd concluded the evening's scoring.

Raiders, Vikings, Jets Winners In League Openers

The Oakland Raiders, Parsons Vikings, and Oakland Jets were all victorious in opening games of the 1994 Mountaintop Youth Football League season, as the Raiders ripped the Terra Alta Dolphins, 39-12, and the Vikings stopped the Northern Steelers, 25-6, and the Jets stopped the Davis-Thomas Rams, 14-0, in action this past weekend.

Jesse Coddington rushed for 177 yards on just 12 carries and scored three touchdowns for the Raiders, while teammate Chris Williams added 69 yards on five carries and one touchdown.

Nick Dolan and Josh Fitzwater also each recorded a touchdown and Williams and Tim Tasker were defensive standouts.

Jim Arnold and Derrick Simmons led the Parsons Vikings against the Steelers, as Arnold rushed for two touchdowns and Simmons hauled in a pair of scoring passes from quarterback Jason Hedrick. Arnold scored his first touchdown and ran for the conversion in the first quarter to make it 7-0. Simmons caught 11 passes of 52 and 35 yards in the second period to give the Vikings a 19-0 halftime lead.

After a scoreless third quarter, the Steelers finally got on the board when T.J. Snelling ran 22 yards for a touchdown.

The Vikings added an insurance score late in the game when Arnold broke loose for a 65-yard touchdown run.

Jed Wilhelm, Snelling, Craig Kamp, and Corey Siler were defensive standouts for the Steelers.

The Jets-Rams contest was played in pouring rain, which contributed to several fumbles by both teams.

On the first play of the second quarter, Josh Bosley rambled 42 yards for the first score of the game and Jason Bowers ran for the PAT. There was no more scoring in the first half as both teams traded the ball back and forth on fumbles and punts.

After a scoreless third period, Bosley scored again on a five-yard run early in the fourth quarter. Bowers tacked on the PAT and the Jets led 14-0.

Defensive standouts for the Jets were John Hayhurst, Eric Archer, Eric Rexroad, Lenny Ford, and Andrew Rickman.

Bosley was the leading ball carrier for the Jets with 87 yards on nine carries, while Bowers had 63 yards on 13 carries. Jet quarterback Justin Liller was 4-4 passing for 26 yards on catches by Nathaniel Panther, Keith Parks, and Jordan Uphold.

The Steelers will play the Jets at the Southern High School Field this Saturday, Sept. 10, at 7 p.m.

Interstate 79 Speedway Holds Invitational Race

The Mountain State Invitational ended in dramatic fashion as Rick Eckert won the 50 lapper at Interstate 79 Speedway last Saturday night.

Outside pole sitter Donnie Moran jumped out to lead the first lap and pulled out to a big lead for the first 21 go-arounds. The battle for second was heated as Rick Eckert and Davey Johnson had to deal with a lot of lapped traffic.

On lap 22, another caution flew as Dave Groves experienced trouble. Several lapped cars gave Moran a nice cushion on the restart.

On lap 26, Jason Minnite brought out the third caution which put Eckert and Johnson on Moran's tail. Moran held off the charges until lap 48 when he headed for the pits with a broken drive line. It was mass confusion as the crowd looked for the leader to receive the white flag, but he had retired to the pits.

Eckert took the checkered flag ahead of Mike Balzano, Davey Johnson, John Gill and Booper Bare. Rounding out the top ten were Bart Hartman, Nathan Durborow, Chub Frank, Steve Shaver, and Dave Groves.

Fast qualifier was Durborow at 14.811 seconds. Heats were won by Steve Francis, Johnson, Gill, and Groves. The dash was taken by Hartman. Ron Davies won the B-main.

Steve Shaver will be the West Virginia State Championship Series winner.

In other action, Roy Gibson picked up the UMP modified feature over Mike Wilson and Kenny Rogers. The 4-cylinder stock class found Mike Lewis, of Oakland, winning just to be disqualified after post race inspection. The win went to Tommy Pennington with Mike Simpson and Jim Hunt following. Jim Byers got the victory in the pure stocks followed by Mark Bell and Brian Tonkery.

Labor Day Event Finishes Sailboat Racing Season

by Harry Filemyr

The Deep Creek Yacht Racing Association held its annual five-race Commodore's Regatta over the Labor Day weekend. The weather provided sailors with a variety of conditions. Saturday was cold and wet with moderate breezes. The sailors bundled up as for an Arctic expedition while Commodores Dodd and Wilson stood on the committee boat, dignified and shivering in their white uniforms. On Sunday a cool fresh breeze blew in from the northeast. Monday was a "picture-postcard" sunny fall day with light and variable air.

On Saturday, in the Laser fleet, only the brothers Spinnenweber were in competition. And although there were only two, Bruce later said that match racing with his brother was some of the best competition he had ever had with lead changes up to the last 50 feet.

In the Scot B fleet, (as the saying goes) "in a given race any boat can beat any other boat." Four different boats had a win and, going into the last race, were within two and a half points of each other. Ed and Barbara Peters ultimately won the regatta with consistency, while Thagards, with two first-place finishes, took second because of a ninth in the first race.

In the A fleet, Don and Barbara Griffin got clear at the start in the first race and led to the final leg when they were passed by Harry and Jimmy Carpenter. The Carpenters went on to win four of the five races and won the regatta. The start of the third race was made interesting when the end of Don Hoyt's boom became attached to the forestay of the Buffington boat. As the Flying Scot was not designed to be a tow boat, the two ran out of control and careened into three others. John Meredith was caught in the middle of this "raft up." He said later, "It was kind of a disadvantage at the start!" In the last race, Griffin again slipped away and led through shifts and calms to within shouting distance of the finish. Then he became becalmed. "a painted ship upon a painted sea" while four others ghosted by him.

Flavor's more than skin deep if you rub a chopped-herbs-and-oil mixture all over the skin of a chicken--and save a little to rub under the skin, too. The herbs really perfume and flavor the meat.

Cheddar cheese is a classic partner with apple pie. What's even better: apple dumplings made with cheese-flavored pastry (3 cups flour, 1/2 cup shortening, 6 ounces grated cheese, 3/4 cup ice water).

Couscous are granules of semolina, or coarsely ground wheat. There are 200 calories in a cup--but less than half a gram of fat. Check the package, most brands are ready in less than 10 minutes.

Orange-ginger is sensational on snow peas, green beans, even asparagus in season. Heat gently 1/2 cup orange marmalade and beat into 1/2 cup soft butter, along with 1 Tbs. each balsamic vinegar and finely chopped crystallized ginger. Chill an hour before using.

Hunting Seasons For Waterfowl Being Reviewed

The dates and bag limits for the 1994-95 waterfowl seasons chosen by Maryland Department of Natural Resources (DNR) have been sent to the United States Fish and Wildlife Service (USFWS) for approval and regulatory enactment, according to DNR Secretary Torrey C. Brown.

These seasons and bag limits are designed to maximize hunting opportunity while continuing to allow waterfowl populations to increase," Brown said.

Before making a final decision on the season selections, DNR's Wildlife Division held three public meetings to share with the public its suggested seasons and to listen to comments. A modification in the Canada goose season was a result of goose hunters expressing their wish for more hunting opportunities even if it meant a slightly slower recovery of the goose population.

A longer duck hunting season - 40 days - proposal was selected by DNR. One day has been shifted to the November split, from the beginning of the December split. Canvasback hunting will be limited to the last week of the duck season.

The Canada goose season option selected includes 35 days, with 20 days of one-bird hunting and 15 days of two-bird hunting. This will allow five extra two-bird days, including an additional Saturday. It also balances days afield versus two-bird days.

The USFWS is expected to sanction Maryland's choice of season and bag limits without change because it is consistent with the current federal framework for selecting waterfowl seasons. Under the Migratory Bird Treaty Act, the federal government has the ultimate responsibility for setting waterfowl hunting seasons.

The following list includes the waterfowl type, the dates of open season, and the daily bag limit:

Canada geese, Nov. 23-30, bag limit 1; Dec. 14-30, 1; and Dec. 31-Jan. 14, 2. Snow geese, Oct. 22-Nov. 25, 5; Dec. 1-Feb. 10, 5. Brant, Nov. 16-25, 2; Dec. 12-Jan. 20, 2.

Ducks (except black duck and canvasback), Oct. 13-15; Nov. 22-25; and Dec. 13-Jan. 14. (The duck daily bag limit is as follows: three ducks per day, which may include no more than one hen mallard, one pintail, two wood ducks, one redhead, one fufous tree duck, one mottled duck, one canvasback (during open season for canvasback), and one black duck (during open season for black duck). In addition to the duck bag limit, hunters may take 15 coot and live mergansers per day, which may include no more than one hooded merganser).

Black duck, Nov. 22-25, Dec. 13-Jan. 14.

Canvasback duck, Jan. 7-14.

Sea ducks, Oct. 6-Jan. 20, 5.

The official shooting hours nationwide are one-half hour before sunrise to sunset for all waterfowl hunting. Possession limit is twice the daily bag limit.

umes. If the Union is promising you such a good deal, including increased wages and benefits, how many additional people will have to be laid off in order for the hospital to realize the savings it would need to pay the higher salaries and benefits?

One employee asked during a recent "Vote No" meeting why Administration would consider signing a contract which offered its employees fewer benefits and wages than we currently have? My question is, why would this union, which is supposed to be watching out for you, its proposed member, even present Administration with a contract containing lower salaries and benefits than we currently have. The very union you want to represent you has done that very thing for other members as well as include a No Strike clause in the contract. The only reasons this is done are to entice administration into signing a "Closed Shop" authorization requiring everyone to either join the union or lose their job and to withhold the union's life blood, your union dues, directly from your paycheck.

Please think carefully before you vote for this kind of representation. Just Say No.

Respectfully,
Kathy Deniker
GCMH Employee
P.S. Thinking that the upcoming vote is only to allow the Union to do our collective bargaining is the same as thinking that Herpes is just a virus.

To the Editor:
This letter is intended for all those who are running for office in the upcoming election. Recently, at the Garrett County Agricultural Fair, several candidates went out of their way to speak to my husband, shake his hand or give him something to win his vote. I have no problem with that. But did they bother to spend as much time or effort to seek my vote? NO! So, I'm writing to remind the candidates that I, as well as all other women, have a mind of my own and if you want my vote you have to talk to me!

Candidates, don't ignore the women of this county. We vote too!!

To the Editor:

Nearly 450 area youth will be passing, dribbling and kicking this fall which marks another growth spurt for the Mountaintop Soccer Association. Not only are the rosters showing north and south players, but east and west. MSA is truly unified this year as we devised a plan for the entire county to operate youth soccer in one organization. It was our goal to have Accident, Grantsville, and Friendsville play in the same soccer program as the southern teams and, happily, we have attained that goal through special efforts of Sandi Flockhart and Nancy Railey along with Rick DeLoach, Ned Holloway, and Don Nuce.

As MSA grows so does our need for field space. A new field was added in Friendsville and formal request for six new fields was made to the Board of Education by David Spirk.

MSA realized another goal the first week of August as British soccer coaches conducted a week-long day camp in our county. The participants numbered 120 from ages 4-17. Watch our skill level improve greatly this year. Many thanks to Karen Spirk, Camp Coordinator.

A Coaches' Level I Clinic was conducted in May by Graham Ramsey, Director of Training and Instruction for MSYA and a referee's recertification clinic was held at Bausch & Lomb in August.

In late September you will be informed about a new MSA-sanctioned team to be known as the "troubleshooters." This Club Team will be coached by Rick DeLoach who will announce the details for first meeting and tryouts.

You will be hearing new terms this fall -- 4 v. 4 and 7 v. 7. This simply means that there will be games of "4 against 4" and "7 against 7" on the field for the younger divisions. This will allow more playing time and more touches on the ball. Our goal is to have kids PLAYING SOCCER, not watching soccer. The U-15 division will have full size numbers with "11 v. 11." Coaches trained in 4 v. 4 include Mary Lantz, Karen Meteny, Karl Schwalm, Paul Stone, Tim Taylor, and others.

MSA is thankful for the 26 team sponsors, the coaches, referees, other officers and the parents! They make it happen for the youngsters who want to kick that "round ball with spots."

Yours in soccer,
Carole Ann Lovett
MSA president

To the Editor:
I would like to address this letter to the teenagers around the Oakland area who are so bored because there is nothing to do in this town. (Except: go to the movies, water ski, boating, fishing in six different places, swimming in various spots, bowling, shooting pool, going to football and basketball games, sex hops, teen dances when held by various groups, and horseback riding, just to name a few.)

God forbid if they would do one of the above things I have mentioned, because that's not cool! Their idea of being cool is playing "ring around the parking lots of different businesses in town, mine being one of them. Or going to the restroom and plugging up the toilet bowl with a roll of paper and flushing it so it will run over (so my wife or

I have to clean it up). Or hanging out in front of my doors or in the parking lot where they throw their trash and such all around and once again I have to clean it up.

Most of these kids drive cars and trucks in a price range from $500 to $12,000. How they get them is beyond me. Because if they had to work to get them, they would know how tough it is to make a living and would show a little more respect for my and other merchants' property. I wonder how they would like it if we would trash their cars and trucks the way they do our property (like tearing a

Open Letter To The People of Garrett County

Dear Friends:

Again, we come to another election year. I'm sure I could say, on behalf of all the candidates and myself, please exercise your voting privilege and go to the polls this year.

Even though I am running unopposed for a third term as your County Treasurer, I would like to ask for your vote and continued support. This vote will give me new strength and a greater confidence to work for you this coming term.

I would like to thank all who have supported me in the past. Especially, my staff, who have made the accomplishment of my job possible and much easier. Over the past 18½ years in the Treasurer's Office, it has been my pleasure to meet you at the window and serve you in whatever manner possible. I would like to continue to serve you as your Conty Treasurer.

Once again, thanks so much! May God richly bless each of you.

ELECT EARL J., SR. CLARK

A Man For All The People.

Garrett County Commissioner

Democrat - District No. 3

"Man with a vision.
Knowledge to act."

To the People of Garrett County

In follow-up to my comments of last week, I want to share additional issues that are of great importance to the people of Garrett County and its progress in the coming years.

Jobs

It is essential that we maintain our current employment and that we seek additional companies to come into our county. If we are successful in attracting new businesses to locate here, not only will our people benefit from being employed, but all business places and local merchants will benefit from the income being spent in our communities. Increased employment provides increased tax revenue to the county and this, in turn, will provide additional benefits to the people. I have the experience and knowledge needed to work with local and state agencies in acquiring new businesses for our county.

Education

One of the most important functions of the Commissioners' Office is the funding of essential services and our Education System is one of the top priorities. It is imperative that we provide the best education that we possibly can for our children because they are going to be the leaders of our county in the future. I am proud of the job that our teachers do in providing their educational skills to our children. The Board of Education and the Commissioners must work together to ensure that our children and young people are afforded the best education we can give. My experience from serving on the Board of Education for almost seven years provides me with the knowledge necessary to address this issue.

The past two weeks I have shared with you a few of the issues that we must address. We are going to be faced with other issues, namely environmental problems, health care concerns, care for our senior citizens, along with working to develop better cooperation and accountability with the local county agencies.

If elected, I will follow my CHRISTIAN PRINCIPLES AND VALUES to see that ALL the people are represented to the best of my ability and pledge to work for the betterment of Garrett County and its people in the coming years.

YOUR VOTE AND SUPPORT WILL BE GREATLY APPRECIATED

A COMMISSIONER'S PERSPECTIVE ON SHERIFF'S FEES

To the Citizens of Garrett County

In recent weeks I have become increasingly disturbed about the degree of misunderstanding which continues to circulate concerning this issue of Sheriff's fees for the serving of court papers. I wish to bring the following points to your attention in the hope of putting this issue into the proper perspective.

►1. The Sheriff's fees for serving court papers were the original "user fees" whereby those individuals requiring the services of the Sheriff in the delivery of court papers would bear the expense of that service. These "user fees" were considered a legitimate part of the Sheriff's compensation for this service and served as a supplement to his salary for many decades.

►2. The lawful practice of allowing the Sheriff to keep the fees as part of their compensation goes back to the early days of Garrett County and was a common practice throughout many of the counties of Maryland. Only in recent years, as Sheriff salaries across the state became more substantial, has the trend been otherwise.

►3. As a result of the efforts of the current Sheriff, the most recent Salary Review Commission (the body established by law to review the compensation of all elected officials every four years) recommended that the County cease using these fees as part of the Sheriff's compensation. Subsequently, the Board of Garrett County Commissioners did, in fact, adopt that recommendation. Effective January 1, 1995, all fees collected by the Sheriff for the service of court papers will be deposited in the General Funds of Garrett County.

►4. As a result of the recent controversy, the Office of the State Prosecutor reviewed the situation and found that "the practice was devoid of any deception or corrupt motive."

In conclusion, regardless of what one thinks about the current Sheriff and his administration, the fact remains the Sheriff Van Evans deserves a great deal of credit for his effort to bring this long-established practice into line with the more recent changes in the law. In my opinion, the recent "election year" uproar concerning Sheriff's fees says a lot more about the questionable motives of those creating the controversy than it does about Sheriff Evans and all the Sheriffs and their fees in the history of Garrett County.

Sincerely,

Elwood L. Groves, II
Garrett County Commissioner

I have a vision for Garrett County.
My opponent George Edwards' vision is a sight.

Fifteen years ago our County Commissioners which George Edwards was a member opted to build a new jail. Despite public opposition they plopped that jail smack dab on the front lawn of our beautiful historic court house. Built to house 22 inmates it now houses almost 40 daily- one toilet for 14 male inmates.

NOW we need more jail cells.

Senior Service Line

ON NICOTINE: The good news is that dental implants are becoming more popular among folks who lose their natural teeth and, until relatively recently, had to rely on dentures. The cost of implants is becoming competitive with other dental services, which is important for people on limited incomes. Implants act more like natural teeth. This means older people can, once again, eat raw vegetables, hard fruits and other foods they have had to eschew with dentures. Implants are also important for helping to preserve facial contours.

The bad news is for those seniors who continue to smoke. Besides all the other nasty things nicotine does for people, the Academy of General Dentistry has reviewed studies that show smoking may jeopardize the success of dental implants.

A study done by faculty members from the University of California at Los Angeles and at Dalhousie University in Nova Scotia shows that the overwhelming number of people whose implants failed were smokers.

Smoking appears to inhibit the healing process of the procedure, and also affects the bacteria fighting ability of white blood cells, which could lead to infection after implant placement.

If you are a smoker, quit the habit for any number of good reasons. If you feel you can't deal with quitting quite yet, it's recommended that you stop smoking for at least a week before implant surgery. You're also advised to abstain from smoking or the use of any tobacco product for at least two months after surgery to allow the fusion of your jawbone to the implant to heal.

And if you can do all this, then shouldn't that prove that you can quit, permanently?

Antiques

Q. My old Bavarian dishes are marked with a crown, the initials H & C and the word "Bavaria." Two plates are chipped. Do you think we might ever find a few matching dishes to replace our broken ones?

A. A mark like yours was used by Hertel, Jacob & Co. in Rehau, Bavaria. The company has been in business since 1906. Copy the plate design on a photocopy machine and show it to the dealers at local antiques shows. If your pattern is a common one, you may be able to match it. There are matching services that advertise in antiques papers that sell many types of dinnerware to fill in old sets. Some have Bavarian china.

Q. My 21-inch-high bronze sculpture of two dogs is marked "L. Riche, Jollet & Cie, Bronzes, Paris."

A. Your bronze was made by Louis Riche, a sculptor born in Paris in 1877 who specialized in animal and peasant groups. His works were exhibited at major shows from 1898 to 1924. The bronze is worth over $2,000.

TIP: Never bid at an auction if you have not previewed the items.

Q. I just saw an ad for a chair that was covered with cork instead of upholstery. When was this type of furniture made?

A. We've seen a few cork chairs. They were a part of a group of furniture now known as "rustic style." Cork furniture was made for a European exposition in 1907, where the novel idea won a medal.

Cork chairs and tables were made by covering a metal frame with pieces of silvered cork, whose distinctive texture and pattern enhanced the furniture's simple lines. Although the cork tree is native to the Mediterranean area, the chairs appear to be Scandinavian.

Q. I own several games of "Touring." They are all a little different, and the cars seem to be of different ages. What is the history of the game?

A. Touring was a card game that was first published in 1906 by the Wallie Dorr Co. The original set was sold for 50 cents in a red box decorated with gold lettering. In 1926 Parker Brothers made a similar set. As the game was improved, the rules were changed and the cars were updated. The last Parker Brothers set was made in 1965.

sink off the wall, breaking a mirror, or tearing a towel rack down).

This is my wife's and my first business venture and the first time we have had to deal with the public, an believe you me we are really taken aback at how rude some people can be. And it's hard for us to believe that some parents let kids under the age of 16 stay out until 2 o'clock in the morning.

One Friday night, we had no customers except three kids shooting the Q-ball around the pool table, so we decided to close up. When we started to close, the kids said, "You can't close, no one is picking up 'til 12:30." I said, "Well, call and tell them to come get you." They said there was no one to call (the oldest one might have been 15).

Well, we are not a day care center and I am not a baby sitter, and I will close when I don't have any business. My wife and I spend 14 to 16 hours a day working here as it is.

So in closing, I would like to say to all the teens in the town of Oakland, if you think life is a bore now, wait until you don't have mom and dad around to foot the bill for you. It gets nasty here in the real world.

Respectfully,
Rocky Smith

Solution to last week's Challenger.

Household Help

by John Amantea

Q. The exterior of my home's foundation is poured concrete and cinder block. The majority of what is exposed is the rough face of the block. I currently have an exterior paint that covers the entire foundation, but would like to use a cement mortar finish. I don't have any erosion or damage to the walls, other than some peeling paint. Can you give me a method on how to finish my foundation?

A. There are several ways to apply a mortar finish such as smooth, rough or stucco texture. However, before you even begin your resurfacing job, there are some steps that you will need to follow.

Generally, the first step to take is to scrape all peeling paint with a large putty knife. Any other loose or bubbled paint can be removed with a wire brush. If the surface of most of the foundation has a slightly porous look, that will be perfect adhesion for the mortar finish. Next, be sure that all material is completely brushed off the walls because a cement sealer will be needed before the mortar. If a power washer and cleaner is available, this will provide a shortcut to your preparation for the finish.

Since you chose a cement mortar finish, a thin sealant that contains silicone or epoxy is recommended for waterproofing purposes. This product is best applied with a large masonry brush and use it liberally. A second coat is not usually necessary and even then, only in situations where the block wall is extremely porous. Allow at least 48 hours to dry and apply this product only in clear weather.

Your last step is to mix some cement and sand to create mortar. If you are unsure of the proper combination or mix, ask your local home improvement dealer when you purchase the products. As I mentioned earlier, you can choose from several types of mortar finishes.

NOTE: As with any cement or concrete work, be sure to periodically dampen the surface using a garden hose. This will not only strengthen the adhered mortar, but aids in hastening the curing process. Exterior painting can usually be started in approximately two weeks or more.

Candidate Responds To Questions

The following are responses to survey questions of the Garrett County League of Women Voters by Steve Crawford, a Sixth District Democratic congressional candidate.

Crawford submitted his responses to the league before the announced deadline.

Questions for Candidates (75-word limit)

1. Concerning national health care, what are your views and positions on (1) universal coverage, (2) coverage for reproductive health, including prenatal care, family planning and abortion, (3) financing by employer-employee contributions, and (4) cost controls?
2. What is your position on licensing gun owners and registration of guns? What approaches would you advocate for the prevention and control of crime?
3. How would you reform the welfare system to reduce long-term dependence on it without jeopardizing the well-being of children?
4. Explain your position on legislation that would expand requirements for government to compensate property owners when the potential use of their property is restricted by government regulations?
5. What should be the role of the U.S. and its military establishment in the world's spreading civil conflicts?
6. What should be the Federal government's international economic policies? Should they be related to human rights actions or other aspects of foreign policy?
7. What are the most important issues facing our nation and how would you respond to them?

HEALTH CARE: Universal coverage? Absolutely. It should include the full range of services (reproductive and otherwise) now available to the privately insured. Employers and employees should share the burden of health care contributions. Cost controls can help cut waste in the system, but, applied recklessly, could do far more harm than good.

CRIME: Yes, preserve gun-owning rights for the lawful. As a veteran, I understand fire arms, and want a balance between constitutional rights and the assault-weapons plague. Training and early intervention for those tempted by lawbreaking is real crime prevention. Certainty of jail time and a seriousness about domestic violence are priorities.

WELFARE: Welfare should be aimed at those in real need, particularly poverty's principal victims, the young. Welfare should not underwrite illegitimacy and dependency. Honest reform ought to center on promotion of family solidarity and the message that larger and larger families will not mean more and more assistance.

U.S. ROLE ABROAD: We cannot ignore the world's troubles, yet we dare not risk involvement in every conflict. As a combat veteran, I am only too aware of the dangers lurking abroad. Profile Of Maryland Women Is Published By State Commission

The Maryland Commission for Women recently released a document titled Profile of Maryland Women: 1980-1990. The report presents a demographic and socio-economic profile of Maryland women based on data from the 1980 and 1990 United States Censuses, and includes both statistical information as well as brief descriptions of trends over time in marriage and childbearing patterns, education, employment, female-headed families, poverty, and older women.

The report presents data for the entire state of Maryland, as well as profiles of each of the 23 counties and Baltimore City. It highlights the gains that women have made in terms of their rising educational attainment, labor force participation, and occupational status. It also indicates that women are increasingly supporting their families without a spouse present, often with incomes below the poverty line.

In Garrett County, the proportion of local families headed by women increased modestly from 9.4% in 1980 to 10.9% in 1990, but remained well below the state average of 18.2% in 1990. Also in 1990, 29.8% of local women aged 15 and over were currently married, well above the state average of 50.3%.

Local women have increased their educational attainment since 1980, more likely in 1990 to finish high school and attend college. However, the report indicates that compared to the rest of the state, Garrett County women lag behind, with higher rates of dropping out of high school and lower rates of college attendance and completion.

Work force participation by local women has grown from 39.2% in 1980 to 48.1% in 1990. The proportion of mothers with young children in the work force increased more dramatically from 33.1% in 1980 to 50.2% in 1990. Despite these increases, however, the local county has among the lowest levels in the state, according to the Profile.

Although the proportion of female-headed families is lower than elsewhere in the state, Garrett County families are much more likely to have incomes below the poverty threshold.

Several other statistics are noted in the Profile,

Correction Noted In Riley Response

In the Voter's Guide published last week in The Republican, a response by Board of Education candidate Patrick Riley (District II) read as follows: The rights of students to engage in constitutionally permitted prayer must be protected.

The statement should

"I feel like I'm on a merry-go-round!"
Surely we have heard that sentiment of exasperated frustration. Every day seems like the next. We see one set of problems after another until we're dizzy and not merry at all.

In contrast, a child sees the situation differently.
As he whirls round and around, he sees something unique with every revolution, giddy and giggling with merriment!

What makes the difference? Are we resigned to the fact that each day will be the same? Have we ceased to expect life to be an excitingly beautiful experience?

Begin this week with a positive attitude. Expect beauty at every turn. As you worship this Sabbath, remember God's promise in Matthew 6:33... "but seek first His Kingdom and His righteousness, and all these things shall be yours as well."

Start the merry-go-round! As a child of God, you'll love the ride!

STANDING ON DRY GROUND
September 11, 1994

Background Scripture:
Joshua 3 through 4
Devotional Reading:
Hebrews 11:23,24

Many scholars believe that the story of the crossing of the Jordan River by the Israelites under Joshua is actually a kind of editorial "past-job" of several accounts of the same event. That would explain why the story is rather confusing and chronologically disjointed.
For example, did God command that the twelve stones be set up as a memorial in the river (4:9), or at both places?

Yet, despite this lack of clarity, it is obvious that this event is one of great importance in the life of Israel. As Joshua himself puts it,
"For the Lord your God dried up the waters of the Jordan for you until you passed over, so that all people of the earth may know that the hand of the Lord is mighty, that you may fear the Lord your God forever" (4:23,24).

PRESCRIPTION: AWE

So, one purpose of this story—both for the people of Israel and also us—is to inspire a kind of holy fear of God. Whatever other attributes we find in our experience of God, we need to experience also a sense of awe and reverence when we are confronted by God's magnificent power. It is not because God needs us to "ooh!" and "ah!" over him, but because we need it. We are like the woman who went to her doctor with a shopping list of physical complaints. After listening to her for quite a while, the doctor prescribed a weekend excursion to Niagara Falls. "You need to take a long and languishing view of something much bigger than yourself," he explained. And that's why sometimes we need to be in awe of God.

Awe and reverence are good for the human spirit.

This is also a story of pragmatic faith. Can you imagine how the people of Israel must have felt as they arrived at the Jordan? At last, after all their wanderings and tribulations, they stood near their great goal, the promised land.
Yet, blocking their way were the flooded torrents of the Jordan River. So close yet so far from where they were going. Often it is like that for us, too. We are close to our goal but something stands in the way. So, like the people of Israel, we need to trust in God's promise to take us through the obstacle and to the other side.

PLAN AHEAD!

But that doesn't mean that the Israelites were going to be handed the crossing on a silver platter.
No, the whole event was going to require careful planning. God would do his part, but the people would have to do their part, too.
You and I are often faced with the same pragmatic situation. There is a goal to be achieved and God has promised to help us achieve that goal—but it also requires something on our part. Just as the people of Israel had to plan and prepare to cross this last physical barrier to the promised land, so we need to trust in God and make our plans accordingly. Might it not be that one reason God seems unresponsive to our prayers for help is that we want him to do it without any obligation on our part?

This story and the story of Israel's crossing of the Red Sea in Exodus remind us that in ancient times the image of water was used to represent all that threatens human beings in life. In our lives there are countless Red Seas and River Jordans that threaten us.
We find ourselves "in over our heads," "up the creek without a paddle," and at a point where we need to "sink or swim." But from the most ancient of times God is experienced as the one who parts and pushes back these threatening waters—if we respond in faith.

In the midst of the Jordan tumultuous waters the priests and the people found themselves trusting God and standing on his presidential dry ground. So can we.

The new municipal building turned a vacant filling station and car dealership into a lasting landmark in which the citizens may take pride.

The Mountain Fresh Produce Market has become so popular that the building was expanded and now operates three days a week.

Just A Few Things That Did Not Exist Before Asa Became Mayor.

The new bridge over the railroad is not only functional but a work of art that has inspired the town and other businesses to improve sidewalks and lighting.

The completion of the sewer system has cleaned up the Little Young River. Not only is it now stocked with trout but kayakers start off here on their way down river to Swallow Falls.

All of this could not have happened without the hard work of Mayor McCain. He completed the sewer system lifting the 15 year moratorium which had not allowed for any development.

Community projects have flourished like the church social hall above. Expansion is also seen at the American Legion and the Elks allowing community get-togethers.

The town water system improvements allowed for expanded growth in fire protection. This was completed one week before the downtown fire just in time to prevent even further losses.

Did he build them himself? Of course not, but he provided the leadership and contributed to the teamwork to spark growth when the economy was at its worst.

New building starts have seen renewed neighborhoods as well as to provide elderly housing like Underwood South.

Franchises like McDonald's, Denny's, and Subway have sprung up overnight.

Banking institutions have sprung up or expanded like Wepco, First Federal and the American Trust Bank.

Service businesses like Sheetz and the car wash have flourished.

New Garrett County Teachers Given Orientation

Eighteen new teachers began their Garrett County teaching careers by attending an orientation on the morning of August 24 at the Will O' the Wisp. It was sponsored by the Garrett County Teachers Association and the Garrett County Board of Education.

This activity marked the first component of an extensive beginning teacher program provided by the Garrett County Board of Education.

According to a board spokesman, the purpose of the program is to provide teachers new to the system the information and skills to effectively deliver instruction from the outset of their teaching careers. On the afternoon of Aug. 24, the new employees reported to their respective schools for further orientation with school principals and other school personnel.

The next component of the program will be enrollment in a three-credit graduate course offered through Frostburg State University and designed to meet the needs of the beginning teacher. The class meets periodically during the 1994-95 school year and focuses on instructional practices, available resources, and addresses the problems encountered by the inexperienced teacher.

In addition to the above mentioned activities, each school principal appoints an experienced teacher "mentor" to work with each new teacher during their first year of employment.

All new teachers will be supervised regularly and extensively by their building principal, as well as an appropriate director, the spokesman said, adding that these evaluations will provide opportunities for the employee to improve and grow professionally during this first year and in future years.

Glendale Assembly Plans Homecoming

The Glendale Assembly of God Church will have its homecoming on Sunday, Sept. 11.

The Royal Sounds gospel music group from Lancaster, Pa., will sing, beginning at 1:30 p.m., for the afternoon services. Other services include Sunday school at 10 a.m., followed by a basket lunch on the church grounds. No evening service is planned.

The church is located on the Glendale Road, off Rts. 219 and 495, at Deep Creek Lake.

The Rev. Paul Goldizen and the church's congregation invite the public to attend.

Elect Asa M. McCain, Jr. County Commissioner District 3

I am often asked the following four questions:

How can you be a commissioner and still be Mayor of Oakland and Principal of Dennett Road Elementary School?

The commissioner position (to be done right) must be a full time commitment and I am willing to do that. If I am elected, by law, I must resign as Mayor. The Town Charter fills the time from January until the March town election with the President of the Council as acting mayor. I would retire from the Garrett County Board of Education at the end of June with 29 years of service.

Will the positive things stop happening in Oakland if you are elected county commissioner?

Oakland has improved because of team work, careful planning and sound management. I am only one member of the group and I know the town will continue to improve because the residents will keep supporting the government.

How were you able to complete so many projects like the sewer system, the upgrade of the water system, and the new municipal building without ever raising the tax rate?

We put into practice a policy of training and equipping our employees so that they can provide improved services with fewer workers. Additionally we tightened up on town management and investment practices which made funds available to go after State and Federal grants.

What advantages do you have that would make me want to vote for you instead of the other good candidates that are running for commissioner of District 3?

If you look at the whole picture, we cannot accomplish much without team work with leaders in Baltimore, Annapolis and Washington. I already have the contacts to get the job done.

I hope you will vote for me and allow me to work hard for the whole county.

Vote for proven leadership.

COVER STORY

Channel surfers:
time to catch fall wave

BY SUZANNE GILL

The premieres started Aug. 25, and they won't end till Nov. 6. It's the fall TV season, longer and more agonizing than ever before.

But for channel surfers, it's time to wax up the remote control and hit the couch. Here's a night-by-night rundown of what to look for.

SUNDAY

ABC replaces America's Funniest People with On Our Own, a TGIF-style comedy about a household of orphaned siblings. Fox hopes to keep football fans tuned in after the games with Fortune Hunter, a 007-ish adventure, plus two new comedies: Hardball, about a tough-luck baseball team, and Wild Oats, about two men, two women and their hormones. November brings Earth 2, a sci-fi adventure on a distant planet, to NBC.

MONDAY

Blue Skies, about two buddies who go into business with a woman they both want to date, joins Couch before football on ABC. Fox has its own orphaned siblings in the laudable drama Party of Five.

TUESDAY

NBC plants a comedy flag, moving Wings and Frasier and adding The Martin Short Show. Fox moves its movie franchise from Monday, and ABC trots out Steve Harvey and Midge Sinclair in Me and the Boys.

WEDNESDAY

ABC leads off with Ed Asner's Thunder Alley and newcomer All American Girl, starring Margaret Cho as a Korean-American coed. CBS counters with full-nesters Hal Linden and Suzanne Pleshette in The Boys Are Back and Dudley Moore as the divorced dad of grown daughters in Daddy's Girls. CBS' Touched by an Angel, a family drama that needs help from above, stars Della Reese and Roma Downey. Fox sticks with summer entry Models Inc., while NBC has the return of Bill Cosby as a semiretired sleuth.

© TV Data Technologies

Melissa Gilbert

in The Cosby Mysteries, plus a second Dateline.

THURSDAY

ABC's My So-Called Life, the best new show of the season, is followed by the out-doesy melodrama McKenna, with Chad Everett. NBC restocks its comedy shelf with coffee-drinking twentysomethings in Friends and professional curmudgeon Dabney Coleman in Madman of the People. CBS' lighthearted Mountie-in-Chicago series, Due South, adds a bright spot, then David E. Kelley's Chicago Hope (CBS) and Michael Crichton's ER (NBC) fight the Battle of the Windy City Hospital Dramas. Fox offers an urban buddy-cop show, New York Undercover.

FRIDAY

Stylish police drama Under Suspicion is found guilty of Twilight Zone overtones on CBS, while Carl Lumbly fights crime the superhero way in M.A.N.T.I.S. on Fox. NBC adds a third edition of Dateline.

SATURDAY

CBS hopes to bring back that Golden Girls feeling in The Five Mrs. Buchanans, while NBC gets sentimental with Gene Wilder as the father of twins in Something Wilder. The peacock takes its case to women with Melissa Gilbert and Cicely Tyson as lawyers in Sweet Justice, a lead-in to Sisters.

IN FOCUS

Patricia Richardson (left) and Ellen DeGeneres serve as hosts of the 46th annual Emmy Awards, Sunday, Sept. 11, on ABC.

Richardson plays Jill Taylor in Home Improvement on ABC. She also has appeared in the comedy series F.M. Eisenhower & Lutz and Double Trouble.

DeGeneres stars in ABC's Ellen and was co-host of an ABC special, Before They Were Stars.

The Emmy program will be broadcast from Pasadena, Calif.

MOVIE MARQUEE

Caught in the Crossfire
a story of conspiracy

BY MARILYN SUTLIFF

An idealistic journalist finds himself trapped in a conspiracy in Moment of Truth: Caught in the Crossfire, premiering Wednesday, Sept. 14, on NBC.

Gus Payne (Dennis Franz of ABC's NYPD Blue) is a man who gets lost in government prosecution of politicians for conspiracy.

Executive producers Michael O'Hara and Lawrence Horowitz, Emmy nominees for Switched at Birth, attempt to give this movie the same realism as their former success.

The Franz film promises the mystique of New Orleans, but does not live up to its potential. Moment of Truth: Caught in the Crossfire could be set in any city in the United States after its first few minutes.

Emmy nominee Franz is given an opportunity to play someone unlike the characters he has created for NYPD Blue and Hill Street Blues. Gus is an idealistic man whose sole focus has been his wife (Alley Mills) until the investigation of a tow truck driver's murder leads to his involvement with the FBI.

The reporter's introduction to the world of the FBI is quick but not painless. This fact-based story reveals the sometimes unaring side of the institution, which Gus believes in completely.

Franz's portrayal of a man trying to maintain his faith in both his government and the people around him is interesting.

One aspect of this movie that remains true to the New Orleans atmosphere is its languid pace. The story itself is intriguing, ing, but the movie does not do it justice.

Dennis Franz

Other movies airing this week include CBS' Steel Magnolias on Sunday, Sept. 11, Dolly Parton, Julia Roberts, Shirley MacLaine and Sally Field star. NBC premieres A Perfect Stranger on Monday, Sept. 12. Robert Ulrich, Stacy Haiduk, Darren McGavin and Marion Ross comprise the cast of this new drama.

NBC airs the box-office hit Wayne's World with Mike Myers and Dana Carvey on Tuesday, Sept. 13.

On Thursday, Sept. 15, CBS rebroadcasts Due South, starring Paul Gross as a Canadian Mountie paired with a Chicago detective played by David Marciano. This movie sets the stage for a dramatic series premiering on Thursday, Sept. 22, on CBS.

Brazilians fight to save the rain forest in The Burning Season, an HBO original movie premiering Saturday, Sept. 17. The production stars Raul Julia, Sonia Braga and Edward James Olmos.

Q: You recently reported that Mary Kate and Ashley Olsen are identical twins. This is incorrect. An article in Twins magazine, July/August 1993, says the girls are identified as fraternal, not identical, twins. As a mother of twins, I feel this distinction is important. —Susan Myers, Argyle, Maine.

A: Busted! Thanks, Susan, for the additional info. Like so many others, I have always had the misconception that if a pair of twins are similar enough to share a single role, as the Olsens still do, they must be identical. I stand corrected.

Q: About 10 years ago a movie called The Bear told the story of University of Alabama football coach Paul "Bear" Bryant. I have not seen it since 1984. Please help me find a copy of this tape. —K. Taylor, Greenville, Ala.

A: As someone who grew up in a Crimson Tide household, I regret to report that the 1984 movie starring Gary Busey is not available on video. Ask a local station to program it.

Q: I read several weeks ago

Margaret Cho

in your column that Christopher Lewis of Lewist Enterprises is syndicating the old Loretta Young Show. Is he Loretta Young's grandson? For years I watched Judy Lewis (Loretta's daughter) on the soaps and was surprised to learn that her father was Clark Gable. —Barbara Beckett, Defiance, Ohio.

A: I spoke to Christopher Lewis, who confirmed that he is her son, but Loretta Young consistently has dismissed the Gable rumor as nothing more than a romantic fantasy.

Q: Where can I write to William Forsythe, formerly of The Untouchables? —T.S., Plattsburg, Mo.

A: Unfortunately, Paramount TV apparently hasn't forwarded mail since the series ended. You might try writing to Forsythe's C/O Harris & Goldberg Talent & Literary Agency, 1999 Avenue of the Stars, Suite 2850, Los Angeles, Calif. 90067. I'm afraid that's the only other address I have for him.

CBS' Boys quickly wear out their welcome

BY DENNIS HELLER

Put the stars of two popular and successful sitcoms together and what do you get? Unfortunately, you get old television fodder refashioned and disguised as an original idea.

CBS' The Boys Are Back, starring Hal Linden (Barney Miller) and Suzanne Pleshette (The Bob Newhart Show) premieres Sunday, Sept. 11, before moving to its regular slot on Wednesday, Sept. 14.

Linden and Pleshette play Fred and Jackie Hansen, a couple who send their last son to college and are ready to enjoy life with each other, and without children.

Pleshette says, "Hal and I have a chemistry that I have not seen between two people since Bob and Emily (Hartley from The Bob Newhart Show)."

The Hansen's plans are put on hold when their two older sons, a daughter-in-law and their grandchildren return home to live until they "get back on their feet."

For viewers used to the "stark realism" of TV sitcoms, this scenario may come as a surprise. But anyone who has seen a family-oriented program will recognize the same plot devices and relationships that have been used for years.

Pleshette insists the show's focus is on "the adult children coming back home and the issues the parents and adult children have to deal with."

However, one gets a feeling the series will only be more of the same situations repeated and beaten into the ground.

Some aspects of the show work, for instance, the relationship between Fred and the sons is believable if not forced. But even this potentially interesting relationship quickly grows tiresome, and after a couple of episodes, viewers will probably wish the boys had just stayed away.

Martin Short stars in The Martin Short Show, airing Tuesdays this fall on NBC. A la Seinfeld, Short plays a sketch comic who's host of his own TV show.

IN FOCUS

Richard Karn stars in Boy's Will Be Boys, an ABC After-School Special airing Thursday, Sept. 15.

Karn plays Mr. Delo, a high-school teacher who comes to the aid of one of his students after she becomes the victim of sexual harassment. Determined to make a stand, the student takes legal action against those responsible.

Karn appears weekly as Al Borland, the plaid-shirted foil for Tim Allen on ABC's Home Improvement.

SOAP TALK

Smith keeps day job, checks out prime time

BY CANDACE HAVENS

This fall Hillary B. Smith (Nora, One Life to Live) is spreading herself a little thin. She is keeping her day job at ABC, but she will also be seen on NBC's Something Wilder Saturday nights.

Smith is excited about working on the new show, but she will have to commute a few thousand miles each week. OLTL is filmed on the East Coast, and Something Wilder is done on the West Coast.

"Most people in Los Angeles commute on the highways. I'm going to commute on a plane," Smith says. "I'm taking a leave of absence to do the first six episodes of Something Wilder to really focus in. For the last set of episodes, which are done in three-week increments with a week in between, I will commute. Mondays I'll be in New York, and the rest of the week in L.A. Then all the weeks we have dark on Something Wilder will be spent exclusively on OLTL."

Smith says the executives of OLTL are very accommodating, and have even worked her leave of absence into a new story line for her.

"I've had a front-runner story for a couple of years, so it is kind of nice that someone else has a turn," the Emmy Award-winning actress says. "Actually, this all fit in rather nicely with what they had planned."

"I will be going in and out of town (on OLTL) investigating David Vickers," Smith says. "And this will cause a rift between my boyfriend and me."

The actress says there is no

Hillary B. Smith

way to compare working on two such different shows on opposite coasts. "They each have their benefits and drawbacks," Smith says. "I hope to see benefits from each."

In the NBC sitcom, Gene Wilder portrays a late-in-life father, who decides to step out of the advertising rat race and spend more time with his family.

Wilder and Smith's characters are the parents of 4-year-old fraternal twins, Gabe (Ian Bottiglieri) and Sam (Carl Michael Lindner). It is funny that she should be the mother of twins on the show. "My mother is a twin, and so was my grandmother," Smith says.

The actress is married to Philip Smith, and the couple has two children, daughter Courtney, 8, and son Phips, 5. Smith and her family live in New York City.

CABLE OVERVIEW

Williams offers encouraging words

BY SUZANNE GILL

Picture Emmy winner Mary Alice Williams working overtime on Lifetime's Picture What Women Do project, airing Tuesday, Sept. 13.

"Women," she says without irony, "go to extreme lengths to take care of everything that they're responsible for. We can't take that picture of ourselves, because we are living it."

But Picture What Women Do isn't Lifestyles of the Rich and Stressed-Out. It's a chance to do some nationwide networking. The event begins with a documentary look at how women spend their days and what they think of the work they do, whether it is in an office, on a concert stage, behind a cement mixer or at home.

"The issues these women illustrate, that they care about in their lives, are issues that affect every aspect of American social and public policy," Williams says.

Then Williams moderates a panel discussion on nine women's issues, including health care, marriage, work, day care and education.

"The most important thing we can accomplish," Williams concludes, "other than celebrating the length and breadth of women in America, is to put on the table the issues that really have to be dealt with if we are going to be a very strong nation in the future."

From Bette Davis to Mike Tyson, A&E presents a week of fresh installments of its Biography series.

The week begins with a portrait of Pope John Paul II,

Mary Alice Williams

Monday, Sept. 12. ABC News correspondent Bill Blakeniere reveals a deeply human John Paul. Both politically savvy and morally uncompromising, the Polish pope has stood up to communism and played host to his high-school reunion.

Bette Davis, who was profiled by TNT this summer, gets another look Tuesday Wednesday, Sept. 14, brings a Biography of original Saturday Night Live cast member Gilda Radner, and Thursday, Sept. 15, brings an up-close-and-personal encounter with Benjamin Franklin. A profile of boxer Mike Tyson concludes the week on Friday, Sept. 16.

George Halas, Jim Thorpe, Tom Landry, Howard Cosell and dozens more are part of 75 Seasons: The Story of the National Football League, airing Tuesday on TNT. From the oldest living player (Arda Bowser) to the Hall of Fame pass to the Baltimore Colts quiz from Diner, the two-hour special packs a lifetime of memories into the greatest clip-and-interview reel ever.

TIME OUT

75 Seasons glorious trip through NFL's history

BY BILL QUINLAN

75 Seasons: The Story of the National Football League is a magnificent journey through the evolution of professional football.

The two-hour special, premiering Tuesday, Sept. 13, on TNT, features more than 60 exclusive interviews with football legends.

"It is a romantic adventure through the first 75 years of the National Football League," Steve Sabol, executive producer, says.

The story begins in 1920, with the founding of the American Professional Football Association, which became the National Football League in 1922.

An interview with 95-year-old Arda Bowser provides a rare glimpse of the NFL's early years, when Red Grange and Jim Thorpe roamed the field.

75 Seasons takes an in-depth look at "Papa Bear" George Halas and his Chicago Bears.

Among the legends who share their memories of playing in the NFL in the 1950s are Frank Gifford and Paul Hornung.

75 Seasons includes footage of the "greatest game ever played," the 1958 NFL Championship Game between the Baltimore Colts and the New York Giants. The Colts' thrilling 23-17 overtime victory was televised into hundreds of thousands of homes across the United States.

Highlights of the 1960s include Vince Lombardi's Green Bay Packers winning five NFL crowns, including the first two Super Bowls.

75 Seasons recalls the days

Joe Namath

when Cleveland running back Jim Brown was a powerful force in the NFL and the civil rights movement.

The special features an interview with Joe Namath, the quarterback who helped to transform the league into a part of American culture.

"Joe Namath was the first player to transcend the sport. He personified not only the athlete, but the celebrity as well," Sabol says. "He was a spokesman for his generation with his long hair, brashness and self-confidence."

Interviews with Terry Bradshaw and O.J. Simpson, along with footage of the Dallas Cowboys and Pittsburgh Steelers, highlight the 1970s.

The special chronicles Joe Montana leading the San Francisco 49ers to four Super Bowl victories between 1982 and 1990.

75 Seasons concludes with a look at top players in the NFL today, including Emmitt Smith of the Cowboys and Thurman Thomas of the Buffalo Bills.

THEY DID IT AGAIN; raised the most money for Hospice of Garrett County in the organization's annual "Jail and Bail" at the Garrett County Fair, that is, Chuck "Good Time Charlie" McCrobie, left, and Les "Doo Little" Blittinger amassed $3,500 in "bail money" that will benefit the local organization, which provides free counseling and assistance to the terminally ill and members of their families. The team has agreed to make an extra donation of $500 to Hospice next year if any other "jailed" team is able to raise more money than they do.

Alvin Ailey Group To Lead Dance Workshops

When the Alvin Ailey Repertory Ensemble comes to Frostburg State University this month it will be for more than presenting two performances. For three days, the repertory group will conduct workshops and master classes for senior citizens, high school and college students in Washington, Allegany, and Garrett counties. All workshops are free and most are open to the public.

Members of the ensemble say they are committed to bringing the art of dance to diverse audiences across the United States. The ensemble appears in a variety of venues, ranging from the Concert hall to gymnasiums, and stages special performances for school groups, senior citizens, and the physically challenged. Lecture/demonstrations are scheduled for Monday, Sept. 12, at Fort Hill High School and Southern High School; Tuesday, Sept. 13, at FSU and West Virginia University; and Wednesday, Sept. 14, at Hicks Middle School, Hagerstown.

A unique combination of commentary and dance, lecture/demonstrations are both educational and entertaining. Excerpts from the current repertoire illustrate the various choreographic techniques and styles introduced in the lecture. A question and answer session concludes each demonstration, facilitating interaction between audience and dance.

During the master classes, senior members of the Repertory Ensemble teach dance technique to a group of students. The classes will incorporate movements which reflect the unique nature of the Ensemble's style. While master classes at FSU and West Virginia University are only for matriculated students at each institution, there will also be classes at Southern High School and Allegany Community College on Monday, Sept. 12, and Wednesday, Sept. 14, for advanced beginning/intermediate dancers in grades 8 through adult. For information, persons may contact Nancy Geisler (301) 387-9527 in Garrett County and Allen Emerick at ACC (301) 724-7700, ext. 273. Classes will last 90 minutes.

The workshops for senior citizens will be held at the Flowery Vale Senior Center in Accident, on Tuesday, Sept. 13, at 4:30 p.m. and Wednesday, Sept. 14, at 10 a.m. at the Cumberland Theater. The workshops include a demonstration and audience participation and last 60 to 90 minutes. For more information, persons may contact Peggy Mackert in Cumberland (301) 724-1148 and Barbara Hornyak at Garrett Community Action (301) 334-9431, ext. 137.

The Ensemble will also teach dance classes to drill team members and cheerleaders in Washington, Allegany, and Garrett counties. The proposed dates and locations are Monday, Sept. 12, at 2 p.m., for both Fort Hill and Southern high schools. For more information on these workshops, persons may contact the individual high schools.

This residency is being funded by the following foundations: Appalachian Regional Commission, Mid-Atlantic Arts Foundation, Maryland State Arts Council, Frostburg State University Year of the Arts, and the Cultural Events Series.

Open Letter to the people and voters of Garrett County

As the Primary campaign draws to a close and since it is impossible to greet each one of you personally, I am taking this opportunity of communicating with you.

My CONCERNS are about our State, County and municipalities and in particular the PEOPLE who reside and pay taxes here. These CONCERNS range from too much government in our everyday lives, to taxes, property rights, property assessments, utility costs (Potomac Edison has petitioned the Public Service Commission for a rate increase), hunting license fees (an increase is being proposed by the Wildlife Administration), senior citizens programs, and tax reform.

Dutifully and faithfully I have served the people of Garrett County and District 1A in the past and have gained invaluable experience and knowledge in the legislative process. I have always worked closely on a person-to-person basis with the constituents and will continue to do so when elected.

I am asking you to support and vote for me in the Primary election on September 13, to represent you in a responsible and experienced manner.

I am an independent businessman, raised and educated in Garrett County. I have conducted my own campaign. I am fully aware of the responsibilities of the office of Delegate to the Maryland General Assembly and the only promise I make to you is that, when elected I will do my utmost to serve Garrett County and the District well.

Thank you

LUNCH THAT PACKS A

PUNCH

NOON BREAK, A Treat To Look Forward To

Do you get the lunch time blues when you remember taking a homemade lunch to school in a small brown bag? It may not have been very interesting. The typical entree consisted of two slices of soft, white bread, smeared with pickle-mayonnaise and a single slice of bologna sandwiched between them. A bag of chips, a piece of fruit and a couple of cookies rounded out the meal, and milk was purchased from the lunch line.

GONE ARE THE DAYS OF "HO-HUM" LUNCHES.

Today's carried meal is a far cry from the lunches of yesteryear. Packed lunches are once again gaining popularity. Like sneakers and blue jeans, they complement people's busy lifestyles. A carried lunch can be dressed up to appeal to the young-at-heart or reduced to a simple combination for the school-lunch-box set. A working lunch is common practice for thousands of Americans, and it can be nutritious, delicious and economical.

There are hundreds of new products that fit today's lifestyle and demand for low-fat and environmentally kind concerns. For instance, turkey deli meat is an economical, low-fat substitution for beef or pork cold cuts. Brown baggers also need to consider convenient beverage packaging. One option — the aseptic package, or "drink" box — is geared to health conscious lifestyles.

Kids and parents have always recognized the benefits of these portable, lightweight and safe packages. What many people do not realize is that this easy-to-use, versatile package is also environmentally friendly. The "drink" box is an excellent example of minimal packaging — less waste from the start. And, in some parts of the country, the "drink" box is being recycled along with milk.

CARTONS: Check your communities to see if these exciting new recycling programs are available.

With a little imagination, interesting sandwich combinations paired with an array of "drink" boxes will become the envy of other lunch mates.

Today's busy, mobile lifestyles demand products that are convenient as well as environmentally responsible. The "drink" box, or aseptic package, delivers this and more. The revolutionary package and process have been called the "most significant food science innovation of the last 50 years" by the Institute of Food Technologists.

NUTRITION ON THE GO

- Parents recognize the benefits of these portable, safe packages. Easily placed in travel bags, aseptics provide a welcome relief for kids and adults.
- Freeze "drink" boxes the night before to pack next to perishables. This keeps the lunch cool, and by noon the juice is ready for drinking!
- Commuters find the compact, shatterproof packages conveniently fit in purses and briefcases.
- Remember, aseptic packages retain nutrients and taste without preservatives.

"GREEN" LUNCHES ARE THE WAY TO GO

More than 1,800 schools have bins for "drink" box and milk carton recycling.

- Currently, more than 3 million households in the United States are recycling aseptic packages and milk cartons into products such as tissues, writing paper and paper towels.
- For more information on community-based aseptic package and milk carton recycling programs, please call 1-800-277-8088.

NATIONAL LITERACY DAY

Thursday, September 8

by Brandon Seifert and Bonnie Evans Tucker, Literacy Council of Garrett County

Time magazine called him "Mr. Literacy." Many more knew him as the "Apostle to the Illiterates." Lowell Thomas called him "the greatest teacher of our time."

Dr. Frank Charles Laubach, over nine decades, changed the world. He was a creator in the fullest sense of the word. His vision of human worth led directly to action. Through his worldwide literacy effort, rich, poor, teacher and taught discovered their own potential to create a better world. "You think it is a pity they cannot read, but the real tragedy is they have no voice in public affairs, they never vote, they are the silent victims, the forgotten people, driven like animals, mutely submitted in every age before and since the pyramids were built. It is a human weakness not to become aware of suffering unless we hear a cry," stated Dr. Laubach.

It was as a missionary in the Philippines in the 1930s that Dr. Laubach discovered the value of key words to aid students in identifying sounds, and that he discovered the untapped potential of volunteer teachers. There in Lanao province the rallying cry of Each One Teach One was first heard. Word of Dr. Laubach's successful literacy campaigns in the Philippines drew requests for assistance around the world, and as Dr. Laubach traveled, the "Laubach method" took form. At the same time he spared no efforts in pointing out the injustices suffered by the poor and hungry. He saw literacy as means of filling empty stomachs and preparing minds for self-rule.

In 1955, Dr. Laubach founded Laubach Literacy International which continues his work today through worldwide network of trained volunteers who enable illiterate adults to acquire the literacy skills they need to solve their daily problems.

It was through the diligent efforts of several local women with the Lutheran Church Women's group, Ferne Beachy, Linda Buckel, Beulah Moon, along with representatives from the Maryland State Department of Education and Specialist Library Information Services and Programs that work began in Garrett County concerning volunteer tutoring in adult literacy. The MSDE furnished Laubach Way To Reading textbooks. The Literacy Council of Frederick County came to Garrett County in June 1986, and assisted in laying the foundation of the Garrett County Council. In October 1986 the Frederick Council came to conduct a tutor workshop for interested Garrett Countians. Twenty persons were certified using the Laubach method "Each One Teach One."

During this time officers were elected to a Board of Directors. Those founding members were Ferne Beachy, Thelma Swartzentruber, Nancy Bailey, Beulah Moon, Joan Sprangler, Edith Brock, Lorraine Ledden, Barbara Zaharoff, Sallie Thayer, Elizabeth Lohman, Bonnie Evans Tucker, and Linda Buckel. The Council received its charter from Laubach International in March 1987.

Since 1987, the Literacy Council of Garrett County has grown by leaps and bounds. Over 60 members now claim interest in the Council. Many thousand hours have been spent tutoring and countless students have received assistance through the Council. Persons who are 16 years of age, adults and are out of school are eligible for the program. The Council, however, will give advice and assistance to anyone needing help. The main focus of services tends to be those that are the hardest to reach and with the lowest skill level. Those who complete the program are encouraged to enroll in Adult Basic Education to attain their GED.

An important component of the literacy program is its insistence upon maintaining the confidentiality of the tutoring. Since one-to-one tutoring is the key feature, privacy is constantly stressed. When a student is referred or inquires with the Council, a tailored program is designed to meet the student's specific needs and goals. These needs could include: improved reading for job advancement, greater ability to shop, vote, read for pleasure, read to their children or grandchildren, read the Bible, obtain their driver's license or be able to read their medication.

It is estimated that 31% of Garrett Countians have not graduated from high school. By a conservative estimate, 3,660 adults cannot read and write well enough to live up to their native abilities at home or on the job.

Laubach Literacy Action (LLA) continually updates the training requirements for tutors and training criteria. This allows local programs to integrate proven teaching techniques with experimental ones to meet local needs. Over the years, LLA has placed more of the control of the training under the local Council's management. Local councils are encouraged to individualize training with an emphasis on the specific needs of adult learners.

Bonnie Evans Tucker, trainer, instructs new tutors on the proper way to teach an adult reader.

ship meetings are held four times a year with the next General meeting being on September 27 at 7 p.m. in the Ruth Enlow Library Meeting Room.

Help the Literacy Council of Garrett County, the Adult Basic Education Program, the General Education Degree Program, and the Continuing Education Department of Garrett Community College in their programs to reduce illiteracy; poor reading language and math skills; technological and communication disabilities; and lack of citizen participation in government. The need for literacy training in Garrett County is very great. Volunteers are always in need as the waiting list for tutors is growing on a daily basis.

Without volunteers, the problem of illiteracy will not go away. If you or someone you know needs reading help or you would like to become a volunteer reading tutor and change someone's life, please call the Literacy Council at 334-8606. Your efforts will be appreciated time and time again.

WESTERN MARYLAND NURSES have newly expanded continuing education opportunities through the Interactive Distance Learning Network, which was begun this year at community colleges in Allegany, Garrett and Washington counties. The first such opportunity via the network is a nursing refresher course that begins Wednesday, Sept. 7. Shown at Allegany Community College discussing use of the new technology are (standing, at left) Cindy Bridges, who will co-teach the course with Hagerstown Junior College faculty member Linda Hildenbrand, and (standing, at right) Sherry Campbell, ACC manager of continuing nursing education. Garrett Community College is the third school offering nursing education through the distance learning network.

New Interactive Network Expands Education Options For Area Nurses

Three Western Maryland community colleges -- Garrett, Allegany and Hagerstown -- have joined forces with the Maryland Board of Nursing to create a unique opportunity for Maryland nurses. Nurses in need of a board-approved refresher course will have the option of attending the course in their home communities using the new distance-learning interactive classrooms recently installed in the three colleges.

Faculty presenters Cindy Bridges of Allegany Community College and Linda Hildenbrand of Hagerstown Junior College, along with college coordinators Donna Walbert and Sherry Campbell, both of ACC, Tom Kierstead of Garrett Community College, and Roberta Niklewski of IJC, as well as students in the three-county region all met recently to learn more about this course using the new technology.

Judy Mayer, Maryland Board of Nursing representative also in attendance in the IJC classroom, had the opportunity to meet students and faculty at ACC and GCC "over the network." She noted that this system is "a first of its kind in Maryland" and reminded the audience that the state has a history of "firsts" for nurses, including being the first to grant prescriptive privileges for nurse practitioners.

The Maryland Board of Nursing and Maryland community colleges have a long history of working together to benefit nurses in the state, according to Ms. Mayer. Currently, many of the colleges offer board-approved refresher courses to nurses through the continuing education departments at the colleges.

With the advent of interactive classrooms the western region colleges saw an opportunity to serve rural nurses more effectively, Mayer said. In the past, courses frequently had to be cancelled due to insufficient numbers in any one county to support a course. By combining enrollments the likelihood of cancellations will be greatly reduced, she said. The first nursing refresher course to be carried over the network started Wednesday, Sept. 7, and will serve over 20 nurses in the region.

Additionally, students benefit from the expertise of faculty presenters across the region and can interact with fellow students from a wider range of nursing backgrounds and experiences. Plans are being developed to utilize the interactive network extensively for continuing education and credit courses for nurses in Western Maryland.

Board-approved and professional association-endorsed courses are offered at ACC and IJC since the colleges are members of the Maryland Community College Consortium for Continuing Education in Nursing, or MCCCCEN, a provider unit of continuing tion.

This designation enables the colleges to offer ANCC-approved contact hours for nursing continuing education courses. "Nurses in Western Maryland are offered the best of continuing nursing education: that is, board-approved, professional association-endorsed, and courses using the latest instructional technology available," Mayer said.

Maryland nurses should contact nurse managers in the continuing education departments of their local community colleges to learn more about this technology since future plans include the expansion of the distance-learning interactive classrooms throughout the state. In all, a total of 270 sites will be on the network at completion, including public higher education institutions and some private institutions such as Johns Hopkins.

The technology features two-way video and audio interactivity in real time with full-range, broadcast-quality motion. Up to four classrooms across the state can be completely interactive simultaneously. Allegany and Garrett community colleges and Hagerstown Junior College are pioneers using the technology on behalf of Maryland nurses.

Garrett County nurses should contact Tom Kierstead at 301-384-3084 for more information.

New Geriatric, Nursing Assistant Training Slated

A specialized training program designed to meet the need for productive, capable employees in the health care field will soon be underway at Garrett Community College. This training program will consist of 385 hours of classroom training and approximately 145 hours of work site training. It will prepare students for entry level positions in health care starting as nursing assistants, restorative aides, and geriatric aides.

The program will be offered by the Continuing Education Division of Garrett Community College in cooperation with The Western Maryland Consortium.

NURSING ASSISTANT PROGRAM SLATED - Registration is now being accepted for the Nursing Assistant Program at Garrett Community College, a work experience training program that is designed to prepare students for positions in health care facilities as nursing assistants, restorative aides, and geriatric aides. In the photo above are past members of the class Lori Griffith Glotfelty (as the patient) and Vicky Kianer, right, with program coordinator Lynn Glotfelty during class instruction. The program, which will be conducted at GCC and at various work sites, will begin in October and conclude in early January. The Continuing Education Division of GCC and the Western Maryland Consortium are currently recruiting JTPA eligible participants for the program. High school graduates or those who have obtained a GED and who are between the ages of 18 and 55 are invited to contact the Consortium at 334-8136 for more information.

Tuition is funded by the Job Training Partnership Act, so the program is free to those who qualify economically. Limited financial help is also available to meet related expenses.

Participants in the program must be high school graduates or GED graduates and demonstrate strong interest in the health care field. Participants must be between the ages of 18 and 55.

The curriculum during the first month will consist of studies designed to provide a foundation for future classroom and work based learning experiences. These studies will include training in the following areas: basic math, composition, personal development, interpersonal skills, geriatric aid, first aid, CPR, and job getting and keeping skills.

The curriculum during the remaining months will consist of training in technical skills areas as well as in interpersonal skills. The technical training areas will include classes in: restorative aide training, human growth and development, the aging process, risk management and safety, legal and professional issues, and resource management.

Students will participate in on-site training throughout all but the first month of the program. They will be placed either in nursing homes, hospitals, health departments, doctors' offices, or other public health agencies. They will be given the opportunity to work in several settings whenever possible. This work training experience will enable them to practice the skills that they are learning in the classroom setting. Job placement for the graduates of the first class has been high: two students are working at the Area Agency of Aging; one is working at Appalachian Crossroads; another at the Goodwill Mennonite Home; and one is working part-time at Freeman Ambulance.

The training will begin in early October and will conclude in mid-February. Those wishing more information should call the Western Maryland Consortium at 334-8136. Specific questions about the training can be answered by Lynne Glotfelty at 387-3089 or Sandy Major at 387-3101 at Garrett Community College.

CAR SEAT WINNER -- A Century 1000 child safety seat, donated by The Midas Muffler Store, Oakland, was given away as part of the safety belt/child safety seat presentations conducted by Tfc. Jeff Bentlejowski, Maryland State Police, during the Garrett County Fair. Representatives from the Garrett County Health Department distributed "Buckle Up" key chains, as well as information about highway safety laws, child safety seats and Midas' "Project Safe Baby" to fairgoers. Winner of the car seat, pictured above right, is JoAnn Friend, shown here with her husband, Jerry, and Diane Lee, Director of Highway Safety, Garrett County Health Department. Health Day Slated For Bloomington Bloomington Community Health Day will be held Sept. 21 from 7 to 9 a.m. at the Bloomington fire hall. The event, which is being co-sponsored by the Wellness Together Program of Garrett County Memorial Hospital and the Garrett County Health Department, will feature various health screenings including cholesterol blood testing, a basic cholesterol level measurement or lipid profile blood testing, and a more comprehensive test that indicates "good" and "bad" cholesterol levels. A fee of $5 will be charged for the basic cholesterol test while the lipid profile test will cost $15. Dietary evaluations, fitness testing, blood pressure measurements and information pertaining to risk factor prevention of cancer and cardiovascular disease will also be provided at the screening.

Persons attending the screening will be required to select from a list of participating physicians and must fast for 12 hours prior to receiving bloodwork to ensure accuracy of test results.

"Bloomington Community Health Day is a part of Wellness Together's ongoing efforts to go out into the community to provide services that will make area residents more aware of their overall health," explained a Wellness Together spokesperson.

Health counselors will meet with all participants approximately two weeks following the screening to discuss results and provide consultation.

Persons desiring more information about Bloomington Community Health Day may contact 334-2155, ext. 408 or 334-8111, ext. 275.

Rhonda Fleming, Michael Mudge Exchange Wedding Vows On May 7

Rhonda Jane Fleming and Michael Allen Mudge were united in marriage on May 7 at Christ United Methodist Church, Cumberland.

The Rev. Stan G. Cardwell performed the double-ring ceremony.

Brenda Hockenberry, Shippensburg, Pa., was the pianist. Denny Thrush, Chambersburg, Pa., and the Rev. Wayne R. Turner, Cumberland, were the vocalists.

The bride is the daughter of Ronald and Brenda (Umbrell) Fleming, Shippensburg. The groom is the son of Thomas and Dollie (Rice) Mudge, Cumberland.

Given in marriage by her parents and escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a white gown of Italian satin and re-embroidered Alencon lace. The bodice featured a V-neck and deep V-back, and was encrusted with beaded lace. Short sleeves with a shorter pouf were accented with tiny bows on the beaded lace cuff. A Basque waist topped the softly shirred skirt. The semi-cathedral length train was enhanced by medallion lace cut-outs and bows.

The bride carried a cascade of white carnations and roses.

Serving as matron of honor was the bride's sister-in-law, Jackie R. Fleming, Roxbury, Pa. She wore a red satin and lace gown of intermezzo length, featuring a dropped cowl satin collar, short puffed sleeves, and a dropped waist. A soft shirred satin skirt completed the gown.

Flower girls were Bethany and Ashley Mudge, nieces of the groom.

Serving his brother as best man was Jerry Mudge, Martinsburg, W.Va. The groom's nephew, Matthew Mudge, was the ring bearer.

Acolytes were the bride's brothers, Rick Fleming, Roxbury, and Brian Fleming, Keyser, W.Va.

The Rev. Michael A. Dean, Keyser, was liturgist. Ushers were the Rev. Brian I. Beeks, Muncie, Ind., the Rev. John T. McFarland, Harrisonburg, W.Va., and Kevin Rice, Cumberland, cousin of the groom.

During the wedding ceremony, Holy Communion was served to the entire congregation while Miss Hockenberry played traditional hymns on the cello.

The church sanctuary and the reception hall were decorated in deep purple and red, with accents of fresh lilac blooms. The reception, held at St. Luke's Lutheran Hall, Cumberland, was catered by Debbie's Catering Service, and was decorated by Treasures of the Heart.

The multi-tiered wedding cake, baked by Shelby Gable, was cut and served by Jean Rice and Marie Christopher, aunts of the groom, and by Dawn Rice, cousin of the groom. The knife used to cut the cake was provided by the bride's grandparents, Herbert and Miriam (Harry) Fleming, Path Valley, Pa. The knife was engraved with their Sept. 28, 1937, wedding date, and was also used on June 7, 1987, to cut the cake during their 50th wedding anniversary celebration.

Barbara Lahr, Columbia City, Ind., attended the guest registry and distributed the wedding bulletins. The bulletins also recognized the groom's grandmother, Audrey (Jones) Rice, who was married in the same church (then known as Bethany United Brethren Church), 60 years earlier on May 7, 1934.

Stanley P. Fisel, Frostburg, served as the photographer. Lynn Martin, Columbia, cousin of the groom, videotaped the event, and Kathy LaGratta was the sound technician.

Following a honeymoon trip to Myrtle Beach and Charleston, S.C., and Baltimore, the couple established residence in Crellin.

The bride is a graduate of Chambersburg Area Senior High School and Huntington College, Hun-

Bring BOLDEN Back
MARYLAND HOUSE OF DELEGATES
He is concerned about WASTE of taxpayers money...

Witness excerpts from this letter to the Speaker of the House dated 23 September 1992.

DeCORSEY E. BOLDEN
 313 South Second Street
 Oakland, Maryland 21550
 23 Sept. 1992

Honorable Clayton Mitchell
 Speaker of the House
 Annapolis, Maryland 21201

Dear Clay,

I was pleased to read in the Sun about your budget cutting proposals. In view of that I thought about bringing to your attention a waste of taxpayers money here in the little town of Oakland.

About five years ago an office was opened here in a private facility near Browning's Foodland Store the renter. Rent at this place I would estimate about $2,000-$2,500 per month. The personnel that staffs the office drive daily from the Motor Vehicle Office on Winchester Road in LaVale, Maryland. The employees (4 or 5) travel in a state van and leave LaVale around 9:00 A.M. so as to arrive in Oakland at 10:00 A.M. when the office opens. Then the office closes at 3:00 P.M. so they can return to LaVale by 4:00 P.M. quitting time.

Much of the work still has to be done at LaVale, such as parking school buses and trucks. These drivers used to be able to do this testing at the Armory.

I know this tax dollar comes from the Trust Fund but it seems like a waste of money particularly when the facility at the Armory was working adequately, open two days a week for driver license and title work.

I hope this information will help in a small way to point out the waste in our budget. Good luck in your endeavor.

Sincerely,
DeCorsey Bolden

Friendsville Lions To Host Benefit Event

St. Jude Children's Research Hospital announced today that Marlin Lawson and the Friendsville Lions club have agreed to be the coordinator of the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital Bike-A-Thon in Friendsville, set for October 8.

St. Jude Children's Research Hospital was founded by entertainer Danny Thomas. The institution opened its doors to the public in 1962 to combat catastrophic diseases which afflict children. St. Jude Hospital is non-sectarian, non-discriminatory, and covers all costs of care beyond those reimbursed by insurance.

At St. Jude, scientists and physicians are seeking not only a better means of treatment, but also the causes, cures, and prevention of these fatal diseases. All fundings and information gained at the Hospital are shared freely with doctors and hospitals all over the world. Because of St. Jude Hospital research, children who have leukemia, Hodgkin's disease, sickle-cell anemia, and other child-killing diseases now have a better chance to live.

The Bike-A-Thon program this year is dedicated to eight-year-old Shauna Richters. Shauna was diagnosed with Wilms' tumor, a malignant growth on her left kidney, in December 1990. Surgery successfully removed the tumor, and Shauna returns to St. Jude Hospital every six months for check-ups. She celebrated her last chemotherapy treatment with a present she had eagerly looked forward to: a new bike. "Shauna is a living example of the successful research, patient care, and educational programs made possible by the Bike-A-Thon campaign at this internationally recognized hospital," stated a St. Jude spokesman.

Nine children in Maryland and their families have gone to St. Jude Hospital and received total medical care for a catastrophic illness. Thousands of others have benefitted from the research findings that have developed better and more successful treatment methods, the spokesman said.

"We sincerely appreciate the concern that Marlin Lawson has for our work to help children like Shauna, and we hope the citizens of Friendsville will support the Bike-A-Thon on Oct. 8 to help provide the funds needed to preserve the world's greatest asset... our children," the spokesman said.

Correction Noted

In last week's issue of The Republican, a story appeared about the selling of sheep at the Garrett County Fair. Bobbie Jo Beitzel was identified as the son of Steve and Jenny Beitzel, but it should be noted that Miss Beitzel is the daughter of Steve and Jenny Beitzel. The error is regretted.

lington, Ind., where she earned a bachelor's degree in educational ministries. She retired in December from Macau, a Portuguese colony in South China near Hong Kong, where she served a term with the Board of Missions of the Church of the United Brethren in Christ as a missionary teacher.

The groom is a graduate of Fort Hill High School and Allegany Community College, both in Cumberland. He also holds a bachelor of arts degree from Frostburg State College, and a master of divinity degree from Ashbury Theological Seminary, Wilmore, Ky. He was ordained by the Church of the United Brethren in Christ in 1989, and has served as pastor of the Crellin United Brethren Church since 1988.

The bride was honored with a shower on March 26, hosted by the groom's family, at the home of his aunt, Marie Christopher. The ladies of the Crellin U.B. Church hosted an open house shower for the bride and groom on April 15 at the Crellin Community Building.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents at Christ L.M. Church, Cumberland.

Out-of-town guests attending the ceremony were from Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio, and Iowa, and gifts were sent from Michigan, Kentucky, South Carolina, Mississippi, and Macau.

PRIORITY ONE: JOBS

I believe jobs must be a top priority of our country. We have seen layoffs and mine closings which have hurt many families. Often young people must leave our county to get work. I will work for the development of a comprehensive plan to attract desirable industry here. We cannot rely on tourism alone.

PRIORITY TWO: OPEN GOVERNMENT

I believe in government of the people, by the people and for the people. The government is the people and there is NO business of government which is not the people's business. I pledge an open and responsive government, one that sees the people as a resource rather than a threat, that serves the people rather than resists and fears them. Not only should we follow "access to information" laws, we should assure that our people never need to use them to get information which belongs to them in the first place.

PRIORITY THREE: ROADS

It is necessary, for several reasons, that we keep our county roads in much better repair. First, it costs less over the long haul. Allowing the roads to deteriorate to where a new road or road bed is needed costs more than to do regular maintenance. Secondly, roads are important to economic growth. Thirdly, it is just easier on vehicles and people alike when the roads are properly maintained. We have many excellent people in the roads department, but we have allowed our roads to get into deplorable condition. I advocate a plan for renewing 20 to 25 percent of all county roads each year, starting with the most in need of repair. This way, all roads will be renewed every four or five years. I also believe that a qualified person should be appointed to head the roads department.

"Rule-Of-Thumb" For A Nitrogen Check On Corn
Some of our corn is starting into the early dent stage. This is a good time to check to see if you applied the right amount of nitrogen. The following rule-of-thumb is used by Cornell University. Check the corn at the early dent stage. If the lower 3 to 5 leaves on the plant are dead the upper leaves remain medium to dark green, the right ration of nitrogen was used. If fewer than 3 lower leaves are dead and the top ones are dark green, the nitrogen rate was probably too heavy, and you could have gotten by with 20 to 40 lbs. less nitrogen. If the leaves die up to or above the ear or the entire plant is light green and the leaves near the ear are yellow, too little nitrogen was used (or too much was lost). Do not use these guidelines in a drought year or confuse nitrogen deficiency with disease.

Estimating Corn Yields
There are several quick methods to estimate the yield of standing corn both for corn silage and for grain.

- To estimate corn silage yields:
- 1. Select representative areas in the field for sampling.
- 2. Determine inches between rows (row spacing).
- 3. Start midway between two plants, cut corn according to the following table:

Row spacing:	42"	40"	38"	36"	34"	32"	30"
Row length to cut:	6'3"	6'6"	6'10"	7'3"	7'8"	8'2"	8'8"

- 4. Weigh corn harvested.
- 5. Weight of corn in pounds equals tons of silage

Governor Schaefer Proclaims Farm Safety Week Sept. 11-17

Governor William Donald Schaefer has proclaimed Farm Safety Week September 11-17, 1994. According to national statistics, farming continues to lead all industries in work-related accidents nationwide. With farmers busy during the peak of the harvest season, Governor Schaefer reminds all farmers to take extra precautions to reduce the risks of farm accidents.

"People engaged in agricultural production face high risks of occupational injury. But with a little care, many injuries and deaths caused by farm related accidents can be prevented," said Governor Schaefer. "I urge all Maryland farm families to take the lead in establishing and maintaining safe farm practices."

"Quite often, a little common sense can prevent serious mishaps. For example, most farm equipment accidents can be prevented by taking time to review safety precautions in the operator's manual. In addition, it is important to keep all children and the elderly away from hazardous machines," said Maryland Secretary of Agriculture Lewis R. Riley.

"Farm families should examine all areas of their operation for places of potential danger. By taking corrective action, most accidents can be avoided. We want to keep all our farm families safe," Riley said.

BAUER'S WORK ON DISPLAY IN PITTSBURGH - Local artist Ken Bauer's work "Likenesses," pictured, is currently on display at the Carnegie Museum of Art, Pittsburgh, Pa., as part of the 84th Annual Exhibition. Bauer's work was chosen to be among the 115 artworks by 101 artists. Originally, 477 pieces by 259 artists were submitted for jurying by Beryl Wright, a curator formerly with the Museum of Contemporary Art, Chicago, and the Newark Museum. Wright chose the pieces for display, and the exhibition was installed by Richard Armstrong, curator of Contemporary Art at the Carnegie Museum. The exhibition will run through Sept. 29. Bauer said the pencil drawing of a white-breasted nuthatch was inspired by a late afternoon walk along the tow-path of the C&O Canal. "As I walked along the tow-path, breathing the cool September air, I saw a nuthatch dart into a dark cluster of four tree trunks. When I located the bird with my binoculars, he was as far down in the cluster as he could be and still appeared outlined against the patch of sky seen between the trees. This image remained in my mind and a couple of weeks later I did some sketches of the idea," Bauer said. He added that "Likenesses" is an experiment in seeing two or more different visual experiences at the same time, noting the strand of barbed wire that extends through the narrow panel at the left. "Alterations were made to the actual appearance of things in perspective, size, texture, and space to create an image of my perception of the scene beyond the basic experience of seeing it," the artist said.

A Letter To The Voters Of Garrett County

Reporter Craig Speicher wrote a very informative letter to the editor in last week's issue of The Republican newspaper. Such calculating common sense is hard to come by these days!! The Republican should be thankful to have such a thorough professional on its staff.

Mr. Speicher put into words what I have been thrashing about with for several weeks! This is my third attempt at writing this letter. I too had done some investigating and found the attempted rumor scam to be false and misleading.

Several weeks ago The Cumberland Times-News and Weekender papers ran an article, and a good one at that, with a very misleading and potentially harmful headline. I called the office of The Times-News and spoke to the author of the story who informed me that other staff members make up (my words) the headlines, and suggested I write a letter to the editor.

I also spoke to the editor of The Republican and asked him to publish a story to clarify the deluded headline by these other papers. I was told that this was considered a "non-issue" and therefore did not merit a rebuttal or any exposure by print. Oddly enough in last week's paper, on the front page no less, is an article about an employee filing suit because he doesn't understand a law. And all this time I thought reporters were impartial and dug for the facts, with no reflection of their or the publisher's personal views! Some "non-issue"!

If this suit is not politically motivated, then I am Jocelyn Elders! And I pray that I NEVER get that ignorant!!

Craig Speicher wrote a letter to the editor because he felt a wrong was being done and wanted to correct it by stating the TRUTH!! The voters of Garrett County should be grateful for a service above and beyond the call of duty. It is a shame that some in this county think they can blow by the general population with the "smoke and mirrors" tactics used by the "big" politicians and media. Nuff said!!

Years ago I had the pleasure of taking a hunter safety course which Van Evans was instructing. If anyone has witnessed the sheriff at work then you know what I am about to write. Young people can ask some very complicated and penetrating questions and very rarely understand the initial response. Sheriff Evans took his time, often after class, to break down the answer and continue doing so until the youngster could grasp what was being said. He then would begin building it back up to the final level and when the one asking the question could repeat the answer, and in addition answer some thinking questions on the subject, only then was Sheriff Evans satisfied. It is this persistence, dedication and professionalism which is so much in demand in this circus we call life these days.

M. Van Evans is, without reservation, the most qualified candidate for the office of Sheriff. The other candidates may be excellent workers (I don't know their work habits) but their motives and ethics (to me) leave a lot to be desired. This is not a "political" office, it is an "elected" office and Van Evans is campaigning in that manner. Experience, education, and dedication, combined with ethics, morals and a genuine caring for others is a combination that is rare to find these days. DON'T LOSE IT!!

Sincerely,

Kris DeWitt

Dear Editor:

Several weeks ago while having my breakfast coffee and reading the Times News, I saw a familiar face smiling at me. The face of Galen Clagett, a college classmate. His story told me he was running for Congress (Galen had been involved in college politics).

Thrilled about the endeavor, I called him, offering my efforts and prayers. For once, someone I know was running for Congress.

Many times I have heard people say, "Who are these people running for office? I have never heard of them."

I usually close my eyes and pick one as I have no idea what kind of person they are. We get notes in the mail telling us what they want us to know, maybe we read in the local paper they have been to Garrett County, but most of us never heard of the people before.

But Galen Clagett is known by someone in Garrett County - since college days and believe me, that has been quite a while - and he can make a difference. He is a special person.

Galen has been a teacher, an administrator, with both bachelor's and master's degrees from Frostburg State; Frederick County Commissioner from 1978 to 1986; Maryland State Prison academic instructor; member of the Frederick Memorial Hospital Board; president of Clagett Enterprises, Inc.; and most of all for the animal lovers, he is a member of the Frederick County Humane Society, Inc. and a past president of that organization.

Wouldn't it be nice to have someone in Congress who someone in Garrett County really knows? Someone who really cares for people and animals.

What a coincidence that Galen and I met at Frostburg State, both became educators, and both became involved in caring for animals?

Again, this man can make a difference.

To the Citizens of Garrett County:

First, I would like to state that I have known Van Evans all his life and his family even longer. Sheriff Evans has possessed a meritorious reputation until this election year when others have worked unjustly to ruin it. During the nine years Evans has been in office, I have never heard him belittle or have anything ill to say about his office staff or deputies. He always has spoken highly of the sheriffs he has worked under. He is a clean, conscientious, competent sheriff who focuses on being constructive rather than destructive. I affirm my faith and trust in M. Van Evans for another four years in office. I ask my friends and fellow Garrett Countians to do the same.

Molly Kelly To Speak Locally

Molly Kelly, well-known lecturer and author on the subject of "teens and chastity," will be speaking at several locations in Garrett, Preston, Mineral, and Hampshire counties September 18-20, according to a release from the Mountaintop Crisis Pregnancy Center.

Kelly speaks to approximately one million teenaged youth and their parents each year, not only in the United States, but on an international basis. She recently had speaking engagements in Australia and England.

The mother of six sons and two daughters, Ms. Kelly says her goal is to instill a feeling of self respect and the knowledge that young people can make informed, intelligent decisions, in spite of media and peer pressure. She has written a brochure on the subject titled "Let's Talk" and also writes a monthly column called "What One Mother Has to Say."

Although her audiences are composed primarily of teenagers, she also speaks at colleges, medical schools, and theological schools. She has appeared on ABC's World News Tonight and CBS's This Morning. Among awards presented to her are the 1988 S.I.G.N. Award, given at the annual Community Service Corps Convention and voted on by teenagers.

She is the founding president of the "PA Education Foundation," an organization that attempts to spread the chastity message via the media. She is founding president of the Delaware Valley Alliance, an organization that consists of 40 separate groups that network to provide positive support to women who are experiencing problem pregnancies. She also organizes annual conferences on teenage sexuality, which bring together educators, counselors, school nurses, parents, and staffers from various agencies to discuss teenage concerns.

Ms. Kelly has been appointed by the federal government to the Grant Review Board, Department of Health and Human Services, for the promotion of

State, County Jobless Rates Fall In July

In July, for the sixth consecutive month, Maryland experienced employment growth according to the Maryland Department of Economic and Employment Development. Seasonal increases in employment helped to lower the state's unemployment rate from 5.6 percent in June to 5.3 percent in July.

Garrett County's jobless rate also dropped 3 percent, from 9.8 percent in June to 9.5 percent in July.

The July 1994 rate was 11.4 percent.

Employment gains during July throughout the state exceeded increases in the labor force, with nearly 7,450 previously unemployed persons finding jobs.

The labor force normally peaks in July as summer job seekers continue to enter the labor market. More than 41,000 job seekers entered the labor force, pushing the numbers above the 2.7 million mark.

Nationally, the unemployment rate remained unchanged over the month, topping the Maryland estimate by almost a full percentage point.

The state's consecutive month of employment growth, a drop in the unemployment rate and other economic indicators showing improvement - there's a strong message in these numbers," said Secretary of Economic and Employment Development (DEED) Mary L. Wasserman. "Maryland surely seems to be on the right course."

Maryland's payroll employment during July followed normal seasonal patterns. Reductions in state and local education and vacation shutdowns in manufacturing eclipsed summertime job gains in construction, hotels, membership organizations, health services and amusement/recreation.

From June to July, employment of work fell, but was above July 1993 levels. Manufacturing employment remains below the level of a year ago, but hours and earnings rose. Unemployment insurance claims and benefit payments fell from last year's levels. Other data show increases in retail sales and new auto registrations but a decrease in housing permits.

Unemployment in the Western Maryland region dropped to 7.6 percent in July, down from 8.0 percent in June.

HOW TO VOTE ON A VOTING MACHINE

1. Move the Red Handle from the Left to the Right as far as it will go and LEAVE IT THERE. (This will close the curtain around you.)
2. Turn DOWN a POINTER ABOVE the name of each candidate you wish to vote for (for each office), as shown.

VOTER ABOUT TO CLOSE CURTAIN

CURTAIN CLOSED VOTER VOTING

CANDIDATE

AND LEAVE IT DOWN

3. Continue in the same manner to the end of the BALLOT, turning down a Pointer for every candidate for every office that you wish to vote for, and LEAVE THE POINTERS DOWN. You may change your vote as often as you wish UNTIL you move the Red Handle to the Left. If there are questions on the ballot you wish to vote on, TURN DOWN THE POINTER that indicates your choice ABOVE each question.

4. When you are finished voting, move the Red Handle back to the left as far as it will go and LEAVE IT THERE. This will register your vote. The Pointers will then return to the unvoted position before the Curtain opens.

A FEW WORDS OF EXPLANATION

No votes are registered until you move the Curtain Lever back to the Left to open the Curtain. You can therefore make as many changes in your ballot as you wish while the Curtain Lever is at the right (Curtain closed). Each candidate's voting Pointer is directly ABOVE his or her name.

The machine is so arranged that you CANNOT TURN DOWN MORE THAN THE PROPER NUMBER of Pointers for each office.

There is no danger of anyone knowing how you vote, as the movement of the Curtain Lever returns the Pointers to their unvoted position BEFORE the Curtain begins to open. LEAVE THE POINTERS DOWN.

This sample ballot shows the machine ballot for this Election. If you will read and remember these directions, you will cast your ballot easily and quickly.

Please turn the page for the remainder of the ballot.

Tuesday Accident Claims Life Of Terra Alta Teen

A single-vehicle accident early Tuesday morning on Rt. 59, near Crellin, claimed the life of a nearby Preston County teenager, according to a report filed by Maryland State Police, Barrack W. McHenry.

Eighteen-year-old Dana Allan Groves Jr., Terra Alta, W.Va., son of Dana A. "Butch" and Bonnie (Wolfe) Groves, died from injuries he sustained in the 1:30 a.m. mishap.

State police said Groves was operating a 1983 Mazda RX-7 west near the Ashby-Ellis Road, when he lost control of the vehicle, crossed the center line and ran off the road, striking a telephone pole and a parked car, owned by Guy D. Joseph, Oakland. The victim was ejected from the vehicle.

Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad transported Groves to Garrett County Memorial Hospital, where he was pronounced dead. Oakland Volunteer Fire Department also responded to the scene.

State police said Groves was not wearing his seat belt at the time of the accident.

Groves was born July 8, 1976, in Morgantown, W.Va. He was a 1993 graduate of Preston High School, where he was a member of the Honor Society. He was a gold medal recipient for the Academy Decathlon and a past representative for Mountaineer.

Dedication Of Drane House Set For September 24

The dedication ceremony for the James Drane House in Accident will be held Saturday, September 24, and the public is welcome to attend.

The preservation project began with the formation of the Accident Cultural and Historical Society by the Mayor and Town Council in 1987, which undertook the project in conjunction with the Maryland Historical Trust. The first phase of the rehabilitation project began in 1991.

The James Drane House, built circa 1800, is thought to be the oldest standing structure in Garrett County. Although it was hoped that the rehabilitation project would be completed by September, work on the chimney was delayed pending grant funding.

The dedication program will begin at 1:30 p.m. in the Flowery Vale Senior Center with a 30-minute program by the Accident

COUNTY HISTORY WAS MADE on the Northern High School athletic field Tuesday evening when Meghan Dabney, a member of the Southern High School varsity, scored not one, but two goals for the Rams in their 8-0 win over the Huskies. Dabney is the first female high school varsity player ever to score a soccer goal in Garrett County. Stephen Gorski and Matthew Sincell also scored two goals each for the Rams. Dabney, daughter of Tom

PSI Ordered For Pa. Man In Drug Case

A pre-sentence investigation was ordered for a Bethel Park, Pa., man by Judge Ralph M. Burnett in Garrett County District Court proceedings last week.

Gerald A. Kellman, 41, was found guilty of one count of obtaining and altering a prescription drug order, and one count of resisting arrest. Two additional counts of altering a prescription drug order, and three counts of fraudulently obtaining a prescription drug were not prosecuted because of plea agreements with the state's attorney. Conditions of Kellman's bond continuance state that he must continue drug treatment and refrain from using any narcotics (heroin). Kellman had been charged with those offenses by Maryland State Police whose report stated that on Dec. 25, and Dec. 27, 1992, he was issued a legitimate prescription for the drug Methadone.

According to district court records, on Dec. 23, 1993, Kellman went to the Rite-Aid Pharmacy in Grantsville and handed the pharmacist a prescription for Methadone. The pharmacist filled the prescription, not realizing the date had been altered. On Jan. 1, he returned to the same pharmacy and handed another prescription to the same pharmacist, which was

Funds Awarded For Facility At Randolph Lake

Governor William Donald Schaefer announced Wednesday Board of Public Works approval of a $3 million contract to enable the Maryland Department of Natural Resources' (DNR) Boating Administration to provide public access to the 952-acre Jennings Randolph Lake in Garrett County. The contract was awarded to Frank Arnold Contractors Inc., Mtn. Lake Park, and includes construction of an entrance road, boat ramp, pier, and parking area.

Chaired by the governor, the Board of Public Works is also comprised of Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein and Treasurer Lucille Maurer. The board is authorized by the General Assembly to approve major construction and consultant contracts, equipment purchases, property transactions and other procurement actions.

"Jennings Randolph Lake is an extremely valuable recreational resource for Marylanders," Governor Schaefer said. "The improvements will offer yet another attraction to Western Maryland's growing tourism industry, accomplished through a joint effort of state, federal, and county government agencies as well as private industry."

Plans call for a 600-foot long boat ramp, a floating

Company C To Hold Final Open House Sunday At Oakland Armory

Garrett County's Company C 121st Engineer Battalion, Maryland Army National Guard, will host its last Open House on Sunday, Sept. 18, from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. It is the final such event because Company C will, in the near future, be joining Company B from Cumberland, and the armory in Oakland will remain open only as a detachment of the new mechanized company, according to Captain Rick Wakefield.

"Company C will no longer exist as we have known it," Wakefield said. "For this reason, this year's open house will be dedicated to all members, past and present, of Company C, and to the community that has loyally supported them through the years."

General Treddard, the state's adjutant general, deems the local open house to be "the best in the state." Wakefield stated that the day's activities will include "something for everyone."

The schedule of events is as follows: 10 a.m. - Opening Ceremonies to pay tribute to all past and present Company C members; noon - bluegrass music by the Sand Spring Band; 1 p.m. - performance of the Garrett Community College Pipes and Drums; 1:30 p.m. - performance by Brenda's Body Shop; 2 p.m. - Southern Garrett Band performance; 2:30 p.m. - Northern Garrett Band performance; 3 p.m. - performance by the Fire and Drum Corps from Berlin, Pa.; 3:30 p.m. - Dave Browning's Karate Studio performance; 4 p.m. - more music from the Sand Spring Band.

Special attractions will include a candy drop and

GCMH To Receive Grant For Farm Health Program

The U.S. Department of Health and Human Services has awarded a $128,000 grant to Garrett County Memorial Hospital to improve the health of farm families and increase awareness of health and safety issues in agricultural communities.

This grant is part of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services' Rural Outreach Program.

The funds will be used to provide special services for 770 farm families in the area. Garrett Voters Follow State In Governor's Race

In the contest for Maryland Governor, Garrett County voters mirrored Maryland voters as a whole in their selection of Parris Glendening and Kathleen Kennedy Townsend as the Democratic candidates and Ellen Sauerbrey and Paul Rappaport as the Republican candidates for these offices.

In the county, the Glendening team earned 607 votes and the Sauerbrey team received 2,028 votes. Local results for other Governor Lt. Governor candidates are as follows:

Republicans: Helen Delich Bentley and Howard A. Denis - 881 votes; and William Shepard and Julia Walsh Gouge - 865 votes.

Democrats: Don Allensworth and Linda Hartman - 301 votes; Mary Boegers and Barbara Osborn Kreamer - 200; American Joe Miedusiewski and Bernie Fowler - 199; Melvin Steinberg and James Simpson - 151; Walter Gilerist Finch and John Siegart - 70; and Lawrence Freeman and Mark Nafziger - 40.

Incumbent Republican John Hafer and Democrat Edward Malloy Jr. were both unopposed in the District One state senator's race. Hafer received 2,551 votes and Malloy received

Ballot Design May Have Caused Many To Miss BOE Vote

Numerous county voters, after leaving their polling places Tuesday, reported that they had somehow missed voting in the primary election for board of education. Others remarked that they were confused by the location of the names of BOE candidates on the ballot. Apparently, this confusion caused some voters, possibly as many as 50 percent, to miss their opportunity to vote for board candidates.

The primary election for board of education is non-partisan; both Republicans and Democrats, as well as registered Independents, are entitled to vote in the BOE primary. However, the names of the four candidates for the board were only printed once, in a yellow rectangle, in the top right corner of the ballot. Because these names were located in the portion of the ballot designated for Democratic candidates, specifically lines A, B, C, and D, many Republicans did not cast votes in the board election.

According to an estimate of voter turnout calculated by adding the numbers of votes received by all candidates for Commissioner District Three, approximately 5,612 county voters cast ballots in this week's primary. Of these, more than 3,000 failed to cast votes in the board of education

Primary Election Provides Voters With Upsets, Confusion, and Close Races

Approximately 50 percent of Garrett County's registered voters turned out Tuesday to cast their ballots in the gubernatorial primary election.

At polling places throughout the county, voters made decisions in a heated sheriff's race and defeated Republican incumbent Van Evans.

Also, in a 19-candidate contest for the County Board of Commissioners, voters unseated incumbent Republican District Three Commissioner Brenda Butscher.

Tuesday's election also gave rise to some confusion regarding the location of board of education candidates on the county ballot. (See story.)

Butscher, with 1,375 votes, lost to fellow Republican Roger Giotfelty with 2,128 votes. Corporal Randy Sines topped Evans with the two Republicans receiving 2,010 votes and 1,869 votes, respectively. Butscher and Evans will remain in office until Jan. 1, 1995.

Two Races Still Close

At press time, with approximately 260 absentee ballots yet to be counted, two commissioner races are still too close to declare a definite winner. In the Republican contest for District Two Commissioner, tentative results show Clyde Hetrick and Lawson Duckworth separated by only 10 votes.

The Democratic race for District Three Commissioner is even closer, with Asa McCain Jr. and Earl Clark Sr. separated by a mere eight votes.

Absentee ballots will be counted this afternoon. Approximately 170 of these ballots will be cast by Republicans and about 90 will be submitted by Democrats.

Garrett County Business Owner Among 132 Killed In USAir Tragedy

A national tragedy touched close to home last Thursday when a Garrett County business owner, along with 126 other passengers and five crew members aboard USAir Flight 427 from Chicago, died when the plane crashed seven miles from Pittsburgh International Airport.

Deer Park resident David C. Huxford, 54, owner and president of Financial Computer Support, Inc., in Mountain Lake Park, was returning home from Chicago where he had gone earlier that day for a business meeting. He was the only Maryland resident aboard the flight.

Huxford and his wife, Terry, moved their business to Garrett County from Vienna, Va., in 1986, and worked for a few years out of the basement of their home. In May 1993 the company opened its current 10,000-square foot, two-story headquarters in the southern Garrett County Industrial Park, and the number of employees grew from just three to more than 30 in nine years.

"We have all suffered a great personal loss," said an employee spokesperson. "Dave was an enthusiastic teacher, generous employer, dreamer, mentor, and friend to each of us. His legacy will live on in our fervent effort to uphold his high standards of excellence. Our hearts and minds have come together and bonded in a very special way. Dave's philosophy and vision of FCSI is part of who we are."

He was a graduate of Auburn (Ala.) University, and was a certified life underwriter and financial planner. He started in the insurance business as an agent for Northwestern Mutual Life in Montgomery, Ala., in 1967. In 1981, he began his own financial planning practice and became a full-time consultant to insurance agents, financial planners and home offices in the field of micro computerization. He founded Advanced Planners Users Group (APUG) in 1983 to offer education, training, tutorials, discounts and quality software to individual agents and planners.

In 1987, Huxford changed APUG's name to Financial Computer Support, Inc. (FCSI). He established FCSI NEI where FCSI members can exchange ideas, software, templates and electronic

Man To Serve Four Years For CDS Conviction

Garrett County Circuit Court Judge Fred A. Thayer last week sentenced a man convicted of drug charges to four years in the Maryland Department of Corrections.

Dewane R. Smith, 34, had pleaded not guilty to charges of possession with intent to distribute, possession of marijuana, and possession of drug paraphernalia. However, Thayer found him guilty in a July trial, at which time he ordered a pre-sentence investigation.

Smith was fined $500 in addition to the jail time, and he was given 128 days credit of time already served.

The defendant was arrested in January following an investigation by the Garrett County Narcotics Task Force. An informant had apparently notified the task force that Smith was planning a trip to Florida to purchase marijuana and bring it back to Garrett County. His vehicle was stopped on Jan. 17 on Interstate 68 and was searched, according to the court records.

Two pounds of marijuana were found in the car at the time of the traffic stop. Smith was also charged with operating a motor vehicle with a suspended license, and was sentenced to an additional 60 days in prison.

In other circuit court news, pre-sentence investigations were ordered by Thayer in two cases, one involving sexual offense and

Three Treated At GCMH After Three-Car Mishap

Three people were treated and released at Garrett County Memorial Hospital Sunday following a three-car mishap on Rt. 219 at the Glendale Road.

According to a report filed with Maryland State Police, Barrack W. McHenry, a vehicle operated by August Schaeffer, 63, Monaca, Pa., was stopped in traffic, waiting to make a left turn. Stopped behind that vehicle was one driven by John Rockis, 37, Morgantown, W.Va. Kelly Smith, 20, Meyersdale, Pa., operating a third vehicle in the same direction, reportedly failed to reduce speed to avoid a collision.

Smith's vehicle collided with the Rockis vehicle, which then struck the Schaeffer vehicle.

Treated at GCMH were passengers in each of the vehicles, Betty Schaeffer, 57, Monaca; Lisa Lindamood, 30, Morgantown; and Abby Shaller, 17, LaVale. Each was reportedly wearing a seatbelt.

Boat Launch To Stay Open During Lake Draw Down

The Maryland Department of Natural Resources, State Forest and Park Service has announced that the launch ramp at Deep Creek Lake State Park will remain open during Penelec's lake draw down this month.

Penelec initiated the draw down this past Labor Day weekend, and intends to drop the lake during the month of September by approximately four feet to an elevation of 2,454 feet by Oct. 3. The draw down is necessary for Penelec to make improvements to the spillway and water control structures at the power plant, according to a spokesman.

The lake elevation was a 2,456.7 feet on Sept. 12, indicating that approximately 2.7 feet of draw down remained.

Deep Creek Lake Recreation Area Manager Paul Durham said that at the full scope of the draw down, (2,454 ft.) he expects to have approximately four feet of water at the end of the park's ramps, which should accommodate the majority of users who want

DNR Announces Antlerless Deer Permit Quotas

The Maryland Department of Natural Resources (DNR) Wildlife Division has reviewed the whitetailed deer population dynamics for 1994 and announced this week the quotas on the antlerless deer permit allocation for the 1994-95 firearms and muzzleloader seasons.

Permits will be issued only in the counties of Garrett, Allegany, Washington, and Frederick, totalling 4,390. Garrett County Zone 1 has been allocated 550 and Zone 2 will have 840 permits. The allocation in the other counties is as follows: Allegany, Zone 1, 630, and Zone 2, 770; Washington, Zone 2, 600; and Frederick, Zone 1, 1,000.

The number of antlerless deer permits issued is intended to meet the population objectives stated earlier this year, which are to increase the buck kill in Garrett and Allegany counties in future years, and to stabilize the buck kills in Washington and Frederick counties at the present level. The number of permits issued is the same as was

SANTA COLLECTING, DELIVERING - Even though Christmas is still many weeks away, Lou Stouffer, better known as the Terra Alta area Santa Claus, has been busy in recent weeks delivering clothing, primarily school clothing, to area families in need. When not delivering items, he spends a great amount of time collecting used clothing and new and used toys for delivery, particularly during the Christmas holidays. Persons who have such items to donate are asked to drop them off at St. Mark's Lutheran Church in Oakland (in the side door along Center Street), or to contact Santa at 304-789-6743 to arrange for pick-up. Santa is pictured above with his "sleigh" during a recent stop in Oakland.

Two changes this year are that the number of days to hunt antlerless deer during the firearms season has been reduced to the last two days of the season, and an antlerless permit is required for the late segment of the muzzleloader season.

Twelfth Rabies Case Of 1994 Is Confirmed

The 12th rabies case in 1994 in Garrett County was recently confirmed by the Department of Health and Mental Hygiene Laboratories, according to a spokesperson from the Garrett County Health Department.

The infected animal was a raccoon, which was apparently chased up a tree by a dog on Sept. 2. The incident took place on Mellott Road, off Swallow Falls Road. The raccoon was destroyed, and although there was no confirmed contact between the dog and the diseased animal, a booster shot was given to the pet and it will be observed for 90 days. There was no human exposure in the incident.

The health department has scheduled the fall rabies clinics for the week of Sept. 19-24. Specific times and locations will be announced.

BARTLETT PRESENTS FLAG -- Twenty-nine American flags were recently presented to the town of Deer Park, thanks to the combined efforts of several national, state and local governments. The undertaking was spearheaded and coordinated by the Americanism Committee of the American Legion, Proctor Kildow Post 71, chaired by Jim Seeders. Many of the flags came from U.S. Congressman Roscoe Bartlett's office, and he was present for the ceremony to help make the donation. Pictured above, from left to right, are Post 71 Commander Moses "Moe" Miller (hidden from view), Congressman Bartlett, the Rev. John Grant, Deer Park Mayor Gary (Ron) Hinebaugh who is shown accepting a flag on behalf of the town, and Deer Park councilmen Robert Moore and Mason Madigan. Also shown in the photo are several bottles of Deer Park's famous bottled spring water that were presented to guests attending the ceremony.

pier and track system, and upgrading a 2.2-mile access road.

This new public boating facility is a key element in the creation of the world-class recreation and fishing industry envisioned in the North Branch Potomac River Water Quality and Recreation and Improvement Agreement signed in 1993 by the governors of Maryland and West Virginia. The ramp will make it possible for boaters to launch from the Maryland side of the lake. The only existing boating access site is in West Virginia.

This project results from a 1987 DNR statewide boating survey that recommended a boating facility at this location. Garrett County also strongly supports the projects and will assist DNR in completing the improvements.

Initial construction of the entrance road began in 1992 as a collaboration between the Maryland National Guard and DNR. The National Guard cleared and graded a portion of the 2.2-mile entrance road right-of-way which extends from the end of Mt. Zion Road to the proposed boat ramp.

This project has been a cooperative effort including DNR, the State Highway Administration, Maryland Department of the Environment, Maryland Department of General Services, the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Garrett County, Westvaco, and CSX. It is anticipated that the construction of the entrance road and boat ramp will be completed by the end of the 1995 or early in the 1996 boating season.

Mechanical Dinosaur...

According to our estimates, as many as 5,000, or over half, of the voters who cast ballots in Tuesday's primary elections missed voting for the candidates for the board of education. Thus, with a 50 percent voter turnout, approximately 20 percent of Garrett County voters have determined who the candidates will be in November's general election. The enormity of the ballot (103 names), its poor design, and antiquated technology (voting machines) are the major reasons for this unfortunate event.

Not only were the names of the board of education candidates at the extreme right of the ballot, but they were also on the Democrat candidates' lines, A-D, despite the fact that this was a non-partisan race. Most of those who missed them were undoubtedly Republicans who followed the Republican lines F-H out to the end, where there were no board of education candidates listed. While the board candidates were highlighted by bright yellow, it did not say anywhere on the ballot that this particular race was non-partisan.

The state board of election supervisors told us that because it was a non-partisan race and because of the mechanical limitations of the machines, the names had to be so placed on the ballot so that all voters, regardless of party affiliation, could vote in the board of education race. They also said, "We've always done it that way."

A far better way, in our opinion, would have been to have the four candidates listed on both the Democrat and Republican lines (as they did in the case of Judge Fred Thayer). The few independent citizens who voted could have cast a paper ballot.

To look at the situation in a broader sense, in this day of incredible technology we believe that the mechanical voting machine is a dinosaur. It falls into the same category as the slide rule for engineers and the mechanical typewriter for writers. Surely a voting machine, or voting computer terminal, could be designed that would be simple to operate, fail-safe against power failures, and give immediate results. Besides the problem this week with location of candidates on the ballot, we had to wait until 1 a.m. to get all of the results in, which was certainly not the fault of the poll workers, but of the antiquity of the technology. Computerization would provide the results with the push of a button.

Yes, such technology would be intimidating to some voters for a while; but probably no more than when we went from paper ballots to the present-day voting machines.

To the Editor:

To the person who stole a Super Nintendo game from the LWW garage sale last weekend, you took from a kid! The games were on sale for the benefit of the son of one of the league members. He paid a premium price for The Legend of Mystical Ninja with his own money, as he did for all his Nintendo and Super Nintendo games. He was only trying to recoup some of his investment. You stole from this kid.

If you have any pangs of guilt, any conscience whatever, you will return the game or fork over the $30 to P.O. Box 115, Oakland, MD 21550, no questions asked. Then you can get a good night's sleep and look yourself in the mirror once again.

September 8, 1994 was National Literacy Day. The Literacy Council of Garrett County would like to thank the following people for their help and efforts in spreading the word about literacy and making our book donation project a success: WKJJ Radio, The Republican newspaper, Weekend newspaper, Cumberland Times News, The Book Market, Fred Herath, Phil and Dee Ann Fischer, Karen and Wayne Seihamer, Garrett County Health Department's Sally Boone and the Community Outreach Team, Wayne Caple and the Department of Natural Resources, JIPA, Dept. of Social Services, The Ruth Enlow Library, all the volunteer tutors and the countless patrons that are enjoying the books.

The books were donated to Garrett County via the Literacy Council from Baltimore Read. It is through compassionate organizations and people like the ones mentioned above that literacy can be overcome and the joy of reading can be experienced by everyone. A warm thank you to those that assist in our mission. If an organization or individual would like a box of books for their patrons or community members, please call the Literacy Council of Garrett County at 334-8606 or just stop by and browse through our selection. We are located in the back of the Ruth Enlow Library in Oakland. Again, thank you to all of our supporters. You are appreciated.

Once again school is in session and my grandchildren are still walking around that dangerous curve after you pass the Dilly Road. Except now there are four instead of three.

There has already been one death this year which made me cry and made me think a lot. Surely there is some place safer for all those children who have to walk that road. What will happen once winter comes and they can no longer walk in the ditches?

If anything happens to one of my grandchildren, I don't know what I would do, but if the parents didn't sue the school board, I sure would. There has got to be a better solution to this problem. I don't think I am the only one worried about this.

I lost it last week when yet another government employee told me what to do. Put the brown glass in the container for brown glass, the clear glass in the container marked clear glass, and the newspaper in the bin marked newspaper. To the Editor:

The attempted unionization at Garrett County Memorial Hospital has turned into a time consuming battleground between those who feel they should be represented by the union and those who do not. It is unfortunate that lines have been drawn and friendships ended due to this issue.

To those who think the union is only going to provide you with collective bargaining please take the time to read over the union's bylaws and constitution. I think you'll be surprised to see how little power you will have and how much power the local and international presidents will have. Specifically, read over Article 23 - Collective Bargaining Contracts. You will find that while you may submit initial proposals for a collective bargaining contract to a representative designated by the president of the local union, the president's representative will meet with our employer. The constitution simply states that the status of meetings with the employer will be reported as regular.

ly as practical" to the members. Stated nowhere in the constitution is anything about a representative from each department being able to sit down at the negotiating table with the union rep and hospital administration.

Did you know that your input is not required in order for the union to begin contract negotiations with hospital administration? What happens if the contract being negotiated offers us less pay and/or benefits than we currently have and you vote to reject the contract? What is our status? The truth is that it's too late to change your mind about union representation. In order to get back out from under the union once voted in to represent you in collective bargaining, you must wait one year to begin costly decertification proceedings at your own expense. In the meantime, you could be ordered by the international president to strike - no pay, no benefits. Refuse, and you will be dealt with per Article 26 of the Constitution - Disciplinary Proceedings. All the angles are covered in the constitution for self preservation of the union.

The union organizing committee wants guarantees in writing from hospital administration; but what guarantees in writing do you have from the union? I haven't seen any yet and feel confident that if there were any, they would be well publicized. It's obvious that union reps are leading you down a one-way path and misleading you into thinking that the union is the way to empowerment. Working through our Employee Committee will give you more of a voice to administration than working through the maze of the union's hierarchy.

Please think carefully and factually before you vote. Just do it - vote no.

Nutrition In Our School Lunches

The following was taken from a radio interview conducted recently with Ann Sherrard, Dietitian with the Garrett County Health Department.

Undernutrition impacts the behavior of children, their school performance, and their overall cognitive development. Undernourished children are more susceptible to illness and therefore more likely to be absent from school. Children who attend school hungry have diminished attention spans and are unable to perform tasks as well as their nourished peers. The 1994-95 Garrett County school year has brought changes in the local school lunch program, with a recommended standard of no more than 30% of calories from fat being met in this year's menus. This is currently a well-recognized goal with a lot of people now trying to watch fat intake or fat calories.

To meet the goal of 30% of calories from fat, a menu planning session was organized to set up a six-week menu that will be cycled through the school year. Items that were high in fat were omitted or used only occasionally. Next, the menu was analyzed using a computer program called Nutritionist IV to determine exactly how much of each nutrient was in each day's food items. Changes occurred in one of three ways, including: 1.) ordering different brands of a particular food, such as this year's fish sandwich, with lightly breaded fish with less fat, being used; 2.) putting new items on the menu, including a chicken fajita, turkey burger, and grilled chicken strips with dip; or 3.) changing recipes to use ingredients with less fat.

To determine that there is only 30% of calories from fat in each menu, a time consuming process involving entering hundreds of products into the computer was used. The process involved obtaining the nutrient information from the manufacturers or from the data base of computer program if the food was common. From entering item by item, a total for each day's menu and a total for each week was determined. Once the analysis was completed, it became relatively easy to add new items or make minor changes simply by deleting and adding the new information.

This is not the first time changes have been made in the lunch program. Two years ago, a look at the a-la-carte program, sold in the middle and high schools separately from the regular lunch meal, made sure that only food items with good nutritional value were offered. Following that change, participation in the program increased and the students responded positively to the changes. Because of that experience, Garrett County's program is optimistic about the success of the new menu items.

The USDA guidelines state that the 30% of calories from fat goal for all schools in the nation should be in place by the year 1998. Garrett County was able to reach this goal by 1994 because of the Board of Education's Food Service Advisory Committee, that addressed the issue of nutritional value of meals during the past year. This particular project was made possible by a nutrition grant through the Garrett County Health Department that paid for the computer analysis completed by Jennifer Thorn, a dietetic student at WVU.

For the future, Garrett County's program organizers would like to see the number of students, choosing to eat the school lunch, increase. Studies have shown that packed lunches often don't have the same nutritional value or the variety of school lunches and they also almost always cost more than the price of a school lunch. Mrs. Sherrard said she would like to encourage parents and students to check the new menu frequently and to give the new foods a try.

School Days Return

Big, yellow schoolbuses make their way across our country roads once again. School is in, and summer is all but over. Enough days have passed that it feels like routine. For my wife, that means rising at 5:00 a.m. and leaving the house an hour and a quarter later.

Our two girls both attend middle school this year, and must be headed up the lane by quarter 'til seven. I get up before six, and try to have my chores done in time to have 15 minutes with Deborah over a cup of coffee, often the only time we have to talk about anything until we go to bed. I tell her we might as well have dairy cows. She isn't so sure.

Nicholas is the only one who keeps something like banker's hours. If he hasn't gotten up himself, I call him at quarter past seven. He and I have breakfast, get ready for the day, and then read together until he has to get on the bus at 8:15. That is usually a happy hour.

On the first day of school I was at the end of the lane waiting for the bus, camera in hand. Actually, I was a quarter-mile down the road at my brother's driveway. My niece also goes to middle school, so I took one picture of the three girls together. An hour and a half later I was back to capture on film my son and two nephews. The later shot did not go so well this year. On the first day of school I expect the busdriver to run a few minutes behind. The boys' driver was punctual, perhaps a minute or two early. We had a little trouble getting them loaded on time.

I am an emotional person, and must wipe away a tear or two each first day of school. The middle years of life seem vast to me. Of growing old I cannot speak, but the years of growing up pass swiftly, and soon are gone. Standing there waving at the diminishing sight of that children-laden, yellow box, I prayed that they might receive the best that school can offer, and, somehow, avoid the worst that wanders the hallways.

The reports were mixed from those first few days. I guess everybody-- parents, teachers and children most immediately-holds their collective breath. It is as if one mixed ingredients for a cake, and then baked it for 180 days, and hoped for the best.

We have one child who needs a lot of challenge to keep from being bored. Another child was attending a new school, and riding a bus with all older kids. The third learns with his ears more than with his eyes, not an easy thing to accommodate in an institution largely oriented to the written word.

On the third day, anxieties diminished; tensions were relieved. As a family we began to feel the year would be all right. With that feeling there is a lot of commitment in our household to make things go right. Besides the book lessons there are the lessons of life. How does one deal with inappropriate remarks made on the bus? How does one manage to be polite and cooperative even when one feels miserable and, perhaps, hard done by? And as parents, how do we help our children work toward right answers instead of just delivering them as known quantities?

Last Friday night, after three days of school, we sat as a family on the back steps of the house, and watched clouds on the northern horizon. The sun had already set, but the cloud captured the rays of the sun still setting on a more distant horizon. The clouds radiated a smoky redness.

In a few minutes the clouds in the north were dark, as if someone had turned off the lights. But then other lights came into them, this time from the other side of the clouds. A thunder storm travelled down the Susquehanna River. The river's nearest point is 10 miles away from our home. We could not hear the thunder, so the storm must have been even farther away. Lightning projected onto the clouds. We watched a display as impressive as any fireworks on the Fourth of July.

Our children are a little like those northern clouds, reflecting the sunsets and the storms of their days away from home. There is beauty, trauma, and even glory to observe and to take into account. The school buses come, and the school buses go, ordinary, plain, moderately uncomfortable, carrying treasures from and to our homes. School has begun.

and I have no idea if you will take the time or space to publish my letter, but even if you never print this letter, I'll know that I have written it and have paid my small tribute to a man whom I respected as much as any other man in my 40 years of life.

To the Editor:

Me again. Sorry, but I'm a thinker, and I like to put my thoughts on paper. I encourage other people to write to the editor. I don't want to monopolize the space.

We are so blessed. In our modern world, we have so many conveniences, and so much technology. We have a lifestyle that affords much luxury.

On the other hand, our world is full of violence; drugs, alcohol, problems, homeless people.

But I see another problem that doesn't get publicity in the news media. People don't have time for each other. Talk is cheap, some folks say. What do they mean? Life is so fast. Everyone is in a rush. No one has time to talk. So talk is not cheap because time is valuable.

Time is a most valuable commodity. I want to thank everyone who takes time for me. Thanks, Wilma, for your help and kindness, and for handling my mail.

My original poem: Time for others, We should take. Sisters and brothers, Good friends make.

Neighbor near,
A friend dear,
We need each other,

People are precious;
Let's have patience.

To the Editor:

Below you will find a list of concerned employees of Garrett County Memorial Hospital. As other employees have done we feel we must speak out. We feel our specific concerns, views, rights, and FUTURE are not being considered. We realize that troubled times have befallen GCMH; however, things were done to secure the future of Garrett County Memorial Hospital, its patients, and most of all, our continued jobs.

We, however, feel these times will pass and with dedication, continued effort, and determination to improve, we will survive. We feel the strength lies within us working TOGETHER as a whole rather than allowing a group of strangers who truly don't realize our needs and who can't possibly truly care handle our concerning issues.

Everyone is talking about the past. It was this way when that person was here and this began when that person came. Health care was different at that time. Has anyone thought to consider where these people are now and how the facilities are doing where they are? How quickly some have forgotten the improved issues that have been allowed us in the past. How many have benefitted from the educational assistance program? How many have profited from the financial assistance of Wepco? How many enjoy the freedom of an open door working relationship with their department heads, supervisors, and, YES, administration?

Benefits have changed; however, question many other hospitals, as well as other businesses, to see how many have also experienced the same. Job security also worries us; however, in this age of health care and its future everyone from top physician specialists to nurses to administrators and on down the ladder, have no specific security.

One giant accomplishment through the banding of employees, without outside help, was realized in 1988. This was the year the Foundation was formed. Employees made the initial pledges of money to the Foundation. $81,348.00 was realized from this effort. Somehow the comradery of that event and more have been forgotten. We all realized then that, even though many rural hospitals at that time were closing because of financial hardships, GCMH was finding ways to remain open and to expand services and equipment. Doesn't this remind us we can make it together? We set the way for such an extended flood of pledges which have given the community, our families, and ourselves excellent medical care and have possibly attributed to the length of our current jobs. Maybe without the effort, lay-offs and extensive cutbacks would have affected us sooner.

We're sure about some, but the money we make is ours and we don't want someone to take part of it to make decisions for us. We must search and work together to find our own resources to best meet everyone's needs. Some say a YES vote on September 30, 1994 would only be for collective bargaining. Collective bargaining, what does that really mean? To make confident decisions don't we need to know the complete depthness and vastness of each aspect of running a hospital? Do any of us completely understand all the restrictions and fundamentals of the Cost Review Commission, Federal and State regulations, JCAHO, OSHA, HICFA, the list goes on and on?

Are we prepared to accept the stress, the worry, the time, the work and most importantly the consequences of such decisions which are ultimately effected by these agencies? If I'm not going to be a union member at that voting time, why would these people choose to bargain on my behalf? I'm nothing to them. Something doesn't sound quite right. We must open our eyes, wipe out all the sleep, wake-up, and look at ALL the issues. Once in the union means for good. If we then discover and find, "Oh, what have we done," the decertification burden, financial, emotional, and legal will be on our shoulders and could ultimately cause our destruction.

CHOICES!! We all have them. We must consider what we can do. Our future is ours and what we believe in. This list of employees have chosen to band together. To work, to survive, and to prove victorious as the darkness lifts without the help of Union Local 27.

Thanks, but no thanks, for your help!

To the Editor:

Listen up, employees at Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

I think you had better stand back and take a look at what we all have at this hospital. For you employees who are so unhappy, why not get a job where you can be happy? As for the rest of us, we would like to get back to the jobs we are quite content with. I would like to see some of us go out and find another job that offers what we already have here at G.C.M.H. We could not do it; you all had better stop and think about it! All of us had better look down the road a few years. I am thinking that some employees would like to see the hospital go under. (Who would have jobs then?)

For you employees who want a union, why not take the money that you are willing to pay in union dues and give it back to the hospital that gave it to you? Those who don't care if the hospital closes because it doesn't cut back are those who have other incomes. I only have myself. I have worked at this hospital for almost 20 years and in my time, I have seen a lot of changes and am prepared to see a lot more. I believe it is for the best for the hospital and us. If we don't go with change, there won't be a need for us because there won't be a hospital to come to.

Think about it employees: do we have it so bad? I think not. If you didn't have a job at G.C.M.H. could you have what you have now? If you answer yes, I can see why you want a union. You say the union can give us job security (let's get real). No one can do that; no one. Will the union give you that in writing? No, they cannot do that.

Let's look at our benefits: we have sick time, vacation, insurance. Is the union going to give us better benefits? If they are promising this, where is the money going to come from? Is the union going to pay for us to have better benefits? The only thing we are going to get from the union is dues.

Also, I would like to know why four non-employees signed the letter to the editor (get real).

Now for administration: you say that no one would listen. This is not true! Mr. Rosenthal himself attended employee committee meetings and held talk-a-thons. At the talk-a-thons, did you get up and say anything? If you did, he did listen. I really don't believe that you all listened to Mr. Rosenthal. Did anyone think to mention that Mr. Rosenthal gave us an hourly wage increase of one dollar when the hospital saw fit to change insurance companies? We, the employees, choose to spend this money however we see fit. I guess you all forgot that.

As for the waiting room outside of surgery, I think it is really nice. (Keep up the good work). The pictures that are going around in the hospital are crazy and untrue. Why not ask Mr. Rosenthal for bad or good pictures? I am sure he could find you all better ones.

Sincerely,
Mary Brown,
G.C.M.H. Laundry Dept.

To the Editor:

During this highly charged political season many of us are deluged with survey requests seeking our opinions, and our money, by a wide verity of organizations actively involved in the political process. Nearly all (and at least one of the major political parties), recognize the fact that our system of governance, starting with the way we select and elect our leaders, to, and including, their usual duplicitous actions in the house and senate, is woefully in need of major, meaningful change. Nothing less than the survival of our nation as a world leader and our own individual lifestyles is at stake here. We cannot continue for long on the course our politicians (in both parties) have placed us on without reaping the whirlwind of an "economic Armageddon" in the midst of the greatest marketplace the world has ever known. This should never have been a possibility even; but that's where we're headed, make no mistake about it, thanks to the duplicity, greed and often stupid actions of our political leaders who are fundamentally career politicians but display none of the qualities that even begin to define professionalism.

What can we as concerned citizens do to induce an orderly progression of greatly needed change in those who govern and their methods of doing so? First, we must judge those whom we have placed in office, and are now asking for our votes again, by a higher standard than we have in the past. What have they done to deserve our continued support? Have they used the system to their own best advantage, and to bring home the "Pork" to their local constituents, or have they honestly tried to change an obviously flawed system in the best interests of the country and all its people? Incumbents who fail this simple test should be turned out of office regardless of party affiliation.

Second, we must all work to institute Term Limitations at all levels of government, including all elected and appointed offices. This is the only way to insure the needed systemic changes in our institutions. Career politicians have a vested interest in maintaining and perpetuating the status quo. This must change or our nations standing in the world, and our standard of living will continue to erode.

An attitude that promotes the simple fact that most incumbents are the problem, not the solution, is undoubtedly the best "rule of thumb" a voter today can take with her/him into the voter's booth in November.

Respectfully yours,
Ronald R. Rowan

As an employee of Garrett County Memorial Hospital, I would like to urge all my co-workers to vote on September 30th on the matter concerning the union local 27. I will not tell you how to vote, that is your business! However, I know how I am voting. I only urge each employee to think and pray about this situation before voting. Can we afford to have any more money taken out of our pockets? This is an economic slump we are having. Other businesses are affected too, not just G.C.M.H. Remember too, the upcoming election in November. Your vote is what will help make this country a better place to live.

My grandfather, Joe, is truly the nicest man on earth. A person that nobody in the world could actually forget. He is the kind of guy that when you talk to, or just look at, makes you laugh or smile. If you are in a bad mood about anything, he'll be the one to change that. His dark, fluffy hair and brown, twinkling eyes create the face of the Most Beautiful Person in Garrett County. My grandfather is a joyful, warm, caring man. If I had the choice of giving up my life for him, I wouldn't think twice about doing it. I know my grandfather, the man who always wears a suit, deserves anything, and

Thank you to the people who voted for him in the contest and a special thanks to the Maryland You Are Beautiful committee.

To the Editor:

I want to see acknowledgment and to thank all the fantastic staff at Garrett County Memorial Hospital who offered me incredibly skillful attention from the moment I presented myself at the emergency room throughout the next days while I was released and transferred to Mon General in Morgantown, W.Va. Everyone who cared for me, day and night, from nursing staff to my own Dr. Jerry Adams, cared for me with great professionalism and teamwork as well as unlimited sensitivity to the needs of one suddenly stricken ill far from home. I thank them all for their science and humanity.

Gratefully,

GCC Gallery To Exhibit Mayan Textiles

An exhibit of Mayan textiles from the collection of Marilyn M. Moors, Friendsville, will be displayed in the Bausch & Lomb Gallery of Garrett Community College during September. The colorful textiles were collected by Ms. Moors, professor emerita of anthropology, Montgomery College, during trips to Guatemala in the 1970's and 1980's.

The public is invited to the opening night reception and introductory lecture by Prof. Moors on Saturday, September 17 at 7 p.m. Gallery hours are Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and weekends and evenings during special events.

The weavers of these textiles are Maya-speaking Indians from Guatemala. Maya Indians also inhabit southern Mexico, Belize, and the north coast of Honduras, comprising one of the largest groups of indigenous native people in the western hemisphere. Weaving is a skill and an art form for the Maya which predates the Spanish conquest of that area in 1524 A.D. Mayan women wove textiles for trade with the Aztecs before the arrival of the Spanish.

The pieces in this exhibit are of two basic types: blouses, belts and hairbands made by Mayan women on backstrap looms, a weaving process which predates the conquest; and skirts and other larger pieces woven by the Spanish after the conquest. The women's work features designs, figures, and motifs which are painstakingly worked into the weaving process. The men's work contains examples of jaspé, where warp threads are tie-dyed before weaving is started to form intricate patterns when the weaving is done.

Moors, a graduate of Jackson College at Tufts University (B.A.) and the George Washington University (M.A.), retired from Montgomery College in

A guest presentation and reception will be held on Saturday, Sept. 17, from 7-9 p.m., to which the public is invited. CHURCH NEWS

The Mt. Zion United Methodist church held fall revival services last Sunday through Tuesday evening. The Rev. Ellis Harvey, Swanton, was the evangelist for the services. Kim Tichnell, Jennifer Harvey, and Pastor Bill and Sylvia Brown provided special music.

COMMUNITY NEWS

A town meeting was held last Thursday evening at the fire hall to discuss possible solutions about the dangers of Backbone Mountain and runaway tractor trailers. K.C. Keith, a State Highway Administration official, and a representative from the Maryland State Police listened to suggestions from the residents. A video was shown about an innovative "catch" net, called the Drag-net and marketed by a New York firm. The net stopped fast-moving cars or large trucks "with a minimum of jack-knifing or load shifts." Besides the state-of-the-art construction sites, solutions such as ramps, slower speeds, and the remote three-lane highway were offered.

A committee that was formed to work with Keith to explore possible locations for safety devices and improvements met with him last Friday. The committee gave Keith several suggestions on locations which have to be studied before any other steps can be taken.

The Bloomington Awareness Group will hold a "Weekend in Bloomington" Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, Sept. 16-18.

On Friday evening, there will be a decorated bicycle contest beginning at 6 p.m. Children of the Bloomington, Backbone Mountain, and Savage River area are invited to participate.

Saturday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. there will be a craft bazaar at the Bloomington fire hall. Saturday will be Town-Wide Yard Sale Day. The Garrett County Health Department will be at the fire hall Saturday to take blood pressures and have activities for the children.

Sunday, September 18, will be the seventh annual community picnic for residents and former residents of Bloomington, Backbone Mountain, and Savage River area. The picnic will begin at 1 p.m. on the Bloomington School grounds. Meat, soft drinks, plates, napkins and eating utensils will be furnished. Those attending are asked to bring a covered dish and a dessert.

Bloomington Community Health Day will be held September 21 from 7 to 9 a.m. at the fire hall. The event, which is being co-sponsored by the Wellness Together Program of Garrett County Memorial Hospital and the Garrett County Health Department, will feature various health screenings including cholesterol blood testing, a basic cholesterol level measurement or lipid profile blood testing, and a more comprehensive test that indicates good and bad cholesterol levels. Persons desiring more information about the Community Health Day may contact 334-2155, ext. 408 or 334-8111, ext. 275.

Rams Lose Defensive Struggle To Undefeated Falcons, 7-0

The season opener for the Southern High School varsity football team Friday evening at home against the Frankfort Falcons was a demonstration of two powerful defensive units clashing head to head, but unfortunately for the Rams, the only seven points of the contest when it was all over belonged to the undefeated Falcons. The game ended with the Rams just six yards away from paydirt.

First-game mistakes by the Rams, such as dropped punts and kickoffs, and fumbles resulted in terrible field position throughout most of the first half and led to Frankfort's only touchdown. A Ram fumble in the second quarter gave the Falcons the ball on Southern's 13-yard line, from which it took three plays to score, as quarterback Shane Corwell hit Jonathan Lucas with a seven-yard touchdown pass. Brandon Harden booted the extra point.

The staunch Southern defense, which held the area's top rusher to date (Harden) to just 51 yards on 19 carries, prevented the powerful Falcon offense from scoring four times that they had the ball in Ram territory. On two of those occasions, Frankfort had the ball inside Southern's 20 and once with a first and goal at the two-yard line.

The Southern defensive unit stiffened on the latter occasion and forced Harden to try a 28-yard field goal, which was just slightly past the left of the goal posts.

On Frankfort's scoring play with about nine minutes left in the first half, Corwell's pass was tipped at the line of scrimmage, but Lucas was able to haul it in for the touchdown. Jared Grady set up the 13-yard drive by recovering a Ram fumble.

The Falcon defense was equally impressive, as Southern started their first-half drives on their own 25, 17, 16, 32, and 20, and did not record a first down until the eight minute mark of the second quarter. The Rams recorded only 22 yards of offense in the entire first half. "We were so deep in our own territory, we were afraid to throw the ball or attempt the option," stated Coach Woods. "Unfortunately, we turned it over several times anyway."

However, Woods and his staff were encouraged when, after all of the mistakes and lack of offensive production in the first half, the Rams were down only 7-0 and Harden, who came into the contest with an incredible 221-yard per game average from the previous two weeks, had been held to just 16 yards on 11 carries.

Corwell, Frankfort's starting quarterback, had also left the game in the first half because of a shoulder injury and did not return after intermission.

The Southern defensive unit got a deserved rest in the third period, as the Ram offense maintained possession of the ball for almost the entire quarter, but could not score. One drive from their own 20 to the Falcon 34 was stopped because of a holding call.

While the Falcons did not score again, they put together a key drive in the Cow Patty Bingo Set At Southern

The Southern Garrett Athletic Association is sponsoring a Cow Patty Bingo game, to be held Saturday, Sept. 24, at 7 p.m. on the Southern High School athletic field.

The owner of the Bingo square upon which the "patty" falls will win a cash prize of $1,000. Tickets may be purchased from SGAA members or at Southern football and soccer games for $2 each or three for $5.

Persons need not be present to win the grand prize, but those in attendance will be eligible to win several other prizes that will be awarded throughout the evening.

All proceeds from the event will benefit the many and various athletic programs at Southern High School.

GAINING GROUND was tough for both teams Friday night on the Southern High School gridiron, as the Rams and the Frankfort Falcons went head to head defensively and produced less than 300 yards of combined offensive yardage between them. Above, Southern quarterback Jeremy Fitzwater, who had had his front teeth knocked out earlier in the day in an accident at school and had them quickly repaired in Morgantown, finds some running room between a pair of Falcon defenders. Other Rams identifiable in the photo are Adam Moomau, #23, and Scott Dawson, #41. It was the opener for the Rams, who were edged 7-0, while it was the third win in as many starts this year for Frankfort.

fourth period that consumed nearly seven minutes of the period, leaving little time for the Ram offense.

Southern did get the ball back on its own 20 with 5:15 remaining, and senior quarterback Jeremy Fitzwater, who had had some of his teeth knocked out just hours before the game in an accident during school, engineered a drive that included some of his own power running on the option. Scott Dawson, who led the Rams' rushing effort with 59 yards on 21 carries, had a 14-yard run on a fourth down and one situation that moved the ball to the Falcon 29.

Elias Black then made a diving catch of a Fitzwater aerial at the 13-yard line, and Fitzwater followed with a five-yard run with about 40 seconds remaining. A third down pass was incomplete and a scrambling Fitzwater was dropped on the final play of the game.

Dawson, John Hinebaugh, and Seth Tressler were defensive standouts for the Rams, while J.P. McCullough and Steve Morgret recorded 11 and 10 tackles, respectively, for the Falcons (3-0).

Leading Frankfort's rushing was fullback Brandon Grady with 57 yards on nine attempts. Frankfort finished with only 147 yards of total offense, while the Rams managed just 139.

"Unfortunately for us, this was a typical opening game, with mistakes and fumbles," Woods said, "and it was their third game. We knew that their experience was the most dangerous situation for us."

"But we were pleased that our team maintained its composure throughout the entire game," he said. "We were patient and waited for our opportunities. Unfortunately, we needed another 30 seconds or so on the clock."

A major loss for the Rams is that of senior tailback David Crocco, who learned this week that he has a bone chip against his spinal chord and cannot take the risk of playing for the rest of the season.

"The loss of Dave takes away one of our major offensive weapons," Woods said, "but more importantly, I really hate it for David. He's a strong, tough player who really loves the game."

The Rams will have to re-group and plan for another tough contest this week when they host an always talented Musselman team. The Applemen are currently 1-1, having rolled over Keyser, 42-19, and falling to a powerful Martinsburg team last week, 35-22.

As usual, the offense of Musselman features great speed at the skill positions and the return of its entire offensive line from last season, however, Woods said that the Applemen are not running the ball as much as

FIRST SHS HALL OF FAMERS INDUCTED - The Southern Garrett Ram Football Hall of Fame was initiated this year by the SHS Athletic Department and the first six inductees were named during special pre-game ceremonies Friday night on the Southern athletic field. Pictured left to right are honorees Alfred "Blue" Marucci, Ron Colaw, George Corliss, Paul Cornish, Brent Sanders, and Zack Gibson. Marucci was named as the contributor honoree, while the others, along with Scott Colaw who could not be present, were named for their superior performances on the Southern gridiron during their high school years. Ron Colaw, who went on to play for the West Virginia University Mountaineers on scholarship, was honored as one of the most outstanding running backs at Southern, as were Cornish and Sanders, who set numerous school records. Scott Colaw, who was awarded a full scholarship to the University of Pennsylvania, and Corliss were honored for their outstanding defensive play, while Gibson, who played collegiate scholarship ball for national champion Indiana University of Pennsylvania, was honored as a quarterback, but was also recognized for his superior record as a safety. The honorees were selected by a special committee, which will meet on an annual basis and add players to the Hall of Fame each season.

Huskies Defeated In Opener By Golden Tornado, 41-22

An excited Northern High School football crowd, anxious for the Huskies' season opener to get underway, was silenced quickly Friday evening at the Cove when Keyser's Corey Shoemaker was handed the ball on the Golden Tornado's first play from scrimmage, broke through the center of the Northern defense, and raced 76 yards for a touchdown.

Things would get worse for the Huskies, as they found themselves down 21-0 in the second quarter and would give up the ball five times on five fumbles to the Keyser team, which had come into the contest having already played two games.

However, Coach Tom Vent and the young Husky team did not quit, and came back to put three touchdowns of their own on the board before dropping the contest, 41-22.

Shoemaker's touchdown was no good, but Keyser took advantage of one of Northern's fumbles to set up another six-pointer, which Aaron Sanders recorded on a three-yard run. Shoemaker, who recorded 142 yards on a dozen carries for the evening, ran for the two-point conversion to give the visitors a 14-0 lead.

Chance Twyman, who finished the game with 89 yards on 10 carries, scored next for Keyser, this time on a 19-yard gallop, and Robert Redman successfully booted the extra point.

The Huskies responded with a 64-yard touchdown

FINDING PLENTY OF ROOM TO RUN on this play was Northern Husky Brian Heslop, whose efforts last Friday evening against visiting Keyser included a 64-yard touchdown run. It was not enough for the Huskies, though, as they turned the ball over five times on fumbles and lost the game, 41-22. The contest was Keyser's third of the season and the first for Coach Tom Vent's squad. Other Huskies in the photo include #77, Steve Savage, throwing a key block; #52, Doug Sines; and #79, William Spicher. (#51 is not listed on the Northern roster.)

run by sophomore tailback Brian Heslop, who gained a total of 125 yards on 13 carries. Jeremy Brenneman ran for the two-pointer to make it 21-8 at halftime.

A halfback option pass from Shoemaker to Josh Gordon resulted in a 29-yard touchdown play and Redman's kick put Keyser up 28-8 and conclude the scoring in the third period.

Twyman then scored two more touchdowns early in the fourth period on runs of 12 and 31 yards, with Redman missing the extra-point kick on the first one and hitting the second one to wrap up Keyser's scoring.

The Huskies reached double figures midway through the final stanza when Nick Mitchell connected with D.J. Durst on a 22-yard touchdown pass. Mitchell also ran for the conversion.

Zack Leverenz broke loose for an 11-yard touchdown run late in the game for the Huskies to conclude the scoring, as the run for the extra two points was stopped short.

Keyser (1-2) finished with 381 yards of total offense, while the Huskies recorded 293. Northern held a 10-8 edge in first downs.

Vent noted the outstanding play of Heslop, Steve Savage, and Lee Collins.

Four of the five Northern fumbles led directly to scores for Keyser.

"We were really tough on ourselves," Coach Vent said. "Our turnovers killed us; plus the fact that they already had two games under their belts was a real advantage for them."

"We are a very young team that has had a lot of junior varsity experience, but not much varsity experience," Vent said. "The Huskies lost all but three starters from last season's 7-3 squad to graduation."

"But I don't like to make excuses, so we are going to stay positive and do all we can to stay motivated," Vent added.

The next test for the young Huskies will be this Friday night on the road, all the way to Montgomery County, where they will take on Poolesville, a team that Northern routed 40-0 last year. But Vent was quick to point out that the Poolesville team appears to be considerably different this year.

"Last year they were like we are this year; pretty young and inexperienced," he said, "but they have almost everyone back this year. And again, we were an experienced team a year ago. So there is no way we can take this team lightly."

Poolesville opened last Friday with a 15-0 loss to a formidable Brunswick team. They are led by an excellent tailback in T.J. Williams and an outstanding 6-4, 240-pound senior lineman.

Vent said his team is "generally healthy" with the exception of some flu virus experienced by some of his players early this week.

"We have played a lot better on the road the past few years," Vent said. "I hope we can continue to do that this week."

"It took a long time to get our kids unaccustomed to losing," he said, "and we will do everything we can to make sure that we don't slip back into that attitude. We're anxious to play."

The kickoff at Poolesville is set for 7:30 p.m.

Ram Booters Fall To Campers, Then Roll Over Huskies, 8-0

The Southern High varsity soccer team dropped a 2-0 decision to visiting Allegany last Thursday evening, but then recorded its first win of the season by blanking host Northern Tuesday night, 8-0. The split left the Rams with a 1-2 record.

The outcome of Thursday's game against Allegany was not indicative of the caliber of play, as the Rams out-shot the Campers by a margin of almost two-to-one and had three times as many corner kicks.

Darrin Isom led the offensive effort of the Campers of Allegany Thursday night, as he recorded a hat trick and also had two assists. His three goals and one of those assists all came in the first half.

Southern scored first following a throw in by Steve Goralski about five minutes into the game. The ball went through the hands of the Allegany goalkeeper Josh Jordan and onto the foot of Kevin Andrews, who directed it into the net.

Isom responded with a goal at the 22:48 mark to tie the score, scored his second on with 16:49 left in the half, and then recorded his third on an assist from Sean Lutmer with just over 10 minutes remaining.

Isom then fed Lutmer who scored Allegany's fourth goal to make it a 4-1 lead at halftime.

Andrews cut the Campers' lead to 4-2 a few minutes into the second half when he took a crossing pass from Derek Spirk and fired the ball into the far left side of the net.

Lutmer, Mark Harbaugh, and Chris Kellmeyer each scored a goal for Allegany in the second half, with Harbaugh's being recorded on a direct kick after a pushing foul.

"We're making mistakes that are clear indicators of our relative youth and inexperience," stated Coach Tom Powers. "This is only our second year at the varsity level, while most of our opponents have been playing for many years. But our goal is to improve with each game so we will be peaking for the playoffs at the end of the season."

Jordan was credited with 14 saves for Allegany, while Andrew Granke had 13 for the Rams.

The Southern junior varsity team was defeated in the preliminary game, 6-0.

In Tuesday night's win over host Northern, Goralski opened the scoring for the Rams with a diving header following up on a corner kick from Andrews just over seven minutes into the game.

Matt Sincell netted the second goal after picking off a loose ball to the right of the Huskies' goal.

Sincell nailed goal number three after a smash shot by Spirk bounced off the hands of Northern keeper Chris Elliott.

The Rams made it 4-0 just before halftime when Goralski picked up a loose ball inside the penalty area and jammed it through the pack in front of the net.

A 40-yard direct kick over a wall of defenders by Spirk opened the second half, giving the Rams a 5-0 lead. Two minutes later Spirk fed Meghan Dabney, who was open at the back post. Dabney made history by sending the ball into the net and thus scoring the first goal ever by a female player in Garrett County high school soccer.

With about eight minutes remaining, Andrews crossed a ball in front of the net once again to Dabney, who scored her second goal of the evening.

The eighth and final goal was recorded with about a minute remaining in the game when Spirk crossed the ball, which glanced off the post to Dan Nelson, who then re-directed and scored.

"We didn't make nearly as many mistakes on defense," Powers said. "Joey DiSimone is really beginning to understand the sweeper position, Jay Ferguson is just plain tough, Josh Presley gave us some good long-ball transitions, and C.T. Granke's speed against their attack all added up to give us our first shutout.

Southern keeper Justin Helbig recorded 13 saves, while Elliott was credited with 21.

"Justin Helbig, who started at keeper for only the second time in his soccer career, did a fine job," Powers said. "We held well at the midfield where Adam Chorpennings and Jeff Myers' speed had them constantly reacting to us, which helped create chances for other players to put the ball into the net."

Northern Coach Tom Ables could not be reached this morning for comment on the game.

The Northern junior varsity team won the preliminary contest, 2-1. Derek Berger and Matt Fletcher scored one goal each for the Huskies, while Jesse Ashby recorded the Rams' goal.

The Rams will play again this evening at home against perennial power Fort Hill, with kickoff set for 7:30 p.m. They will play at Beall next Thursday.

Coach Tom Ables' Huskies, 0-3, will go after their first win next Tuesday against visiting Salisbury and then host Westmar next Thursday.

Three Aces In One Day Recorded At Oakland Course

Not once, not two, but three holes-in-one were recorded at the Oakland Golf Course on Friday, Aug. 26, according to Wheeler Stewart, Oakland Golf Club professional.

Col. Richard Browning, Sang Run, carded an ace on the par-three, #3 hole with a seven-wood club. The shot was about 180 yards, Stewart said.

Frank Lancelotta, Deep Creek Lake, scored his hole-in-one on hole #10, also a par-three hole. He used a three-iron for the 200-yard shot.

The third ace was recorded by Ben Stork, Belle Vernon, Pa., who used a five-wood on the 165-yard hole #9.

Husky Booters Whipped By Beall

The Northern High School varsity soccer team is still looking for its first win, after being pounded by host Beall last Thursday night, 11-1, and then losing to county rival Southern Tuesday evening, 8-0, on the Huskies' field (see separate story).

Brad Thomas scored four goals and had an assist for Beall, Chris Young finished with three goals, and Chris Peterson, Tom Vogtman, Ron Bittinger, Tim Neumark, and Mike Pressman each scored one, while Frederick Oberg scored the only goal for the Huskies.

The Huskies were out-shot by a nearly 4-1 margin (39-10), with goal keeper Chris Elliott making 26 saves. Neumark, who scored his goal on a penalty kick, had eight stops in the net for Beall.

Oberg's goal was recorded unassisted at the 13:32 mark of the first half.

The Mountaineers also led in corner kicks, 6-2. The win improved Beall's record to 1-0-1, while the Huskies fell to 0-2.

Ram Harriers Continue Winning, Place First In Quadrangulars

The Southern High School cross country teams picked up this season where they left off last season — winning.

Coch Carl Booth's boys' team, the defending Class A championship squad, raced victory in a quadrangular meet last Thursday at Northern and then captured first place among four teams again Tuesday on the home course at Broadford Park.

Meanwhile, the Southern girls' team, coached by Lou- is Newcomb, coasted to victory in the same two meets.

The Southern boys finished with 29 points last Thursday, while Beall placed second with 41, Northern was third with 59, and Bishop Walsh finished fourth with an incomplete score.

Southern's Nathan McBee shattered the Northern course record by 17 seconds, as he led the field with a time of 15 minutes, 38 seconds. His teammate Todd Howard also eclipsed the previous record by placing second just one second behind McBee.

Beall's Chris Hinkle and Ben Bowman finished third and fourth, respectively; Rich Bowser of Northern was fifth, Southern's Charlie Wesley placed sixth, and in past seasons. "They are about a 50-50 run pass team this year, so our defense has to be ready for everything, unlike last week when we knew that Frankfort was going to run the ball the whole night," Woods said.

The Musselman offense is led by its junior quarterback Chris Horner (5-11, 180), who started as a sophomore last year; senior flanker Chad Pullen (5-8, 165); junior slot Todd Davis (6-0, 160); and two big linemen in seniors Lonnie Faircloth (6-2, 220) at guard and Dee Gibson (6-4, 225) at tackle.

"They have excellent quickness and excellent size," Woods said.

The Applemen's 4-4 defense is anchored by Faircloth and Gibson at defensive end positions, plus senior tackle Matt Rephann (5-11, 260) and senior line-backer Chris Ennis (6-2, 200).

"Musselman is, as usual, a very well drilled team, and also has outstanding special teams," Woods said. "It should be an exciting football game, and one that we really need to win to rebuild our confidence."

Friday's kickoff at the Southern athletic field is set for 7:30 p.m.

Jets Rally To Defeat Steelers In Youth League

The Oakland Jets of the Mountain Top Youth Football League kept their record perfect on Saturday with a 21-6 come-from-behind victory over the Northern Steelers.

The teams exchanged possessions to start the game before the Steelers' 1 J. Snelling scampered 63 yards after breaking several tackles for the first score of the game. The PAT attempt failed.

The two teams again exchanged possessions in the second quarter before Lenny Ford blocked a Steeler punt which was recovered by Josh Bosley. On the next play, Cory Sister of the Steelers intercepted a Justin Miller pass and the Steelers had possession of the ball again. The half ended with the score 6-0 in favor of the Steelers.

The Jets took possession of the ball to start the second half and Bosley rambled 65 yards on the first play for an apparent TD. The play was called back on a penalty and the Jets were backed up five yards. Three plays later the Jets were forced to punt. The Jet defense stiffened and forced the Steelers to punt, but a muffed exchange gave the ball to the Jets on the Steeler 30-yard line. The Jets put together a nine-play drive that took the ball to the one foot line on runs by Jason Bowers, Bosley, and Keith Parks. On the first play of the third quarter the Jets scored on a one yard plunge by Bosley. A Miller to Parks pass was good for the PAT and the Jets led, 7-6.

The teams exchanged possessions and the tide of the game turned when a 40 yard Jordan Uphold punt pinned the Steelers at their own one yard line. Two plays later Ford recovered a Steeler fumble in the end zone for the second Jet TD. The PAT attempt failed.

The final score of the game after a Bowers interception gave the Jets the ball on their own 37-yard line. One the next play, Bowers broke loose for a 63-yard jaunt for the final TD. The conversion kick by Bosley was good for two points, which concluded the scoring.

Bowers led the Jets in offense with 111 yards on 14 carries. Snelling led the Steeler offense with over 150 yards rushing. Defensive standouts for the Jets were Ford, Bosley, Bowers, and Eric Rexrode.

Ryan Savage, Chris Kohler, Matt Settle, and P.J. Workman were defensive standouts for the Steelers.

Both teams are back in action this weekend, as the Steelers host the Terra Alta Dolphins at the Northern football field Saturday at 7 p.m., while the Jets will play the Parsons Vikings this Sunday, September 18, at 1:30 p.m. at the Southern stadium.

The Jets and Vikings are both undefeated.

WINNING THE 1994 CHAMPIONSHIP of the Tri-County Women's Softball League recently was this team sponsored by Mt. Top Glass. The women captured the title after falling into the losers' bracket and then winning five straight games, topping the Mettiki Smashers in the championship game. Kneeling, from the left, are: Mary Nelson, Missy DiSimone, Jenny Moats, and Karla Bray. In the second row, same order, are Deb Taylor and Diane Frederick. In the back, same order, are: Diane Donham, Elissa Rugg, Carolyn Tasker, Terry Chapman, assistant coach, Diane Arnett, Wendy Craver, and Angie McGinis. Not present for the photo were Coach Kurt Bucklew, Nina Ryan, Deb Swiger, and Julie Wilson. There are seven teams in the Tri-County League.

Championship Race Held At Meyersdale, Pa.

The 1994 Championship Races were held last Sunday night at the Somerset County Speedway in Meyersdale, Pa.

Seventy cars vied for trophies and cash awards in four championship events while 72 drivers tried their skill in the Mechanic and Powder-Puff Races.

The Pro Stock event started with J.R. Isner from Cumberland in pole position. Isner held that spot for 28 laps before Eric Corella from Hollisapple, Pa., pulled ahead and went on to take the checkered flag. He was followed by Isner, Alvin Hosselrode, Robert Porter, Doug Shaffer, John Saylor, and Gene Moats. Isner is the Pro Stock track champ for this year with 715 points.

The "A" Main began with 1994 stock champion Tom Humberson of Grantsville in the first spot. Humberson ended the season with 974 points. After 15 miles of racing Humberson was able to hold out for the win. Humberson did loose the lead for two laps late in the race to Bobby Smith from Meyersdale. Transmission problems sent Smith to the pits with two laps to go and Humberson regained the lead. He was followed by Jim Saylor, Bob Davis, Roger Shaulis, Brian Taylor, Greg Cornell, Jon Deal, Doug Barclay, and Clair Dupstadt.

Two Confluence, Pa., drivers took turns out front in the "B" Main. Vince Smith was able to lead the race for 15 laps but the most important 15 went to Dan Stockwell. Stockwell made an impressive late season attack as he drove into the winners circle several times. This may be the man to watch in '95. Stockwell was followed by Dwane Shultz, Don Shaffer, Duane Horning, Jack Dively, Kevin Sanner, Dale Will, Charlie Phillippi, Vince Smith, Dave Geyer, and Kirk Smith.

Ed Kemp from Confluence never looked back as he led all the way in the 20-lap "C" Main. He showed the way for John Tressler, Roger McKenzie, Jeff Barclay, Ray Wilhelm Jr., Tim Rounds, Brad Reckner, Clyde Prince, Henry Bockes, and Roger Baughman.

The "D" Main went to Eric Hay of Meyersdale. Hay was a top 10 driver last year but only made a few races this year. When he was at the speedway, he could be found at the front of the pack. He was followed by Bob Singo, Roman Yoder, Greg Cornell Sr., Greg Herring, Ernie Livengood, Mike Jones, Scott Whipkey, Scott Hileman, Keith Barron, and Carl Arnold.

Powder Puff winners in the Pro Stock division were Tammy Foor, Wendy Miller, and Tammy Lowery. The Stock Powder Puff was won by Pam Shultz. She was followed by Terrie Reckner and a very surprised Brenda Krause.

Pro Stock Mechanic Race wins went to Herb Rosey, Marion Isner Sr., and Dwayne Wiedner. The first Stock Mechanic Race started with 25 drivers. Before one lap was down, the red flag came out when five cars piled up on the back stretch. Racing was able to continue and Todd Detrick went on to win. He was followed by Doug Thomas, and Chuck Bailey. The second Stock Mechanic Race went to Alf Caton, Joe Edgar, and Bill Nolf.

Door prizes for the last night of racing were sponsored by Maple City Tire of Meyersdale and Tressler's Ashland of Confluence. The Fifth Annual Driver's Banquet will be held at the Meyersdale Fire Hall on Saturday, October 29. Reservations are required.

Racing Continues Saturday Night At Cumberland

The Cumberland Raceway had Roy Rogers Night at the Races last Saturday night. There were two new faces in Victory Lane. Kevin Smith of Roaring Springs, Pa., won the Ponderosa Steak House Late Model Feature, his first win ever at Cumberland. Eric Zembower of Bedford, Pa., got his first win ever at Cumberland in the Hamilton Dodge Semi-Late Feature, and Bill Buchanan of Cumberland put his 1B in Victory Lane for the fourth time in the Roy Rogers Pure Stock Feature. Buchanan is guaranteed a starting spot in the 2nd Annual Turbo Blue Pure Stock Championship to be held October 8 and 9 at the Potomac Speedway in Budds Creek.

Roy Rogers gave a $100 bonus to Smith and Zembower, and $150 to Buchanan. They added money all the way back the line in the Pure Stock Feature and paid the entry fee for all 36 Pure Stocks.

There were 25 Late Models, 22 Semi-lates and 36 Pure Stocks in the pits. All features had inverted starts.

In the 20-lap Late Model Feature, Kevin Smith, from the outside pole position, took the lead and held on through five cautions for his flag to flag win. Point leader Bob Salathe came from 11th to finish second, followed by Scott Brode, Tom Clise, J.R. Keifer, Wayne Johnson, Randy Kimmel, Scott Rodes, Tony Flanagan, and John Tall-

DeWitt To Play Volleyball For Garrett Lakers

Diane DeWitt, a 1981 graduate of Turkeyfoot High School, has decided to continue her academic and athletic career at Garrett Community College. DeWitt has been actively involved in various area volleyball leagues for many years. She has been a member of the Mt. Top Volleyball League for 10 years and a member of the Northern Co-Ed League for 11 years. She was a member of the co-ed team that captured the title in 1992 and 1993 at Alderson-Broadus College.

"Dianne's vast diversity of play, in both women and co-ed leagues, has developed her court sense and matured her as a player," remarked G.C.C. Coach Margaret Quinn. "She is a very aggressive offensive and defensive player, and I look for her maturity to play a key role in team cohesiveness."

DeWitt resides in Friendsville with her husband, Brad, and their two children, Jessica and Adam.

Swanton Story Teller Performs In New York State

Swanton storyteller Gail Neary Herman recently performed an evening of family storytelling in the Smith-Wilkes Hall amphitheatre at Chautauqua Institution in the North-western corner of New York State.

Herman told "The Four Wise People," a story she published in Spinning Tales, Weaving Hope: Stories for Peace, Justice, and the Environment edited by Ed Brody. About the reconstruction of a tiger, the story champions the value of common sense over technological rashness. In "The Freedom Bird," a story from Thailand printed in Joining In: an Anthology of Audience Participation Storytelling, Herman used mime and involved the audience in the free speech of the "bird," which serves as a metaphor for every citizen's desire for free speech.

Herman also told "How the Turtle Got Its Shell," a puppet adaptation from Aesop recorded on her tape "Creatures of the Mind's Eye" and "How Jazz Came To Be" which involved the total amphitheatre in musical and dramatic interludes. According to Herman, one parent remarked, "It's so much fun. I don't know who liked it more, my child or me. Yet we learned so much about different cultures."

Listed on the National Registry of Historic Places and designated a National Historic Landmark, the Chautauqua Institution offers a nine-week season of cultural and popular performances, including symphony, opera, theater and dance, as well as lectures and worship services presented by many of today's well-known thinkers.

Herman also taught at two universities this summer - the University of Tulsa during June and the University of Connecticut's CONFRATUTE during July. At Tulsa, Herman taught thirty teachers how to create integrated, active curriculum. She employed the "kinesthetic sense," movement arts, and storytelling around the theme of "Mother Nature: Animals Through the Eyes of Artists and Scientists." The course was funded by a Jacob Javitz Grant to encourage new techniques for servicing rural, at risk, and diverse populations "at promise" who need extra challenges and encouragement in their school settings.

Early in July, Herman presented programs for integrating arts in the curriculum for the Maryland State Arts Council's Summer Teacher Institutes in Baltimore and at Salisbury State. Three institutes were scheduled across the state but only two were filled as the one at Frostburg State did not have enough enrollment.

Herman will leave Swanton again in November and December to travel to Seattle to teach storytelling to 30 teachers for the Massachusetts-based Lesley College program called Creative Arts in Learning Masters of Arts Outreach Program. Herman also teaches Early Childhood Education here at Garrett Community College.

Carmel Cove Inn

Carmel Cove Inn, a new bed and breakfast on Glendale Road, has opened for its first season providing accommodations to visitors in Garrett County. The inn is part of the 53-acre Carmel Cove development along the shores of Deep Creek Lake. The building is the former monastery of the Discalced (barefoot) Carmelite Fathers who chose the site for its natural beauty and tranquility. In fact, many of the idiosyncracies of monastic life were uncovered by the renovation.

A tiny prayer shack existed on the property where the Fathers would spend days in solitary meditation. Workers discovered what is termed a "penny offering" - a shrine of sorts, fashioned out of tin, attached to a tree in the midst of the woods. The symbolic offering of pennies was still attached.

Tales abound of the priests' love of the water. They are said to have often swum as a group from the monastery's shore the half mile or so to the state park bridge, and legend has it, an old lady who lived thereabouts would fill their stomachs with pie, making for a Concert Band under the direction of Rev. W. L. Karsten. A play "The James Drane House," written by Mrs. Margaret Beadle, will be presented under the direction of and narrated by Peg Janney. Special music will be provided by Ellinor Benedict and the Hammer & Strings Dulcettes. At 3:30 p.m., the Garrett Community College Pipes & Drums, directed by the Honorable Fred A. Thayer, will lead the procession from Flowery Vale to the grave of Revolutionary War veteran Lt. James Drane, where a wreath will be placed. The procession will move next door to the Drane House for the ribbon cutting ceremony and tours of the house.

Speakers for the event include Vallee Peterson from Kansas (direct descendant of Lt. James Drane), Kate Mahood (representative from Maryland Historical Trust) and Rev. Ernest Lindner (director of the Accident Cultural & Historical Society). Nutrition, Tobacco Info Offered At Outreach Fairbooth

Nutrition and tobacco were the focus of the Garrett County Health Department's Community Outreach Teams' work during the 38th annual Garrett County Agricultural Fair. The eight-member team educated fairgoers at both the Wellness Together's booth on nutrition and the Tobacco-Free Coalition's booth on tobacco use prevention.

Wellness Together's booth, staffed by employees of the hospital and health department, encouraged the participation of young people by asking for drawings of "good health" for use in the annual Wellness calendar. Participants were offered their choice of healthy snacks, including apples, bananas, and carrots. Free face-painting was also offered to youngsters.

The Tobacco-Free Coalition sponsored an outdoor fair booth, staffed by coalition and outreach team members, on the issues related to tobacco use. Fairground visitors pledged to work for a tobacco-free environment, while receiving demonstrations on the oral effects of smokeless tobacco and secondhand smoke on the non-smoker.

Staff members analyzed the carbon monoxide levels of participants, using a new piece of equipment purchased by the health department's tobacco use

NUTRITION AND TOBACCO USE CESSATION were the topics of the week at the recent fair booths of the Garrett County Health Department and Memorial Hospital's Wellness Together. also filled.

The pharmacist apparently examined the prescription more closely and discovered the dates had been altered. She reportedly told the defendant she was out of Methadone, and in the meantime contacted the state police.

Methadone, according to the court documents, is a "Schedule II" narcotic, and a prescription must be filled within 10 days from the date written. MSP reportedly checked with the doctor who had written the original prescription, and he had not prescribed the drug in more than a year.

On Jan. 31, when Kellman entered the Rite-Aid again to have his prescription filled and, following a struggle with the police officer, he was arrested for the above charges.

In other district court news, Connie J. Enlow, 27, Friendsville, was not prosecuted on one count of breaking and entering, at the request of the complainant, and one count of malicious destruction of property because restitution had been made. The charges had been filed on June 20 by Robin L. Frazee, who stated Enlow had destroyed a window screen at her residence, and entered her home.

Charges of battery, assault and child abuse against Patricia A. Collins, 23, Accident, were dismissed by Judge Burnett because of a lack of probable cause. She had been arrested on May 8 after sheriff's deputies investigated a complaint by a witness and the victim that the defendant had struck the juvenile twice in the face with an open hand.

One count of battery and two counts of malicious destruction of property against Jeffery A. Auvel, 23, Oakland, were placed on the set docket, at the request of the complainant. The charges stemmed from a June 17 altercation with Deborah A. Ratliffe in the American Legion parking lot, Oakland, after he destroyed a necklace and a rear view mirror belonging to her.

DWI CASES

Three DWI (driving while intoxicated) cases were heard by Judge Burnett in last week's district court proceedings.

Kerrie Jauneta Kinnard, 24, Md., was granted probation before judgment on her DWI conviction. The judge stated that all conditions of her probation will continue as originally imposed. Maryland State Police had arrested her for the offense on Feb. 20.

James Harold Weeks, 33, Md., was found guilty of violation of probation on an earlier DWI charge. His arrest by sheriff's deputies was in October 1990.

Stephen Eric Tasker, 21, Md., was handed a 30-day suspended sentence, fined $350, and placed on one year of supervised probation for his DWI conviction. An alcohol restriction was also added to his driver's license. He had been arrested for DWI by Maryland State Police on May 13.

IT MIGHT AS WELL BE SPRIG

For hundreds of years, fortune tellers have tried to tell the future by reading the leaves in the bottom of a cup of tea. It has always been considered good fortune to find a whole leaf unfolded in the cup.

In mid-19th-century America, white ironstone china was popular for everyday use. It was made in England after 1813 and decorated in many ways, including a tea leaf design that became popular by the 1850s. The original pattern, depicting a sprig with three leaves and a bud, was painted on the dishes in copper luster and later in brown glaze. The shape of the dishes varied, as did the drawing of the leaves. At least 50 companies in England and the United States made the pattern. Look for the variations, some may have up to five leaves, which vary in shape from saw-toothed to smooth. There are also ironstone patterns that use the silhouette of a leaf or flower.

Collectors try to assemble sets of matching and near matching ironstone dishes with the tea leaf pattern. Perhaps a full unfolded leaf on the china is as lucky as a real leaf in the cup.

Q. What is Chinese Export silver? I saw a tea set in a shop that had huge American eagles as part of the design. The dealer told me it had been made in China and was very old.

A. Silver has been made in the Orient for customers in the United States and Europe for more than 300 years. During the initial period of trading (1680-1842), sailing ships from Europe carried back ceramics, furniture, textiles, silver, paintings and prints, and other items made specifically for the European market.

The designs were often a blend of the Oriental and Western — for example, a chair in a Queen Anne shape with carved Oriental trim.

From 1842 to 1900, many more pieces were made. Your silver probably dates from that period. Eagles and flags were popular designs on the pieces that were made for the American market.

Chinese Export ware continues to be manufactured today. The term "Export ware" signifies that it was made in Hong Kong or China, most likely in Guangzhou (Canton) or Shanghai. It does not indicate a date, however.

Pet Care

by Cleo & Brad Conrad

Last year's flooding in the Midwest, plus floods this year, fires in the West, earthquakes, etc., all remind us that not only must we be prepared to deal with emergencies, we must also protect our beloved pets.

Would you know what to do in such an emergency? Here are a few tips.

In case of fire, designate an adult to assist your pet to safety. If you can't immediately locate the pet, leave a window or door open so it can escape.

In case of flood, keep your pet in its carrier so you can evacuate your home quickly. DO NOT LEAVE THE PET IN THE BASEMENT!

In case of violent storms, keep pets away from windows. In tornadoes, take the pet with you to lower ground (preferably a below grade basement).

In case of earthquake, keep the pet with you in a familiar, safe room, dim all lights and leave it alone.

Household Help

Q. I own a modest single-family home and am in the process of finishing the entire basement. The square footage of the basement is quite small (about 600 square feet) and nicely tailored. I am now planning to install carpet in the family room where family and friends can entertain. The basement is below grade level, which raises my question of a rug installation. What are the necessary steps I must follow to successfully install my carpet?

A. A finished basement can turn a gray walled and cement floor dwelling into a secondary living and party area. Installing a carpet will only enhance that and make the room very cozy.

Before you lay the rug on that cold concrete, you must follow several important steps. Make sure the foundation does not leak water or create condensation. Although you didn't mention any water problems, there is always that potential for trouble. One method of damp proofing and waterproofing is to install polyethylene sheeting on the floor. Generally, a 3mm thickness is adequate to lay on the concrete slab. If you buy this product in a roll, just spread it out and either measure or just cut it from wall to wall. Applying small tabs of two-sided sticky tape will keep the corners from flipping up. If any moisture problems do arise, this will prevent dampness rising to the surface.

Presuming your family room is basically square and free of such obstacles as a furnace and/or hot water heater, you are ready to begin the actual carpet installation.

The next step is to prepare the installation of exterior plywood panels or flooring. This may seem expensive but you'll be mistaken. If you don't take this step, you'll have a cold floor and may possibly damage the carpet. It's also imperative to surface the masonry walls you use to secure the plywood.

The final step is to install tackless strips along the entire perimeter of the room. These strips are so named because they replace the old method of nailing through the carpet. Padding is installed beneath all types of carpeting, except those with a cushion back. The rest of the job is the actual laying down of the carpet over the padding.

farm family health and safety issues.

This funding will address the health care needs of the community through a community-based program," said Ben Rosenthal, president of GCMH. "This project will help us identify the major health risks in these areas and seek less expensive alternatives to treating them." He explained that the program is designed for a three-year period and the recommended funding for the second and third years is $124,068 each year, pending Congressional approval.

According to Senator John Haler, "Agriculture is a very dangerous occupation, the Rural Health Outreach program is essential for Garrett County. Rural America has special health care needs and this proposal will help address those needs."

"It's great," said Delegate George Edwards. "We are receiving our share of appropriate funds. Rural areas are sometimes short-changed. This helps to bridge this gap somewhat."

Governing the consortium will be a five-member committee made up of two members of the farm community, two health care professionals, and one person involved in agribusiness. An advisory team of leaders from the farm and agribusiness communities will also participate.

Before the grant was awarded, Senator Paul Sarbanes sent a letter to the Department of Health and Human Services in support of Garrett County's application. In the letter, Sarbanes stated, "For years, farm families in Garrett County have not received adequate medical attention. This grant will help to fill in this gap by funding a wide range of programs, from injury prevention to health and safety awareness."

the other involving theft. Dalie G. Guthrie, 59, Swanton, pleaded guilty to two counts of fourth degree sexual offense. The plea was accepted by Thayer and the pre-sentence investigation was ordered. Bail was continued for the defendant.

Guthrie is accused of accosting a 14-year-old girl on two occasions. According to the victim's statement, he took her to a remote area on July 16, 1993, and November 28, 1993. She stated that he raped her on both occasions. The original charges included two counts each of second degree rape, third degree sexual offense, and assault and battery. These were not prosecuted.

A McHenry man accused of 15 theft charges pleaded guilty to one count of misdemeanor theft. Everett L. Carr Jr., 46, has been accused of pilfering over $13,000 from the Lakewood Resorts Council of Owners. The state's attorney amended the charge to theft by scheme of more than $300, and Thayer accepted the guilty plea. A pre-sentence investigation was ordered and bail was continued for the defendant.

According to the court record, Carr attended a board of directors meeting of the council in August 1993 and at that time admitted to writing himself four checks from the council's account totalling $13,000. He is also accused of purchasing a "big screen" television with money from the council and having it installed in his own place of business at Deep Creek Lake. The television was taken from the establishment by detectives with the Garrett County Sheriff's Office last summer.

A sentencing date was not indicated on the court document.

One item on our menu hasn't changed for 50 years.

School Meals in Maryland have changed a lot over the years. Children today get more variety. More nutritious foods they enjoy, like salads, tacos, and pizza. And, increasingly, less fat, sodium, and sugar.

But one item on our menu never changes: Education. Because when your kids regularly eat balanced, nutritious meals they concentrate better in class. They participate more enthusiastically. And they learn better. It's just that simple.

Simple, yet beautiful. Maryland's School Meals programs provide a community service that helps make educating kids easier and more effective.

Convenient, economical, healthy School Meals. Because education should always be at the top of the menu.

Maryland's Fall Foliage Hotline Activated Today

As autumn leaves begin to change color and travelers make plans to tour the scenic Maryland countryside, they may want to call the toll-free Maryland Fall Foliage Hotline to discover when and where the leaves in Maryland will be at their peak.

"Autumn in Maryland is truly spectacular, with nature providing a colorful backdrop for every kind of activity - hay rides, county fairs, arts and crafts festivals, equestrian events, bike tours, and music festivals all over the state," said Governor William Donald Schaefer.

Beginning September 15, callers may dial 1-800-LEAVES-1 (1-800-532-8371) and listen to a five-minute recorded summary of where the Maryland foliage will be alive with red, orange, gold, and scarlet leaves. Last year, the Fall Foliage Hotline brought in more than 2,000 inquiries from travelers planning trips to Maryland.

A joint project of the Maryland Office of Tourism Development (OTD), part of the Department of Economic and Employment Development (DEED), and the Maryland Department of Natural Resources (DNR), the Fall Foliage Hotline will be updated weekly and also will feature information on the state's top fall festivals and celebrations from Western Maryland to the Eastern Shore.

These include Maryland Railfest '94, a nine-day celebration in Allegany County hosted by the Western Maryland Scenic Railroad, and the Autumn Glory Festival in Garrett County set for Oct. 13-16.

According to the Maryland Office of Tourism Development, more than 40 percent of travelers to Maryland visit the state during the fall months.

A child is born with imagination, with the ability to see the magic of the world around him. Yet, so much creativity — so much "seeing" — is often lost as we grow older and the complexities of life sweep over us.

When a child confronts nature, he isn't in a hurry. He takes time to study each blade of grass, to appreciate the colors of a butterfly, to marvel at a flower or the soft fur of a kitten.

We shouldn't lose this sensibility as we grow up. God created the world, but man has often abused it. So stop — once in a while — and look, feel and listen.

This is communion, restoration...like the spirit you find in your church or synagogue.

WHEN GOD SAYS "SHOUT!"
September 18, 1994

Background Scripture: Joshua 6
Devotional Reading: Psalms 149

If, during the Desert Storm war against Iraq, President Bush had sent a directive to General Schwarzkopf saying, "God has told me to instruct our forces to circle Baghdad and march around it once a day for six days and seven times on the seventh," I doubt that the general would have obeyed his Commander-in-Chief. And if that order had been made public knowledge, the President of the United States would have been laughed out of office.

Why? Because, although many people in this country believe the biblical account of the Battle of Jericho in Joshua 6, they do not expect God to work in that same way in our world today. Not even the most literal-minded interpreters of the Bible would castigate our President for failing to follow such a "revelation."

One way of rationalizing the difference between biblical times and our own times is called "dispensationalism"—the theory that biblical times were of a different dispensation or order than now. In biblical times, so this theory goes, God worked directly in the world. In our dispensation, he does not. This is a rather clever rationalization, but there is no biblical or creedal basis for it.

QUESTIONS, QUESTIONS

So, the story of the Battle of Jericho leaves a lot of intriguing questions: did the battle really happen this way or is this simply an imaginative retelling of the story? Did these things really happen in biblical times but are no longer possible in our own? Why doesn't God work in our world this way today? And how can a person today know when God has told him or her to do something? I don't have the answers to these questions, but I think there are implications that are just as applicable today as they were when Joshua was first written. God has given us the power of reason and he expects us to use it. In John's gospel Thomas is not berated when he doubtfully questions Jesus. Often in his teaching to his disciples, Jesus challenged them to think things through instead of slavishly obeying the letter of the law. So we are not asked to disengage our brains when we enter our churches.

Still, there are times in life when reason and clear thinking can only take us so far. Sometimes when we have thought our best thoughts they do not solve our problems. One of my recurring deceptions in life has been the assumption that if one asks "why" or "how" long enough an answer will be given. God has answered a lot of my "whys" and "hows," but there have been some to which no answer has been given—at least on this side of life.

ONLY SO FAR

It is then, when we have taken our God-given intellect as far as we can, that we must take the next step: "Trust and Obey," as the old hymn

COVER STORY

Friends looks like an (almost) sure thing

BY JOHN CROOK

In Hollywood, the only sure thing is that there are no sure things.

If pedigree and scheduling mean anything, however, and they usually do, Friends looks almost as if it's been kissed by the gods.

This breezy new sitcom about a group of six young New Yorkers boasts an experienced writing and production team (Kevin Bright, David Crane and Marta Kauffman from HBO's Dream On), direction by veteran James Burrows (Taxi) and a likable and talented ensemble. The NBC show stars Courtney Cox (Family Ties), Lisa Kudrow (Ursula), the ditty waitress from Mad About You, Matt LeBlanc (Top of the Heap) and Jennifer Aniston (Muddling Through and The Edge).

It also has a time slot to die for, bowing Thursday, Sept. 22, between mega-hits Mad About You and Seinfeld.

"I've done a few other series, but I've never been a part of any other show that seems to be getting so much attention," says LeBlanc, who plays Joey, an aspiring actor. "Partly because of the Dream On connection. Partly because James Burrows is our director. Partly because we have a really good cast. And partly because we're going to be on at 8:30 Thursday nights (EDT) right before Seinfeld."

"There's a lot of really good factors. So we have a lot of high hopes, although that's usually the case. This one seems to be really good, though."

While Cox's character, a professional chef named Monica, is nominally the focal point of the ensemble, LeBlanc and the producers confirm that the show will be an ensemble effort.

"Instead of having an A story and a B story, they're gonna have three B stories, sort of like Seinfeld," LeBlanc says.

Courtney Cox

"We're getting to do something we never got to do before," says Kauffman. "Because usually, you know, there is one central character, or two central characters and you follow them. ... And in this case, we've got just this glorious well to pull from. It's great fun. We get to write three stories at once about three of our characters. And yeah, we want to make sure everybody has stuff to do in every episode."

For LeBlanc, who recently earned raves for his starring performance in Lookin' Italian at a California film festival, playing the role of Joey, a cynical but articulate actor, is a welcome departure from Vinny Verducci, the dumber-than-fools character he played in the 1991 Fox sitcom Top of the Heap.

"Which I'm really glad about," he says, firmly. "Of course! When Top of the Heap was changed to Vinnie and Bobby - I don't know if it followed it that far - it became another show that was really lacking. It got worse!"

"Playing a dumb guy is really difficult, by the way, because the things that you (as a real person) understand and take for granted you have to 'unlearn'."

"This character, Joey, has his stuff together. He's got high hopes for a career. He gets by. He's intelligent and serious about acting."

IN FOCUS

Babe Ruth is among the many greats of the game featured in Baseball, beginning Sunday, Sept. 18, on PBS (check local listings).

Presented in nine "innings," this miniseries from filmmaker Ken Burns profiles the history of America's national pastime from its genesis to the present.

Subjects covered in this 18-and-a-half-hour documentary include the Chicago Black Sox scandal, the Negro Leagues of the 1930s and New York City's dominance in the 1950s.

MOVIE MARQUEE

If you want to be scared stay clear of Seacliff

BY JEFF PLASS

Take just about every horror-film cliché you've ever encountered, throw in some really stiff acting and couple that with inane dialogue and cheesy camera work, and you've got The Haunting of Seacliff Inn, premiering Thursday, Sept. 22, on the USA Network.

The film stars William Moses (of Perry Mason fame) and Ally Sheedy (who's seen better dramatic days) as Mark and Susan Enright, a yuppie couple who are mysteriously drawn to a charming coastal mansion and hope to turn it into a bed-and-breakfast.

But soon all sorts of spooky things begin happening: Susan experiences cold flashes, Mark meets an eerie but beautiful young woman on the beach, an electrician gets zapped with 120 volts from a circuit he knows he turned off, etc.

Moses really stretches out in his role as the staid, unflappable straight-man husband and Sheedy seems to have resurrected the character of the squeaking basket case she played in The Breakfast Club (though not nearly as convincingly).

The final product is a shameless rip-off of Ghost Story, and is about as suspenseful as a Caesar salad, as frightening as a French poodle and as gruesome as a glazed ham.

To those viewers who wish to be truly frightened: Run, don't walk, to your local video store and rent the real Ghost Story or perhaps The Changeling or even The Evil Dead.

The Haunting of Seacliff Inn just doesn't cut any kind of horror mustard. Frankly, there are scarier Scooby Doo episodes out there.

William Moses

Other movies on TV this week include Marg Helgenberger and Corbin Bernsen in the fact-based Where Are My Children?, Sunday, Sept. 18, on ABC.

Helgenberger stars as a woman who returns home from prison to discover her children have disappeared. As the whys and wherefores of their mysterious disappearance become clearer, she begins searching for them.

On Tuesday, Sept. 20, CBS offers Nicolelette Sheridan and Joe Lando (Dr. Quinn, Medicine Woman) as two people caught in a love triangle in a small Mormon town in Devil's Bed.

Showtime debuts Aimee Graham and Matt LeBlanc in Reform School Girl, part of the Rebel Highway series of movies, on Friday, Sept. 23.

Striking Distance, starring Bruce Willis and Sarah Jessica Parker, makes its HBO premiere on Saturday, Sept. 24.

Q: Please tell me how to find out how to get a recording of Andy Griffith's comedy routine about football. -A.D. DeFer, Ypsilanti, Mich.

A: This routine, called "What It Was, Was Football," is long out of print. If you find it, prepare to pay dearly.

HIGH TUNE: "The proper name of the ballad (from High Noon) is 'High Noon,' not 'Do Not Forsake Me, Oh My Darlin'," writes Loren D. Estleman of Whitmore Lake, Mich. "This is a point of some importance to me, as 'High Noon' was my wedding march in 1993." For the record, Leonard Maltin's video guide, which I consulted for my original response a few weeks ago, refers to the song ONLY as "Do Not Forsake Me, Oh My Darlin'." but other reference works I consulted after receiving Loren's letter give the complete title of the song as "High Noon (Do Not Forsake Me, Oh My Darlin')."

Burns' Baseball hits a home run on PBS

BY JEFF PLASS

Strike or no strike, the national pastime has major-league impact on American society, and a cultural home run is slugged in Baseball, airing on PBS beginning Sunday, Sept. 18 (check local listings).

Arranged in nine episodes or "innings," Ken Burns' epic documentary series presents a comprehensive history of the game while examining the social ramifications baseball has had on American culture.

"This is the story of immigration and assimilation," Burns says, "of the tension between labor and management, of the rise of popular media through the newspaper, radio and television. This is the story of the growth and decay of cities."

"And most of all, this is the story of America's past time," he adds with emphasis.

Innings 1-5 air from Sunday through Thursday, Sept. 22.

After two "travel days," Baseball resumes play Sunday, Sept. 25, through Wednesday, Sept. 28, for innings six to nine.

Beginning with the origins of the game, this week's episodes painstakingly take viewers through the days of Ty Cobb and Honus Wagner, the infamous Black Sox scandal, the emergence and rise of the game's first mega-star, Babe Ruth, and the Negro Leagues of the 1930s.

Narrated by John Chancellor, Baseball also features the reflections of such luminaries as Keith Carradine, John Cusack, Ossie Davis, Sir Anthony Hopkins, Tip O'Neill, Gregory Peck and many, many others.

Besides airing on PBS, Baseball will be released as an educational tool to schools and colleges. The series will also be available in a Spanish version and a descriptive video version.

Baseball goes to bat Sunday on PBS (check local listings). Memorabilia from the National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum in Cooperstown, N.Y., is shown.

SOAP TALK

Reader wants to see good side of foster care

BY CANDACE HAVENS

Dear Candace: I have been a fan of Another World for a number of years and a foster parent for over 20. The writers, producers, promoters and anyone else involved with AW did foster parents and foster parenting a major disservice when Jake (Tom Eplin) made derogatory remarks concerning a foster family.

I cannot quote what Jake said exactly. He was discussing family with Paulina, and he said he did not want a foster family where they sent you away when they wanted, and loved you only because they were paid every month.

There are a few families that act that way, but they do not last long. The majority of foster parents take kids in foster care, work with the families of the youth, pay money out of their own pockets and help troubled children because they care about kids. Foster parents see the future of our world in the hands of the kids who have the misfortune not to be able to stay in their own homes or with their own parents.

Among famous people who were in foster care are Art Buchwald, Maria von Trapp, Michael Caine, Ray Charles, James Michener, Charlotte Lopez (Miss Teen America) and David Pelzer. There are hundreds of thousands of adults who owe their lives and their sanity to caring foster parents who knew how and had the courage to help youth through troubled times.

I would like to see AW write some scripts that show foster parenting in a more positive light. -Barbara Jordan, Ellinwood, Kan.

Dear Reader: Unfortunately, thanks to the media, most of the time television viewers only see the down side of foster parenting. The extreme cases of abuse are usually the ones that are made into movies of the week.

On AW Jake was speaking more from personal experience than anything else. He didn't exactly have the world's best childhood.

Another famous person who is a product of foster parenting is the talented young actress Victoria Rowell, who plays Dru on The Young and the Restless and co-stars with Dick Van Dyke in Diagnosis Murder. She has also starred in several feature films.

Rowell is very active in several organizations that help foster children.

IN FOCUS

Asia Viera stars in the thriller Omen IV: The Awakening, airing Tuesday, Sept. 20, on Fox. Remember Damien? Well here's another tyke so adorable that one wouldn't suspect her to be the emissary of evil.

Viera plays Delta York, the 8-year-old adopted daughter of a politician and his wife. A series of dark events leads the parents to believe their daughter is actually a sinister entity.

Faye Grant, Michael Woods, Michael Lerner and Madison Mason also star.

CABLE OVERVIEW

Cable keeping its commitment to education

BY SUZANNE GILL

"Education is at the foundation of every aspect of all of our lives," says correspondent Walter Cronkite. "Although we have touched upon the consequences of a poorly educated citizenry in previous Cronkite Reports, this time we are focusing on what can and should be done to better prepare our youth for the future."

The Cronkite Report: Lessons for the Future, the latest in The Discovery Channel's quarterly series, airs Tuesday, Sept. 20. Like many similar shows, this one looks at examples of programs that work for students at the preschool, middle-school and high-school levels, suggesting that there are ways of salvaging the foundering public education system.

Cronkite also provides interviews with three national leaders. Sen. Paul Simon of Illinois, Dr. David Hamburg of the Carnegie Corporation and Professor Linda Darling-Hammond of Columbia University's Teachers College—to discuss the existing roadblocks to school reform.

On a brighter note, Rory and Me, debuting Monday, Sept. 19, on The Learning Channel, offers songs, stories and enrichment to preschoolers.

Cheerful but not hyperkinetic, performer Rory sets a gentle tone for her series, which includes puppetry, animation and live-action films. Rory is also the host of TLC's daily Ready, Set, Learn! educational programming block.

Feed Your Mind, an entertaining dose of what's good for kids, debuts Saturday, Sept. 24.

on TBS. (The series also airs in syndication.) Teen correspondents Corni English and Johnita Austin set out on real-world adventures in science, technology, trades and the arts to show young viewers the meaning of the term "working knowledge." In the debut episode, space shuttle astronauts urge kids to hit the books for success in life.

George Wallace, Norman Rockwell and Joan of Arc are featured this week on A&E's Biography. The controversial former governor of Alabama is profiled Monday, Sept. 19, with a portrait of the foremost painter of the American dream on Tuesday. The 15th-century heroine of France is remembered Thursday, Sept. 22.

Cable's fall season gets into high gear next week, but one series that debuted last week is worth noting. The 20th Century, a continuation of the 1960s documentary series, with host Mike Wallace, airs on A&E. The Wednesday, Sept. 21, installment looks at 25 sides of the Kennedy coin in "Camelot's happyquickid."

Rev. Beahm Will Speak Sunday At Assembly Of God

Rev. Ray Beahm, former pastor of the Crellin Assembly of God and recently approved Assemblies of God missionary to Greece, will be the guest speaker at the 11 a.m. worship service at the Assembly of God Church in Friendsville this Sunday, Sept. 18, according to Rev. Eugene Friend, pastor.

Rev. Beahm and his wife, Rebecca, will soon be pastoring the International Christian Center in Athens, Greece. Their ministry will be multi-cultural and multinational, as they reach out to Athens' large international community.

Rev. Beahm explained that, of Greece's population of approximately 10 million people, an estimated 97 percent are Greek Orthodox; however, the Assemblies of God, registered as the Synod of the Apostolic Churches of Pentecost in Greece, has established 12 churches and five outstations ministering to about 2,600 members and adherents.

The Beahms' experience in cross-cultural evangelism

Cross-Lites says:
"That which is born of the flesh is physical, that which is born of the spirit is spiritual."

includes nine years of ministry among the Cree and Algonquin Indians of Senneville, Quebec, in Canada. They served at the Crellin Assembly of God from 1978 until this year.

"I have felt a call to missions since I was 14 years old," Beahm said. "I gained great insight and understanding of what missions ministry was all about when I served in Quebec. My 16 years of pastoring in Maryland were years that I focused on helping missionaries. Dur-

SHS Will Host Transmission Repair Testing

The Automatic Transmission Rebuilders Association (A.T.R.A.) will hold written examinations for automatic transmission Rebuilders, R&R technicians, and Service Writers at Southern High School on Oct. 12 at 7 p.m. as part of its national Certification Program. Thomas M. Powers, a teacher at Southern, will serve as proctor.

A.T.R.A. is a non-profit organization dedicated to the improvement and welfare of the automatic transmission repair industry. With over 3,000 affiliates, it is the world's oldest and largest network of independent transmission firms.

Each year, A.T.R.A. sponsors over 500 proficiency tests throughout the country to encourage technical competency and professionalism in the industry. According to A.T.R.A.'s Executive Director, Steve Gray, a major goal of the Certification program is consumer protection.

"Consumers should look for a certified shop when they need automatic transmission repair work," he said. "A.T.R.A. Certification helps identify which shops are capable of competently diagnosing and repairing automatic transmission problems."

Because transmission technology has become extremely complicated over the past decade, A.T.R.A. member shops are required to re-certify every two years. Gray says experienced technicians usually have no trouble passing the test "... if they've kept their knowledge and skills current."

The tests are free to A.T.R.A. members. Non-members are required to pay a fee of $20 to help defray the cost of the program.

Those wishing to register for the tests or who want additional information about the Certification Program should contact the I&C Coordinator at A.T.R.A. by calling (805) 654-1700, 7 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., Pacific Time.

Make A Wish AND Blow Out THE CANDLES

The tradition of celebrating birthdays with special cakes has been around for thousands of years.

Some historians credit the ancient Greeks with inventing the birthday cake with a honey and flour mixture. Yet others say it was German bakers who would display a cake in the morning and surround it with candles that would burn all day, in anticipation of an evening party. Regardless of who originated birthday cakes or when, the tradition is still cherished today.

Presenting someone with a homemade birthday cake is the perfect way to show you care. Family birthdays, such as a first birthday or Sweet 16, are milestones that call for extra special cakes. And because everyone loves chocolate, mouthwatering chocolate cakes are sure to be a birthday hit!

To create the most scrumptious chocolate cakes, bake them with pure unsweetened cocoa. It gives cakes a decadent chocolate taste and best of all, it's very convenient to use. Simply blend it in with other dry recipe ingredients and avoid the messy pre-melting steps required by other chocolate baking products.

Because cocoa is so versatile, you can use it to bake the perfect birthday cake for anyone in your family! Dad will enjoy indulging in rich Chocolate Bar Cake, a towering 3-layer cake made from deep, dark cocoa and America's favorite creamy milk chocolate bars, and any teenage girl having a Sweet 16 party will love digging into Brownie Pizza Cake with all her friends. For the baby's first birthday, throw a party and serve kid-sized 1st Birthday Cupcakes. On mom's special day, a decadent Hugs and Kisses Chocolate Cake dotted with sweet chocolate pieces is sure to make her smile. For the special 80-year-old in your family, Chocolate Truffle Cake Supreme, a dense chocolate cake, is an elegant way to celebrate this distinguished day.

No matter whose birthday it is, luscious homemade chocolate cakes—in all their wonderful, delicious shapes and sizes—are sure to be everyone's favorite present!

Beautiful Birthday Cakes for the Whole Family!

Since 1894, when Milton S. Hershey developed Hershey's Cocoa, generations of bakers have counted on cocoa to give them rich, decadent flavor in all their homemade chocolate desserts. Its versatility and convenience make it the perfect baking ingredient for today's consumer who wants variety—it provides exceptional chocolate flavor to a wide range of recipes from sinfully rich cakes to light, low-fat treats.

Even the most discriminating chocolate lovers use cocoa. It can be easily substituted in recipes calling for unsweetened baking chocolate, pre-melted unsweetened chocolate, semi-sweet chocolate and sweet baking chocolate by using this simple formula: add three level tablespoons of cocoa to one tablespoon of shortening (liquid or solid) to equal one ounce or one square of baking chocolate.

Health-conscious bakers love to prepare light, low fat desserts that don't sacrifice the deep chocolate taste they desire. Guilt-free goodies are easily made with cocoa because it has one of the lowest fat contents of any chocolate product around—less than one gram of fat per serving. It has no additives or preservatives, is cholesterol-free and is the only chocolate baking ingredient included for use in fat restricted diets by the American Heart Association.

The 1989 introduction of Hershey's European Style Cocoa, a "Dutched" cocoa, means that bakers have even more choices for baking luscious chocolate creations. Dutching is a process which neutralizes the natural acidity found in cocoa powder, resulting in a darker cocoa with a more mellow chocolate flavor than traditional cocoa.

SHS Sophomores To Order Rings

Sophomore students at Southern High School will make their class ring selections on Wednesday, September 21. Students and their parents are invited to meet a representative from Balfour to view ring samples and place orders on that date. By placing their orders at this time, the students may expect to receive their rings prior to the Christmas holiday, according to a school spokesman.

Orders will be accepted in the cafeteria. The representative will be available to meet with students during the lunch periods, and after school hours have also been arranged so that interested parents may be present. In order to reduce the number of students and parents waiting at any given time, the following alphabetical schedule has been established according to student last names: from 3:15 to 3:45, students whose last names begin with the letters A-C; from 3:45 to 4:15, those with last names beginning D-F; from 4:15 to 4:45, last names G-I; from 4:45 to 5:15, names from K-M; from 5:15 to 5:45, names N-S; and from 5:45 to 6:15, those whose last names begin with letters T-Z. In the event the scheduled time is inconvenient, parents are welcome to attend when possible until 7 p.m.

Information packets were distributed to sophomore students during orientation on September 7. Packets are available to juniors and seniors upon request in the main office. A display in the main lobby has also been created so that students may view a variety of ring samples. Those interested in obtaining more information may contact the school office at 334-9447 during school hours.

Evangelist Teel To Lead Services In Friendsville

Evangelist Robert F. Teel will lead revival services at the Friendsville Assembly of God Church the week of Sept. 25-30, according to Rev. Eugene R. Friend, pastor.

Born in Ada, Okla., and raised in southern California, Teel was a national champion in gymnastics and many experts believed he was destined to win a gold medal on the rings for the United States in the Olympics. At the height of his career, however, he began to abuse drugs and alcohol and was banished from Olympic competition.

Teel says that in 1972 he was "delivered from drugs and alcohol by the power of Christ" and has invested his time and efforts since that time "proclaiming the gospel."

Teel says his mission is to encourage local churches to "become involved in the study of the word and to minister to local communities."

The revival services at Friendsville Assembly will begin at 7 p.m. each evening. Rev. Friend invites the public to attend.

Contributions To Bay Checkoff Top $1 Million

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein said that about 65,000 Maryland taxpayers contributed $1,036,960 to the Chesapeake Bay and Endangered Species Trust Fund on current and prior year state income tax returns filed during fiscal year 1994, which is $30,000 more than in the previous fiscal year.

The comptroller noted that the $1,036,960 was shared equally by the Chesapeake Bay Trust and the Maryland Department of Natural Resources.

"The current contributions mark one of the most successful years for the checkoff program. It's a clear barometer of how committed Marylanders are to our environment and the Chesapeake Bay - even as Maryland recovers from the recession," Goldstein said.

The comptroller noted that contributions by taxpayers exceeded the million-dollar threshold every year except two since the program began in 1988.

"Most states experience a falloff in contributions after the first year of a tax check-off program, so we should be proud of Maryland's program," he said.

One hundred and thirteen Garrett County taxpayers contributed a total of $1,439,29, for an average of $12.74 per donor.

Montgomery County led the way in donations, with the largest number of taxpayers contributing (14,501) and the largest amount contributed ($265,845). Baltimore County had the second largest number of taxpayers contributing (9,240) and the second largest amount contributed ($140,587), while Prince George's County came in third, with 9,151 contributing $120,478.

Howard County showed the highest percentage of participation, with 4.9% of its taxpayers contributing to the fund.

The highest average contributions came from Queen Anne's County, where taxpayers donated an average of $18.49. Montgomery County donated the second highest average of $18.33. The statewide average was approximately $15, a dollar more than last year.

"About 3.2% of taxpayers contributed to the fund, compared with a 2.2% participation rate last year," the comptroller said.

Taxpayers contribute to the fund on line 63 of their Maryland long or short income tax form and reduce the amount of their refund or add to any additional tax they owe. Contributions made on tax returns filed in 1994 are deductible on federal and state income tax forms filed next year, if taxpayers itemize deductions.

Contributions to the fund are divided equally between the Chesapeake Bay Trust and the Department of Natural Resources. The Chesapeake Bay Trust uses its funds to provide grants to groups ranging from scientific organizations doing research to local community groups planting marsh grass. More than 1,100 such grants have been awarded. The Department of Natural Resources uses its funds for endangered species habitat projects and nongame protection programs.

Glimpse Of The Past...

BEFORE THE FLOOD WALL was built along the North Branch of the Potomac River in Kitzmiller in 1964, the town suffered through many floods, such as this one sparked by Hurricane Hazel in 1954. One of Garrett County's most impressive buildings at the time was the Maryland Theatre, which was razed 10 years after this particular flood. This photo, which is on loan from Laura Belle Harvey, is published courtesy of the Garrett County Historical Society and The Republican.

Area Church To Present Film

A film, Scars that Heal, will be shown at the Crellin Assembly of God Church on Sunday, Sept. 18, at 7 p.m.

This documentary-style film about a young Vietnam soldier, Dave Roeber, tells a true story about his physical, emotional, and spiritual healing after more than 40 percent of his skin was burned off by a grenade that exploded in his hand, also causing blindness in one eye, and deafness in his right ear.

The Rev. David Snodgrass and the church's congregation invite the public to view the film. For more information, persons may call the church office at 334-3867.

Building Quality Customer Service Class offered

"Quality customer service that brings customers back can only be delivered when both front line service employees and managers possess skills in customer service," said Sandy Major, business program coordinator at Garrett Community College.

A class titled "Building Quality Customer Service: Service Excellence" will be taught by Major and will meet on two Monday evenings, October 11 and 18, from 6:30 to 9:45 p.m. at GCC.

Major said that 60 percent of American businesses are now using some form of Total Quality practices to meet competitive challenges in today's business world.

"Across the nation, companies, both large and small, are implementing quality steps designed to increase productivity and profitability. Employees and owners/managers will learn to build and keep customer goodwill, make all customer contacts positive, use actions that build trust, improve communication and phone skills, and to deal calmly with difficult people," she said.

Persons may call Ruth Pinter or Sandy Major at 387-3080 to obtain further information about this class. Registration can be made through the Continuing Education Division of GCC.

Serves Special Internship In Winston-Salem

Jennifer Reeves, Mountain Lake Park, is in the first Salem College class in which each student will complete an internship before she graduates. But Reeves, a junior who is interested in a career as a chemist, already has a jump on most of her classmates because of a special relationship with a chemist at R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. in Winston-Salem, N.C.

Last year, Reeves, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arden E. Reeves, was one of a dozen sophomores paired with female mentors in the Winston-Salem community as part of a unique program called the Salem Women's Leadership Connection. She was chosen based on recommendations by faculty members and a personal interview. Her mentor was Dr. Lila O'Connor, a staff chemist at R.J. Reynolds.

Reeves met with O'Connor at least once a month. O'Connor talked about her work and gave Reeves advice on pursuing her own career. Reeves visited different departments at RJR, and O'Connor arranged for her to have a summer job there. "Lila has led me directly to the place I want to go in terms of a career," Reeves said. "I went in knowing I wanted to be a chemist, and that goal has become even stronger because of my experience with my mentor. She is an exceptional lady, and I admire her very much."

The two also talked about what it takes to be a good leader in today's workforce. "A good leader has good communication skills," Reeves said. "In order to be able to reach everyone, one must be diverse and interested in all of life. Salem has fostered that diversity for me."

SAFETY BELT PROGRAM -- A program titled "82% Plus Pacesetter," instigated to promote the use of safety belts in Garrett County, was conducted earlier this year by the State Highway Administration (SHA), the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, and the Maryland Commission for Seat Belt Use, Inc. Taking top honors in the program for achieving 100 percent seat belt use were employees of the MSHA, Keyzers Ridge Complex, for the month of March; and Maryland State Police, Barrack W, McHenry, for February. Each organization received a Platinum Pacesetter Honor Roll plaque for the accomplishment. Certificates of achievement were presented to Southern and Northern high schools for achieving 82 percent-plus safety belt use in February, and to Barrack W for achieving 90 percent-plus safety belt use in July. In the above photo, receiving awards on behalf of their respective organizations, shown left to right, are MSP 1st Sgt. Daniel E. Stanton, MSHA Assistant Maintenance Engineer Bob Rowan, Southern High School Vice Principal Bob Quick, and Northern High School Principal Martin Green. Pictured below, Lt. Charles H. Hinnant, right, accepts a Platinum Pacesetter Safety Belt Honor Roll plaque on behalf of Barrack W, from MSP Sgt. William M. Glime, who was the seat belt coordinator at Barrack W at the time the program was conducted.

Volunteers Are Sought By G.C. Tax-Aide

According to local coordinator, Bea Crocco, the Garrett County Tax-Aide Program is growing and volunteers are needed to provide free personal income tax preparation assistance to older low and moderate income taxpayers.

Volunteers are trained in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service and must spend at least four hours each week, from Feb. 1 to April 15, assisting taxpayers. The training normally lasts five days and volunteers are required to pass an exam before they are authorized to be counselors. Classes are taught by IRS employees.

Locally, the program offers free tax assistance at the Mary Browning Senior Center and at other locations upon request. This service is also offered to shut-ins.

The next class for counselors starts the first week in January, 1995. Interested persons may call Crocco at 334-3153.

Building Quality Customer Service Class offered

"Quality customer service that brings customers back can only be delivered when both front line service employees and managers possess skills in customer service," said Sandy Major, business program coordinator at Garrett Community College.

A class titled "Building Quality Customer Service: Service Excellence" will be taught by Major and will meet on two Monday evenings, October 11 and 18, from 6:30 to 9:45 p.m. at GCC.

Major said that 60 percent of American businesses are now using some form of Total Quality practices to meet competitive challenges in today's business world.

"Across the nation, companies, both large and small, are implementing quality steps designed to increase productivity and profitability. Employees and owners/managers will learn to build and keep customer goodwill, make all customer contacts positive, use actions that build trust, improve communication and phone skills, and to deal calmly with difficult people," she said.

Persons may call Ruth Pinter or Sandy Major at 387-3080 to obtain further information about this class. Registration can be made through the Continuing Education Division of GCC.

AFBF Favors Improvements To Food Inspection System

Further improvements in science-based programs will be required to ensure a safe food supply, according to testimony delivered recently by the American Farm Bureau at a USDA food safety forum in Philadelphia.

New Jersey Farm Bureau President Stephen George, a greenhouse and nursery operator, said Farm Bureau supports USDA's efforts to modernize and improve the meat and poultry inspection system.

Farm Bureau, along with most segments of the meat industry, favors the hazard analysis critical control point (HACCP) approach, "which builds safety into every step of the production process," George said.

"Improving food safety involves implementing preventive control programs based on sound science," he said. "Visual detection will not and should not be relied on to be the core of our inspection system for the next century."

The need for research on a broad range of topics involving food-borne pathogens is featured prominently in USDA's pathogen reduction program, George said.

"Learning more about the origins of pathogens in the food supply is an essential component of an HACCP program," he said. "Assessing levels of risk and appropriate strategies for reducing that risk are only possible after sufficient research is conducted."

George cautioned that agricultural producers should not be hindered economically by new production requirements that are not matched by real improvements in food safety and quality. He said farmers and ranchers are receptive to new production methods that improve food safety.

"For instance, livestock producers have actively pursued improved methods of identifying individual animals as they move through marketing and processing," he explained. "This desire for continuing information about the final yield and value of an animal may be compatible with USDA's goal of establishing a verifiable trace-back procedure for meat-borne problems."

He said USDA should make every effort to ensure that any system of animal identification is simple, requires minimum record-keeping and is inexpensive, since the producer will likely bear the cost of implementation.

Consumer information programs and labeling information are also necessary, George noted. "Any inspection program, no matter how good, cannot protect against mishandling by food preparers."

The food safety forum was held to provide an opportunity for farmers, consumers and other interested parties to provide input on food safety issues.

Field Crop Condition Remains Good

For the week ending September 11, the average number of days suitable for fieldwork during the week was 6.7 days, according to the Maryland Agricultural Statistics Service. Across the state, topsoil moisture was 10 percent very short, 53 percent short, and 37 percent adequate. Subsoil moisture was 28 percent short and 72 percent adequate.

Statewide, hay supplies were adequate with both alfalfa and other hay into the fourth cutting. Pastures averaged in excellent condition. Field corn and soybeans were in good condition and sorghum was in mostly good to excellent condition. There were reports that the dry, cool weather is beginning to affect soybeans.

Maryland's progress for the week ending September 11 was as follows, listing the item, this year's percentage, last year's percentage and a percentage for the 5-year average.

Planting progress: Corn, dent, 85, 79, 79, mature, 36, 42, 38; silage harvested, 24, 47, 40. Soybeans, setting pods, 98, 90, 89; turned, 15, 20, 16. Sorghum, turned, 58, 28, 62. Sweet corn, harvested, 96, 97, 95. Alfalfa hay, 3rd cutting, 97, 98, 95; 4th cutting, 59, 54, 39. Other hay, 3rd cutting, 68, 56, 43; 4th cutting, 22, 22, 12. Apples, harvested, 35, 29, 31.

WEATHER
Maryland weather for the week ending September 9 had below normal temperatures and below normal precipitation with many stations reporting zero rainfall. Temperatures averaged 65.2 degrees, 6.4 degrees below the normal of 71.6 degrees for the September 3 through September 9 period. Minimum temperatures were as low as 37 degrees in Oakland, but ranged from the mid 40's to low 50's. Maximum temperature was 88 degrees in Hancock; highs were generally in the high 80's. Precipitation averaged 0.01 inches, 0.92 inches below the normal of 0.93 inches. Precipitation ranged from none at most stations to 0.21 inches at Oakland. Regional rainfall averages were: Western, 0.06; North Central, 0.01; Southern Maryland west of the Bay, 0.00 and Eastern Shore, 0.00 inches.

National Farm Safety And Health Week Announced

September 18-24 has been designated as National Farm Safety and Health Week, the 51st anniversary of a special week to call attention to safety on America's farms and ranches.

The 1994 theme, "Safety and Health: A Way of Life" underscores the importance of safety education to children and adults.

According to the National Safety Council, 1,100 people died on the job in the agriculture industry so far this year. Agriculture remains one of the most dangerous industries in the United States.

"While we emphasize agricultural and farm safety throughout the year, National Farm Safety and Health Week is the time to remind people in both rural

How To Cope With Stress On The Farm

Accidents are a major cause of death and injury among agricultural workers. A study by the National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health showed that farmers also have the highest rates of death as a result of stress-related conditions. Heart and artery disease, hypertension, ulcers and nervous disorders top the list of killers.

America's farmers and ranchers have to cope with more stress than the average worker. Droughts, floods, pests, long hours, financial concerns and other complications can lead to feelings of isolation and frustration.

Experts agree that there are steps people can take to help cope with stress in their lives. These are not meant as "instant solutions."

If one feels overwhelmed, there are many people and organizations available to listen and help.

To help reduce stress, the West Virginia University Extension Service and the National Safety Council suggest the following:

- Acknowledge that stress exists in your life.
- Don't minimize your reactions to stress. If you keep stress buried inside, it is likely to create mental and physical problems.

- Talk about your problems with family, friends, clergy or professional counselors. This will help you clear your head and focus on eliminating or reducing anxiety and stress-related ailments.
- Eat well-balanced meals and try to limit caffeine and alcohol intake. If you smoke, quit.

- Get enough sleep. If you have trouble sleeping, try light reading or listening to relaxing music.
- Keep all machinery in good condition. Eliminating possible breakdowns will help reduce stressful moments.

and urban areas about safety and health challenges faced by agricultural workers and farm residents and how to prevent accidents on farms and ranches," stated Roger Richardson, chairperson of the Maryland State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service Committee.

According to the National Safety Council, accidental deaths of farm residents have decreased the past ten years. From 1983 to 1993, the number of farm residents killed in accidents declined to 2,400 from 3,200. However, the number of farm residents killed increased 2,400 in 1993 from 2,200 in 1992.

National Farm Safety and Health week is co-sponsored by the National Safety Council, the U.S. Department of Agriculture, and other national and local organizations.

Women Face Many Challenges In Farm Life

Statistics show that women involved in agricultural work may be at an increased risk for certain types of accidents. While men are involved in more tractor rollovers, women are at a higher risk of being run over by tractors and other farm machinery, according to preliminary data from the National Safety Council. Farm and ranch experts say that women often assist their spouses by helping hitch equipment to tractors. This activity may expose them to injury or death.

Another area of increased risk for women is working with farm animals and livestock. Preliminary data from farm states shows women often tend livestock while men work with farm tractors and other machinery. As a result, women may suffer disabling injuries from farm animals. In order to prevent accidents, the National Safety Council reminds women who participate in farm chores to take preventive measures such as the ones offered below.

- Wear clothing and safety gear that is appropriate for the tasks or chores at hand. Boots and shoes should be fully laced and loose clothing tucked in to prevent power take-off and equipment entanglements.
- Keep your hair neatly tucked under head gear or tied up when working around wrap points such as power take-offs.

- Be extremely careful when helping to hitch implements to tractors. Do not get caught in a tight location between a tractor and other farm machinery. Learn the common hand signals associated with safe hitching procedures.
- Always face unpredictable livestock so you can watch them at all times.

Larger farm animals such as bulls and horses may panic or become aggressive and inflict serious injury. Swine, especially sows with young pigs, can be very protective of their young and may injure a person when aggravated.

* Do not go along as an "extra-rider" on a farm tractor. Bumpy, uneven ground, quick turns and excessive speed may increase your risk of falling and being run over by the tractor or trailing equipment.

The Fixed Rate and Adjustable Rate Mortgage in One

American Trust Bank offers a mortgage loan that gives you the benefit of both fixed and adjustable rates. The 5/1 mortgage provides a fixed rate for the first five years and then automatically converts to a one-year adjustable rate mortgage for the remaining term. You get an initial five-year fixed rate that's lower than most conventional fixed rate mortgages.

Plus, as with other American Trust mortgages, you have the opportunity to choose a bi-weekly payment feature that saves thousands of dollars in interest paid over the term, a no points option and a low down payment option.

Visit any American Trust Bank community office for further details on how you can get a fixed rate and adjustable rate mortgage in ONE!

Don't Winter-Kill Your Alfalfa
 I believe we lose more alfalfa plants to winter-kill than we realize. This time of the year when you look out at that "lush" alfalfa field, it is very tempting to put it in the barn. The odds are that would be a mistake for our area. The last cutting of the season should be taken four to five weeks before a killing frost or after the plants have gone dormant. Cutting less than four weeks before a killing frost does not allow the alfalfa plant enough time for reserving and storing food for the spring growth. Also, low fertility levels going into the winter can have a drastic effect upon plant hardiness. Keep in mind, for each ton of alfalfa harvested this year you have removed approximately 55 lbs. of nitrogen, 50 lbs. of potassium, 30 lbs. of calcium, 12 lbs. of phosphorus, 6 lbs. of sulfur, 6 lbs. of magnesium and 1/4 lb. of boron.

What Happened To My Tomatoes?
 If your tomatoes looked pretty good one day and the next day they were dead, you have been invaded by the late blight. During the last week the blight "wiped out" a lot of tomatoes in the area. In most instances, the tomatoes will rot very quickly. Then unripened green tomatoes will also deteriorate very fast before ripening. If you're raising more than one variety, make a note of the variety that survived the blight. That would be the one you should raise next year.

New Farming Traditions; Pathways To Sustainability

Export Funds Available For Ag Products

Maryland Secretary of Agriculture Lewis R. Riley has announced that the Maryland Department of Agriculture in cooperation with the Southern United States Trade Association (SUSTA) is currently accepting additional applications for the 1994 Market Promotion Program (MPP) for value-added agricultural products. The branded portion of the MPP provides matching funds to individual companies to promote high-value agricultural products marketed under brand names. The Market Promotion Program assists U.S. companies in exporting their agricultural products by sharing the cost of marketing and promotional activities. U.S. produced branded foods, beverages, seafood, food supplements, pet foods, and intermediate products are eligible for SUSTA's MPP branded. These products must be of at least 50 percent U.S. agriculture in origin by weight excluding added water and packaging. In addition, they may not be covered by another Foreign Agricultural Service cooperator, export incentive program, or state export program; or be covered in a country by another MPP/VAPP company.

MDA's participation in the program enables Maryland producers of high value agricultural products to increase their sales worldwide. Participating companies are able to enter and develop markets which may be too costly to penetrate without the matching funds. Eligible activities include advertising, production of promotional materials, trade shows, and in-store merchandising, to name a few.

These resources will be available to companies during the remainder FY-94 (November 1, 1994 through April 30, 1995). The deadline for receipt of applications is September 15. A fee of $200 is required at the time of application. In addition, an assessment fee of four (4) percent of the approved MPP funding level is required when the contract is signed. The $200 application fee will be applied to the assessment fee. The minimum requested is $5,000 per company and no company shall receive a grant of more than $270,000.

Interested companies may request an information packet and application form by contacting Errol Small at the Maryland Department of Agriculture at (410) 841-5770 or by fax at (410) 841-5987.

matodes, Marketing, New Crops and much more. Suppliers of goods and services to organic and low-input farms also have been invited to set up exhibits and displays to share their products with potential producers. This unique effort of the Cooperative Extension Service and MOFA should produce a program that is valuable to longtime organic producers and those considering the shift from conventional farming or other disciplines.

The workshop will be held Monday, October 17, at the Western Maryland Research and Education Center (WMREC), 18330 Keedysville Rd. Keedysville. Doors open for check-in and morning beverages at 8:30 a.m. and the meeting adjourns at 4:30 p.m. Cost of the program is $18 per person and includes lunch and breaks. Pre-registration is required. For registration information please call Steve Bogash at WMREC (301)432-4492. Registration forms and program agendas also will be available from Maryland Cooperative Extension Service offices throughout the region.

MDA Updates Aquaculture Directory

Maryland Secretary of Agriculture Lewis R. Riley has announced that the Maryland Department of Agriculture's Aquaculture Office is updating its aquaculture products directory.

Any commercial grower who has not been contacted by the aquaculture office and would like to be listed in the directory may contact the Maryland Department of Agriculture, Aquaculture Office, Lynne Canter, 50 Harry S. Truman Parkway, Annapolis, MD 21401, telephone (410) 841-5724.

Consultants Certified Through MDA Nutrient Management Program

Maryland Department of Agriculture (MDA) Secretary Lewis R. Riley awarded 34 new private consultants their certification in the Department's Nutrient Management Program, bringing the total number of consultants to 219. Qualified individuals are certified to provide farmers with state-approved nutrient management plans. The plans help manage animal wastes, commercial fertilizers and urban sludge to prevent pollution of ground and surface waters.

"Each plan is site specific and provides farmers with a 'prescription approach' to fertilizer use so that nutrients applied are used by crops and not lost to the environment," explained Secretary Riley. "The goal is to make certain that crops are getting the right amount of nutrients at the right time in the growing season so that few, if any, unused nutrients escape."

Program participation has dramatically increased since its establishment in 1989, when only 10 plans were in place. As of July 1, the Cooperative Extension Service's consultants report that over 384,000 acres, 25% of Maryland cropland, are covered under approximately 5,000 nutrient management plans. This does not include 1993-94 results due to MDA this fall, from the 117 private industry consultants, who were certified for the first time last year.

"There is a long waiting list of farmers wanting to participate in the Nutrient Management Program, or have their current efforts certified in an official plan. I'm pleased to see that more technical support will now be available," commented Secretary Riley.

"Farmers know that sound nutrient management practices are good for the environment, and good for their business. This is a voluntary public-private program that works. We have no doubts that we will achieve our portion of Maryland's 40 percent nutrient reduction goal of the Chesapeake Bay Agreement."

For more information on Maryland's Nutrient Management Program or agriculture's efforts to clean up the bay, persons may contact the Department of Agriculture, Office of Resource Conservation, 50 Harry S. Truman Parkway, Annapolis, MD 21401, telephone (410) 841-5863.

Senior Farmers Are At Risk On The Farm

Older farmers and ranchers must deal with the effects of aging just like everyone else. However, the already dangerous work of farming can become more hazardous as farmers age. The quick onset of fatigue, reduced vision and slower reaction time that are part of the normal aging process can increase risk among older agricultural workers. Also, many suffer from permanent hearing loss and arthritis which can seriously impact safe job performance.

All these factors combine to increase risk among older farmers and ranchers. Research by the National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health has demonstrated that tractor drivers 65 years and older may be two to three times more likely to die in tractor accidents than persons in other age groups. A study conducted by Purdue University farm safety specialists revealed an increased risk for older farm machinery operators because of arthritis. Arthritis hinders the mobility of farmers and ranchers during many farm tasks.

The National Safety Council recommends that older farmers and ranchers compensate for the normal aging process:

- Have your vision checked by a doctor regularly. The aging process also can decrease peripheral vision which may affect driving performance.

- Remember that vision is hampered the most at dawn and dusk; avoid riding tractors at these times. Be aware that older drivers' eyes need more light to see well but also are more sensitive to glare.

- Get plenty of rest during planting, harvest and long work periods. Take frequent breaks to protect against fatigue and physical stress. Drink plenty of liquids and keep them available in your work area. Accidents are more likely to occur after fatigue has set in.

- Use extreme caution when operating equipment. Be familiar with any medication you take and its effect on reaction time. Even over-the-counter medications can hamper reflexes and diminish alertness, limiting your ability to operate farm tractors and machinery.

- Make sure that a family member or fellow worker knows where you will be working.

- Know your limitations. Don't push your mind and body past their safe and healthy limits.

Plans Finalized For Burlington Apple Festival

The aromas of apples, cinnamon, wood smoke, popcorn, country ham, and hot dogs will once again fill the air when the 21st Annual Burlington Old Fashioned Apple Harvest Festival gets under way on Saturday, October 1, and Sunday, October 2, in Burlington, W. Va.

The festival schedule includes entertainment and events for all ages, according to organizers. Highlighting the musical entertainment will be the return of the U.S. Navy's Country Current Band at 2 p.m. on Saturday. Country Current will be preceded by a special performance of the Ronald McDonald show at 12:45. Ronald will also pose for pictures with the $1 charge benefiting the Ronald McDonald House and the Burlington United Methodist Family Services' cottage fund.

Saturday's schedule will include various mountain bluegrass and gospel musical performances by the Middle Ridge Strings, Fountain Valley Bluegrass, Rev. Dan Arbogast, Fresh Cut, and the Dodds Family. Other events scheduled for Saturday include the Apple Harvest Royalty Pageant on stage at noon and a bow hunters' competition on the south end of the grounds at 1:30 p.m. The Grand Feature Parade will begin at 4 p.m.

Sunday's schedule begins with morning devotions followed throughout the day with stage appearances by the Sunset Serenaders, the Gospel Ambassadors, the Highland Grass, the McKendree United Methodist Men's Chorus, the Beacons, Eisenhours and Company, and Broken Chains. Sam, The Wonder Dog, a festival favorite last year, will be returning for four shows throughout the day on Sunday.

The Antique Auto and Small Engine and Tractor Show promises appearances of over 200 antique model autos and trucks. A special feature of the tractor show is the Tiger Tractor, the only commercially built tractor manufactured in Keyser, W. Va.

Chicken barbecue dinners will be available on Sunday and the 1994 Baby Apple Dumping will be crowned at 4 p.m.

Burlington's "famous old fashioned apple butter" will be available for sale both days. Adventurous souls can try their hand at stirring the spread on Saturday. Arts and crafts are available in several "big top" tents and there will be an open air flea market.

A Quilt Show of heritage and other handmade quilts and quilted items will be sponsored by the Mineral County Homemakers. People's Choice Awards will be given in three categories: Heritage, Appliqued, and Pieced. The $1 admission registers attendees for the door prize - a hand made quilt stitched in the "postcard" pattern by area homemakers.

Food of all types will be available on the grounds. Apple dumplings, apple burgers, and other apple specialties will be the highlights of festival food. A wide array of other foods will be on hand, such as roast ox, funnel cakes, country ham, popcorn, cotton candy, sloppy joes and more.

The festival grounds on the Children's Home Campus of Burlington United Methodist Family Services will be open from 10 a.m. to dark on Saturday, October 1, and from noon until dark on Sunday, October 2. Shuttle bus services by Potomac Valley Transit will be available from three satellite parking areas on a regular schedule from 11 a.m. until 7 p.m. on Saturday and noon until 7 p.m. on Sunday.

Henderson, Wilson Reign During Annual Mt. Grove Potato Festival

Jillena Henderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Henderson, Aurora, and Jeffery Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Wilson, Horse Shoe Run, were crowned Queen and King Farina during Saturday's coronation ceremonies at the 13th Annual Mt. Grove Potato Festival.

In the Junior Queen and King division, Sharon Shaffer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Shaffer, Horse Shoe Run, and Frank Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Art Schaumloeffel, Horse Shoe Run, took top honors.

Jolena Slaubaugh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joey Slaubaugh, Horse Shoe Run, and Todd Simmons, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Simmons, also of Horse Shoe Run, were named Little Miss Farina and Little King.

Other Queen Farina contestants included Valerie Wiles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Wiles, Aurora, and Tina DeWitt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Myers, Horse Shoe Run.

Junior Queen contestants were Ashley Wilt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alan Wilt, Eglon; Christie Sharpless, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sharpless, Aurora; and Nicole Heckler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Heckler, Aurora.

Others vying for the honor of Little Miss Farina were Erica Shaffer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Shaffer, Horse Shoe Run; Amelia Friend, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Friend, Horse Shoe Run; Jenna Sisler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sisler, Aurora; and Hope Heckler, daughter of Mrs. Rodney Heckler, Aurora. The only other Little King hopeful was Anthony Wilt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alan Wilt, Eglon.

The king and queen contestants collected penny votes or sold tickets for prizes that were given away during the two-day event, sponsored each year by the Mt. Grove Volunteer Fire Department. The contestant who proved to be the best salesman, or collected the most pennies was named the winner in his or her respective age category.

Proceeds from the children's efforts will be used for the VFD's operating budget. Those claiming the titles were awarded savings bonds from various area banks.

Following the coronation, master of ceremonies Brad Stewart named Wayne Shaffer as this year's fire-fighter of the year.

Another main attraction during Saturday's festival events was a decorated cake contest. Cakes, featuring a fire department or potato festival theme, were entered in competition, with the results as follows: Robin Roth, first place, $100; Cindy Harsh and Cris Shaffer, second place, $50; and Wanda Evans, third place, $25. Prizes for the contest were provided by Stewart Funeral Home in Oakland, Brad Stewart, owner, and proceeds from the event

Following the decorated cake contest, auctioneer Carl Blizzard auctioned the three prize-winning cakes, as well as several others, to add to the excitement of the afternoon. The top three cakes, purchased by Helen Roth, Joe Slaubaugh and Don Roth, brought a total of $595 for the fire department.

Another cake, baked and decorated by Ellen Harsh, Horse Shoe Run, was sold six times, and donated each time to be sold again. That cake, purchased finally by Barbara Evans, Arnold Park Campgrounds, Leadmine, netted more than $600 for the VED's largest fundraiser of the year. Other purchasers/donors for that one cake were Orval Kight, Tri-State Coal; Betty Collins for Delegate David "O.B." Collins; Don Knapp, Nelson Excavating; Dennis Roth, Fairfax Sand; and Barbara Miller for Senator David E. Miller.

According to Larry Shaffer, fire chief, in addition to operating costs, the cost of outfitting just one fire-fighter is more than $2,900. The Mt. Grove department has 29 members, and the total cost for protective clothing is nearly $85,000.

The Mt. Grove VFD, formed just 13 years ago, is Preston County's youngest fire department. In addition to the annual potato festival, its largest fundraiser of the year, the organization also sponsors a ramp dinner each spring, and has hosted bluegrass festivals, among others.

53rd Buckwheat Festival To Feature Parades, Music And More

Two weeks from today will be the starting date for the 53rd Annual Preston County Buckwheat Festival, sponsored each year by the Kingwood Volunteer Fire Department.

This year's event, "A Symphony of Sight and Sound," runs from Thursday, Sept. 29 through Sunday, Oct. 2, and festival-goers will enjoy a variety of arts and crafts displays, a giant carnival, commercial exhibits, school and club exhibits, prize livestock, produce and canned goods, a variety of food, including the ever popular buckwheat cake and sausage dinners, and special events.

Parades include the Firemen's Day Parade, on Thursday at 7:30 p.m.; the School Day Parade at 2:30 p.m. on Friday; and the Farmers' Day Parade at noon on Saturday. (Traffic begins to get a bit snarled before parade time, so spectators may want to arrive an hour or more the parade begins.)

Coronation ceremonies for Queen Ceres Lili Amber King, daughter of Gene and Connie King, Kingwood; and King Buckwheat Lili Scott Wofford, son of Kermit and Peggy Wofford, Rowlesburg, begin at noon on Friday, on the Central Preston Junior High School football field. There is no charge for admission to this event, and the public is welcome and encouraged to attend.

Also on the CPJHS football field will be the Band Spectacular, featuring the "Pride of West Virginia," the 315-plus member West Virginia University Mountaineer Marching Band, slated to appear on Saturday, Oct. 1, beginning at 2:30 p.m. In addition to the WVU marching band, high school bands from Pennsylvania, Maryland and West Virginia will perform. The cost for this extravaganza is $2 for those 17 and younger, and $4 for 18 years and older.

OTHER EVENTS
Other Friday features during the 53rd annual celebration will be a tractor driving contest at 9 a.m. on the Preston Educational Center athletic field; a bicycle decorating contest on Brown Avenue at 10 a.m.; and a lamb dressing contest at 4:30 p.m. in the Cow Palace.

Saturday will also feature the 3rd Annual Preston County Buckwheat Festival 5K Classic, beginning at 9:30 a.m. at Camp Dawson; a farmers' skill contest, set for 10 a.m. on the CPJHS football field; a pet show in the Cow Palace arena at 10 a.m.

HIGH BIDDERS -- A cake auction, an increasingly popular part of the Mt. Grove Potato Festival, raised more than $1,200 for the area's volunteer fire department. The top three prize-winning cakes were the first to be auctioned and, in the top photo, Helen Roth, pictured holding her grandson, Mike Roth, was the high bidder on the first-place cake, baked by her daughter-in-law, Robin Roth, for $210. Also pictured is Mrs. Roth's husband, Sam. In the photos below, Joe Slaubaugh, left, representing Coastal Lumber, out-bid all others, with $210, to claim the second place-cake, baked by Cindy Harsh and Cris Shaffer; and Don Roth, on behalf of Miners and Merchants Bank in Thomas, purchased the third-place cake, baked by Wanda Evans, for $175.

Sunday's Antique Car Show at the civic center will be from 11 a.m. until 3 p.m., featuring antique cars and trucks through 1969, and non-modified production vehicles from 1970-79. There is no charge to view the vehicles, but exhibitors will pay a $3 fee per car.

CIVIC CENTER ATTRACTIONS

The Craig Civic Center will be the sight for various musical attractions during the festival.

A Music Spectacular, starring country-western star Ronnie McDowell, is set for two performances on Sept. 30 -- one at 6:45 and the other at 9:45 p.m. The cost is $13 for general admission, and $15 for reserved seating.

The 16th Annual Banjo Fiddle Contest, featuring Everett Lilly and Clear Creek Crossin', is slated for Oct. 1, at 6:30 p.m. The cost of admission is $4 per person.

The Wheeling Symphony, directed by Maestra Rachael Worby, will get underway Oct. 2, at 2 p.m. The cost for this performance is $7.50 for general admission, and $10 for reserved seating.

For information about tickets for any of these events, persons may call (304) 324-0303.

HERITAGE CLASSIC BIKE RACE

For several years, the Heritage Day Bike Race, a 25-mile event, has been an exciting addition to the Buckwheat Festival's Sunday activities.

The race is set for Sunday, Oct. 2, at 11 a.m., and begins at the Community Building on Brown Avenue, Kingwood. Registration begins at 10 a.m. at the same location. Entry fee is $17 per person (pre-registration), or $20 (race date registration). Prizes will be awarded to the top three females and the top three males in each age category.

BUCKWHEAT CAKE DINNERS

Buckwheat cake and sausage dinners will be served in the community building throughout the festival: Thursday, from 11 a.m. until 10 p.m.; Friday and Saturday, from 8 a.m. until 9 p.m.; and on Sunday from 8 a.m. until 6 p.m.

In addition to the dinners served on the festival grounds, visitors will find the dinners available at various restaurants and community buildings throughout the county.

All Buckwheat Festival activities -- exhibits, livestock, arts and crafts, contests, carnival, coronation, and concerts -- take place in one general, easily walked area. General Chairman Steve Decker, along with the entire Kingwood VFD, welcomes everyone to the 53rd Annual Preston County Buckwheat Festival in Kingwood.

Terra Alta Club

Members Convene

The members of the Terra Alta Rotary Club met at Alpine Lake Thursday with Logan Weber in charge of the program. He had as his guest Charles McIntyre of Mtn. Lake Park, who showed a video to the group. It was produced and directed by John Grant and Dusty Stanton, both of Oakland, for Maryland Public Television. The video, commemorating the 50th anniversary of the landing on Normandy beach in World War II, was made particularly for the two Garrett County high schools and Garrett Community College.

McIntyre participated in the landing and was able to comment on the video.

The business meeting included plans for a Rotary float to be entered in the Buckwheat Festival parades on Friday and Saturday, September 30 and October 1, and the Autumn Glory parade on Saturday, October 15. President Don Loudermilk, chairman of the float committee, asked members to "clear their calendars" in order to help with the float.

During the past few weeks my belief that Garrett County is someplace special has been reaffirmed time and time again.

I have met many wonderful and interesting people who have gone the extra mile to lend their support and encouragement.

More than once I was deeply moved by the honesty, sincerity, and openness of those citizens who shared their concern with me and those citizens who truly wish to see positive changes in Garrett County.

My sincere appreciation to all those who voted and worked for me during the primary election. As always, your concerns will continue to be my concerns.

A SIGN OF THE SEASON - Calendars everywhere have notations on tomorrow's date: "first day of autumn," and a sure sign of the change is shown here - a photograph of the Canada geese on a trial run. Geese can be seen and heard all over the county these days, flying in unsteady V-formations that collapse and reform in a seemingly haphazard fashion. Apparently the geese are practicing for their longer flights south, which will get underway in the coming months. As for now, the stronger geese vie for the leader position and the younger ones learn the patterns. Some of the birds will winter here, but many will be leaving in tidy V-formations to spend the colder months elsewhere.

Suspicious Fire Heavily Damages Mobile Home

A mobile home along Vindex Road near Kitzmiller was heavily damaged by fire of suspicious origin Sunday night.

Volunteer fire fighters from Kitzmiller, Elk Garden, and Deer Park were summoned to the residence of Leonard Paugh Jr. at 9:20 p.m. and discovered heavy flames coming from a rear bedroom of the 14-by-70-foot trailer. No one was at home at the time of the blaze, according to Steve Wendling, fire investigator for Garrett and Allegany counties.

A portion of the structure was saved by fire fighters; however, Wendling estimated the loss to be about $30,000. He said that the origin of the fire is suspicious in nature and noted that a breaking and entering had apparently occurred at the residence after the tenants left the trailer at about 7 p.m. Some of the tenants' possessions were reportedly missing as a result of the burglary.

Wendling added that this was the third structure fire in recent years at this location.

The investigation into the incident is continuing.

Education Board Hits Small Snag At Site, But Will Continue Plan

Members of the Garrett County Board of Education met Tuesday for the regular monthly meeting and discussed a small snag encountered in a survey of the proposed site for the southern area elementary school. Despite the problem, which involves the usage of "emerging wetlands," the board voted unanimously to move on with plans to obtain the site for the new school.

Superintendent Jerome Ryscavage explained in an interview that during the 120-day "option to buy" duration, several required tests and surveys have been undertaken to assure the site is appropriate for the school. Morgan France, local surveyor, studied the area and reported to the superintendent that part of the proposed site does fall into the category of "emerging wetlands." Wetlands, Ryscavage explained, are determined based on the make-up of the soil and the plants growing in that soil.

"He informed me that the land considered emerging wetlands does extend in a tongue-like fashion onto the actual proposed school site. The architect was able to adjust the plan so that the size of the land in ques-

Bus Driver Found Dead Aboard Bus

A Grantsville area school bus driver was found dead on his bus Wednesday evening on the New Germany Road.

Sixty-five-year-old Cecil Edward Sebold, Grantsville, was found unresponsive by Savage River State Forest Ranger John Frank, who responded to the scene after being notified by Garrett Central.

A passer-by reportedly noticed a Sebold bus pulled to the side of the road, approximately one-quarter mile above Twin Churches Road, and thinking it was suspicious, he called Garrett Central at 6:01 p.m.

Also on the scene were Ranger Rick Lewis, and forensic investigator Jim Wilburn who pronounced Sebold dead at 6:06 p.m. Northern Garrett Rescue Squad transported him to Newman Funeral Home, Grantsville.

Sebold was born Sept. 19, 1928.

Correction Of Computer Error Gives Clark Win

Although early election results released last Tuesday night showed Asa McCain Jr. leading Earl Clark Sr. in the democratic race for the office of District Three commissioner, the discovery and correction of a computer error revealed that Clark was the actual early leader.

According to Fred Sanders, clerk of the Garrett County Board of Elections, a tentative tally compiled on the evening of last Tuesday's gubernatorial primary election listed McCain with 689 votes and Clark with 681.

However, a canvass conducted later in the week revealed that two voting machines in Deer Park had not tallied the votes received by Clark. After correcting this error, election officials realized that Clark actually had earned 742 votes, thus giving him in the early lead, Sanders stated.

After absentee ballots were counted, Clark retained his lead over McCain. In the final tally, Clark, with 764 votes, defeated McCain, who earned 721.

In the close race between Republican District Two commissioner candidates Lawson Duckworth and Clyde Hettrick, the addition of absentee ballots was unable to derail Hettrick's early lead. Election night results placed Hettrick ahead of Duckworth, 848 to 838. After absentee votes were compiled, Hettrick retained his lead with 886 votes to Duckworth's 874.

Four Injured, One Seriously, In Plane Crash

A McHenry man remains hospitalized, listed in "serious" condition in Cumberland Memorial Hospital's intensive care unit, after the airplane he was a passenger in crashed Tuesday evening at the Garrett County Airport, McHenry.

Harry Vaughn Vitez, 43, was flown to the hospital by Maryland State Police Trooper 5 helicopter, after the Piper Cherokee Arrow, Model 28-200 airplane, piloted by a retired state policeman, Lawrence R. Rosage, 54, McHenry, crashed shortly after take-off. Maryland State Police, Barrack W. McHenry, said the plane, en route to Morgantown, W.Va., cleared the end of the runway, but for unknown reasons struck the top of several trees and crashed.

Vitez was seated in the right front seat of the plane. Rosage, and another passenger, Timothy K. Yommer, 34, Mtn. Lake Park, were treated at GMH and later released. A third passenger, John K. Burnside, 49, Weston, W.Va., was reportedly transported to Garrett County Memorial Hospital, but refused treatment.

The Federal Aviation Association was notified of the 6:05 p.m. accident, and investigators were on the scene Wednesday afternoon. Also responding to the scene of the crash were members of the Civil Air Patrol who secured the site, members of the Deep Creek Volunteer Fire Department, and the Northern Garrett Rescue Squad.

Candidate's Letter Asks Commissioners To Avoid Spending

The Garrett County Board of Commissioners' decision not to act on a school repair request from county Superintendent of Schools Jerome Ryscavage Tuesday may have been based in part on a letter they recently received from Roger Giotfelty, the newly elected Republican candidate for District Three Commissioner.

The commissioners reported Tuesday that in the letter, Giotfelty asked that the board "defer action of any expenditures of funds for new equipment or hiring of additional personnel, as well as any other activity involving the expenditures of county funds other than payment of routine monthly expenses until after the new board of commissioners is seated."

"A TERRIFIC JOB!" said Maryland State Police Trooper Linda DeVore, as she described the action taken by Grantsville resident Robyn Brenneman during last Thursday's robbery of the Grantsville Branch of First United Bank and Trust. Thanks to Brenneman's quick thinking, she was able to memorize the license plate number of the robbery suspect's vehicle, and assist police in their apprehension efforts. Tfc. DeVore was the officer responsible for coordinating a roadblock in Frostburg, where armed robbery suspect Alexander D. DeVault Jr. was apprehended. DeVore and Brenneman, pictured above, met for the first time Tuesday, beside the bank, where they discussed their inadvertent teamwork. DeVore, one of only two female state police officers in western Maryland (Garrett and Allegany County), praised Brenneman's sense of civic duty, calling it "vital to the quick apprehension." $250,000 Bond Keeps Robbery Suspect Jailed

A Midland man remains incarcerated in the Garrett County Jail, in lieu of $250,000 bond, following his arrest for armed robbery at a Grantsville bank last Thursday afternoon.

Alexander Denning "Denny" DeVault Jr., 49, was charged with robbery with a deadly weapon, five counts of assault with a deadly weapon, possession of a short-barreled shotgun, and felony theft, after he apparently entered the Grantsville Branch of First United Bank and Trust with a sawed-off shotgun, and demanded money from the tellers.

DeVault reportedly held a plastic bag in front of each teller as he walked in front of the counter during the 12:15 p.m. holdup. He then left through a rear entrance of the bank and fled on foot to his vehicle parked about a block from the establishment.

According to a report filed by Tfc. R.M. Hershberger, Maryland State Police, Barrack W. McHenry, DeVault escaped the scene in a four-door Eagle Sedan and initially traveled toward the Pennsylvania state line. He then headed toward Frostburg in Allegany County, and at approximately 1:10 p.m., Tfc. Linda DeVore of the MSP barracks in LaVale spotted the suspect traveling east on Rt. 20.

Hospital "Campaign" Heating Up; Union Vote Set For September 30

While much of the local campaigning for various elected positions has slowed dramatically because of last Tuesday's primary election, another campaign is reaching a peak this week, as some 200 of the approximately 350 employees of Garrett County Memorial Hospital will vote on Friday, Sept. 30, to determine if they want to join Local 27 of the United Food and Commercial Workers Union.

The UFCW Union is affiliated with the AFL-CIO and is one of the nation's largest unions. It represents a wide variety of workers, from meat cutters to grocery store employees to tree trimmers to race track workers. However, less than five percent of their membership are health care workers and Towson-based Local 27 has only one other hospital among its membership.

The hospital employees who will be eligible to vote in next Friday's election include the clerical, technical, and non-professional personnel, which are those employees in the house-keeping, dietary, laboratory, radiology, admissions, and billing and collecting departments. A simple majority of those casting ballots will decide the election.

Both sides have been waging campaigns, primarily within the walls of the hospital, but also through letters to the editor of The Republican. The union representatives have also scheduled a debate for this Saturday evening at the Oakland Elks Lodge between them and the hospital administration; however, Benjamin Rosenthal, hospital president, said neither he, nor any other administrative representative, will participate in the debate.

"Labor relations laws prohibit management from making any promises at these so-called debates, but

Final plans are underway at Garrett Community College for the Convocation of the World War II Commemoration set for Friday, September 23, at 10 a.m. in the college auditorium. Because of illness of one of the key participants, some changes have been made in the previously announced program.

Oakland Man Sentenced To 15 Years On Felony Theft Charges

An Oakland man was sentenced to a total of 15 years in the Maryland Department of Corrections during last week's Garrett County District Court proceedings, after being convicted on six counts of theft.

Paul G. Hesel, 28, was found guilty of five counts of felony theft and one count of petty theft by District Court Judge Ralph M. Burnett. The felony theft convictions carry 15-year sentences, and the petty theft charge brought a one-year term. The judge ordered the sentences to run concurrently, and all court costs were suspended because of the defendant's indigency.

In plea agreements with the state's attorney's office, numerous additional charges of breaking and entering, breaking, entering and stealing, malicious destruction of property, felony theft, daytime burglary, forgery of private documents, uttering, and possession of a controlled dangerous substance (CDS) and its paraphernalia, were not prosecuted.

According to district court records, Hesel was involved in numerous breaking and entering at several summer residences in the Moors Sub-Division area of McHenry and a residence on the Rock Lodge Road during December 1993.

Among the numerous complaints investigated by Garrett County sheriff's deputies was one by Hesel's sister, Sheryl Hesel, who told police someone had been living in her trailer in the Moors Sub-Division, without permission. She had last been at the residence in October 1993, and at that time had removed fuses from the main breaker box and had shut off the electricity. When she returned, the electric had been turned back on, and dirty dishes were scattered throughout the kitchen and living room. She indicated her brother, Paul Hesel, may have been staying in the residence. When questioned by police about the incident, Hesel reportedly admitted to staying in the trailer for three days in early December.

Another report filed indicated a breaking and entering into one resident's storage building, and the theft of a small propane tank. While police were conducting an investigation into this complaint, they located the tank at Sheryl Hesel's trailer. The defendant reportedly had been using propane fuel to heat the residence, and admitted to taking the tank, as well as other propane tanks from residences in the Moors Sub-Division.

Additional reports filed resulted from the theft of checkbooks from two of the residences. Hesel reportedly forged the check owners' names and made them payable to his alias, "Michael Leo Shaeffer." He and a co-defendant, Shawn M. Robinson, 27, Accident, reportedly cashed two checks and split the money.

Ballot Problem Is Discussed By Election Board

The Garrett County Board of Election Supervisors met September 20 to try to resolve a problem which arose during the Primary Election on Sept. 13. The question has arisen concerning the location of board of education candidates on the ballot, which led to some voters failing to see the candidates' names.

The Election Board pointed out that State Board of Election Laws prepares the ballot for all elections held in Maryland and the local board does not have control over the placement of names on the ballot. Any comments, suggestions, and/or criticism, should be directed to the State Board at 1-800-222-8683.

McHenry Man Arrested Saturday, Charged With DWI

An early morning traffic violation stop by Maryland State Police resulted in the arrest of a McHenry man who was charged with DWI (driving while intoxicated and/or driving while under the influence of alcohol and/or drugs).

According to a report filed at Barrack W. McHenry, 11c, M.S. Clapper stopped a 1988 Honda, operated by Steven A. Mills, 22, for driving 67.2 mph in a 45 mph speed zone on Rt. 219, south of the Rock Lodge Road. Other citations included failure to drive right of center and negligent driving.

A subsequent search of Mills' vehicle revealed four plastic bags containing suspected marijuana, and numerous drug paraphernalia items strewn throughout the vehicle, resulting in additional charges of possession of a controlled dangerous substance (CDS) and possession of CDS paraphernalia.

Mills was taken to the Garrett County Jail following his 2:52 a.m. arrest, where he awaited a bond hearing. He was later released on his own recognizance.

B&E, FELONY THEFT
State police are investigating a breaking and entering and felony theft report, filed by Keith D. Harvey, Oakland.

Harvey told police that sometime between 8:45 a.m. and 4:15 p.m. on Sept. 12, someone broke into his residence near Oakland while his family was away, and took computer equipment, large amounts of cash, wedding rings, and a camcorder.

Anyone with information about this incident may contact the investigating officer, 11c, S.H. Anderson, at Barrack W., 387-1101, or 895-1101. The call is toll-free from anywhere in Garrett County.

ONE-VEHICLE MISHAP
Two people were transported to Garrett County Memorial Hospital by Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad early Wednesday morning following a one-vehicle accident on Rt. 135, near Sand Flat Road. According to MSP reports, a 1994 Ford Econoline rental van, owned by Thrifty Car Rental Ryder Trucks in Mt. Ranier, and operated by 41-year-old George L. Awkard, Lanham, ran off the right side of the road near the intersection of Rt. 135 and the Sand Flat Road, and failed to stop at a stop sign. The van reportedly continued

Theft, Property Destruction Cases Probed By GCSO

Several incidents of property destruction and/or theft were reported to the Garrett County Sheriff's Office this week. Items stolen included two chainsaws from one victim and two ladders from another. Property destruction cases involved vandalism at a Buffalo Coal storage building and the misuse of an all-terrain vehicle.

Richard E. Skipper, Swanton, contacted police on Sept. 9 to report the theft of two chainsaws. The victim told officers that the equipment was inside a back yard shed on the night of Sept. 8 and was gone the following day.

The chainsaws are Homelite brand and their estimated worth is $490, according to the report. There are no suspects in the case.

Two ladders were reported stolen from Franklin N. Winters, Oakland. A six-foot fiberglass ladder and a five-foot wooden ladder were taken from the back of Winters' truck on the night of Sept. 12. Also apparently stolen was $49 worth of gasoline from the victim's truck, which had been parked behind his house.

Winters told police that he has had gasoline stolen before, and other neighbors have reported the same. The value of the ladders was declared to be $200.

Denny Savage, an employee of Buffalo Coal, contacted the sheriff's office when he discovered that a storage building owned by the company had been

Battery Charges Filed Against Oakland Man

An Oakland man was arrested by the Garrett County Sheriff's Office on two counts of battery following a domestic dispute this week. Larry G. Wilson, 31, is accused of battering a woman and her son in the woman's home Monday.

According to the police report, Wilson was asleep on the floor of 1414 Tasker's home Monday evening, and when Ms. Tasker attempted to wake him at 10:30 p.m., he threatened her. She and her 10-year-old son then apparently went to bed.

At midnight, Wilson allegedly came into the bedroom and attacked Ms. Tasker, slapping and kicking her. When the son attempted to stop Wilson, the defendant reportedly hit him, knocking him into a closet. Ms. Tasker managed to run outside and hide behind a bush. Wilson followed her and drove away in his car, presumably looking for her. He returned a short while later. Ms. Tasker had by that time run through briars to a neighbor's house, where the police were contacted. The police report indicated that she sustained numerous scratches from the briars and was bruised.

Wilson was charged with two counts of battery and was incarcerated in the Garrett County Jail. He is being held on $50,000 bond, according to a sheriff's office spokesperson.

In other sheriff's office news, an Oakland man was charged with one count of burglary with intent to steal and one count of theft. Willie G. Friend, 42, is accused of entering the home of Debra L. Friend on Sept. 4 and stealing personal property.

Michael R. Stemple, 22, Oakland, was arrested last week after he allegedly refused to leave a Hutton Road residence after having been told to leave by the owners. Stemple was apparently profane toward Barbara Stemple and refused to leave the home after police officers arrived on the scene.

Stemple was charged with disturbing the peace and disorderly conduct. After spending the night in the local jail, he was released on his own recognizance, according to the report.

The sheriff's office assisted the Oakland City Police in the arrest of two individuals allegedly involved in the theft of a 30-50 rifle. Charged were Jason W. Hale, 18, and Robert L. Pyles, 28, both of Oakland.

Hale is accused of breaking into the home of Robert Lee Swanton, and removing the rifle. He apparently gave the gun to Pyles, who then attempted to sell it. Officers acted on information from a third party who reported that the gun had been stolen.

Hale was charged with one count of breaking and entering, and Pyles was cited for theft, according to the report.

A Deer Park woman was arrested on the strength of a warrant this week. Patti Jo Giotto, 25, has been charged with burglary, felony theft, and malicious destruction of property. She is accused of breaking into the home of Teresa L. Kitzmiller on Oct. 31 of last year. After gaining entry by breaking a window, she allegedly stole $300 worth of personal property and cash.

A bench warrant was issued for the arrest of Johnny R. Cramer, 35, Albright, W.Va., who apparently failed to appear in district court to face traffic charges. He was scheduled to be in court on July 12, 1989.

Michael A. DeWitt, 21, Mountain Lake Park, was arrested on the strength of a bench warrant for failure to appear in court. He was to face a traffic charge on Sept. 12, according to the report.

Brian R. Griffin, 22, Kitzmiller, was arrested on the strength of a bench warrant for failure to pay $225 into circuit court, according to the report.

A body attachment order was issued for the arrest of David H. Ringer, 37, Oakland. Ringer apparently failed to obey a subpoena issued by the circuit court. Pre-set bond was $1,000, which was reduced to 10% after the defendant was taken before the judge last week.

Gary L. Johnson, 40, Accident, was arrested on the strength of a bench warrant last week. He apparently failed to appear in court on August 31.

Oakland Man Pleads Guilty To Sex Offense

An Oakland man pleaded guilty in Garrett County Circuit Court last week to the charge of third degree sexual offense. Bradford L. Shiflett, 23, was arrested on the charge in June after he allegedly molested a 10-year-old female.

Judge Fred A. Thayer accepted Shiflett's plea and ordered a pre-sentence investigation. Bail was to remain at $25,000, according to the court document.

Shiflett was apparently taking care of the child at the time of the alleged molestation. Charges brought against him that were not prosecuted included child abuse, fourth degree sexual offense, and assault and battery. A sentencing date was not indicated on the court record.

As the result of an appeal in a separate case, an Oakland man will serve six months on home detention for a DWI (driving while intoxicated) conviction. Frederick D. Sanders, 53, Oakland, had appealed a sentence handed down to him in Garrett County District Court.

The verdict in district court was guilty, and the judge had ordered Sanders to jail for one year, with six months and one day suspended. He also fined him $1,000.

In the appeal, Thayer accepted Sanders' guilty plea to DWI and also ordered him to be jailed for one year with six months and one day suspended. The judge then declared that the defendant could serve the commitment under home detention, and that he may continue to work during his detention.

Sanders was also ordered to pay for the home detention and was placed on three years of probation. One condition of the sentence is that he remain totally alcohol-free during the commitment and probation.

Garrett Community College FTE Enrollment At All-Time High

Fall enrollment at Garrett Community College appears to have reversed the trend of declining enrollments at other community colleges and four-year colleges, according to Deloris Edgar, GCC registrar.

With the head count tied with last year's record-breaking 719, the significant increase in number of full-time students (413) has resulted in a 14% rise in full-time equivalencies (FTE's). Enrollment figures showed 250.12 full-time equivalent students as of September 14, the end of the current registration period.

Commenting on the unusually high number of new students, Joan Crawford, director of enrollment development, said, "We see several factors working in our favor to attract new students to GCC - our reputation for academic excellence, the new residence hall, the winning records of our basketball, baseball and volleyball teams, and special promotions we have done with area high schools. An additional factor is our relatively low tuition."

GCC Fares Well In May Survey Of Graduates

Garrett Community College received high marks from members of the May 1994 graduating class, according to a recently published survey. Fifty-four of the 89 graduates completed the survey, for a response rate of 61%.

The majority of students (69%) indicated that they would choose GCC if they were to start college over again, and 87% felt that GCC improved their quality of life.

Eighty-four percent of the students rated the following services at GCC as "good to excellent": academic advising, financial aid, developmental assistance, registration, business office, library, and food service.

As in other years, this year's graduates listed GCC's location and relatively low cost as their primary reason for attending GCC.

Unreasonable Request...

It disturbs us greatly that the Garrett County commissioners, two of whom are now lame duck office holders, are in any way responding to a request by one of the candidates for commissioner that they defer actions of any expenditures of funds other than (to cover) routine monthly expenses.

The present commissioners are still the commissioners of this county, and have just as much authority and responsibility today as they did last week before the results of the primary election were tabulated. There are decisions that must be made now and there will be additional ones before the ends of their terms in December. We, as constituents, should expect them to continue to meet and act according to the oath they took almost four years ago.

Certainly the fact that at least two of the three of them will no longer be in office after the first of the year should have a bearing on some of their decisions over the next few months. But to even consider deferring all decisions that have to do with expenditures of funds is ridiculous.

It is also recognized that the new board of commissioners may have a different opinion about certain expenditures, and it may be within their power to change a decision made today by the present board. But that should not prevent the present commissioners from going ahead with business as usual.

Our specific fear right now is that, because of this request, the plans for construction of the new elementary school just outside of Oakland may get derailed. Considerable sums of money have already been spent on this effort, and we will be outraged if the project is nixed and these funds are wasted.

While we fully expect Commissioner Groves to continue to oppose the school project because of various political promises that he had made earlier, we sincerely hope Brenda Butscher has the courage to continue to do her job and not let this request from the candidate who defeated her sway her from continuing to support the project.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

To all my fellow co-workers at Garrett County Memorial Hospital -- the following statement is my own, heartfelt, personal opinion.

I have tried my hardest to look at both sides fairly. And, in doing so, I have seen more problems popping up, in so many different ways. I would imagine others may also have seen the same.

I feel like a cat sitting on a fence, meowing and waiting for the shoe to hit me in the head -- not knowing which way to go when it does, or where it will come from. Or, I feel like I'm standing in front of a firing squad of 12 rifles, waiting for them to go off -- and not knowing which bullet I will get hit with first. It's a very scary feeling. How would you feel?

I can only hope that every one of my co-workers would just take a step back, and really look to see what is the most important to themselves, as well as their co-workers. What's more important, true friends (which are hard to find), or money?

In our lifetime we are not, and never will be given any guarantees! A lot of promises will, and can be, made to anyone, about anything. But in all honesty, how many will really come true or be kept?

To everyone, your friend,
Michael Gene Powell

To the Editor:

As former employees of Garrett County Memorial Hospital, we would like to express our concerns on behalf of those presently employed by this facility.

A debate between the President of GCMH, Ben Rosenthal, and the United Food & Commercial Workers Union Local #27, has been scheduled for Saturday, September 24, at 6:00 p.m. in the auditorium of the Elks Lodge.

We encourage all employees, as well as the general public, to attend this informative session to elucidate the facts and ascertain answers to questions.

We would like to address the following:

1) The union was contacted by the employees prior to any lay-offs.

2) Union meetings have always been on a volunteer basis, they have never been mandatory. However, Garrett Memorial Administration has deemed it mandatory for all hospital employees to attend anti-union meetings. This seems like hospital harassment, not union harassment.

3) Hospital officials have been astute to denote salaries of union officials, but have made no mention of the earnings of administrative employees (1 administrator, 2 vice presidents, 2 administrative directors and 30 department heads, supervisors and nurse managers) for a 76-bed hospital -- sure sounds like a lot of chiefs.

4) All employees were not given $1.00 on the hour when the hospital changed insurance companies. New employees received no additional money. Also, everyone has neglected to mention for those who did receive the additional $1.00-hour, it was quickly absorbed by the higher premium and higher deductible.

5) The president of the Local #27 has guaranteed in writing the following:

a. No initiation fee for any employees on the payroll at time contract is accepted.

b. Employees will not pay union dues until 30 days after contract, and employee receives a pay raise.

c. Dues will be $4.50 per week.

d. Dues will not be increased for at least the duration of first contract; all increases thereafter will be voted upon by the employees.

e. Local 27 will not allow GCMH to negotiate any wage or benefit losses during negotiation.

f. Local 27 will be there to represent and negotiate for the employee.

g. Negotiating committee will be elected from co-workers.

h. Employees will be allowed to elect their shop stewards.

i. No strike, unless 23 of the employees working at GCMH vote to authorize it.

j. Employees will not be allowed should any other facility represented by UICW go on strike.

Volunteers Needed For Habitat

by Barbara Briggs

Sunday, September 18, was the International Day of Prayer and Action for Human Habitat. Garrett County Habitat for Humanity, Inc., has been in Garrett County since 1983. The organization is in the process of finishing its 26th home and needs to have its 27th home under roof before winter.

Habitat is dedicated to its mission to eliminate substandard housing for all God's people in need. Families who do not qualify for Farmers Home, Maryland Bond, or any other conventional loans may be eligible for a Habitat home. The family must complete an application and provide proof of income to begin the review process. Families are visited by two Family Selection Committee members to check out their need for a new home. This visit starts a lengthy process, which may lead to homeownership or suggestions of other places that may be of assistance.

Habitat is a hand up, and not a hand out. Families must complete 500 "sweat equity" hours on other Habitat projects, of which 300 hours must be completed before the house is finished and 200 hours after they move into the home.

Habitat is not a government-funded program. Donations from individuals, churches, businesses, and private foundations are Habitat's only means of income. Volunteers are the lifeblood of Habitat's operation. There are many ways to get involved, from serving on a committee to building homes. Experienced volunteer builders to help us in specialty areas of building, such as masonry, electrical, and plumbing, are a major need. Volunteers who want to use a hammer, saw, or paint brush are always on demand.

You may volunteer your services or make a donation towards Habitat's work by contacting me, Barbara Briggs, at 301-334-9431 ext. 113 or by writing to Garrett County Habitat for Humanity, Inc., P.O. Box 363, Oakland, MD 21550.

6) When you attend the debate, solicit both parties to guarantee in writing what they pledge. Will they?

7) It has been confirmed by administration that seniority means unequivocally nothing (even though it states in the Policy Book if lay-offs should occur, it will be on seniority basis). Obviously, there is no job security. Don't assume because you have been employed 20 years and the person working with you has been employed 6 months, the individual with the least seniority will be laid off. Wrong; that isn't the way it occurs at GCMH.

8) If friendships have ceased due to the turmoil at Garrett Memorial, it is extremely unfortunate. If it is a true friendship, your personal preference should not be an issue. If you voted Democrat and your friend voted Republican, you undoubtedly would not end a friendship because of it!

9) Prior to the discontentment at Garrett Memorial the majority of the employees were not advocates of the Union. Anyone have any idea what happened?

10) Attend the debate -- ask questions, don't be so opinionated that you are not acquiescent to listen to both parties -- hear the facts and then vote yes for your future as well as the future of GCMH!

Respectfully submitted,
Nancy Clayton
Linda Thomas

Editor's note: Benjamin Rosenthal, hospital president, said he will not be present for the debate. See front page story for his reasoning.

To the Editor:

We the majority of employees at Garrett County Memorial Hospital are organizing for Collective Bargaining, which in other words means standing together for the sole purpose of a better future. We have asked Local 27 to represent us in this endeavor. We believe that things are not going to get any better unless we take a stand and demand administration to hear our cry for help. We have withstood five fellow employees losing their jobs, a wage freeze, loss of benefits and much more, but it never seems that administration feels the pinch.

We understand that these are "hard times" but again does administration? We feel that the handling of those matters have not been fair or just. We want things like seniority to count and input from employees to make a difference -- Something! Everyday we go to work and wonder what will be taken from us next or even if we will have a job.

We feel we had no other option but to go for outside help that is where local 27 comes into play. We are not fighting against administration, we are just fighting to be heard!

To the Editor:

On Sept 18, Molly Kelly came to Garrett County to speak to teens about teenage sexuality, pregnancy, abstinence and AIDS. My concern is that she wasn't allowed to speak in our schools. She had to speak at Mid-Town Cinema.

Please correct me if I'm wrong, but my understanding is that the Board of Education left the decision up to the principals of the middle schools. They didn't think she needed to speak at the high school because it's already too late for those kids. They asked the faculty to vote on whether Molly could speak at the schools. They voted against it.

When Molly Kelly speaks to schools, she never mentions God or anything religious. Her message is a positive one. She focuses on the risks of sex before marriage and the myth of "safe sex." No birth control is 100 percent effective. Condoms fail 15 percent of the time. That failure rate is only for pregnancy. Think about it. A woman is only fertile once a month. What is the risk of getting AIDS when you can contract that every day? Spermicides, diaphragms, IUD's, sponges, and pills can fail and cause health problems.

Our schools include abstinence in their sex education and I appreciate that, but why not reinforce it? I'm not saying teach only abstinence, but if a speaker like Molly Kelly can talk to teens and present abstinence in such a positive way, why not permit her to do so? What's the worst that can happen? More teens may decide to wait until marriage? Sure, not every teen will choose to wait, but I believe that when Molly spoke to those kids, they went away feeling good about themselves, feeling like they do have the intelligence to make good decisions.

We allow people to speak against drugs and alcohol in our schools and I believe it has helped. Why can't we tell the teens the dangers of sex before marriage? There are teens in our schools who want to hear that message and actually agree with it. We as parents need to encourage and support them.

I know the argument will be that the people who wanted to hear Molly could have gone to the cinema to hear her, but what would it have hurt to give them the kids this message? Why are we so quick to give them the "safe sex" message and allow that in our schools and automatically assume abstinence won't work and isn't worthy of the hour it would have taken to share? Those of you who didn't get to listen to Molly missed an excellent speaker. I hope we'll be fortunate enough to have her back again.

Sincerely,
Barbara Rodeheaver

To the Editor:

Regarding this week's cartoon (September 15th issue). As a Catholic I found it insulting; as a woman, offensive. The church has long withstood criticism and will continue to endure. Personally, I was hurt.

The Republican certainly has a right to express an opinion. I do feel however that a concern of this magnitude should be accorded the professionalism and sensitivity that your paper usually exhibits.

It is sad to think of Republican readers laughing at the faith and morals of others.

Sincerely,
Roberta Andersen

To the Editor:

It was snowing that morning, as March weather usually brings here in Garrett County. The night before had brought yet another type of conflict-fire, which destroyed most of a home in which an elderly man lived alone. When I arrived at what was left of this home, I found a man, not beaten, but temporarily detained. His hope was to close off the section not destroyed by the fire and begin reconstructing in the spring, this small, inadequate place which he had called home for over 20 years.

Knowing the basics of construction, I instantly came to the conclusion that the structure could not be rebuilt safely and certainly

by Jeffrey Wilson

A FLOCK IN EVERY YARD

Of the 10 hens in my backyard flock four were hatched early in 1989. They are Barred Plymouth Rocks, charcoal grey birds with fine, horizontal lines of white. Their large size makes them the choice breed for meat as well as eggs. These hens are survivors of a flock of 17. A few of the original number I lost to natural causes. The balance departed this life in the teeth of a fox.

A nearly six-year-old laying hen is unheard of in the commercial egg business. I even in a backyard flock, my guess is that my hens might win a prize for longevity. Indeed, I have intended for quite some time to dispatch the final four, and enjoy chicken corn soup and chicken pot pie.

One reason they are still laying eggs is that I haven't had time to kill and clean them. Another reason I haven't killed them is that, when I do have time, they are still laying eggs.

I don't mean to tell you that those four old biddies lay up to the standard they once set, nor that they lay as well as the six Rhode Island Reds which brother Eric hatched out for me earlier this year. Among the four of them they manage to lay an egg or two a day which is just enough to keep my hand away from the hatchery.

If I bought all their feed, they probably couldn't pay their keep at that rate. The fact is that I augment the purchased mash and grain with table scraps and leftovers from the garden. They scavenge some of their own food every afternoon when we let them run the yard. And now that our tenant is chopping corn we will glean carcass from the ends and corners of fields.

Together the 10 hens have been producing about four dozen eggs a week. That's enough for us and some to share. An aunt suggested that I make sure nobody was adding eggs to the nests to fool me, as my Grandfather Wilson did to my grandmother many long years ago. When my grandmother told her brother, a great chicken man, about her booming production, he commented only, "That's wonderful, Lucy. The only problem is that you have more eggs than chickens." So far, I haven't had that problem.

Many experts in agriculture, both practical and theoretical, scoff at the backyard flock, the garden, the home orchard and other means of raising one's own food. They smile condescendingly upon it as a hobby. To the goal of self-reliance through food production, the standard answer is that it can all be purchased more cheaply at the store. Even if that were true (and I don't believe it is) it would be only a partial truth.

It is not cheap if I am buying meat or vegetables from central and South America which had DDT applied to it for insect control. It is not cheap if hormones were used to stimulate growth, or chemicals were used for weed or pests.

It is ironic that farmers have been largely persuaded to abandon the first purpose of farming, namely to live off the farm. Until a few decades ago the farm family consumed what it raised first, and then sold the excess as cash crops. Today most farm families depend on the grocery store and the shopping mall as much as anyone else. Some folks think that is progress. I am not among them.

Production agriculture -- that's when you raise everything to sell and keep nothing to eat -- seems to me like throwing out the baby and saving the bathwater. All production agriculture has accomplished is to move people off the farm. In 1910 there were a 100 million people in this country, of which 33 million lived on farms. In 1990 there were 240 million Americans. Four million of us lived on farms. We went from being a third of the population to less than two percent. Thanks to production agriculture the American farmer is an endangered species.

Lots of things need doing to revive farming in America. An essential thing is to restore homestead agriculture to the farm. That is to re-establish the first reason for farming, to provide for one's own household from the gardens and fields of the farm.

Brother Eric has more hens than I do, and he keeps a rooster so he can keep us both in hens. He also has a six-month old Jersey heifer staked out in his yard. At present he is transforming her shed into a structure that looks a good deal more like a barn. We share books like Raising the Homestead Hog and Root Cellaring.

We are relearning the lessons our grandparents knew by heart and which experts taught our parents to forget. It does not matter if the Department of Agriculture or the Internal Revenue Service considers us farmers, because we know we are.

not by this singular individual. In order for this man to have a decent place to live, a new home would have to be built.

Complicating circumstances limited the resources available to finance such construction. Was I to let this man "fall through the cracks" as many in our county do. For some families, receiving financial assistance needed to improve present homes or build new ones seems virtually impossible. If the family does not fall within the given income guidelines, their dreams cease, or so it appears.

In that morning's conversation, the gentleman stated that he didn't want any hand-outs, only a helping hand to rectify what the fire had destroyed. Taking those words to heart, I approached an organization, whose mission is to build safe, adequate houses for those in need. I attended my first Habitat for Humanity Workcamp meeting. Dreams did not cease, for within 60 days, the gentleman spent his first night in his new home.

In my job working with emergency housing situations, I have since called upon Habitat for Humanity for their assistance solely or in conjunction with programs through our agency. Seeing the lives of so many families change through home ownership or home rehab instills my belief in the words giving people "a hand up, not a hand-out."

Sincerely,
Brenda L. Marucci

ROTARIANS DEDICATE BOOTH - The Rotary Club of Oakland formally dedicated its new french fry booth at the Garrett County Fairgrounds in McHenry last Thursday evening with prayer and a picnic. Invited guests included Dale Giotfely of the Fair Board, Ed Wilburn, contractor, and Jim Teets and Bausch and Lomb employees who were thanked for raising over $3,000 for the Rotary Christmas Project. Over seven tons of potatoes were cooked during fair week, as the booth brought in a gross income of over $26,000 and netted approximately $12,000 which will be used to support the club's Christmas project and numerous other local organizations and charities.

County Memorial Hospital who are the "fence sitters" in the unionization issue as well as those who are opposed to the union. Your votes on September 30 are more important than you realize. The union issue will be decided by the percentage of Yes votes of the total number of votes cast; not of the total number of people who are eligible to vote. For example, if only 100 people vote and 51 of those people vote Yes, the union will be in. It's that easy.

This issue should be taken seriously and all eligible voters should decide which way they want to vote and to cast that vote on the 30th. Our futures are at stake, and I don't mean just future wages and benefits. Unreasonable demands by a union could mean a strike. An extended strike could hurt the reputation of this hospital enough to cause patients to seek medical treatment outside of Garrett County. This hospital has supported many families and generations in this community for about 50 years and I would hate to see Garrett County lose an employer of its magnitude.

What voice will we have if the union is successful in negotiating a "closed shop" arrangement with administration? What choice will we have if the union gets its fangs into the hospital? We will be forced to join the union or lose our jobs, and we will be forced to pay weekly dues for representation we don't want or need.

I strongly urge those who are still "on the fence" to vote NO - do it for yourself and do it for all of us who are opposed to union control of our lives.

Kathy Deniker
Concerned GCMH employee

To the Editor:
What it means to our family to receive a new Habitat home. It means a great deal to us because getting a new home means that we will have a home that we can call our own and it means we will never have to rent ever again.

When you are renting there are usually rules that the landlord expects you to follow. With getting our new home we have our own rules because it will be our own home. We have always dreamed of having our own home and didn't think we would ever get one. Habitat has made our dreams come true. We are very thankful to Habitat.

We have five children and Habitat has made their lives better and happier because when we rented apartments or a house we were very crowded and uncomfortable.

We all are very proud and thankful to Habitat.

Sincerely,
The Ralph and Donna Park Family

To the Editor:

I can't believe I made such a huge blunder! In my press release to The Republican newspaper which appeared in last week's issue, I stated that this year's "Life Chain" is a peaceful, prayerful time of reflection on the thirty thousand lives lost to abortion since the legalization of abortion in the United States. The actual figure should have been thirty million lives. In our country, a child dies to abortion every 20 seconds. That's three per minute, 183 each hour, 4,384 every day, 131,520 children killed each month, 1.5 million lives snuffed out every year.

Much of my article was edited out, but I believe many people would like to know the rest of it. The purpose of the chain is "to pray for personal forgiveness, for the protection of unborn children and their mothers, for abortionists lost in spiritual darkness, for politicians and jurists, and for unity and commitment among God's people."

It continued, "According to national director, Royce Dunn, the Chain's primary purpose is to minister to the participants themselves. We must acknowledge our past failures to defend and aid the victims of abortion, both child and mother. We must also aid women who have had abortions and who may have been victims of boyfriend or husbands' demands." Dunn insists that women bear too much of abortion's stigma, while men bear too little, and he sees pro-lifers as the true defenders of women's rights. "Abortion terminates pregnancy with the death of a child," says Dunn. "It does not terminate motherhood, and women intuitively know and endure this painful truth. The current abortion era is the darkest period in our nation's history, and it will end when a sufficient number of Christians declare that the killing must not continue. Abortion's prey on women and children defiles God's holiness and disgraces any nation that permits it."

The Life Chain will be held Sunday, Oct. 2, in downtown Oakland, from 2-3 p.m.

Thank you for allowing me to have this forum to issue an apology for my mistake and to keep our local people informed.

For the little ones,
JoAnn H. Fletcher

To the Editor:

Garrett County Habitat for Humanity, a non-profit, non-denominational housing ministry, urgently needs your help to complete their 26th home by October 8th. We need people to help finish siding, sand and paint drywall, stain windows, complete trim work and seeding. The family that has been chosen to receive this home has a lease that expires October 15th. We would like to dedicate this home by the 8th of October so they may get moved before the lease expires.

We also need workers to help us get our 27th home under roof before winter sets in. We need block layers as soon as possible to lay in the foundation. We have a youth group that is willing to come and help us for one Saturday in October. This is a great start, but is just the beginning of the work that needs to be completed. Let's work together to get this family in their home by Christmas.

All skill levels are needed, especially persons who can provide assistance in masonry, plumbing, and electrical work. Builders are urged to donate one day of your time or that of one of your crew members. Those interested may contact me, Barbara Briggs, at 334-9431, ext. 113.

To The Editor:
On Monday August 22, while visiting in the Oakland area, I became ill. We were having dinner at the home of prominent local residents who recommended that I go to the local hospital emergency room. We took this very sound advice.

Upon arrival, I was given a very cordial and caring reception by the admitting representative. After a short wait, a very caring admitting nurse took a history and vital signs. A doctor appeared soon after who was very attentive and responsive to my problems. He prescribed an immediate therapeutic treatment to relieve my problem, took X-rays to assure that no possible additional symptoms were present, and prescribed continuing medications.

I am writing this letter to you, because I think that the whole Garrett County community should be aware that what you have here is an exemplary model of what good medical care should be and is all about. I cannot praise the staff enough. I can only say thank you, Garrett County, for your tender loving care.

GOBA Members Meet, Discuss Activities

The Greater Oakland Business Association (GOBA) held its regular monthly meeting last week and discussed several current and future activities and projects.

The month's guest speaker was Fred Warther, who talked to the group of 12 business representatives about the proposed "Garrett Showcase" theatre and mini-convention center, to be located on Rt. 219 near Uno's Restaurant, Deep Creek Lake. GOBA members voted to support such a project and to provide one member as a member of the future board of directors.

The members were informed that the historical trust funding for the walking tour brochure did not come through, but there may be funding available from the Maryland Downtown Development Association (MDDA) next year. GOBA members also agreed to solicit businesses to purchase a listing in this directory to help defray costs.

The MDDA annual meeting will be attended by Connie Margison and Peggy Jamison.

The business association also discussed the upcoming

GOBA railroad tour, which will include a train stop at the Oakland station on Oct. 8. At least 200 passengers are expected to be on the train and they will be stopping in Oakland at noon until approximately 2 p.m. A variety of vendors will be selling food, and box lunches will be available at St. Matthew's Episcopal Church. The Garrett Community College Pipes and Drums will provide musical entertainment.

For more information about the train, persons may contact Amy Rudy at 334-2654 or Karen Reckner at 334-3322.

Business persons were reminded to hang out their Autumn Glory bunting. For those who do not have a bunting, they are available for sale at Marvin's Men's Wear.

The GOBA billboard has been put back in place along Rt. 219 in McHenry. Gratitude was expressed to Barry Domenick and the town of Oakland for their efforts in replacing the sign.

The merchants discussed possible activities for the day after Thanksgiving, as this day is one of the busiest of the year. The topic will be discussed further.

The Garrett County Office for Children, Youth, and Families is planning a summit to focus on the needs of children residing in the county. The office

Let's Get Down To Business!

This is a feature of The Republican to better acquaint our readers with various area business establishments.

Not Just Quilts

Oakland's newest business, Not Just Quilts, opened its door to the public last month with their grand opening, inviting the public to a different kind of shop. Not Just Quilts offers quilt classes, unique 100% cotton fabric, gifts, and quilt supplies.

Karin Rodeheaver of Bayard, W.Va., and a former resident of Frankfurt, Germany, has taught quilting, along with Ella Jones, in Garrett County for many years. She shares her talent of the craft by teaching today's modern quick techniques. Quality handmade items are also available for sale at this unique little shop at 210 East Alder Street.

Rodeheaver has had her work exhibited in the cultural arts division in Charleston, W.Va., and has a contract with the state of West Va. to purchase her work. In Garrett County, her work is seen during the Autumn Glory Festival when she quilts and pieces the Garrett County Arts Council quilt for their annual festivities.

Not Just Quilts is just what the name implies, as the business features handmade pieces from area crafters, along with quilt supplies, tools, fabrics and quilted items.

The craft is based around the American art of quilting with the touch of modern times, featuring Hoffman Metallic 100% cotton fabric and handmade lace items, all giving it the soft touch for today's appeal.

Mrs. Rodeheaver and her daughter, Linda, hope this new venture will be an additional attraction to the many visitors of Garrett County and the surrounding area.

The shop is open Monday through Friday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., and on Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Not Just Quilts will offer quilting classes in the new fast piecing techniques and speed rotary cutting. Pre-registration for the classes are requested and can be made by calling the shop at 334-3304 or by stopping in.

The Republican

Extension Service Offers Newsletter.

Good stewardship of Maryland's forests is essential to the protection of the state's wildlife, water, timber and recreation resources. However, with 90 percent of Maryland's woodlands in the hands of more than 125,000 private landowners, getting stewardship information to those who need it is a formidable task.

That is why the Cooperative Extension Service, University of Maryland at College Park introduced a quarterly forest stewardship newsletter last year with the Maryland Department of Natural Resources' Forest Service, the Maryland Tree Farm Committee and the Forest Stewardship Committee. Called "Branching Out: Maryland's Forest Stewardship Educator," this four-page publication contains information on educational programs, new publications and video resources, as well as feature articles about landowners who have put stewardship practices to work on their land.

Woodland owners, or those interested in forest stewardship, and interested in receiving this free newsletter, should send their name and address to Branching Out, Cooperative Extension Service, 18330 Keedysville Road, Keedysville, MD 21756, or call 301-432-2735.

Education Board Members To Attend MABE Conference

The Maryland Association of Boards of Education (MABE) will hold its annual three-day conference September 28-30 at the Holiday Inn Hotel Conference Center and Marina in Solomons. Attending the event from the Garrett County Board of Education will be Superintendent Jerome Rysavage, Board President Beverly Murphy, Charlotte Sebold, and Hannah Simcull.

Carolyn Warner, former local board member and Arizona State superintendent, will be speaking at the opening luncheon. Mr. Warner has gained national stature as one of America's most articulate educational and public policy leaders, according to a MABE spokesperson. Leadership: Rethinking the Future will be her topic.

Concurrent clinics will fill the afternoon. Dr. Harri Lynn, executive director of Americans United for Separation of Church and State, will provide guidance on appropriate responses to pressure groups. Also included among the four clinics are conflict resolution, mediation, staff development, and minority achievement, all of which will highlight Maryland public school programs.

An addition to this year's conference will be MABE's first vendor exhibit. From conclusion of the afternoon clinics until 7 p.m., vendors will display their wares and services for board members and superintendents.

Governor William Donald Schaefer has been invited to join MABE members for Thursday breakfast and receive recognition for his support of education funding even during the lean years of his tenure as governor.

Following breakfast, MABE's annual business meeting and a superintendent meeting will be conducted. A wide variety of informative mini-rounds will be featured on Thursday afternoon. Topics to be addressed by Maryland experts will include negotiations issues, on-line information networks, employee health benefits, student board representation, leadership development, current "sub-stances" on the street, sexual misconduct, and student self-esteem support. State board members have been invited to participate by presenting the status of teacher certification and high school assessment plans.

Thursday evening's gala "Presidents' Reception and dinner" will honor past MABE presidents. Garrett County students will entertain with a string ensemble.

Friday morning will be devoted to panel presentations on year-round education, effective schools, MSPAP, and special education student inclusion. The gubernatorial candidates successful in the primary have been invited to the closing luncheon to share their visions of Maryland public education.

Those serving on the Conference Program Committee are Joseph Smith (Chairman), Carroll, William Phalen and Gail Hoerl (Vice-Chairman), Bennett (Calvert), James Giel and Superintendent Dr. Lowell R. Carter (Charles), Mariene Feldman (Dorchester), Beverly Ann Murphy and Hannah Simcull (Garrett), Beverly Heander (Prince George's), Laura Harrison (Talbot), and B. Marie Byers (Washington).

Next year's conference will return to the eastern shore, completing a circuit around the state. The 1995 MABE Conference is scheduled for September 20-22 at the Sheraton Hotel in Ocean City.

Food For Thought

by Chef Francesco Pisano
McClive's Restaurant

Lake magic, turn leftover mashed potatoes into delicious soup. Sauté chopped onions and garlic in a little oil, then the potatoes and any other vegetables you want to add. Mix in enough chicken broth for the consistency you want and toast through. Season with thyme and pepper.

Though roadside cider stands may be tempting, there have been reports of contamination with E. coli, a potentially deadly bacteria. Either boil the cider for two minutes, or buy pasteurized.

Super quick sorbet. Take pears or peaches in heavy syrup out of the can and freeze, buzz in the processor. That's it.

Herb-mustard rub adds flavor and a golden coating when rubbed onto a pork, beef or lamb roast. Combine a small finely chopped onion, 2 Tbs. good mustard and 1 tsp. each pepper, rosemary and marjoram.

Here's how to keep herbs fresh in the refrigerator for weeks: snip off two inches from the bottoms of the stems and place the greens in a jar with two or three inches of water. Cover loosely with a plastic bag.

Here's how to keep the family cook happy: take her - or him - out to dinner now and then at McClive's Restaurant.

Foster Care Review Board Seeking Members

The local Foster Care Review Board is currently in need of volunteers to serve on the board, which reviews area foster care situations once a month.

According to a release from the Maryland Citizen Board for Review of Foster Care of Children, the case plans of over 5,500 Maryland children in foster care are reviewed every six months, with local boards meeting once a month to review these children's permanency plans and to help ensure that they are moved through the system in a timely and appropriate manner as possible toward a permanent home.

Five local review board members and two alternates are appointed for four-year terms. A local selection committee interviews applicants and makes recommendations to the governor's office for official appointment. Board members and alternates are required to participate in training sessions in order to serve on the review board.

Board members are reimbursed for mileage but are not compensated for their time. After reviewing a child's case, the board makes a recommendation to the juvenile court regarding the department of social services' permanency plan for the child. The recommendations are advisory only; the court has final responsibility for decisions regarding the child.

The recommendation may be that the child return to his/her natural parent or guardian; be placed in adoption; become independent; or, more rarely, remain in long-term foster care.

There are 54 review boards throughout the state, according to the release. Since the review process was initiated in Maryland, the average length of stay for a foster child has fallen to approximately 20 months, and the number in care has been cut nearly in half to 5,100.

The release from the state board states that this reflects some progress in preventing placement when possible and in making permanent placements for children.

However, because of severe social problems in the past few years, the burden on child welfare problems has increased. As many as 3,300 children enter foster care each year, according to the release, and placement resources are scarce.

She and her husband, Michael, are the parents of a 10-month old daughter, Allison. The family recently moved to Meltery. They are familiar with Garrett County, having visited in the local area for several years to kayak and raft on the Youghiogheny River.

Heslop, Huskies Dominate Poolesville For First Win

A 100-yard, three-touchdown performance by junior running back Brian Heslop, plus total domination of the line of scrimmage, high-lighted Northern High School's game against host Poolesville Friday night, a game which the Huskies won 27-12. The victory ended the young Husky squad's season mark at 1-1.

Heslop received outstanding blocking from the Huskies' big offensive line, anchored by Steve Savage, to basically have his way against the Poolesville defense. He carried the ball 24 times, as the Huskies generated a total of 244 yards on the ground and another 108 through the air on seven completed passes.

After a scoreless first period, Heslop opened the scoring with a 10-yard touchdown run and Jeremy Brennen pulled in a half-back pass from Heslop to record the two-point conversion.

Midway through the same period, Brennen connected with D.J. Dursi on a 34-yard scoring aerial to put Northern up 13-0. The point-after kick was blocked.

The Huskies still weren't finished before halftime, as Heslop capped another drive with a seven-yard touchdown run. He also kicked the extra point to make it 21-0 at intermission.

Northern added an insurance touchdown in the third quarter, this time on a five-yard run by Heslop. The kick for the extra point was good.

Northern Coach Tom Vent decided to give his younger players experience in the fourth quarter, and the Poolesville offense took advantage of the situation. John Zidell pulled in a seven-yard pass from Russ Waymon to score the home team's first points. The conversion attempt was not good.

Northern		Poolesville
10	First Down Rush	2
2	First Down Pass	2
2	First Down Penalty	1
14	Total First Downs	5
14	Passes Attempted	17
7	Passes Completed	3
0	Passes Intercepted	0
108	Yards passing	74
34	Rushes Net Yards	24
100	Points Average	7.35-01
6-70	Penalties-Yards	5-30
3-2	Fumbles-Lost	2-0
352	Total Offense	116

Then Aaron Raybolf doubled Poolesville's score late in the contest with his five-yard touchdown run. Again the kick for the extra point failed.

Leading the Northern defensive unit, which allowed only 42 yards on the ground and a total of just 116 yards, were Savage, Lee Collins, Cody Brennen, and Bill Spicher.

"Our kids continue to play very well on the road," Coach Vent said. "I think before the Beall game at home this Friday we will load up the boys on the buses and drive around for about two hours."

"We really dominated the game, especially offensively," Vent said. "Brian Heslop had a great game for us, and he got a lot of support from our offensive line. Coach (Phil) Carr, our offensive coach, just did a super job."

Vent noted the efforts of Steve Savage on the offensive line, describing him as one of the area's top linemen.

The one source of disappointment for Vent and his staff was the performance of the younger Huskies in the fourth quarter.

"They really let down, and we keep telling them that they are just one play away from having to go into the game and keep pace if someone gets injured," Vent said.

The Huskies came out of the contest with only the minor bumps and bruises from any typical game, and should be at full strength this week when they host the undefeated Beall High Mountaineers.

"This will be a big regional game for both teams," Vent said, "and we're going to have to play extremely well to win it."

Vent said the Beall team is basically a "clone" of last year's Mountaineer squad that lost in the state Class A finals by just a few points.

"They lost some of their key skill people, but they basically have everyone back on their lines," he said. "They have also won 16 straight regular season games."

The Beall wishbone offense is led by two big linemen in senior tackle Ronnie McKenzie (6-4, 240) and senior Mike McGlinchey (6-2, 230), plus senior fullback Chad Catter (5-7, 200).

They are also getting strong performances from sophomore halfback Shawn Holloway (5-11, 200), who played at Northern last year.

The Beall 5-2 monster defense is led by McGlinchey, senior nose guard Tony Fringler (6-0, 200), and Frost in the secondary.

The Mountaineers are under new coach Roy De-

Vore, who has served as an assistant coach at both Northern and Southern.

"Roy is a good fundamental coach," Vent said. "This will be sort of a homecoming game for Roy. I just hope that his former team (the Huskies) will win it."

Vent said he is anticipating a strong running game and very little passing from the Mountaineers, while his offense will be centered around Heslop.

"It's no secret that we plan to get the ball to Brian a lot, and hope that our line continues to do a good job opening the holes for him," he said.

"It should be a great football game," he concluded.

Friday's kickoff at the Northern athletic field is slated for 7:30 p.m.

Husky Jayvees Blanked Twice

The junior varsity football team of Northern High School had a tough week, as the Huskies were pounded on the gridiron last Wednesday evening, 35-0, by host Fort Hill, and were then blanked by visiting Allegany Monday night, 40-0. Both the Camper and Sentinel jayvee teams are undefeated.

Ryan Raley pulled in two touchdown passes for Fort Hill, while Trae Foster recorded 102 yards of rushing and a touchdown on just nine carries. Rick Jenkins and Wayne Shilling also each scored a rushing touchdown.

John Snelling, Jim Green, and Jeremy Hoover were defensive standouts for the Huskies, while Jonathan Hames, Travis Broll, and Mike Paige excelled for the Sentinels.

Against Allegany the Huskies could not contain Rashad Paige, who scored four touchdowns.

The Huskies will not play again until October 6 at Southern.

Women's Golf Results Noted

The play of the Women's Golf Association of the Oakland Golf Club on Sept. 15 was four clubs and a putter, with Marj Knutson winning low gross with 87.

Marianna Naylor won second low gross with 88 and Bobbie Seward carded a 93 for third low gross. Ruth Porter and Cheryl Witherspoon tied for low net with 68, while Loretta Parnell and Helen Nordeck tied for second low net with 69. Helen Nordeck won low puts with 29, and Anne Jesnak won second low puts with 31.

Husky Harriers Participants In Smithsburg Race

Thank You!

A sincere thanks to all who voted for me in the Republican Primary. A special thanks to the Republicans and Democrats who gave me the privilege to serve as your county commissioner the past four years. You gave me the opportunity to have a very honorable place in the history of Garrett County, as the first woman county commissioner.

Now a message to my opponent and winner of the Republican Primary, Roger Glatfelter. I have already congratulated you by telephone. Publicly, I want to say my slogan was, "When you talk Brenda listens." I listened on election eve and got the message "loud and clear." The majority of the Republicans wanted you as their commissioner candidate. I congratulate you and wish you the very best.

Rams Nearly Upset Powerful Soccer Team Of Fort Hill

In one of the season's most exciting high school soccer matches, the Southern High Rams just missed upsetting area power Fort Hill last Thursday evening in Oakland. After tying the score three times in the contest, the Sentinels held on for a 4-3 victory.

Fort Hill put the first point on the board at the 17:33 mark of the first half when Scott Windle tapped in a dew-soaked ball that had slipped through the hands of Southern goalkeeper Justin Helbig.

The Rams answered just a minute and a half later following a throw-in by Stephen Goralski, which was headed by Christian Coviello over the defense to Dan Nelson, who headed past Fort Hill keeper Emory Nelson and into the net.

Ryan Alam helped put the Sentinels back on top 2-1 when he broke through the Ram defense down the right wing and fired a shot under a diving Helbig, bouncing the ball off the post. Brandon Monahan then re-directed the ball into the net for the score.

The Rams tied the score again at the 24:54 mark of the second half when Dan Nelson fed Derek Spirk, who shot a 30-yard rocket into the left corner of the net.

The Sentinels took a 3-2 lead about two minutes later by capitalizing on an officiating decision that gave them an indirect kick eight yards in front of the goal. Windle sent the shot above the Ram wall and into the net over Helbig's out-stretched arms.

The score was tied a third time at the 22:52 mark when Nelson picked off a Sentinel goal kick and jammed it past on off-balanced defense.

Alam won the game for Fort Hill (3-0-1), as Monahan pounded a long indirect free kick that bounced off a Ram defender near the goal and Alam boosted it past Helbig for the Sentinels' fourth goal.

"We're extremely pleased with how our players kept coming back," stated Southern Coach Tom Powers. "We tied them three times and made one small mistake that they capitalized on, which gave them the win. Our kids can hold their heads high. They really rose to a higher level of competition."

The Sentinels went on to record a 3-1 win Tuesday evening over Bishop Walsh, the area's number one team that was riding a 23-win streak.

The Rams will play again this evening in Frostburg against a strong Beall team. The junior varsity game will begin at 6 p.m. and the varsity will be kicked off at 7:30.

Southern's next home game will be next Tuesday against Salisbury, with the same kick-off times.

40. The DeVore told The Republican this week that after police radioed the car's description, she parked near the Wright Auction House in Finzel to observe several potential escape routes. She was reportedly the first officer to sight DeVault's vehicle, and helped coordinate a police roadblock in Frostburg.

Huskies Booters Still Looking For First Win

The Northern High varsity soccer team is still looking for its first victory of the season, as the Huskies were pounded by Mt. Savage last Thursday, 11-0, and then fell to Salisbury on Tuesday, 6-1. Both contests were played on the Huskies' field.

Tim Burkett finished with two goals and two assists for the Mt. Savage Indians, while Steve Winebrenner, Mike Brailer, and Bill O'Neal also finished with two goals each. Jason Hensel, Josh Cook, and Mark Moulden each scored one.

Mt. Savage led in shots on goal, 28-7. Matt Fritz recorded 13 saves for the Huskies, while Andy Brehm had five for the Indians.

In Tuesday's game versus Salisbury, Jason Benning, Brian Gregory, Jeremy Hoover, Shawn Wilt, Tony Ferraro, and Richard Landis each scored goals for the visitors, while Frederick Goldberg recorded the Huskies' lone point.

The Huskies were out-shot by a 38-7 margin and had only two corner kicks, compared to six for Salisbury.

Fritz had 13 saves once again for Northern and R.C. Deer had five for Salisbury (2-2-1).

Coach Tom Ables' Huskies (0-5) will host a strong Westmar team this evening in a 7 p.m. game and then not play again until Oct. 4 at Southern.

The police report indicated that when the suspect spotted the roadblock, he pulled off the road and surrendered to DeVore.

According to the trooper, after the suspect was read his rights, he commented, "I knew it was over as soon as I saw you."

The shotgun and an undisclosed amount of money were recovered from the vehicle.

Police were aided through the efforts of a Grantsville Post Office employee, Robyn Brennenman, who saw what "looked like a bank robber" exiting the bank. Brennenman memorized the license plate number of the suspected getaway vehicle, and advised state police. They were then able to set up area road blocks.

According to other written reports, the 1988 Eagle DeVault was driving is owned by a family member, and was taken from the Frostburg Industrial Park sometime last Thursday morning.

Others offering assistance were Frostburg City Police, MSP from the Cumberland barrack, MSP CID, CVI-D, Allegany County C31 (Combined County Criminal Investigations) Unit, Allegany County Sheriff's Department, Garrett County Sheriff's Department, and special agent Schellenberger, FBI.

A&A Team Wins Two Of Three Soccer Games

The Deep Creek Soccer Club, an adult team sponsored by A&A Realty, opened its season recently with a 4-1 loss to Valley Novelty of Mt. Savage, but has come back to win the next two contests, including a 5-2 decision over the Oscars of Cumberland and a 2-1 victory over a Frostburg team sponsored by When Pigs Fly.

The A&A booters, who are using a field at Grantsville Elementary school as their home location this season, also fared well in a 7 vs. 7 tournament at Flintstone before the regular season.

In the loss to Valley Novelty, Mike Seibert scored an unassisted goal for the Deep Creek Club, but goals by Burkett, Africa, and two by Dellaven gave the home team the win.

Against the Oscars of Cumberland, A&A scored all of its five goals in the first half. Brazilian-American Alex Rocha, Spencer Richards, Mike Seibert, and Steve Prosser accounted for the goals, while Mike Hoffeditz, Russell Christner, and Richards were credited with assists.

A successful penalty kick by Mike Adams and another goal by Art Zais off an assist by Tom Buzzard were recorded for the Oscars in the second half.

Sunday afternoon's game against the "Pigs" of Frostburg featured a scoreless first half. The first goal was awarded by referee Dave Spirk when Seibert's shot rebounded straight down off the underside of the crossbar. Rocha was credited with an assist.

A&A made it 2-0 when, out of a confused melee in the Pigs' goal area, Prosser recorded the goal off an assist by Hoffeditz.

Deep Creek keeper John Steele stopped a strong shot from inside the penalty area with a diving save to prevent a goal by the Pigs. The visitors did score, however, on a penalty kick with less than two minutes to play.

In the 7 vs. 7 tourney at Flintstone, the Deep Creek Club made it into the semifinals. The eventual winner of the event was a team of college players from Frostburg State University and Allegany Community College.

A team spokesman said that referee Spirk and linesmen Derek Spirk and Aaron Chorpenning "should be commended for helping the league raise the standard of officiating, especially considering the amount of time and travel involved, and the minimal payment for their efforts."

The spokesman also noted the volunteer efforts of Spencer Richards, a native of England, who has been assisting not only the A&A club, but also the Northern High School varsity and junior varsity teams as a volunteer trainer and assistant coach. Richards will return to England early next month.

The Deep Creek Club will host a team from Lonaconing this Sunday at 1 p.m. Spectators are welcome.

A question and answer period will be held at the conclusion of each presentation. The day's program will conclude by 3 p.m. During the noon-hour break, lunch will be available in the Laker Cafe in the Student Center for a nominal cost.

All interested members of the community are urged by organizers to attend the

Giotlitch went on to ask that, in the event that a significant expenditure is necessary, all current commissioner candidates be informed of the situation before any action is taken.

At this week's commissioner meeting, Ryscavage did not receive an answer from the Garrett County Board of Commissioners when he presented a request that the board finance repairs to the air conditioning system at Broad Ford Elementary and Southern Middle Schools.

Commissioner John Braskey remarked that if the current commissioners voted to approve this expenditure, commissioners elected in the November general election could reverse the vote and halt the air conditioner repairs.

The commissioners turned down a request for repairs to the Broad Ford-Southern air conditioner last year. However, at that time, the total cost of the repairs, estimated at $250,000, would have been paid for through a 50/50 split between the county and the state. This year, Ryscavage explained, the state is willing to contribute 70 percent of the project costs. This would make the county's cost $75,000.

across Sand Flat Road, traveled through a some weeds, and came to rest in a ditch.

Awkard and his passenger, Montisha I. Artis, 22, Washington, D.C., were both admitted to the hospital. Artis has since been released, and Awkard remains hospitalized, listed in "stable" condition, according to a hospital spokesperson. The D.W. Broadwater investigated the 1:20 a.m. mishap.

MDOP

A malicious destruction of property report has been filed with the local state police barrack.

A report filed by Tfc.

W.I. Mowbray indicates an insulated metal exterior door on a hunting cabin at the Harmony Hunting Club, Hoyer Run Road, was damaged sometime between 10 a.m. on Sept. 5, and 8:30 a.m. on Sept. 17. Police said unknown persons fired several shots into the door. It is believed two weapons, a small caliber and a large caliber, were used.

DWI ARREST

On additional DWI arrest was logged at the McHenry barrack during the past week.

Guy Michael Taylor, 36, address unknown, was arrested and charged with DWI by Tfc. M.E. Rodeheaver on Tuesday afternoon.

Man Sentenced

erty off of Cranesville Road where he vacations frequently. He keeps his four-wheeler padlocked and hidden on the land when he is not there, and discovered last weekend that someone had broken the padlock, hot-wired the ATV, and ridden it, causing damage to it.

The ignition switch was broken, the mud flaps on front and back were removed, the body was scraped and then an attempt was apparently made at repainting it, according to the report. The repairs will cost $300, and the value of the chain, lock, and tarp used to cover the four-wheeler was estimated to be an additional $100.

In another case, an Oakland woman reported that her vehicle was damaged on the night of Sept. 15. Joyce Smith had parked her 1988 Jeep truck in the parking lot of Hyde Laundry on that evening, and the next morning found that the rear tail light, side quarter panel, bumper, and tailgate had been damaged, apparently by another vehicle backing into the Jeep.

The damage estimate was reported to be $1,000.

Any person with information about any of these cases is urged to contact the sheriff's office at 334-1911.

TWO-VEHICLE MISHAP

An Oakland man was transported to Garrett County Memorial Hospital, Oakland, following a two-vehicle accident on Rt. 219, near Foster Road, Wednesday afternoon.

According to MSP reports, Noah McDaniel, 22, was taken to the hospital after the van he was operating struck a tractor-trailer operated by Robert Rowman, 45, Ontario, Canada. He was later discharged and taken by private vehicle to another hospital. It was not known which facility, according to a hospital spokesperson.

McDaniel was apparently traveling south on Rt. 219 when his van crossed the center line and struck the rig. Police said Rowman, who was slightly injured, attempted to avoid the collision. He was treated and released at Garrett Memorial.

Charges are pending against McDaniel. Also responding to the scene was Southern Garrett Rescue squad and members of Oakland Volunteer Fire Department.

Cases Probed

trailer, Hesel apparently made five long distance phone calls. When the owner received his phone bill and noticed the calls, he went to his Moors Sub-Division residence and discovered someone had been inside. Police called the number and a female on the other end told them Hesel had called her on the dates noted on the bill.

The CDS possession charges against the defendant stemmed from a search of his residence during the investigation. Police officers discovered a wooden ashtray containing several marijuana cigarettes and a smoking pipe containing marijuana residue.

In other district court news, Lance L. Logsdon, 19, Accident, and Franklin L. Cogley, 19, Accident, were sentenced on their conspiracy convictions stemming from a guilty verdict in May district court proceedings. The verdicts had been amended from charges of malicious destruction of property.

Logsdon was handed an 18-month jail term, with all of that sentence suspended except four months. He was also given 52 days' credit for time already served, and a work release was recommended. Cogley also received an 18-month jail sentence, with all of that suspended except for three months. Each was placed on three years of supervised probation, and must make restitution to the victims.

Court records indicate Logsdon, Cogley, and a co-defendant, Christopher Giotfelty, conspired to commit numerous acts of malicious destruction of property between Oct. 8-9, 1993, in the Mtn. Lake Park area. They reportedly destroyed windows on several cars parked in the area on those dates.

Battery charges against Jay B. Sowers, 35, and Nanette S. Sowers, 28, both of Oakland, were not prosecuted by the state's attorney, at the request of the complainants. Each had filed the charges against the other after a domestic dispute in July.

A Mountain Lake Park man was convicted on one count of assault in visiting Judge Paul Stakem's court. Judge Burnett had recused himself from this case.

Gregory J. Tressler, 32, was handed a six-month suspended sentence, fined $250, and placed on two years of supervised probation. Additional charges of resisting arrest and battery were not prosecuted by the state's attorney's office. Conditions of Tressler's probation state that he must continue counseling until he is excused by the parole and probation board.

The charges had been filed against Tressler by Garrett County Sheriff's deputy, Cpl. Randy Sines, after the officer responded to a domestic dispute at the defendant's home. When he arrived, Tressler and his wife, Leslee, were involved in an argument. According to court records, Gregory Tressler was at the top of the stairs, holding a 2-year-old child. When Sines attempted to restrain Tressler, he grabbed the officer by the throat and resisted handcuffing.

In a related case, charges of battery and reckless endangerment filed against Tressler by Sam Sanders, were not prosecuted because of plea agreements with the state's attorney.

Sanders' 2-year-old child was in Leslee Tressler's care at the time of the incident.

James R. Collins, 24, Mtn. Lake Park, pleaded guilty to one count of malicious destruction of property in Judge Burnett's court. He was sentenced to 60 days in jail, with all of that time suspended except for 30 days, fined $150 ($100 suspended), and placed on one year of supervised probation. The judge also ordered Collins to make $266.31 restitution to the victims.

According to district court records, Oakland police officer Shawn Groves responded to an MDOP complaint on April 28. A 1989 Mustang belonging to James Fridel had a broken windshield and paint chipped from the door, and a Chevrolet Sprint belonging to Tonya Warnick also had a broken windshield and scratches on the hood. The pair implicated Collins in the incident.

A pre-sentence investigation and psychiatric evaluation were ordered for Harvey G. Bowser Jr., 18, who was convicted on three counts of reckless endangerment in last week's court proceedings.

Court records indicate Garrett County sheriff's deputies were dispatched to a shooting complaint on June 27. Upon their arrival, the deputies learned Bowser had shot a 20 gauge shotgun twice in the direction of a residence occupied by Steven and Patricia Hinebaugh and their two children. One round reportedly penetrated an exterior wall and struck an interior wall, landing in one child's bedroom.

One count of assault against Steve A. Burns, 27, Oakland, was not prosecuted because of insufficient evidence. The charges stemmed from a June 12 incident at Steyer Mine Road.

Brian Miller, 29, Chesapeake, Va., and Christopher F. Newton, 27, Virginia Beach, Va., were both granted probation before judgment on earlier convictions for breaking and entering. The charges had stemmed from a Jan. 3 incident at the Wisp Resort, when the two reportedly stole tools, a vacuum cleaner and billiard accessories from the establishment.

Drug related charges against Bryan D. Olszewski, 35, McHenry, were dismissed without prejudice by Judge Burnett because the charging officers failed to appear for the trial. This, according to court records, is the second time the officers were not in court to substantiate the charges. When a case is dismissed without prejudice, however, the state's attorney may re-open it at a later date if the need arises.

Olszewski had initially been charged with two counts of manufacturing, distributing and dispensing CDS, one count of possession of CDS with intent to manufacture, distribute and dispense, one count of CDS possession, and one count of possession of CDS paraphernalia.

According to court records, Maryland State Police, along with members of the Garrett County Narcotics Task Force had been involved in an ongoing drug investigation at a residence, occupied by Olszewski at the Wisp Resort and, on April 14, they were able to buy one-quarter ounce of marijuana for $60 at that residence. The purchaser reportedly went into Olszewski's residence and came out with a baggie containing marijuana.

A subsequent search of Olszewski's residence revealed 12 baggies containing suspected marijuana, small loose amounts of the drug, and a smoking pipe. $120 in currency was also found in the residence, and $60 of that amount was the exact currency handed to the purchaser, according to police statements.

One item on our menu hasn't changed for 50 years.

School Meals in Maryland have changed a lot over the years. Children today get more variety. More nutritious foods they enjoy, like salads, tacos, and pizza. And, increasingly, less fat, sodium, and sugar.

But one item on our menu never changes: Education. Because when your kids regularly eat balanced, nutritious meals they concentrate better in class. They participate more enthusiastically. And they learn better. It's just that simple.

Simple, yet beautiful. Maryland's School Meals programs provide a community service that helps make educating kids easier and more effective.

Convenient, economical, healthy School Meals. Because education should always be at the top of the menu.

To the Editor:
On October 2-8, 1994, Garrett County Lighthouse, Inc. along with thousands of other facilities, programs, and advocacy groups will recognize Mental Illness Awareness Week.

The common link that all of us share is that we remain cognizant of the needs of those with mental illness. During this week we are asking citizens of Garrett County to call us - our number is 334-9126 - hear about services, learn about mental illness, discover how you can help, or give us the "razzberries" if we are not meeting your rehabilitation needs. Our mission is to provide services that are responsive to the consumers and accountable to the community.

Thank you for your support.

Debbie Jo Adams-Norowski
Executive Director Lighthouse

To the Editor:

I live in a nursing home. We who live here have very little opportunity to get outdoors or around the community. There are people here from Washington, D.C., Baltimore, and other states, who have never had a chance to see Oakland or the county.

The Autumn Glory Festival is one of the biggest events in Garrett County. But how many nursing home residents will have a chance to see the parade?

We had a yard sale to raise money for activities, but did not make much money. To have activities, we must raise the money or depend on volunteers, to sing, entertain, etc.

To get transportation for trips, we must pay full price, each way, per person, no group rates.

"Fixed income" does not describe our situation. People with a job are on a "fixed income." It's the amount that counts. Many people here must live on 40 dollars a month. We cannot afford the trip to see the parade.

Would it be possible for the parade to be routed past one or both of the nursing homes in Oakland? Let's see some community spirit.

Thanks for reading my letter.

Sincerely,
Rita Schurade

Cogleys To Lead Area Crusade At Glendale Church

Evangelists Michael and Mary Cogley, Oakland, will lead an area-wide Hope For America crusade at the Glendale Assembly of God Church on Sunday, Sept. 25.

"Hope For America" crusades are a powerful new strategy designed to reach the heart of America, with a message of hope found only in the gospel," according to Rev. Cogley. "America is in serious trouble. Once known as a Christian nation, we are now the largest mission field in the western hemisphere.

Crimes, drugs and gang violence have turned our streets into blood-stained battlefields. Dysfunctional families are the norm, with one out of two marriages ending in divorce. Sexual and physical abuse, particularly against children, have reached epidemic proportions."

The Glendale church will also host a hymn sing on Saturday, Sept. 24, beginning at 7 p.m.

Pastor David P. Goldizen and the church's congregation invite the public to attend either or both of these events.

Bartlett Pleased With Wording In Congressional Bill

Congressman Roscoe Bartlett (MD-6) expressed approval and relief that conferees on the Treasury, Postal Service, and general appropriations bill inserted language in the bill that would forbid White House staffers from using government helicopters and other vehicles for personal use, or to give free rides to friends.

Bartlett blew the whistle on the director of White House Administration David Watkins and other Clinton White House aides in May when they took a presidential helicopter to Holly Hills Country Club in Frederick to play golf. A photo of the White House aides boarding Marine One with their golf bags while being saluted by a Marine was published in the Frederick News-Post. Watkins was fired over the incident, and Bartlett succeeded in launching a Government Accounting Office (GAO) investigation into the matter that is still pending.

"I am pleased there is bipartisan support in both the House and Senate to stop the kind of arrogant abuse of power and blatant waste of taxpayers money that we witnessed last May with the White House staff golf trip by helicopter," said Bartlett. "Hopefully, this action by Congress will help us begin to restore some public faith in Washington that has been on a frightening decline for quite some time."

The bill awaits final passage in the House and Senate.

Rabid Raccoon Brings Year's Total To 13

The 13th rabies case of 1994 was confirmed last week by the Maryland Department of Health and Mental Hygiene Laboratories, according to a spokesperson from the Garrett County Health Department.

The diseased animal was a raccoon, which on Sept. 15 entered an Avilton Road barn in daylight and attacked an unvaccinated barn cat. The cat was later euthanized and the raccoon carcass was submitted for testing. Other unvaccinated cats in the barn that may have been in contact with the raccoon will either be vaccinated or euthanized, the spokesperson said. There was no human exposure in the incident.

The health department is currently holding a six-day series of rabies clinics throughout the county, to conclude Saturday. More information may be obtained by contacting Environmental Health Services at 334-8980.

Union Vote

give free reign to the unions to make whatever promises they wish," he said. "For me to participate would be like stepping into a boxing ring with my hands tied at my waist. There is no way I would agree to do such a thing."

The primary issue in the campaign concerns job security, an issue that became heated in June after five employees were laid off by the hospital administration. There is also some concern about what pro-union employees describe as a loss or reduction of benefits, particularly in their health care coverage.

According to two employees who favor unionization, phlebotomist Bonnie Stemple and unit secretary Chris Livengood, interest in bringing a union to the hospital grew rapidly after the five lay-offs in June. Livengood said that the layoffs "hit the hospital's employees like a bomb shell."

Livengood believes that the hospital handled the layoffs poorly. On the day of the layoffs, Livengood recalled, the five employees who were to be let go came to work as usual, were told that they no longer had jobs at the hospital, and were escorted to their cars. She added that four of these employees had worked at the hospital for at least 20 years each.

Pro-union employee Luanita Stonebreaker remarked that since the layoffs the hospital has hired personnel, and added that current employees now do the jobs formerly done by the laid off employees.

"There is no easy way to lay off anybody," Rosenthal responded, explaining that the possibility of layoffs had been discussed with the employees during the past year. He said that, because of regulations of the Maryland Health Cost Review Commission, the state agency which controls the amount that hospitals can charge for services, the hospital was faced with the need to budget $1 million in savings for fiscal year 1995. These savings could come in the form of reduced expenditures and/or added revenues, he said.

Before completing the new budget, Rosenthal said that he discussed the issue with department heads, physicians, and the members of the hospital board of governors, and held question and answer sessions with the employees. He said that he hoped to find constructive ways to achieve the savings, and that layoffs would be a last resort. However, in the final analysis, it was impossible to achieve the needed cuts savings without the layoffs, he said.

Stonebreaker stated that when ideas for saving money were requested by the administration she contributed "a full page of suggestions." However, when the layoffs came, she said the hospital staff was "floored" because it was expected that the cost reductions would be achieved in other ways.

Rosenthal said he did receive several hundred suggestions from the employees, many of which were implemented; but that the layoffs were still needed. He added that the five employees who were released were given a severance package and were offered free counseling services. He said that, despite allegations to the contrary by pro-union employees, the layoff procedure also followed the hospital's seniority policy.

Mary Brown, a laundry worker with 20 years service at the hospital, said she thought the layoffs were fair, and that the laid off employees did have some opportunity for other jobs at the hospital.

Livengood said that, with the union, employees will be treated with "respect and dignity" by the administration. "I want employees to be able to speak up," she said.

In Brown's view, though, employee input is already accepted and acted upon by hospital administration. "We can speak to Mr. Rosenthal at any time," she said. "His claim that his door is always open is true."

Another issue central to the union debate is employee health coverage. According to Stemple, the health plan in place five years ago was "really good." However, she says the plan was dropped by the administration for a second plan which had a higher premium and deductible than the first, but which she believed offered inferior coverage.

Livengood said that the employees were polled to determine what they wanted in a healthcare plan, but the plan that was put into place lacked the features that the employees requested in the poll, such as a prescription card, dental coverage, and a lower deductible. "Our opinion doesn't count," she said.

Rosenthal stated that, in the past five years, the employees have received 19 new benefits in their health care coverage. He said that the hospital has also faced significant increases in employee insurance premiums. By switching health plans, he said that the hospital saved $400,000, which was given back to the employees in the form of a $1 per hour raise enabling them to buy more coverage on their own. He said some employees have told him that they have saved money through this arrangement.

According to the National Labor Relations Board, Moran Manor Nursing Home, Westernport, has filed for de-certification; that is, removal of Local 27.

after the union was voted in just one year ago. Among all of the unions in the country, the United Food and Commercial Workers Union ranks third in the number of de-certifications filed against it.

When asked why it would not be beneficial for the employees to vote the union in and "try it for a year," and, if dissatisfied, simply file for decertification next year, Rosenthal said that the decertification process sometimes takes years to complete, and it may not be successful.

Of the 264 decertification elections filed in the past four years against the UICW Union, 122 are still unresolved and 49 were decided in favor of the union.

Rosenthal also added that, of 20 major unions surveyed, the UICW ranked fifth in the number of union-related acts of violence from 1975 through March 1991.

According to Stemple, union regulations prevent organizers with Local 27 from being interviewed by The Republican.

Household Help

by John Amantea

Q. I recently read your Household Help column in our weekly newspaper and would appreciate your advice. I would like to know if there is a method to clean up my hardwood oak flooring.

In August, 1993, we purchased an older home built in 1954 and would like some tips from you. If at all possible, I would like to avoid sanding because of the mess and expense involved. Can you give me some guidelines on sprucing up my floor?

A. As I've mentioned in several of my columns, there is nothing like a beautifully waxed, hardwood floor. However, as in your case, it is only possible if you sand that floor. The actual cost is low and even then, you can shop around for a reasonable rental center.

Basically, the only piece of equipment you'll need is a large, upright belt sander. The dealer you do business with should provide you with instructions and sandpaper. Let me just say, you're fortunate to have such a durable hardwood floor in your home. Now, down to work: Before you begin, make sure there aren't any protruding nails or staples that will obstruct the sander. Also, be especially sure that you sand only with the grain of the floor boards. Working in small areas at one time is also recommended because you can penetrate the grimy spots.

Once your chore is completed, be sure to vacuum up all the debris and damp mop the entire area. Finally, you can apply several coats of a good polyurethane finish and enjoy many years of beauty.

Q. My question is a basic one and only pertains to caulking. I own a home and have caulked for a few years. I'd like to know a neater way of applying it. Do you know of a smarter method of spreading caulk from a gun applicator?

A. One very common way of caulking from a gun is to first spread it and then use your index finger. The way this is done, especially in corners, is to run your index finger on the caulking to form a perfect bead.

Another and more perfect method is to position and use masking tape wherever possible. Using the above way will allow all the excess caulk onto the tape, only. This will also give you a neater bead when applying caulk.

Home Tips

SLICE AND SERVE — Because my family likes double-cheese pizzas, I bake my own at home. The pizza pans I purchased had deep lines cut into them by the pizza-cutter wheel. Cutting the pizzas was an awful project — until I remembered my trusty kitchen scissors.

Now I cut through the pizzas and toppings with ease. The scissors come apart for cleaning and disinfecting. The pans no longer bear the marks. My pizza slices aren't pulled or pushed off the pan while cutting and I don't burn my fingers! Kate G., Phoenix, Ariz.

KEEP IT CLEAN — I use only one rack in my oven and keep the other under the sink. This way, if there is any dripping or spattering, I don't have two racks to clean, yet the other one is at hand when needed.

My oven is self-cleaning, but the racks are cleaned manually to keep them shiny, so anything that helps is a blessing and a timesaver. Jeanine W., College Park, Md.

JOT IT DOWN — I correspond with several relatives and friends. Sometimes it is a month or so before I am able to answer their letters. As events happen that I plan to tell them about, I jot them down on the back of their unanswered letter. Then, when I am ready to write to that person, I can easily remember the things I want to share. Julia C., Washington, D.C.

COUPON CLIP — Before I go to the supermarket, I get out all the coupons I know I'm going to use. I take a letter-sized envelope and on the outside I list the name of the coupon and amount beside the name. Then I put the coupons in the order of the store aisles and insert them in the envelope. As I purchase an item, I just mark it off on the envelope.

When I get to the checkout, I go to the cashier and take the coupons out of the envelope and give them to the cashier. Brittany K., Louisville, Ky.

Q. I collect small Heisey glass animals. What is the difference in value between those marked with the H in a diamond and those marked IG?

A. Heisey made small animals of clear or pale amber glass from 1933 to 1957. The molds were then purchased by Imperial Glass, which made animals from the molds from 1969 to 1978. Imperial made 12 types in caramel slag glass and marked IG.

Collectors like to assemble full sets, the price is often determined by the number of copies of an animal made, not by the mark on the bottom. For example, the caramel slag Scotty sells for over $175. The Heisey original is half as much, but the slag glass mallard duck sells for less than the Heisey original.

Q. I found two small bottles in my grandmother's attic. They are only three inches high. One is 12-sided, dark amethyst, and has raised letters that say "Co. Sam Johnson, Proprietor, Richmond, VA, 1852" on one side, "Alancaster Indian Vegetable Bitters" on the other. The other bottle is an aqua-colored barrel marked "Root Bitters." Can you tell me about these bottles?

A. Bitters was a medicine made of roots and herbs. It was a popular tonic in the 19th century. "A Lancaster Indian Vegetable Jaundice Bitters, Sam Johnson proprietor" was made and sold in the 1850s. Like other bitters drinks, it was usually offered in bottles that were at least eight inches high.

There were many types of bitters sold in barrel-shaped bottles. When bottle collecting became popular in the 1970s, figural bottles were made by the Wheaton Nuline Co. for sale in gift shops. Most of the bottles were marked Wheaton on the bottom. There were even copies of the copies made in the Orient, and most of those bottles are unmarked.

Your three-inch bottles were shown in the Wheaton 1971 catalog. The bottles are only 20 years old and are valued at only a few dollars.

Senior Service Line

by Matilda Charles

THE OLDER WOMEN'S LEAGUE is always out front on issues that affect the well-being of women in their mid and senior years.

In August, they released a report on osteoporosis, the bone thinning disease that affects too many post-menopausal women. Although osteoporosis is the direct cause of some million and a half bone fractures among older people (it affects men as well, but mostly women) yearly, as well as some 300,000 hip fractures (often resulting in the loss of the ability to walk), it is not an inevitable part of growing older.

OWL President Lou Glasse says, "The greatest tragedy is that, for many women, osteoporosis is preventable and treatable. Our goal is to make every woman, health care professional, caregiver, and policy maker aware of the dangers this disease poses to women, and to tell them what can be done to prevent and mitigate its consequences."

Among the findings in a nationwide poll of 1,000 American women age 40-80 were these surprising results:

1. Only 36 percent of the women asked said they knew a great deal about the disease. Among the respondents, only 18 percent of African American women and 19 percent of Latin women said they knew a lot about it.

2. Women don't realize the risk. Only 12 percent said they are very worried about developing osteoporosis.

There may be a tendency to confuse tranquility with the popular tranquilizers. There is, of course, a great difference.

Tranquilizers are sometimes prescribed to soothe a troubled mind or body, but tranquility of the mind comes through the calm peace that is realized when one's life is so attuned to God's will that there is neither time nor space to allow frustration and confusion to invade the inner spirit of the soul.

A tranquil mind is not an inactive one, and it is never a closed door, but rather an open door to more abundant blessings with an ever faithful assurance that God has even more blessings in store for us.

When we are at peace with our maker, we are capable of inviting tranquility to enter and live within us, we seek His will quietly with the knowledge that He never fails us.

Your church or synagogue offers an opportunity for this serenity

COVER STORY

Sam Waterston joins Law & Order on NBC

BY SUZANNE GILL

Producer Dick Wolf's drama Law & Order is more like a long-running play than a TV series. Most series are so tied to the coattails of a star persona that the loss of a leading player can be crippling or even fatal.

But Law & Order, airing Wednesdays on NBC, is still thriving, though it entered this season with just one member of the original cast. Each season Wolf has weathered adjustments and capitalized on new blood.

"The play is the thing here," Wolf explains, quoting Hamlet. "People change jobs, people move on in life. One of the things that we've maintained throughout the life of the show is that it tries to reflect (that)."

This season, New York City District Attorney Ben Stone, played for four years by Michael Moriarty, moves on, and Jack McCoy (Sam Waterston) takes his place. McCoy inherits Stone's junior colleague, Clair Kincaid (Jill Hennessy), who has an expanded courtroom role this season.

Wolf calls Moriarty's resignation from the show a misunderstanding. Moriarty has claimed that because he spoke out against U.S. Attorney General Janet Reno on the issue of regulating TV violence, he was punished by being virtually written out of the show for a week. The episode instead focused entirely on detectives Briscoe (Jerry Orbach) and Logan (Christopher Noth) — an unusual departure from the show's formula.

Though Wolf says he tried to dissuade Moriarty from the decision to resign, he knew he had options if he failed in the attempt.

Enter Academy Award nominee Waterston (The Killing Fields), who started two years ago in NBC's I'll Fly Away. Joining Law in its fifth season, Waterston seems to have his eyes open.

"The thing that I've always

liked about this show is the fact that it has the same unmerciful attitude towards its characters that real life at work does," Waterston says.

Which means the show must go on.

Waterston's character was born during a two-day meeting with Wolf and his creative team in Los Angeles. Whereas Ben Stone was solidly intellectual in his approach, Wolf says Jack McCoy is "an urban Sam Ervin" — a reference to the colorful Southerner who chaired the U.S. Senate's Watergate investigation in 1974.

McCoy "is much less troubled by the vagaries of the law" than Stone, Wolf says, "much less apologetic about some of the things he does."

"He sees the law as a gigantic, three-dimensional chess game, and he is one of the master game players. He's there to win. He's there to play hard."

Waterston calls McCoy "a merry attack dog" and dismisses any comparisons to Forrest Bedford, the soft-spoken attorney and family man he played on I'll Fly Away.

"People narrow the categories for actors, and actors are always trying to play the walls out," he says.

"What Law & Order has succeeded in doing, which is to have a very high standard of quality and stay on the air, is a very tough trick to pull."

IN FOCUS

Harrison Ford (pictured) gives new complexity and depth to the role of Dr. Richard Kimble in The Fugitive, a film adaptation of the '60s TV series airing Saturday, Oct. 1, on HBO.

Cynics who scoffed when the project was announced were silenced after the film opened in 1993 and promptly catapulted relative novice Andrew Davis onto the A-list of hot directors.

Co-star Tommy Lee Jones won an Oscar for his richly nuanced portrayal of Kimble's nemesis, Lt. Girard.

Girl kills to be popular in A Friend to Die For

BY AMY HIBBERT

Striving to be popular is an ultimate goal of most high schoolers. That driving need is what leads one girl to commit murder in A Friend to Die For, airing Monday, Sept. 26, on NBC.

This shocking, fact-based story is about a proud, upper-middle-class community torn apart by the murder of a high-school student by one of her peers.

Emmy nominee Kellie Martin (Christy) plays Angela DelVecchio, a good student with a positive attitude toward honest, hard work.

Tori Spelling (Beverly Hills, 90210) is Stacy Lockwood, the all-American image. She is rich, beautiful and popular. The girls idolize her and the boys adore her.

Angela represents everything Stacy is not. Angela comes from a family that is not rich and is raised by a devoutly religious mother (Valerie Harper).

When the high-school principal (Terry O'Quinn) challenges his students to be the best, Angela is determined to do just that. More than anything, she wants Stacy to like her.

With this determination, Angela tries out for the yearbook staff, the cheerleading squad and an elite social-service club called the Larks.

Both Stacy and Angela are accepted by the Larks, and Angela feels she is on her way. But, she fails short of her other goals, particularly Stacy's friendship.

In a desperate act to win Stacy over, Angela lures her into a Lark business, but the plan backfires. What begins as a night for Angela's dreams to come true turns into a nightmare.

Tori Spelling

This story is not just about the death of a girl, though. It's about the death of two girls as Angela must deal with the humiliation that the community puts her through.

This disturbing story shows that both girls are the victims in this case, and that a mixture of society and the pressure to be popular is in fact the real victimizer.

Sticking to the theme of murder, NBC will air The Innocent on Sunday, Sept. 25. Kelsey Grammer and Polly Draper star in the story of an autistic boy who is the only witness to a brutal crime.

Susan Dey and Richard Dean Anderson star in Beyond Belief, airing Tuesday, Sept. 27, on CBS. Domestic violence is the topic of this dramatic presentation.

Also this week, Harrison Ford and Tommy Lee Jones are on the run in The Fugitive, airing on HBO, Saturday, Oct. 1.

TV PIPELINE

BY TAYLOR MICHAELS

Q: I was recently reading in a "movie flub" book about the scene in The Wizard of Oz in which a Munchkin supposedly hanged himself in the background. The book says it possibly was a stagehand walking behind the backdrop. I think it is one of the turkeys from the opening of the scene (where Dorothy and the Scarecrow meet the Tin Man). Has anyone ever verified this? —Daniel Kelly, Floral Park, N.Y.

A: Daniel, you are dealing here with a man who just read what seems like the 98th insipid letter about a Mark-Paul Gosselaar death rumor (all of them different, by the way). And now you bring the suicidal little people and AWOL turkeys? I don't think so. I know there were a lot of gaffes on Oz, including Judy Garland's pigtails that changed length in several scenes, but to the best of my knowledge expert Ozians dismiss that suicide story. As for your fowl theory, sorry, I have no information about it.

Q: Please tell me what happened to Kristy McNichol of Empty Nest? Is she ill? Has she quit acting? I miss her. —Kathy McCoy, Fort Wayne, Ind.

A: Production sources reported that McNichol's abrupt departure from Nest was due to her battle with manic depression. For now, at least, she seems to have no plans to resume her acting career, which had stalled badly pre-Nest.

Q: Please settle an argument. My aunt says Greg Evigan of B.J. and the Bear played the rapist in the TV movie One of Our Own. My mom says no way. —Belynn Trowbridge, Merrifield, Minn.

A: Production sources reported that McNichol's abrupt departure from Nest was due to her battle with manic depression. For now, at least, she seems to have no plans to resume her acting career, which had stalled badly pre-Nest.

A: WAY. Mom. It was Evigan.

Q: Please settle a bet. How old is Mel Gibson? —Two sisters in Hiawatha, Kan.

A: He's 38.

Q: Where can I write to the Sci-Fi Channel? —Carolyn Wilson, Clovis, N.M.

A: C/O USA Networks, 1230 Avenue of the Americas, New York, N.Y. 10020.

Q: What is the mailing address of WWOR in New York? —Mrs. F.H. Fleming, Media, Pa.

A: 9 Broadcast Plaza, Secaucus, N.J. 07090.

Q: Is a soundtrack recording available to Stephen King's The Stand? —Christina Bond, San Mateo, Calif.

A: Yes, it's on Varese Sarabande compact disc.

Q: Has Eileen Davidson of Days of Our Lives undergone a sex change? I heard she used to be on another soap opera as a man. —C.T., Storm Lake, Iowa.

A: Bartender, I'll have what C.T. is having.

Harris mines comic gold as one of the Buchanans

BY JOHN CROOK

Batten the hatches: Here comes Hurricane Harris.

Harriet Sansom Harris plays Vivian Buchanan in The Five Mrs. Buchanans, now airing Saturdays on CBS. More than one TV reporter already has suggested that her flamboyant portrayal of a class-conscious but basically good-hearted Midwesterner could be this fall's "breakout" character.

Vivian is the kind of woman who enters her sister-in-law Alex's (Judith Ivey) thrift store by the back door so her friends won't think Vivian shops there. When she isn't delivering acerbic observations on everyone around her, she's barking commands to her hyperactive (and unseen) twins, Lyndon and P.J. "If you misbehave in church, Jesus won't love you anymore!" she thunders in one scene.

For a relative newcomer like

Harris to hold her own with two-time Tony winner Ivey and Oscar winner Eileen Heckart takes backbone, but Harris says she thrives on the situation.

"It's a really great group," she says of her castmates. "The women are just wonderful and very talented. I think each of us brings something to the show that makes for a wonderful balance. It's fun to come to work and watch what people are doing and go, 'Oh — THAT's how she does that!'"

The role of Vivian caps several months of high-visibility guest shots for the Texas-born, Juillard-trained actress, who made an unforgettable appearance on Fraser last season as an agent trying to seduce the title character into shilling for a salted nuts company ("I'm Dr. Frasier Crane, and I know a nut when I see one"). It scheduling permits, she'll reprise that character this season, she says.

IN FOCUS

Robin Williams copped a Golden Globe Award — and an Academy Award nomination — for his fact-based portrayal of a Saigon disc jockey in Good Morning, Vietnam, airing Saturday, Oct. 1, on USA Network.

Williams plays soldier Adrian Cronauer in Barry Levinson's 1987 comedy, a role that basically turns into an opportunity for Williams to do his outrageous riffs on a variety of topics.

SOAP TALK

Days of Our Lives great Billie/Bo/Hope debate

BY CANDACE HAVENS

Fans of Days of Our Lives are some of the most loyal in the world of soap operas. They let their views be known, and they are incredibly supportive of the show. But now fans are split down the middle in the great Billie/Bo/Hope debate.

It all started when the producers of Days decided to bring back Kristian Alfonso's character, Hope. Bo (Robert Kelker-Kelly) and Billie (Lisa Rinna) were in the middle of a big romance when Bo's ex-wife, Hope, who was supposedly dead, reappeared.

The Days writers didn't want to make it too easy for Bo to choose between the two women, so they made Hope lose her memory and called her Gina. For months the characters waited for DNA tests to establish the true identity of Hope/Gina, but the test came back inconclusive.

Some fans were furious when Bo decided to dump Billie so she could get on with her life. Others want Bo with Hope. Here is what some fans say:

Dear Candace: I think Bo and Hope should be together. They were a wonderful couple in the old days, and they share a son. They also have a lot of chemistry. —Lauren Howell, Haverhill, Mass.

Dear Candace: Bo and Billie should stay together. Poor Billie never gets what she wants, and it isn't fair. And Bo and Billie make such a terrific couple. —Canadian fan

Dear Candace: I belong to a group that watches Days, and we think that Bo and Hope belong together. Billie was good, but she would be better off with

Kristian Alfonso

Mike Horton. Soap fans in West Palm Beach, Fla.

Dear Candace: I have watched Days since it began, and am a big fan of the show. I have waited so long to see Bo and Billie get married. It isn't fair for him to even consider Hope. —L. Dodson, Holly Hill, Fla.

Dear Candace: I want Hope and Bo to get back together. Their love was so strong, and they make a very good couple. I also like Billie, but the writers need to find her a new love. Mike Horton would be a good choice. —Jennifer Crippen, Guyville, Ohio

Dear Candace: Bo and Billie have such chemistry. I have watched the show for 20 years, and I am disappointed they brought Hope back. Billie is such a wonderful woman, and she deserves some happiness. —Fan in Daytona Beach, Fla.

CABLE OVERVIEW

A hero's poignant life, a flood of new series

BY SUZANNE GILL

Arthur Ashe: Citizen of the World is an intelligent and emotional tribute to the life of the late tennis champion, author, civil rights activist and humanitarian. It debuts Tuesday, Sept. 27, on HBO.

Interviews with Bryant Gumbel, Billie Jean King, John McEnroe, Stan Smith, Andrew Young and Nelson Mandela give counterpoint to the narration, written by Frank Delord and read by Ossie Davis.

Says Ashe's friend Eddie Manderly, "His energy was boundless, and his commitment to things that he never preached about just continued to stagger me."

Worldly considerations prevail at The Learning Channel Wednesday, Sept. 28, as A Baby's World and Paleoworld join the lineup. Baby looks at the development of infants and toddlers in six episodes over as many weeks. Paleoworld uses robotic models and computer graphics to explore the world of dinosaurs. The 13-week series begins with a look at the evolution of the meat eaters.

Tammy Wynette is host of The Legends of Country Music, debuting Thursday, Sept. 29, on The Nashville Network.

For the premiere, Wynette invites Loretta Lynn and new comers John Berry and Joy Lynn White to be her guests.

After five more weeks Wynette turns the reins over to Willie Nelson, who will play host to a succession of honky-tonk heroes and heroines.

Also Thursday, The Discovery Channel offers three series premieres.

Ossie Davis

The Know Zone lets San Francisco disc jockey Don Bleu be the viewer's guide to the latest inventions, science and technology.

World of Wonder mixes science, unexplained phenomenon and That's Incredible.

Finally Kevin Nealon (Saturday Night Live) sets out on the "quacky side roads of American culture" in Amazing America to find the "insular clans that flourish just beneath the surface of American society." In the first episode, this means quirky quality time at a Deadhead gathering, a baby beauty pageant and a Star Trek convention.

Rev. Allen Jr. and Lisa Stewart are hosts of First Year, a series based on the popular Stiller Bros. Show segment. Written by Statler Harold and Don Reid, it premieres Friday, Sept. 30, on TBS.

Larry King scans the heavens over Rachel, Nev., for signs of extraterrestrial life in Larry King: The UFO Cover Up, Saturday on TNT.

On The Menu...

Teen Cuisine

Planning your own party your own way is a lot of fun, and pulling off the responsibility will give you a real sense of achievement.

Take your "teen cuisine" party one step at a time. First, decide how many friends you would like to entertain. Second, plan your afternoon or evening of fun — gather the tunes, get games ready, or opt for a marathon of movies. Last, prepare a shopping list for this delicious party menu.

Zesty Seafood Dip can be made the day before the party. This creamy dill dip, tangy with bottled lemon juice and chock full of seafood bits, makes the crunch of a smothered chip or fresh veggie all the more enjoyable.

Fun to make and fun to say, Fruit Kabobs with Lemony Peanut Butter Drizzle are for the adventuresome in spirit. Colorful chunks of fresh fruit are artistically presented on skewers, with your most wild squiggle of drizzle.

Adding spice to the finger food selection are irresistible Popcorn Mix-Ups. A mix of popcorn, peanuts and pretzels seems innocent enough, but wait until you've tasted what chicken-flavor instant bouillon, curry powder and hot pepper sauce can do for these usually tame snacks — WOW!

Honey Dijon Drumsticks, a perfect pick-up food, will satisfy the hungriest of your guests. Bouillon, Dijon-style mustard and honey add punch to these crunchy drumsticks coated with buttery cracker crumbs. Party-goers will also love Mexican Pizza, combining two favorite cuisines for a smashing taste success. An Italian bread shell cradles traditional Mexican toppings — ground beef seasoned with spicy salsa, bell pepper slices and lots of shredded cheese.

Wash it all down with fruity Strawberry Banana Shakes. Simple to prepare, this frozen drink combines fresh strawberries and ripe bananas with the added zip of bottled lemon juice for a taste as exciting as the party itself.

Go ahead and show off a little! Plan ahead, serve up fun food and make it a party to remember.

Party WITH A PURPOSE

Make your gathering even more meaningful:

- 1. Clean Up and Recycle — Meet your friends in an area known for litter. Clean it up, take the recyclable materials to the nearest recycling center, and reward yourselves with a party.
- 2. Feed People in Need — Request that each of your guests bring several cans of food to the party. Choose a local pantry or shelter and donate the food, along with the leftovers from your party.
- 3. Clothe the Less Fortunate — Suggest that your friends clean out their closets and bring over the clothes they have outgrown. After the party, donate the clothing to a children's shelter.

Mexican Pizza

(Makes one pizza)

- 1 (12-inch) round prepared Italian bread shell
- 1/2 pound lean ground beef
- 1/2 cup chopped onion
- 1 clove garlic, finely chopped
- 1-1/2 cups salsa
- 2 teaspoons beef-flavor instant bouillon
- 1-1/2 cups (6 ounces) each shredded cheddar and Monterey Jack cheese
- Red and yellow bell pepper slices
- Sliced black olives, optional

Preheat oven to 450°. In large skillet, brown beef, onion and garlic; pour off fat. Stir in salsa and bouillon. Simmer 5 minutes. Place bread shell on large baking sheet, top with salsa mixture, cheese, sliced peppers and olives. Bake 10 to 12 minutes or until cheese melts. Refrigerate leftovers.

Honey Dijon Drumsticks

(Makes 4 servings)

- 1/4 cup Dijon-style mustard
- 2 teaspoons chicken-flavor instant bouillon
- 2 teaspoons honey
- 8 chicken drumsticks
- 1 cup round buttery-flavored cracker crumbs (24 crackers)
- 3 tablespoons margarine or butter, melted

Preheat oven to 375°. In medium bowl, combine mustard, bouillon and honey. Coat drumsticks with mustard mixture, roll in cracker crumbs. Arrange in greased baking dish, drizzle margarine over drumsticks. Bake 40 minutes or until chicken is tender. Refrigerate leftovers.

Popcorn Mix-Ups

(Makes about 10 cups)

- 1/4 cup margarine or butter
- 1 teaspoon chicken-flavor instant bouillon
- 3/4 teaspoon curry powder
- 1/4 teaspoon hot pepper sauce
- 6 cups popped popcorn
- 3 cups mini-pretzels
- 2 cups unsalted peanuts

In small saucepan, combine margarine, bouillon, curry powder and hot pepper sauce. Cook and stir until margarine melts and bouillon dissolves. In large bowl, combine popcorn, pretzels and peanuts. Toss with margarine mixture.

Fruit Kabobs with Lemony Peanut Butter Drizzle

(Makes 10 to 12 servings)

- 1/2 cup honey
- 1/2 cup creamy peanut butter
- 1/4 cup bottled lemon juice
- 2 tablespoons water
- 6 cups cut up assorted fresh fruits (apple, pear, peach, nectarine and plum slices, strawberries, grapes, banana and pineapple chunks)

Additional bottled lemon juice

In small bowl, combine all ingredients except fruit and additional bottled lemon juice; mix well. Chill to blend flavors. Meanwhile, to assemble fruit kabobs, dip fruit in bottled lemon juice to prevent browning. On wooden skewers, arrange fruit. Serve with Lemony Peanut Butter Drizzle. Refrigerate leftovers.

Zesty Seafood Dip

(Makes about 3 cups)

Not pictured

- 1 (8-ounce) package cream cheese, softened
- 1 (8-ounce) container sour cream
- 1/4 cup bottled lemon juice
- 1 teaspoon chicken-flavor instant bouillon
- 1/2 teaspoon dill weed
- 4 ounces surimi seafood, finely chopped (about 1 cup)

In small bowl, beat cream cheese until fluffy. Add remaining ingredients except surimi; mix until smooth. Stir in surimi. Chill to blend flavors. Serve with potato chips or assorted fresh vegetables. Refrigerate leftovers.

Strawberry Banana Shake

(Makes about 1-1/2 quarts)

- 1 quart fresh strawberries, washed and hulled
- 2 ripe medium bananas
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/3 cup bottled lemon juice
- 4 cups ice

In blender or food processor container, combine all ingredients except ice; process until smooth. Add ice; process until smooth. Serve immediately. TIP: Shake can be made ahead and placed in freezer for 2 hours; stir before serving.

Keep Maryland Beautiful Award Contest Noted

As part of its Keep Maryland Beautiful activities, funded by the State Highway Administration, the Maryland Environmental Trust is accepting applications for the Margaret Rosch Jones Award and the Bill James Environmental Grants.

The Jones award is given in memory of Margaret Jones, the executive director of the Keep Maryland Beautiful Program for many years. The trust hopes to remind citizens of her "devotion, energy and ingenuity" by presenting an award in her name to a group whose voluntary activities in 1994 personified these attributes which Margaret Jones brought to her work. Applicants must also meet one or both of the following criteria:

1) Groups that have been active in educating people in their community about at least one of these concerns: litter prevention, community beautification, and local or statewide environmental issue(s).

2) Groups that have been successful in eliminating or reducing the causes of a local environmental problem rather than address the symptoms.

The Bill James Environmental Grants are given in memory of William S. James who drafted legislation to create the trust, incorporating the activities of the Governor's Committee to Keep Maryland Beautiful. The objectives of the grants are: 1) to encourage a sense of stewardship and personal responsibility for the environment, 2) to stimulate a better understanding of environmental issues, 3) to instill a growth management ethic, and 4) to aid in the elimination or reduction of a local environmental problem.

to $2,000 is for voluntary non-profit groups or communities which have already demonstrated a basic understanding and resolution of an environmental issue.

The Bill James grants of up to $1,000 are for proposed environmental education projects by school groups, science and ecology clubs, and other non-profit youth groups.

Applications may be obtained from the Maryland Environmental Trust, First Floor, 100 Community Place, Crownsville, MD 21032-2023. Completed applications must be received by Oct. 31, 1994.

Annual Springs Folk Festival Slated Oct. 7-8

Mountain craft presentations, authentic Pennsylvania Dutch food, bluegrass music and pioneer artifacts will be featured at the 37th Annual Springs Folk Festival on Friday and Saturday, October 7 and 8, in Springs, Pa.

"Our crafts and demonstrations are among the most unique of any regional festival, drawing visitors from several states," said Louis Oester, publicity director for the festival. "The folk festival showcases the trades and lifestyles of settlers in our area during the early 1800's."

Nearly 90 exhibits are displayed in the juried craft show featuring familiar crafts as well as Canoe dipping, braiding, tatting, and basketry. In addition, leather crafts, wooden toys, and corn husk creations provide a variety of unique items. The outdoor trails are lined with pioneer craftsmen including the beekeeper, tinsmith, ropemaker, blacksmith, and sauerkraut maker. Old-timers demonstrate the art of log hewing, railsplitting, and flailing grain, while visitors take horse-drawn hayrides that stroll throughout the festival grounds.

"One of our most popular attractions is the continuous musical entertainment," said Oester. Bluegrass music featuring the fiddle and banjo, the a capella singing of local Mennonites, and the melodies of the hammered dulcimer are an annual favorite. Authentic Pennsylvania Dutch food highlights the concession areas. Traditional family style dinners, as well as funnel cakes, apple-butter bread, bean soup, and other food items can be found throughout the festival grounds.

History buffs can view one of the area's biggest collections of artifacts from the pioneer farm, home, and workshop at the Springs Museum.

The festival is held from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Admission is free to children five and under, $1 for youths 5-12, and $4 for adults. Group rates are available if arranged in advance and there is plenty of free parking.

Springs is located on Route 669 between Salisbury, Pa. (US 219) and Grantsville (U.S. 40, 1-68) in Southern Somerset County. For more information, persons may call (814) 662-4158 or (814) 662-2051.

Grantsville Church To Note 100 Years

The congregation of St. Paul's Methodist Church, Grantsville, will celebrate the church's 100th anniversary with a homecoming on Sept. 25 at 11 a.m.

The event will feature a rededication and thanksgiving service with Rev. K. Almond of Broad Oaks Methodist Church, Clarksburg, W. Va., presenting the sermon entitled "Preaching the Windows," Psalms 139. A covered-dish dinner will follow the service. Almond will discuss her recent trip to Russia in the afternoon. Rev. Lee Williams is St. Paul's regular pastor.

Former members and friends of the church are invited to attend the event.

As part of the anniversary celebration, each month this year members of the church have met to exchange memories about St. Paul's.

Soprano, Tenor Recital Slated

The Frostburg State University Department of Music will present mezzo-soprano Karen Soderberg and tenor Allen Emerick in recital at the Performing Arts Pealer Recital Hall on Sunday, October 2. The performance will begin at 3 p.m. and is free and open to the public. Donations towards the Music Scholarship fund will be accepted.

The duo will be accompanied by pianist Joan Dixon. The performance will include music from Italian composers Giuseppe Sarti, Alessandro Scarlatti, Marcello Benedetto and Stefano Donaudy; German composers Hugo Wolf and Gustav Mahler; French composers Gabriel Faure and Claude Debussy and duets by Henry Purcell, Franz Schubert, Robert Schumann and John Cage.

Dr. Soderberg is department chair and director of vocal/choral activities at FSU. She is the current state president of the American Choral Directors Association, College/University representative for the Maryland Choral Educators Association, and frequent adjudicator, clinician and guest conductor.

Emerick is coordinator of Performing Arts and Cultural Events at Allegany Community College. He has sung with Margaret Lillis, Robert Shaw, and Gerard Souzay.

Ms. Dixon joined the faculty of the FSU music department this year. She graduated from Drake University and a master's degree in music and is currently a doctor of musical arts candidate in piano performance and pedagogy at Southwestern Baptist Seminary in Texas.

Rural Maryland Group To Meet In Cumberland

The second meeting of the FORVM for Rural Maryland will be held Thursday, Oct. 13, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., in the Crown South Room at the Cumberland Holiday Inn, South George Street, Cumberland. According to a spokesman for the program, this meeting will provide the opportunity to learn more about this national initiative and to allow those with an interest in rural Maryland to assume a leadership role in this new organization.

The rural development council concept was initiated three years ago under the direction of the White House and the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Thirty-nine states currently have or are initiating councils. Councils are open organizations. Each council's membership includes federal, state, and local governments, private non-profit and consumer representatives.

Garrett County Commissioner John Braskey and Duane Yoder, executive director of the Garrett County Community Action Committee, both serve on the FORVM's Executive Board. Braskey has been selected by the Executive Board to be the vice chair. His selection will be confirmed at this general meeting.

Seen as a new way of identifying and solving problems, each council serves as a neutral forum addressing difficult issues, such as governmental regulations which impede the delivery of services to rural areas. The councils have, within their membership, direct access to the programs and policy makers at the state and federal levels. In other states, councils have successfully interceded on behalf of the private sector and citizen organizations and local governments to untangle "red tape" and modify onerous program requirements.

For registration or other information about the FORVM, persons may contact Bill Walker, executive director, or Susan Kelliher at (410) 514-7267. Sign language interpreters and/or other appropriate accommodations for individuals with disabilities will be

Evangelist Teel To Lead Services In Loch Lynn

Evangelist Robert E. Teel will lead revival services at the Loch Lynn Church of God the week of October 2-9, according to Rev. Robert H. Fletcher. Born in Ada, Okla., and reared in southern California, Teel was a national champion in gymnastics and many experts believed he was destined to win a gold medal on the rings for the United States in the Olympics. At the height of his career, however, he began to abuse drugs and alcohol and was banished from Olympic competition.

Teel says that in 1972 he was "delivered from drugs and alcohol by the power of Christ" and has invested his time and efforts since that time "proclaiming the Gospel."

Teel says his mission is to encourage local churches to "become involved in the study of the word and to minister to local communities."

The revival services at the Loch Lynn church will begin at 7 p.m. each evening. Rev. Fletcher invites the public to attend.

PC Historical Society To Meet In Terra Alta

The Preston County Historical will conduct its semi-annual luncheon meeting on Saturday, Oct. 15, at First Presbyterian Church, Terra Alta. The meeting begins at noon.

The menu for the luncheon includes steak, mashed potatoes and gravy, green beans, salad, homemade rolls, dessert and a beverage for $6. Money and reservation information must be received by Oct. 10, and should be sent to Mrs. McKinley Luther, Rt. 2, Unit 3, Box 11, Terra Alta, WV 26764. She may also be reached at 789-6643.

Christine A. Myres from West Virginia University's Family Resources Department, will speak to the group about "Colonial Architecture in 18th Century America."

The historical society's president, I.T. "Bud" White, will conduct the business meeting, during which time officers for the coming year will be nominated. All members are encouraged to attend. The museum, located on Washington Street, will also be open at 11 a.m. on the day of the meeting.

During an executive meeting in August, the officers were notified of the resignation of long-time secretary-treasurer, Mary Elizabeth McCrum, Kingwood, because of health reasons. She had held the post since the society began in 1958. Mrs. Luther, an active member of the society, has volunteered to fill McCrum's post.

The Preston County Historical Society's first-ever newsletter, created and produced by the society's historian and newsletter editor, Janice Sisler, and her photographer husband, Ben, has been sent to members. Members are asked to bring suggestions for a masthead to the Oct. 15 meeting. A free year's membership will be given to the person whose title is selected.

Preston Braces For Another Huge Buckwheat Feast

If 1993's Buckwheat Festival crowds are duplicated this year, members of the Kingwood Volunteer Fire Department may expect to serve 14,000 buckwheat cake and whole-hog sausage dinners this year to hungry fairgoers.

Kingwood, a town of fewer than 3,500 residents, plays host to approximately 100,000 visitors each year during the annual Preston County Buckwheat Festival, an event which combines a carnival midway, parades, livestock and craft shows, music, and, of course, plenty of buckwheat cakes and sausage. According to a festival spokesperson, many people make the trip to Kingwood primarily to partake of the festival's namesake cuisine.

For Festival '93, 10,700 pounds of pork were made into 35,000 sausage patties to be served by the KVID at the Kingwood Community Building adjacent to the fairgrounds. Seasoning this sausage were 12 pounds of Jamaican ginger, 18 pounds of black pepper, 150 pounds of salt, and 288 pounds of brown sugar.

To keep up with the constant demand for traditional buckwheat cakes, the firemen went through 4,000 pounds of buckwheat flour and 50 pounds of yeast before the end of the four-day fair. Also consumed were 2,472 pints of milk, 204 number-10 cans of applesauce, 612 pounds of margarine, 1,236 24-ounce bottles of syrup, and "megagallons of coffee."

Also during the Buckwheat Festival, church groups in towns along the routes leading to Kingwood display signs urging travelers to stop there for buckwheat dinners and avoid the crowds, and many county restaurants serve buckwheat cake for breakfast, lunch, and dinner.

The 53rd Preston County Buckwheat Festival will be held Sept. 29 through Oct. 2.

Farmers Asked To Make ASC Nominations

"Farmers are asked to nominate candidates of their choice by October 31 to be on the ASC county committee ballot," says Kenneth Bachtel, chairperson, Garrett County ASCS Committee.

The ASC county committee election will be conducted from November 25 to December 5 by mail ballot.

ASC committees are responsible for managing federal farm programs on the local level. To meet the needs of individual producers, ASC committee members must be concerned and responsible individuals, Bachtel said. Maryland farmers have the opportunity to nominate people they feel would best serve the farm community. Producers interested in nominating a farmer for the slate of nominees should request a petition from their county ASCs office. Petitions will no longer be mailed to all eligible voters.

A few basic considerations should be kept in mind when circulating petitions, Bachtel said. In order to be valid, petitions must be limited to one nominee each, must include written certification that the nominee is willing to serve if elected, must be signed by at least three eligible farm votes in the ASC community, and must be received in the county ASCS office by the October 31 deadline.

Farmers may circulate or sign nominating petitions for as many candidates as they choose. Anyone wishing to nominate a farmer for the ASC committee election may contact the county ASCS office for full details, including eligibility requirements for office holders. Contact the Garrett County ASCS Office at 334-1901.

Farmers should petition for and elect those individuals they feel would do a good job as a member of the ASC committee. The election of concerned farmers to positions on ASC committees is essential in the administration of farm programs," Bachtel said.

Bachtel further explained that the county ASCS office welcomes all valid petitions. The opportunity to nominate, vote, and be elected to office is guaranteed to all farmers.

Maryland Corn Production Steady

Maryland: The corn production forecast for 1994 was unchanged from a month earlier in Maryland based on conditions on September 1, 1994. The yield remained 110 bushels per acre from 380,000 acres for a total output of 41,800,000 bushels.

The soybean forecast increased from August 1 to September 1, 1994, by one bushel per acre. Now growers anticipate an average yield of 37 bushels which would be a new record high. The current record is 36 bushels set in 1990.

Total soybean production is forecast at 20,350,000 bushels, which would surpass the current record high 1992 production of 17,985,000 bushels. The 1994 tobacco production forecast remained unchanged from August 1 to September 1 at 12,325,000 pounds. August weather became cooler than normal. Temperatures at the beginning of the month averaged 2 degrees above normal and declined to three to five degrees below normal. Maximum daily temperatures remained in the 80's most of the time and overnight lows dropped into the 50's. At the end of August temperatures moved up to near normal levels. Rainfall was rather light during August throughout Maryland except during the middle of the month. Near September 1, 1994, corn was mature on 13 percent of the Maryland acreage and 68 percent of the corn was in the dent stage or beyond. Soybeans were setting pods or more advanced on 91 percent of the acreage. Only three percent of the soybeans were turning color. Development of corn and soybeans was only a couple of days behind normal.

United States: Corn production is forecast at 9.26 billion bushels, up fractionally from the August 1 forecast but 46 percent above the 1993 production. Based on conditions as of September 1, yields are expected to average 129.0 bushels per acre, up 0.6 bushel from last month and 28.3 bushels above a year earlier. Acreage for harvest as grain is estimated at 71.8 million acres, the same as last month.

Soybean production is forecast at a record high 2.32 billion bushels as of September 1, up 1 percent from the August 1 forecast and 28 percent above 1993. Yield is forecast at a record high 38.2 bushels per acre, 0.6 bushels August 1 and 6.2 bushels above 1993. The previous record high yield of 37.6 was set in 1992.

The National Agricultural Statistics Service is conducting corn objective yield surveys in 10 States during 1994. Randomly selected plots in corn for grain fields are visited monthly from August through harvest to obtain specific counts and measurements. Counts from this survey are not official estimates of the Agricultural Statistics Board, but are intended to show trends in corn production practices.

In 1990 corn plant population per acre ranged from 16,100 in South Dakota to 23,100 in Minnesota. For 1994 population ranged from 19,100 in South Dakota to 26,100 in Minnesota.

Replacement Beef Heifer Workshop Set

Beef producers are invited to participate in a two-session workshop on Replacement Heifer Selection and Management. This is a Maryland state-wide program through "live" interactive video. The workshops are co-sponsored by Garrett and Allegany County Cooperative Extension Service at the Video Laboratory at Frostburg State University on Monday evenings, October 3 and 10, from 7:00 p.m. to 9:30 p.m.

The program will originate "live" from Towson State University. Participants will have the opportunity to interact with producers from three other sites in Maryland.

The program will be as follows:

Monday, October 3: Introduction to Integrated Resource Management and Standardized Performance Analysis; Heifer Management Steps from Weaning to Start of Breeding Season; Selection, Nutritional Management, Preventive Health and Homework Assignments.

Monday, October 10: Heifer Management from the Start of the Breeding Season to Calving; Breeding Management, Nutritional Management, and Disease Control; Economics of Raising Replacement Heifers.

The instructors will be Dr. Douglas Carmel, Extension veterinarian, and Dr. Scott Barao, livestock specialist.

Senate Retains Ethanol's Role In EPA Clean Air Program

By a vote of 51-50, with Vice President Al Gore breaking the tie, ethanol retained its role as a contributor to the Environmental Protection Agency's reformulated gasoline (RFG) program.

An amendment by Sen. Bennett Johnston (D-La.), which would have cut funding for using ethanol in reformulated gasoline, was tabled by the Senate in effect killing the amendment and providing for the use of ethanol in reformulated fuels.

Sen. Barbara Mikulski (D-Md.) offered the motion to table the Johnston amendment.

Dean Kleckner, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, said the Senate's action in support of the EPA's renewable fuels program "helps assure the future for ethanol as an American grown, American made, renewable fuel."

"This Senate victory, sealed with the tie-breaking vote of Vice President Gore, underscores the proven benefits of renewable fuels to the environment and the positive impacts ethanol use has on agriculture and the economy."

Use of ethanol, which is made primarily from corn, is expected to translate into a 7-10 cent-per-bushel increase in corn prices and will create 14,000 new jobs, says USDA. It also would benefit taxpayers by reducing farm support payments and energy imports.

"We are pleased that once again common sense on behalf of ethanol was able to pull out a win over big oil dollars," Kleckner added. "Ethanol opponents are now intensifying efforts to overturn the EPA ethanol rule."

Kleckner said oil companies have launched a legal challenge to the ethanol rule. "With the close vote in the Senate, we can also expect more bruising battles with ethanol opponents in Congress."

America's farmers will support the Clinton administration in any challenge to the EPA's plan to include ethanol in the nation's clean air program, he noted. "Considerable research and study by EPA and USDA have gone into the administration's plan to allow a role for ethanol in the clean air program. It is appropriate that we move forward on the EPA program and not push it back into the political process."

Last month, EPA ruled it would phase in a requirement that 30 percent of the new oxygen enhancing additive, required by the 1990 Clean Air Act, must come from a renewable source--principally ethanol. Opponents argued that the rule unfairly favors ethanol over methanol.

The Clean Air Act requires fuel used in nine cities with the worst air pollution contain an oxygen enhancing additive so it burns cleaner. Ethanol, an ethanol derivative called ETBE and petroleum-based MTBE are used to provide the added oxygen.

SWEET CORN AS HIGH AS THE SKY -- This crop of sweet corn raised by the Gary DeBerry family on Route 219 north of Oakland, grew to reach 14 feet, quite unusual for sweet corn. The variety was called Showtime from Southern States, and is a late variety of bi-colored corn. Pictured above with the corn is DeBerry's father, William, who is 5'11" tall and can hardly reach the ears on the stalk. Those ears, out of the husk, average between 13 and 15 inches in length. The variety is really a novelty. Some of the stalks produced two of these large ears, some stalks only one, but DeBerry says he is not very pleased with the flavor of the corn and will probably not plant it again next year. The DeBerry family has been selling corn along Rt. 219 at their farm for eight years, beginning with a half-acre plot. This year they planted 19 different varieties of sweet corn on 20 acres. They started selling their corn on July 27 and sold approximately 3,000 dozen ears this summer. The family includes Gary, his wife Cathy, daughter Danielle, son Jamie, father-in-law Harold Gnegy, father and mother William and Maxine DeBerry. This year they also hired Julie, Tammy, Nathan and Jason Martin to help pick the corn at the peak of the season. As an extra added attraction, they had a free corn sample day this summer, when they roasted different varieties of corn for their customers to taste. DeBerry said the day was a lot of fun and went over very well. The DeBerry family will be back next summer, and invites everyone to stop by and say hello.

Don't Rush The Harvest Of Your Corn Silage

I have seen some farmers harvesting what appears to be very green corn. There are a couple important factors that you should keep in mind for determining when to harvest. First of all, the optimum moisture content is from 60 to 65 percent. Corn silage is a good economical forage; however, an animal can only consume a limited amount and if there is an excess of water, you will have trouble getting the desired dry matter content in the animal. Excess water decreases the value of corn silage more than you may realize. Also, excess seepage from the silo leaches out some of the nutrients. Plus you are putting extra weight stress on the silo structure.

Secondly, you should harvest after the corn kernels have formed the black layer at the base of the kernel. Immature kernels will lower the energy content of the silage. Using the microwave is an effective method of measuring the moisture content. If you need instructions, give me a call.

Presenting the award is George Bishoff, chairman of the Garrett Soil Conservation District. GSCD sponsors a "Conservation Exhibit Award" each year to encourage 4-H and FFA clubs to consider conservation as the theme for their club exhibits at the fair. The effort is to instill in club members a sense of good resource stewardship and conservation ethics. It also helps them to become more aware of the benefits of practicing conservation. conditions as of September 1, yields are expected to average 129 bushels per acre. As far as I can tell, this forecast has not been reflected a whole lot in the price you are paying for feed corn.

After six months on market, BST's impact only slight

By Ken Olson

Bovine somatotropin (BST) made its long-awaited entry into the dairy world approximately six months ago when it became available to producers under the brand name "Posilac." It was greeted at that time with a mixture of apprehension and anticipation. Would it work as well as reported? How would consumers react? What would happen to milk prices? Let's take a look at the situation now.

Monsanto, the company that produces "Posilac," indicates that sales are running ahead of expectations, but use is difficult to measure since it is not releasing sales figures. The company indicates that several million doses have been sold to producers with herds that make up at least 20 percent of U.S. dairy cows.

The production impact is difficult to quantify due to the lack of information on product use, but nationally it appears to be modest. Most producers who have used the product report very positive production responses for individual cows and for herds. On a state basis this is difficult to demonstrate. Many reports indicate that New York has one of the highest usage rates of the product, yet the increase in production per cow in the state during the months since product approval are below the national average. On the other hand, California was reported to have low initial use, but production increases in that state have been dramatic.

Consumer reaction to use of the product and the potential impact on demand was a concern of the industry when BST became available. Since February, media coverage has increased consumer awareness of BST, but there has been no identifiable impact on consumption. In June, Gallup tracking showed that 59 percent of consumers surveyed were aware of BST, which is almost triple the February level. Industry efforts to assure consumers that dairy products are still safe and nutritious appear to be successful.

USDA figures show that during May, sales of fluid milk products in the federal milk marketing orders and California were up 0.4 percent from May 1993. For the year, sales are up 0.6 percent.

FDA issued an "interim guidance on voluntary labeling" in February, but has not yet finalized it. Several states, including Vermont, Maine, Minnesota and Wisconsin, have passed labeling laws and are at various stages of implementing them. National legislation has been introduced but is unlikely to move forward. Several processors are providing "producer certified" milk and products coming from cows not receiving supplemental BST. Sales of these products, while not large, appear to be strong enough to justify continuing them.

It is expected that there will be additional publicity about BST as a new school year begins. Activists are trying to convince school boards to require "certified BST-free" products in schools. So far, they have had limited success in this effort. They are also beginning another advertising campaign against BST. This combination of activities means it is unlikely that the issue will go away quickly.

What can we say about BST at this point? A general observation would be that, as we have stated in the past, BST is being used and is performing much as any other production or management tool. Producers are still determining if it is a product that fits their operation and management system. It has not led to dramatic changes in production or consumption. Consumers have an increased awareness of BST, but have not altered their milk buying patterns because of it.

This positive consumer response is likely due, at least in part, to industry activities to assure consumers of the continued safety and nutritional value of milk and dairy products.

The full impact of BST will not be known for several years, but it appears that producers will have the opportunity to decide if it is a technology that works for them.

Fruit Workshops Set Sept. 27-29

Persons interested in growing small fruit such as strawberries, blueberries, raspberries, grapes, blackberries and several other small fruits may want to attend workshops scheduled for next week.

The Garrett County Extension Service is sponsoring a three-evening series, outlining production practices for high value small fruits. The workshops will be held on September 27, 28, & 29 from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. at the Garrett County Extension Office located in the courthouse in Oakland. The schedule is as follows: Tuesday, Sept. 27, Blackberry and Raspberry Production; Wednesday, Sept. 28, Strawberry, Currant, Grape, Gooseberry, and Production; and Thursday, Sept. 29, Blueberry Production.

Reservations are necessary by Monday, Sept. 26. There is a fee of $10 for all three sessions or $5 for a single session. The fee is per household/family, limited to two people. Persons may obtain additional information by contacting the Extension Office at (301) 334-1990.

Field Day For Woodland Owners Set For Oct. 1

A field day workshop for woodland owners interested in learning ways to realize income from their property, while at the same time balancing profitability and good stewardship, is set for Oct. 1 in Friendsville.

The marketing of forest products is a common method to generate income, but it requires special planning and care to assure good stewardship, according to workshop organizers. Other woodland owners may consider developing a woodland enterprise such as shiitake mushrooms, ginseng, sawmilling, or others. Understanding the marketing, business, and financial realities of these enterprises will help to assure success.

The field day will be held on Saturday, October 1, beginning at 9 a.m. at the Friendsville fire hall. Following lunch, the program will move to the property of Bill and Elsie Slagle to tour their ginseng and shiitake mushroom operation. The Slagles have cultivated many acres of ginseng un-

BVD-Type 2 Not Diagnosed In Maryland

A new and more deadly form of bovine virus diarrhea, BVD-Type 2, which appeared in Ontario in 1993, has recently emerged in several states including Pennsylvania. It is not the same as the less acute BVD-Type 1 which has been a relatively infrequent but costly problem in beef and dairy herds throughout the U.S., including Maryland, for many years. BVD-Type 2 has not been diagnosed in Maryland. Introduction of new animals, that is, purchased additions or cattle returning from shows and fairs poses an extremely serious threat to non-vaccinated herds.

All owners, buyers, and exhibitors of cattle are urged to consult their veterinarian immediately for recommendations regarding vaccination. Fortunately the vaccines available for protection against BVD-Type 1 also protect against Type 2 if the directions are strictly followed.

Roger E. Olson, DVM, acting state veterinarian, Maryland Department of Agriculture, also strongly recommends that farmers: Avoid or restrict introduction of new cattle into existing herds.

Isolate any unavoidable additions including animals returning from shows from others for three weeks.

Have herd additions blood tested for BVD before they arrive.

Change or disinfect footwear and clothing after returning from other farms, auction markets, or fairs and shows.

For additional information or to report suspected BVD-Type 2 cases, interested persons may contact the Maryland Department of Agriculture Animal Health Laboratory in Oakland, or Acting State Veterinarian Dr. Roger E. Olson, at 301-841-5810.
